New Advertisements. Barkley's Red Front Restaurant. Third congressional, Clinton, August 11. There are a number of people at Nags Head. A colored people's excursion from Louisburg will arrive this morning. A drummer's license was yesterday issued Benjamin Bros. & Co., Baltimore. The police speak of the remarkably good order in the city this month as one of its pleasant features. Today there will be judicial conventions as follows: seventh district, at Fayetteville; tenth, at Morganton. The temperature was inaccurately given Tuesday by the experiment farm people as 99 degrees. What was intended was 89. Yesterday 91.9 was the figure. A State assembly of the Knights of Labor will be formed here August 11. Delegates from the various assemblies in the State will be present and compose it. It is suggested these hot days the city pumps be given special attention. These are complaints of children playing at the pumps and making puddles of water and mud. Tuesday a negro man was before the mayor, charged with gambling Sunday. He had to pay $10 and costs. Yesterday a negro man was tried for disorderly conduct and was fined $5 and costs. A private letter received from Hillsboro yesterday stated that Fred N. Stradwick, Esq., had withdrawn from the race for the congressional nomination in this district, in favor of Maj. John W. Graham. Yesterday New Hanover county sent a contribution of convicts to the penitentiary. The prisoners are five in number; three sentenced to three years each for larceny, and two sentenced to two years, for abduction. The statement is requested that owing to the financial distress of the country the charge for board and tuition at the Horner school will not be advanced for the present. Pupils entering late are charged pro rata from the time of admission. It is a pleasure to know that the race-course here is to be put in such excellent condition as to attract the attention of horse owners. There is now a "Southern circuit," in which the horse-racers start in Maryland at the fairs and move through the South, as far as New Orleans. Raleigh will be on their list for the full race. It is hoped that a general movement looking to a continuance of the work of widening sidewalks on Fayetteville street will be made. It is an improvement of a character to please the public as well as property owners and occupants of the business houses. By fall all the sidewalks should be altered to suit the new style. There appears to be some ignorance on the question of the election of solicitors and judges of the various districts. The solicitors are voted for only in their districts, and the solicitors of all the districts are to be elected at the coming election. The judges of the superior court, though nominated by their respective districts, yet are voted on by the people of the entire State. Six of these judges are to be elected in November. The W. C. T. U. met at Charlotte at 10:30 yesterday. An address of welcome was responded to by Mrs. L. N. Blair; Mrs. E. F. Chapin conducted a praise meeting; Mrs. Bumpass led the opening exercises; reports of departments were made by Mrs. Selden, Miss English, Mrs. Bumpass, Miss Aston, Mrs. Round, Mrs. M. E. Cartland; devotional exercises were conducted by Mrs. Round and Mrs. Chapin. Yesterday was a great occasion at the Baptist orphanage at Thomasville. The corner-stones of five new buildings were laid with appropriate ceremonies. The attendance of Baptists was large, all parts of the State being represented. Rev. Dr. L. Carroll, of Asheville, preached the sermon. Addresses were delivered by Rev. Drs. Pritchard, Hufham and Overby, and by Mr. John C. Scarborough. Several excursion trains ran. It was the first anniversary of the founding of the orphanage. The number of children now pupils is thirty-five. Railway Honors. Recently a committee was appointed by the Richmond & Danville railroad to confer with a similar committee of the directors of the N. C. railroad. It is said that a matter to be considered was an extension of the lease of the N. C. R. R. to the R. & D. R. This lease expires in about sixteen years. It is thought that the R. & D. might desire to lease the Atlantic & North Carolina railroads with it. The matter has as yet taken no definite shape. Col. Scott, Col. Andrews and Col. Holt went over the A. & N. C. R. R. yesterday. There is evidently a desire to get a longer lease of the N. C. R. R.

National Prison Congress.

The national prison congress will be held at Atlanta, Ga., November 6-11. Governor Scates has appointed the following gentlemen as delegates on the part of North Carolina: Capt. E. R. Stamps, Rev. F. L. Reid, Mr. W. J. Hicks, Dr. J. W. McGee. All these gentlemen signify their purpose to attend. All are very prominent in connection with prison management.

Wake Horticultural Society.

A meeting of this society will be held tomorrow evening at 6 o'clock, at the office of Williamson & Uphurch, East Hargett street, to consider the question of having Wake county well represented at the State fruit fair at Fayetteville, August 4-5. It is desired that the attendance at the meeting shall be large and it is hoped that such steps will be taken as will make this county prominent at the fair. It is suggested that persons who attend the meeting bring a few specimens of the fruit, grapes, &c., which they can exhibit.

