THE NEWS AND OBSERVER.
 THURSDAY, JULY 15, 1886.
 Brown.
 We rode and played tennis together. We walked on the beach at low tide. Ah me, for the sweet summer weather When I lingered and loved at her side! She was kind, but oh! fate most alarming, I could not help but feeling cast down— She made herself equally charming To that terrible Brown.
 If I tasted a transient pleasure When she talked till the morning to me, It was always subdued in a measure. By the thought Brown was coming at three. Though she granted I might dance running, I could not help but feeling cast down— She made herself equally charming To that terrible Brown.
 When we parted she murmured demurely, "That of course I might write if I wished; And I faced a moment that surely My rival was thoroughly dished; But she said as my joyful eyes met hers, 'She was dying for news from the town; I must send her some loving letters, Like my friend, Mr. Brown."
 It's a year since my hopes were thus blighted; Their memory seems almost a myth, And I learn not what she has become To an opulent person named Smith; Here's the cream-colored, square invitation, My girl I endeavor to drown In the thought "tis a great consolation, She has sent one to Brown!"

NORTH CAROLINA NEWS.
 HOME HAPPENINGS AS TOLD BY THE STATE PRESS.
 Roanoke river is on a great freshet. The bottom lands are raised.
 In Durham county the crops are in as bad a condition as elsewhere.
 Henderson's new enterprises, chair and broom factories, are successful.
 Two hundred people went on a military excursion from Charlotte to Wilmington Tuesday.
 The Durham Recorder reports the drowning of Charlie Dattie, an Englishman, in Tar river.
 Fannie Buck, the little girl at Charlotte, who was burned to death by a kerosene explosion, was buried Tuesday.
 John Randall, colored, for eighteen years route agent on the A. & N. C. railroad, has received notice of his dismissal.
 There are now Chinese laundries at Charlotte, Asheville and Wilmington. More Chinese have arrived at Charlotte.
 The residence of George W. Price, at Wilmington, was burned Tuesday. Price and his brother narrowly escaped death by suffocation. The loss is $2,200; insurance $500.

The A. & N. C. R. R. is now taking watermelons from Morehead City in cars constructed for the purpose, through to Northern markets, the New Bern Journal says.
 In Shoe Creek, Wesley Raper, colored, was drowned while bathing, being seized with cramp, the Lumber-ton Robeson says.
 At Weebtown, a suburb of Goldsboro, Monday, lightning struck Jim Barber's house and set it on fire. The Argus says the flames were extinguished. A negro woman was badly shocked.
 The county of Haywood, says the Asheville Advance, has in the town of Waynesville three court houses. The first one was built in 1810, the second in 1829, and the third, which is one of the finest in the State, in 1885.
 The Wilmington authorities and those of the projected Onslow railroad cannot agree as to the calling of an election on the issue of $100,000 bonds. The aldermen will next week take up the matter again.
 The last railway in the State to change its gauge is the Chester & Denoir. This was the only narrow-gauge road in the State. It is being made a wide gauge from Newton to Lenoir. This done, it will be changed between Gastonia to Chester, S. C.
 The Newton Enterprise reports that Henry Gilmer, a negro desperado, is in jail. He robbed Propst's b-r-room at Hickory. The proprietor attempted to shoot him. Gilmer wrenched the pistol from his hands, but was, after all, shot in the scuffle. He escaped, but was tracked by his blood.
 The Asheville Advance reports that engineer James, who was in charge of the train which killed a deaf-mute named Dobson, near Morganton, last Tuesday, has been taken to Morganton for trial, the jury having rendered a verdict against him for murder. His friends expect that he will be cleared of the charge.
 The Charlotte Observer reports that Saturday the residence of Mr. McCrackin was struck by lightning. Mrs. McCrackin was in a front room and her baby was asleep in a cradle. The lightning tore away a corner of the room and a great ball of flame rolled across the floor. China and glassware were shattered and with smashed timbers fell around the sleeping baby, which was not at all hurt, strange to say. Neither was the mother injured.
 A mass-meeting of Democrats and Republicans was held at New Bern Tuesday evening, being called by the Stinson faction of the Republican party. The meeting was enthusiastic and the following ticket was unanimously nominated: D. Stinson, sheriff; E. W. Carpenter, clerk; P. Hubbs, register of deeds; Isaac Patterson, treasurer; H. G. Bates, coroner. For senator, C. C. Clark; for house of commons, W. B. Lane.
 At Winston, Saturday, a special telegram to the Charlotte Chronicle says, Robert Brown remained at home when his father and brothers went to work, and shortly afterwards his mother went to the spring for some water and was gone about five minutes. Upon her return she found her son lying upon the floor dead and a pistol lying by his side. It is not known whether the shooting was accidental or whether he committed suicide. Brown was about 19 years old and carried the mail between Winston and Germantown some years.

