The editors had a splendid time at Washington.

The New Yorkers breathe freer. Imprisonment for debt is abolished in that State.

The Bonapartes and the French princes having been expelled from France, will live here in America or England.

CAPT. FRANK MASON, formerly of the Cleveland Leader, and his wife, are announced as the joint victors of the "Bread-Winners."

At the democratic caucus, which nearly all the democrats in Congress attended, a committee composed of Messrs. Beck, Harris and Cookrell was appointed to draft a plan of action to govern all future legislation for the democratic future.

THAT was an odd proposition made to Judge Nott at Troy, New York, by the superintendent of the Albany penitentiary—to give the judge $50 for each long term prisoner sent to that institution.

A son of Judge Carruth, of Boston, whose name is not known here, has been arrested in Washington, where he is a banker, on a charge of making way with $10,000 of a trust fund, and has been taken to Boston.

When Gladstone and the madam entered Hengler's circus at Glasgow, where he was to speak, the immense crowd overflowed with enthusiasm and amid hurrahs of applause the audience sang "Auld Lang Syne" and "He is a Jolly Good Fellow."

Our friends, the enemy are filibustering like a set of fellows terribly in earnest, over the proposition to amend the rules so as to provide an income tax for the payment of pensions.

The Senate, however, will probably arrest the passage of the bill; and that will leave it an issue between the parties for the people to settle at the polls this fall.

We mentioned the other day that the civil service law was apparently not so objectionable as the rules, and we expressed the opinion that as soon as President Cleveland and his democratic commissioners could get a chance at the rules they would be somewhat changed.

The proposed income tax is rather steep, but not more so than the situation of our affairs amply justifies.

liberty in other countries to the accumulation of immense wealth in a few hands, find in that an argument why the power to destroy should be freely used so as to dissipate those great fortunes which have sprung up like mushrooms here in this land of the free.

We do not share in any feeling of uneasiness because of the great fortunes which Vanderbilt, Gould and others have so suddenly acquired.

These estates are apt to be largely dissipated after the devolution of the property upon the second generation.

As the individual citizen has become a finer specimen of manhood, so has the whole community that makes up the State advanced in all the finer elements of character.

And so the necessity of taxing large fortunes out of existence is not apparent; but the fact remains that the income tax is the easiest of all taxes to pay and it is perhaps the fairest way to raise revenue.

The Congressmen friendly to the tariff bill held a meeting in Washington the other night, and on motion of Gen. Cox it was resolved that Mr. Morrison should call up his bill Tuesday, and from time to time, frequently, so as to secure that agitation which might spring from such a policy, and which might lead to the progress of the bill.

The Greek Professor. COR. OF THE NEWS AND OBSERVER. The University will in all probability elect a professor of Greek.

Will you please inquire why the chairman of the Democratic executive committee for this Congressional district has not called the committee together to determine the time and place for holding the convention?

dence of Senator Vance was enjoyed. A distinguished company had assembled to meet the Tar Heels, there being present Senators George, Call, Beck, Salisbury and Ransom; Solicitor-General Goode, Hon. S. F. Phillips, Congressmen Daniel and Regan, Mr. Nordhoff, the famous newspaper man, and others.

Every attention has been paid the "gang" by the North Carolinians resident here and by the government officials high and low.

Metropolitan Hotel. WASHINGTON, June 22, 1886. A heavy rain has been falling here all day; but notwithstanding this the members of the press association have pursued their sight-seeing with pleasure and profit.

Tonight many have gone to see the "Mikado" at the National theatre, and at 11 o'clock or thereabouts the greater part of the association will take the train for home.

The visit to the capital has been one of unalloyed pleasure. The freedom of the city has been to a great extent granted in fact, tenders of payment for admission into places of entertainment and for articles of luxury desired being generally declined.

The members of the press association have pursued their sight-seeing with pleasure and profit.