State Guard News.

The Governor's Guard has secured a large armory, perhaps the largest in the State. It occupies the entire third floor of the Briggs building, being 210 feet in length by 30 feet wide. In front are assembly rooms already furnished. The armory will be well arranged, with lockers for the uniforms and equipments of all the members of the company, dressing rooms, gun racks, &c. The contract for the uniforms has been awarded W. H. & R. S. Tucker & Co., at $22 for enlisted men. This is for the coat and trousers, helmet and shoulder-knots, complete. The color is rifle green, the facings orange.

The Farmers' National Congress.

The Governor has been invited to appoint delegates to represent North Carolina in the "Farmers' National Congress," which meets at St. Paul, Minnesota, the 25th, 26th and 27th of August. There is no compensation attached to the office and no provision for paying the expenses of delegates, but it is to be hoped that many of the gentlemen appointed will attend the congress, as matters of great importance to the agricultural interests of the country are to be discussed. The following are the delegates and alternates appointed: First district, W. S. Carter, Fairfield, Hyde county; alternate, Frank Wood, Edenton. 2d. Elias Carr, Old Sparta; W. A. Darden, Snow Hill. 3d. Jonathan Evans, Fayetteville; E. J. Hill, Warsaw. 4th. R. H. Lewis, Raleigh; T. P. Braswell, Battleboro. 5th. T. T. Bahson, Salem; Thomas Carter, Madison, Rockingham county. 6th. J. M. Wadsworth, Charlotte; J. B. Carpenter, Cedar Hill, Anson county. 7th. J. F. Armfield, Statesville; A. Tomlin, Olin. 8th. S. McD. Tate, Morganton. 9th. W. W. Rollins, Marshall; J. M. Jagg, Asheville. Delegates at large: S. B. Alexander, Charlotte; B. P. Williamson, Raleigh; alternates, John W. Cunningham, Cunningham's Store; Fred. Kidder, Wilmington.

Personal.

Miss Alice C. Page, of Morrisville, who has been on a long visit to Western N. C., has returned. Mr. Alex. Graham has been re-elected superintendent of the Fayetteville graded school. Dr. Talmage left Asheville Monday for a trip into Wisconsin and through Canada. His family remain at the Battery Park hotel. He will return in a short time and will stay at Asheville the remainder of the season. At Phillipsburg, N. J., last Sunday, Mr. James T. Hood, of Mecklenburg county, married Miss Lisette C. Bernheim, who formerly lived in this State. Dr. F. P. Mats, who was formerly the principal of the business college in King's Mountain high school, is now a professor of double-entry book-keeping and advanced commercial arithmetic in the senior department of Peirce's college of business, in Philadelphia. C. D. Uphurch, Esq., wife and daughter and Mrs. S. M. Riggs are at the Roan Mountain hotel. Mr. Duncan Cameron is said to be critically sick at Hillsboro. Mrs. B. F. Sutton, Jr., died in Lenoir county a few days ago. Col. A. B. Andrews and Col. T. M. Holt went to Morehead with Col. Scott Tuesday in a special car and returned last evening. Mr. Milton Whitney, superintendent of the experiment farm, has gone to Oxford for a couple of days to make some observations on Granville's fine tobacco soils and to take samples of them for the purpose of experimentation.

The Escape of John Cardwell.

Gov. Scates received a letter yesterday, which gave an account of the escape of Cardwell. The letter says that Saturday the sheriff received an anonymous letter which informed him that Cardwell would be released that night. A strong guard was posted Saturday night and no attempt was made at a rescue. Sunday night four men were on guard. About 8 o'clock in the morning two left. In ten minutes the two remaining were surprised to find four men in the jail, who "had dropped" on them. Cardwell was taken away very quickly. Gov. Scates at once offered a reward of $200 for the apprehension of Cardwell. It is said by the Governor's informant that it was believed there were only ten or fifteen persons in the crowd which liberated Cardwell. The informant does not think there were more than six or eight in the party. There was considerable talk yesterday about the telegram reporting the release of Cardwell from Wilkesboro jail. He was an outrageously bad man, it appears, and his crime when first discovered nearly caused his death at the hands of lynchers. He fled from the State into Virginia, but was pursued by Wilkes county men, who had no warrant or requisition for him, brought back and jailed. His offense, beginning about 1882, continued some four years. He was sentenced at the spring term of court to be hanged July 2. A respite until July 30 was granted. An appeal for a further respite and also for a commutation were refused.

In Duplin county the rains have done damage, but upland crops are very fine.

Cardwell's Escape.

