

FRED. A. OLDS, CITY EDITOR.

To meet a demand among our friends in this city and to place the NEWS AND OBSERVER...

Wake County Democratic Nominations.

For the Senate: Rufus H. Jones. For the House: A. J. Blanchard, R. T. Strickland, E. R. Stimpert, F. Mordecai.

For Register of Deeds: M. W. Page. For Treasurer: A. D. Jones. For Coroner: J. B. Dunn.

For Surveyor: Joseph Blake. Meteorological Observations: Experiment Farm, Day ending 7 p. m. Sept. 14.

The Weather Today. For Virginia, fair weather, followed by local rains; slightly warmer; winds generally southerly.

For North Carolina and South Carolina and Georgia, local rains; no decided change in temperature; variable winds, generally easterly.

For Florida, local rains; variable winds, generally southerly. For Alabama and Mississippi, local rains; slightly warmer; variable winds, generally southerly.

For Tennessee, fair weather; slightly warmer; winds shifting to southerly. OBSERVATIONS. The equinoctial storm is the next event.

There is very little cotton on the platform. The sales of cotton bagging and ties are large.

See that your premises are kept in good order. It is understood that Jones & Ellis' mill is to be rebuilt.

And now they say that "earthquake years" are always fruitful. The water-works matter will probably be in shape to be taken up again in a few days.

The Governor's Guard had a rifle practice yesterday. The company has skirmish drill once a week.

Thus far this season eighteen bales of new cotton have been received here, of which six came in yesterday.

It was asserted last evening that there was an earthquake shock about 9 o'clock. It was probably a joke.

A new bridge is in course of construction over Walnut creek at the place where Jones & Ellis' mill stood.

The work of putting the corrugated iron roof on the big new round-house at the Raleigh & Gaston shops will begin in a few days.

The name of the King's Mountain military institute, at King's Mountain, Cleveland county, has been changed to the Bell military institute.

A couple of years ago it was proposed to name the agricultural building the Jarvis building and the library building the Seales building. Both names would be proper and convenient.

The grounds, &c., of the graded schools are being put in order for the long campaign, so soon to begin, which will continue through the autumn, winter and spring.

Thus far $1,050 has been privately contributed by the citizens here to the Charleston relief fund. The Masons, Odd Fellows, Knights of Pythias and other orders have made separate contributions.

Trummers' licenses were yesterday issued from the State treasury to J. V. Williams, New Bern; A. A. Shuford & Co., Hickory; W. E. Shaw & Co., Charlotte; J. B. Lanier, Salisbury; ($200, liquors.)

It is gravely asserted that a well known business man of Raleigh left with all his clothing on for fully a week after the famous earthquake. He very good-humoredly bears much rallying about it and candidly acknowledges his fault.

While Raleigh is considering the question of improvements it is rather curious that the matter of a fire alarm telegraph is not mentioned. The city is scattered over much territory and such a system is specially needed.

Mayor Dodd yesterday received the following telegram from mayor, Conroy, of Charleston, in response to the letter transmitting a check for $500 contributed by citizens of Raleigh: "Please thank your citizens for their kindly deed."

Today at noon the bridge over Walnut creek on the rock quarry (Smithfield) road will be rebuilt and ready for traffic. The bridge on the Holle man road is all right. The new bridge on the Fayetteville road will be eighty feet long. The old one was only 32.

Mr. W. C. Wilcox, of Carthage, writes as follows: "Your correspondent, 'Y. E.', gives so many reasons for growing Bermuda grass that I would like to try it. Will he, or some of your readers, kindly tell me where I can get the roots, how much it will take to seed an acre, at what time it ought to be sown, &c.?"

As seen at a distance of some miles from the city its most prominent buildings are the capitol, postoffice, Education street Methodist church and the new State Library. The size of the Education street Methodist church is surprisingly large, particularly when seen from Obourdin or Brooklyn.

The alarm of fire was given yesterday afternoon, caused by a very small fire at the residence of Samuel Wilder, Esq., in northeast Raleigh. The fire department got rather mixed, as while the rescue went in the direction of the fire, other apparatus went toward the Centennial graded school.

A Cotton Compressor. ANOTHER EVIDENCE OF ENTERPRISE AT RALEIGH.

Mr. Omega Foster, who is certainly an enterprising man, will establish a cotton compressor here, and has now gone North to purchase the machinery. The cotton exchange has officially endorsed the plan. It is expected that the compressor will be up by the middle of next month.

The machinery will be first class and it is calculated that it will cost $25,000. It is a very important enterprise and should have the heartiest encouragement.

Another Compressor. The silver cornet band, under Prof. Jackson's leadership, gave a pleasant concert last evening in the capitol square, presenting an attractive programme.

State Fair Notes. The new track, or rather the old one made new, is now almost ready for use. The grade is reduced from fourteen to four feet and the track is said by horse-owners to be one of the best in the southern circuit.

Mr. R. P. Reinhardt, a prominent farmer and cattle-raiser of Catawba county, writes that he will be at the fair with fourteen head of blooded cattle, two Percheron mares, a jack and four of his cows, and a very extensive display of wheat, hay, oats, &c.

Mr. Benjamin Owens, of Nash county, died a few days since. Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Dewey, of Goldsboro, are visiting Mr. A. T. Mial, of this county.

Capt. L. R. Exline, of Chatham, is register of that county. He is always prompt in reporting to the State auditor and has sent in his abstract of listed taxables for 1886, which was examined and found correct.

