A QUESTION ABOUT Brown's Iron Bitters. .

ANSWERED. The question has probably been saked thousand a times. How can Brown's Iron Bitters cure everyhing?" Well, it doesn't But it does cure any disease for which a reputable physician would prescribe IRON Physicians recognize Iron as the best restorative agent known to the profession, and inquiry of any eading chemical firm will substantiate the assertion that there are more preparations of fron than of any sther substance used in medicine. This shows constusively that iron is acknowledged to be the most impurstant factor in thosessful medical practice. It is above yer, a remarkable fact, that prior to the discovery of HROWN'S IRON BITTERS no perfect y satisfactory fron combination had ever been found.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS does not injure acadache, or produce constipation—all other from assdache, or produce constipation—edl other from medicines do. WASHINGTON, Aug. 31 .- At 9 55 tonight very decided vibrations of the earth were felt in Washington and in a few minutes advices began to arrive that the disturbance covered almost the entire country. As yet no reports have broken up by the frightened members, thinking the buildings were falling, rushing from the halls into the street. At Albaugh's opera house a large audience became frightened by the shaking of the building and a stampede engued. Occupants of the galleries, mainly gentlemen, jumped to their fees as soon as the shaking began and rushed pell mell down the stairs, falling over each other in their efforts to escape from the building, and stopped for nothing until they reached the street. The auwas composed principally of ladies, but was less trightened than those in the galleries and very few left their scats. The performers went on with their piece + and quiet was soon restored. No one was injured. The people on the first knowledge they had of the occurrence was obtained from the sight of the frightened inmates of houses rushing from them into the streets. The Western Union operator at Bowie, Md., about twenty miles from Washington, telegraphed that the earthquake cracked the walls of his station and stopped the clock. The Cotton Crop.

SOME NOTES ABOUT THE RECEIPTS AND THE

September 1 is the date of the beginning of the cotton year. Today the season of the of 1886-87 begins. The receipts here for the year ending yesterday were 29,781 bales, of which of course the bulk came from Wake county It is estimated by Mr. Alf. A. Thompson, secretary of the Raleigh cotton exchange, that this county produced during the season just ended about 30,000 bales There is a mest remarkable contrast, however, between this date and the corresponding one in 1885. The great drought last year was scorching all this State and in this section was terrible, blighting crops which up to the 10th of August were never more promising. This year, happily, all is changed. The season is now fine, there has been no drought, and despite the rains of the early summer the remarkably favorable weather of the past six weeks had the happiest effects. On all stiff land the crop is particularly fine, while in sandy land it is of course not so good. In some sections of the county the excellence of the crop is notable. Maj. John M. Crenshaw, one of the best farmers, says that in the Wake Forest section it is as fine as can be. The people are; hopeful they are looking up the general view. The receipts the last season are more than was expected by Mr. Thompson, who thought about 26,of these are widely known. The Berlin, August 31 .- A correspond- cotton marketed here is as a rule care-

Wake Superior Court. Court met yesterday morning at 9.30 o'clock, with his honor judge Fred.

Philips presiding. The following business was transacted: In the criminal action of James H. Miller, the defendant having given the written notices of motions hereto attached services of which were admitted by Swift Galloway, Esq., solicitor for the State, at 8 30 p. m., Monday, the 30th day of August, instant, at chambers in Raleigh, asked the presiding judge, the Hon. Fred. Philips, to hear and determine the said motions. His honor stating to the counsel of the defendant that he would hear no motion in the said criminal action in his room at the hotel or at any other place except a public place, thereupon after the said judge had on yesterday morning at 9 o'clock taken his seat upon the bench, the said defendant through his counsel moved the court, as at chambers:

1st. To rescind, recall and annul the order left by him with the clerk of the ourt in a sealed envelope, with directions not to open the same until he was certain the defendant was present in W ke county.

2nd. And to allow the defendant at the expiration of his term of imprisonment in the county jail, the prison bounds laid off by the county commissioners; he the defendant offering to show that he was subject to frequently recurrent and severe attacks of inflammatory rheumatism, and that he was advised by his physician that close confinement in a brick jail during damp weather was greatly prejudicial to his

His honor stated that the term of court being held was exclusively a civil term, and that he would not now hear any motion in the case; that the court doubted its power to hear any motion in such criminal action in vacation, and if it had the power the court would de cline to rescind the order heretofore made, being of the opinion that the order was not void.