HOW THAT ORIGINAL GUY GOT AWAY FROM WILKESBORO JAIL. Asheville Advance. Charlotte Observer. At 3 o'clock last Monday morning the jail at Wilkesboro was raided by a crowd of men and John Cardwell, a white man, who was confined therein under sentence of death for a heinous crime, was rescued from prison and spirited away. The number of men composing the attacking party is unknown, but is believed to have been two hundred. The jailer was overpowered, Cardwell was quickly secured and the crowd hastened away with him. No one seems to have any idea which direction the party took on leaving the jail, and the whereabouts of Cardwell is a deep mystery. There can be no doubt of the fact that the men who took him from jail were his sympathizers and friends, and that they took good care to place him beyond the reach of the law, at least for the present. Cardwell was to have been hanged the 30th of this month, for an outrage committed on the person of his own daughter. He was arraigned before Judge Montgomery on this charge at the last term of Wilkes county court, held in May last, and after a very fair trial was found guilty and was sentenced to be hanged the 17th of last month. In the meantime, however, a petition was sent to Gov. Scates, asking for a pardon or commutation, and after receiving this petition, Gov. Scates reprieved Cardwell until July 2d. That day an immense crowd gathered in Wilkesboro, but a second reprieve had been received, and the hanging did not take place. The reprieve was granted in response to a request made by the solicitor of the district, that opportunity might be given for the investigation of facts that it was alleged had been discovered since the trial and conviction. News of this second reprieve had become very widely circulated, and the people flocked to see the execution which they believed was to take place. When the announcement of the reprieve was made public the crowd held a meeting in the court house, when somebody, to ascertain the sentiment of the people in regard to the hanging of Cardwell, proposed that a vote be taken and this resulted in an expression that Cardwell should not be hanged. After the second reprieve his execution was set for next Friday, but unless Cardwell comes from his hiding place and surrenders himself, it is not likely that the hanging will take place.

Harbor Island Light.

Washington Cor. of the Charlotte Observer. Gen. Ransom secured his amendment to the sundry civil bill appropriating $20,000 for restoring the light-house on Harbor island bar, between Pamlico and Core sounds. But the waggish Joe Blackburn played a practical joke on our dignified Senator. On the viva voce vote nearly everybody voted with the general, for he has winning ways on the subject of appropriations. But Blackburn had gone around and told many of the Senators to vote on the yes and nay call, which it was expected Allison would demand, against Ransom, and then at the last moment to change their votes. When Berry's name was reached, after several votes had gone adverse, Gen. Ransom went to the Arkansas and said: "Good — Berry, what does this mean?" He was mildly supported by Butler's yes, but Hampton and nearly all the others voted nay. He was almost disconsolate and rallied his friends from the cloak room. All did not avail. The vote was about to be announced and he was about to be beaten badly — for the first time in a long Senatorial career. It was agonizing. Suddenly there was a vote changed, then another, and still another, until all had changed in favor, and the Harbor island light-house was saved.

A Curiosity.

We were shown last week by Mr. William McKinney an old deed which is quite a curiosity. It transfers ninety acres of land in Duplin county, near the camping grounds of Lord Cornwallis during the revolutionary war, by the State of North Carolina through Richard Caswell, Esq., Governor commander in chief and captain general, to David Dodd, in consideration of the sum of fifty shillings for every one hundred acres. It bears date at Kingston, December 17, 1779, the third year of our independence. The paper has been frequently handled. The deed is numbered 145 and is a printed blank only the name of the purchaser, signature of the Governor and the date being in writing, the balance printed and is an excellent specimen of good typography, press-work and printing ink.

The No-Fence Matter in New Hanover.

Farmers in New Hanover are likely to give the fence question some attention. The law requires that all fences around cultivated land shall be at least five feet high and it is said that not one-tenth of the farmers comply with the law in this respect. A scarcity of timber is no doubt one cause of this. Some of the farmers are getting up a petition which it is intended to present to the legislature at its next session, asking the passage of a law to make a four-foot fence lawful in this county; but this, it is claimed, would lead to increased depreciations by live stock, which are already a great evil. The best "way out of the wilderness," perhaps, would be the adoption of the "no-fence" law.

Was He Hanged?

