The August Century.

The midsummer holiday Century is noticeable for richly illustrated articles and fiction. Of the former, the opening Algiers and its Suburbs; Mrs. Lucy M. Mitchell contributes a picturesque account of the town, Castle, and University of "Heidelberg Sca-Birds at the Farne Islands,", by Bryan Hook, with illustrations by the author, gives a description of the birds to be found off the Northumberland coast on the islands with which is associated the heroism of Grace Darling; The Western Art Movement, by Ripley Hitchcock, reveals art tendencies and achievements which will perhaps surprise those whose attention has been absorbed by the art growth of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington.

A sketch portrait of John Burrough is the frontispicce of the number, and Miss Edith M. Thomas contributes a short paper on John Burroughs and his Last Two Books; Charles G. Loland E Perry, of Chatham. This fruit was gives the romance of A Gypsy Beauty, the famous Charlotte Cooper, whose full-page engraving.

In the War series, The Battle of Federicksburg gives scope for varied and stirring illustration. General James Longstreet contributes the title paper and the Confederate view. The Union assaults upon the memorable stone wall are described by General Darius N. Couch, who was virtually in command. Lamb, of Fayetteville, and one of the field of Sumner's Right Grand Division; General William F. Smith writes anecdotally of the part taken by Franklin's Left Grand Division, and his article contains several foot-notes by General W. B. Franklin.