Franklin Politics.
 Cor. of the NEWS AND OBSERVER.
 The Democratic county convention met in Louisburg the 12th inst. Mr. F. S. Spruill, of Franklin, was elected chairman, and E. H. Davis, Esq., secretary. The convention nominated the following ticket: For the senate, Jas. A. Thomas; for the house, John T. Clifton, C. A. Nash; clerk of court, W. H. Harris; register of deeds, Thos. J. Harris; sheriff, H. C. Kearney; treasurer, H. P. Clifton; surveyor, W. N. Fuller; coroner, W. H. Seymour. Delegates were appointed to the State and district conventions without instruction. In the Congressional convention the Hon. C. M. Cooke will get the solid vote of the county, and the delegation will stand by him, "first, last and all the time." The people of Franklin have admiration for the other candidates, but their admiration for her honored son who is in the race, is so great that they will never leave him as long as there is hope. Franklin is proud of C. M. Cooke, and well she may be, for he has but few equals and very few superiors. The vote of the county in the judicial convention will be cast for Connor and Worthington.

A Flood in Pender.
 PEOPLE DRIVEN FROM THEIR HOMES BY THE WATER.
 A correspondent of the Wilmington Star estimates the damage by the rain to be at least $25,000 in Pender county. The crops are under water and many farmers have been driven from their homes by the floods. The bridge across Black river at Point Caswell is partially wrecked and is expected to be swept away. Portions of the county are like inland seas or great lakes. People are transporting their property in boats or on rafts to places of safety. Many turpentine distilleries are under water and a number of stores as well as dwellings are drowned out. It is the greatest flood since 1867, it is said, and is doing irreparable damage in that fertile county. On the Cape Fear river the crops are all swept away, and there the loss is greatest of all.

 Advice to Mothers.
 Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once, it produces natural, quieting sleep, relieves the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste, soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea when rising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

 Down on Bitters.
 (From the Cincinnati (Ohio) Sun.)
 Probably the largest concern of its kind that has grown up amongst us in the past decade is the Drury Malt Whiskey Company of Baltimore, Md. The other day the writer met a representative of this house and among other of the interesting questions that came up, was one as to how this Company could afford to expend such large sums of money in advertising such an excellent brand of whiskey, and on which the margin of profit is necessarily small.
 "Well, sir," replied the gentleman, "it is done entirely on the strength of a good article, in the merit and purity of which we have the most confidence. This is probably the first instance of the kind in the business of the country where it has paid a business like ours to extensively advertise its whiskey."
 "Heretofore large newspaper advertising has been confined almost exclusively to patent medicines and other proprietary preparations, on which there is usually a profit of from 200 to 300 per cent (never less) as in the case of so-called bitters, for instance, which, frequently consist, as analysis has shown, of the cheapest of poisonous kinds of alcohol for a base (the government allows 30 per cent) the rest of the compound being a few inexpensive, flavoring extracts to make it palatable. It was with this idea that people would sooner or later come to realize this fact, that we determined to put our whiskey on the market under its true name, merit and medicinal uses, and although we have received numerous propositions from prominent religious papers and clergymen, we have steadfastly held out against any change of title or disguise of its character, and yet despite the natural prejudice which exists against the use of liquor in any form, we have received in the past three months over 8,000 unsolicited testimonials from persons who have been cured or benefited by our whiskey, and who out of a pure sense of gratitude are willing that their names be published. You see, therefore, every trace of fust oil is eliminated, and to-day we are the discoverers and only manufacturers in the country of an absolutely pure article."