Among the last requests made by Jack Lambert, at his execution at Charleston the 9th instant, was that the sheriff would attach as short a rope to the gallows as it was possible to use. This, at the time, appeared to be a very strange request. In the light of subsequent events the reason for the prisoner's wish is plain. The unfortunate man's neck, owing to the shortness of the rope which the kind-hearted sheriff used, was not broken by the fall, but the doctors in attendance pronounced him dead by strangulation. Of the three physicians present one of them was inclined to this opinion in fifteen minutes, and was in favor, at the time, of cutting down the body from the gallows. To this step the other two interposed objection, and Lambert was not pronounced dead until the expiration of twenty-five minutes. The body was cut down and was turned over to his brothers, who anxiously awaiting the moment when they might be allowed to take charge of the remains, hastily and nervously advanced to the coffin, and removed it with some difficulty out of the crowd. Depositing the body in a wagon, which was in readiness for the purpose, they rapidly drove a few hundred yards up the Tuckaseegee, on whose banks the execution took place, until they reached the mouth of Deep creek, up which they hurriedly drove. When a point on this stream was reached which promised seclusion from the outside world, Lambert's coffin was instantly removed from the wagon, and in a moment the cool waters of the creek were applied by loving hands to the body, the brother earnestly hoping that by this means the suspended animation might be reconstituted. For more than an hour the friends of the unfortunate man, patently coaxed the still heart to throb again, and watched the leaden eyes for some sign of latent animation. Many persons in Jackson and Swain counties firmly believe that Jackson Lambert is alive today. In Jackson county the rumor is that Lambert was seen the Sunday following his execution, and it is astonishing what credence is given to this rumor.

Spirit of the State Press.

The people of the country are in no temper to submit to any increase of tariff rates. They wish the revenues of the country diminished by diminishing taxation, and not by excluding cheap foreign necessities from the country. —Piedmont Press. We have no apprehension that Mr. Randall's bill will become a law. The sentiment of the consumers in the United States is in favor of a decided reduction in the tariff, and will make no compromise on a bill that dodges the desired end. —Newton Enterprise.

The New Berne Journal learns that some of the Hahn faction say it won't do to elect the Stimson ticket because they can't give bond. It believes every republican now in office in Craven county has one or more democrats on his bond. It would be strange indeed if the democrats would help to go on the bonds of officers elected entirely by republicans and refuse to help those whom they help to elect.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once, it cures colic, quiets sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste, soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

Choral Union.

I take pleasure in announcing that after numerous solicitations, I have consented to organize a chorus of mixed voices for the study of Oratorio, Cantata, Opera, and Selected Classical Music in connection with the orchestra, which is now in a flourishing condition. The chorus will be organized September 1st. Those who wish to join will please send their names (stating the part they wish to sing) to me, as soon as possible. I shall be pleased to hear from all who sing, either by note or by ear. Very respectfully, S. S. JACKSON.

Wall Paper.

NOW is the time to apply wall paper to your walls. Decidedly the best wall decoration in the world. Properly applied it is both attractive and lasting. A well selected stock can be seen at Fred A. Watson's, manufacturer of picture frames and window shades. All orders have prompt attention. Specialty of mosquito canopies; prices lower than ever.

Dog Tax.

A tax upon every dog kept in the city limits is due and payable to the Chief of Police the first day of July in each year. Every person owning a dog who shall fail to pay the tax during the month of July or who shall keep upon their premises an unlicensed dog after the 1st day of August shall be subject to a fine, and all persons who shall fail to give in their dogs shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and fined $5 for each dog so omitted. All unlicensed dogs will be taken up and impounded after the 1st day of August, 1886. Chief of Police.

Moxie Nerve Food.

This food is the best remedy known for nervous and mental exhaustion. It contains no cocaine or stimulants, and is a delightful beverage. NORFOLK, Va., July, 1886. To John Y. MacRae, John S. Pescud, Lee, Johnson & Co., and others, GENTLEMEN:—Your information that the story is being maliciously circulated in Raleigh by some individual that "the Moxie Nerve Food contains cocaine" received. In reply I would state most positively, not only that the Moxie Nerve Food contains no cocaine, but that it contains no deleterious drug whatever, of any kind or description, and that it is also entirely free from alcohol. We stand behind this fact and defy any one to prove the contrary. The enormous sale all over the country which we are meeting with, and the immense amount of good our food is doing, the suffering nerves of humanity, render it important that such a story should be corrected at its birth. Our food has as its base just exactly what we claim, a South American plant, of a sugar cane character. All other ingredients are put in simply to make it palatable, the plant itself being extremely bitter. We can point to thousands of cases all over the country of insomnia, nervous and mental exhaustion and dyspepsia cured by Moxie. We do not claim to cure everything, but what we claim we perform. Your own city will furnish sufficient of our claim in a short time, provided Moxie meets with the recognition from you which its merits demand. Very sincerely yours, C. W. S.