Upon Maj. B. S. Tucker's return to New York, after a trip to the lakes, he sent a check for $50 to the Charleston and Summerville sufferers. His kindness of heart is well known and his liberal gift will be appreciated.

Mr. N. Harding Callum, of Greensboro, and Mr. John B. Burke, of Reidsville, will, about October 1, commence the publication of a daily paper at Reidsville.

Col. J. M. Parker, deputy revenue collector for Halifax, Northampton and Hertford counties, has been changed to Halifax, Bertie and Martin counties, while Northampton and Hertford will be in charge of W. W. Long.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Upchurch, and Miss Minnie Upchurch, have returned to the city. Mr. Upchurch's injuries, sustained in New York, Monday, are very painful and rather more severe than at first thought.

Mr. Price, a brother of Mr. J. Sterling Price, arrived yesterday from Charleston. He was there in the great earthquake. Their house was, fortunately, very slightly injured. He says shocks are common enough there, and that he felt three last Saturday.

Mr. J. P. Guley has gone to New York. Rev. Dr. James Maple, of the Christian church here, has accepted a call to a church at Troy, Ohio, and will begin his duties there next month.

Miss Mamie Hatchett, editor of the Southern Woman, Henderson, is at the Tucker house. Hon. Chas. M. Cooke is here.

Special Meeting for Men. Rev. Thomas Dixon, Jr., who has been conducting the meeting at the Second Baptist church for the past two weeks, invites the men of the city to a special meeting for them at the church this evening. All the men are cordially invited.

Home Again. Last evening the "Two Tramps Abroad," Mr. E. G. Harrell and Dr. W. A. Lodge, returned, after a tour in Scotland and England and a flying trip to France.

They are both exceedingly well. Their return trip was a rough one. For four days there was a dreadful gale and the vessel was half-sunken two-thirds of the time. Mr. Harrell's letters from abroad, published in the News and Observer, have been pleasant reading.

Hotel Arrivals. L. T. Puryear, Virginia; T. H. Vandorfer, N. C.; C. P. Krautz, Baltimore; James Webb, Jr., Hillsboro; G. W. Dewey, Goldsboro; J. Auerback, Atlanta; H. S. Hanson, Modoc; J. A. Enslow, New York; J. E. Kanbur, Goldsboro; E. R. Dodge, New York; John Kemper, Baltimore; C. M. Cooke, Louisville.

Winner of the Cup. She glides in beauty like a queen Upon the bosom of the deep. Her breeze-kissed sails now fondly lean Toward the wave and seem to sleep.

The captain of the British yacht Galatea is named Henn. Aha! Henn-hatchway lay to—lay two; henn-hatchway lay to— It strikes us that there is a pun there somewhere, but hanged if we can twist it into proper shape.—Drake's Magazine.

I never saw such a forlorn looking lot of presents. Clarissa the bride—"But, mamma, there's some silver-ware." "Nonsense, child! Every piece is plated—not even trite plated. I never thought much of silver service reform before, but now I think the sooner it is brought about the better."

The Great Earthquake of 1811. The earthquake in Mississippi and adjoining States in 1811 were the worst on record in the United States. A correspondent of a New York paper gave the following account in December of that year: It was now light and we had an opportunity of beholding in full extent the horrors of the scene.

The silver cornet band, under Prof. Jackson's leadership, gave a pleasant concert last evening in the capitol square, presenting an attractive programme. After the third selection, by request of the chairman of the collecting committee and of Prof. Jackson, Capt. Oct. C. made an eloquent appeal in which he paid a glowing tribute to the noble city of Charleston. A feature of the evening was selling by auction, kettledrummer Thomson officiating, fragments of the Charleston hotel, Hiernian hall and St. Michael's church, which Mr. Haynes brought back as mementoes of the earthquake.

Prof. Jackson, who has not been quite well for a few days, fainted before the last piece, which, however, he soon after concluded. The sum of $18 was collected.

The new track, or rather the old one made new, is now almost ready for use. The grade is reduced from fourteen to four feet and the track is said by horse-owners to be one of the best in the southern circuit. The improvements made are remarkable in all respects.

The indications for exhibitions are that they will be larger and more varied than at any fair ever held here. One special advantage is that this year the premium lists were issued early. Five thousand were printed and forty-five hundred were sent to all parts of the State, especially to well known farmers and others. There is a very gratifying interest manifested in the fair, as letters show.

Mr. R. P. Reinhardt, a prominent farmer and cattle-raiser of Catawba county, writes that he will be at the fair with fourteen head of blooded cattle, two Percheron mares, a jack and four of his cows, and a very extensive display of wheat, hay, oats, &c. Catawba is a banner county and Mr. Reinhardt is one of its representative farmers.

We are glad to see the public waking up to the question of good education; it is a vital one to every household. Among the principal necessities of the kitchen pure lard is paramount. Our families here recognize this in the favor of W. E. Harvey & Co. It has been sold in this market for a number of years with the greatest satisfaction. It is warranted strictly pure and free from adulterations. Every one of our retail grocers keeps it constantly in stock.

New Goods.—Norris & Carter are displaying this week new goods in all departments. They will during the last days of this week show some of the richest novelties in dress fabrics ever shown in this market. The ladies are especially invited to inspect these goods. They have already some rare bargains in domestic dress goods, New and Stylish, Just Opened. Their Leader is a 40-inch, all-wool "Yum Yum" tri-oot at 48c., worth 60c.
