NEWS OBSERVATIONS.

—There are 51,681 more women than men in Berlin. And still they talk of war!

—A man digging a well at Bitville, W. T., came upon an immense underground cavity, whence a strong breeze blows constantly, with a noise like the humming of telegraph wires.

—Collecting silver spoons in Europe is the latest craze among American ladies. They buy a different shaped spoon in each chief city, and have the name of the place engraved on the bowl.

—A peculiar genius advertises a new kind of watch for "a society belle." Within the case he has arranged receptacles for a powder puff, pencils for darkening the eyebrows, rouge for the cheeks, and a tiny mirror, in order that the decorating may be done artistically.

—Peter Shellenbarger, of Hartsville, Ohio, killed a fat cow and found in her stomach a butcher knife seven inches long, with a keen edge and a sharp point. It had lacerated the coating of the stomach a little, but the cow had seemed none the worse for it.

The latest citizen recorded among the missing is S. J. Blasto, a member of the New York Produce Exchange, whom creditors mourn to the extent of $60,000.

—A clerk in Louisville invested $500 in pork at a bucket-shop the other day and succeeded in running it up to $5,000. Then he determined to make it $10,000, and quit and get married.

—This is a game now becoming popular: A huge donkey, minus its tail, is cut out of calico, fixed against the wall, and all the company are provided with pins and calico donkey's tails.

—Combinations still predominate largely for promenade costumes, and the following is a specimen gown which furnishes the theme for numerous variations.

—I have just read the article in your last issue entitled, "Killing Nut Grass," by G. B. Mison, and would drop it with silence if I had met with it anywhere else, but seeing it in a paper which is usually so practical and reliable, and one that I think so much of, I believe I will at least give you some of my opinion by criticising Mr. Mison's advice as given in the article referred to.

Commercial Epitome.

N. Y. Com. and Fin. Chronicle. FRIDAY NIGHT, March 18, 1887.

Commercial circles have not been alarmed by the threats of a stringent money market, but it is not possible to separate the two interests—they will sympathize with each other. The weather has been wintry, delaying the re-opening of inland navigation in northern latitudes. The fall in the iron trade begins to affect other branches of business.

The speculation in land for future delivery reaped into dullness, and prices declined. Confidence of speculative holders is considerably impaired by the growing indications that there will be "enough to go around." There was a further sharp decline today. Lead on the spot was very dull until today, when the decline admitted of the execution of orders to a moderate extent, and the close was steadier 7.40c for prime city, 7.62 1/2 for prime to choice Western, 7.95c for refined to the Continent and 8.15c for refined to South America.

Pork has been very dull, but prices remain nominally unchanged at $15.50 a 16.25 for old and new mess, $18.50 a 14.25 for extra prime and $16.50 a 17.25 for clear. Cat meats have been dull and close weak; pickled bellies 7c a 7 1/2c, hams 11 1/2c and shoulders 6 1/2c a 7c; smoked hams 12 1/2c a 13c and shoulders 7c. Beef is steady at $9.50 for extra mess and $10.10 a 10.50 for packet per barrel, and $17 a 18 for India mess per tierce. Beef hams are steady at $21.50 a 22 per barrel. Tallow is firm but quiet at 4 1/4 a 1.16c. Stearine is dull at 8.8c and oleomargarine is quoted at 7c. Butter is easier at 22 a 23c for creamery and 30c for state dairy. Cheese is firmer at 12 1/4 a 14c for State factory full cream and 7 a 12c for skims.

Rio coffee for future delivery declined early in the week, and was for some days variable and unsettled, without wide fluctuations, closing to-day at a slight recovery, with sellers at 12 1/2 a 12 7/8c for the earlier, and 12 1/2 a 12 9/16c for the later months. Coffee on the spot was dull, and the quotation for fair cargo Rio was reduced to 14c. Raw sugars have been quieter, but prices are about steady at 44 a 9.16c for fair refining Cuba and 5 1/2c for centrifugal, 96 degrees test. Molasses has met with a fair demand at 18 1/2 a 19c for 50 degrees test. Teas are easier, under free offerings at auction.

Naval stores are rather firmer; spirits turpentine not plenty at 39c; rosin slightly dearer at $1.05 a 1.10 for common to good strained, and far quoted at $2 a 2 1/2c. Ocean freights have become very dull, owing to the maintenance of speculative prices for grain.

The speculation in cotton for future delivery at this market has been fairly active, and prices have further advanced though quite variable, and not without irregularity as between this and the next crop. There was a slight decline on Saturday and further depression at the opening on Monday. Ellison's circular estimating a considerable increase in the stocks in the hands of European spinners, comparatively fuller receipts at some of the river towns, and a weak Liverpool market, were influences which our bull party did not care to contend, and prices gave way 10 a 12 points for this crop, from the recent highest figures. But selling was checked by the danger of the manipulation in the direction of a "corner" to which April contracts were said to be exposed from a prominent operator, and in the course of Tuesday and Wednesday there was an advance in this crop of 18 a 20 points, in which the next crop sympathized but very little. Yesterday, with Liverpool unexpectedly strong, there was a buoyant opening, in which the next crop shared, but the early advance was mostly lost under sales to realize, with an easy closing. Today Liverpool came lower, but this market, after a slight pause, advanced on the reduced receipts at the ports, but the close was dull and unsettled. Cotton was quoted at 1-16c higher on Wednesday and again on Thursday. Today the market was quiet and unchanged at 10c for middling uplands.

The Virginia Law-Makers. RICHMOND, Va., March 21.—In the senate today a bill was passed authorizing the Norfolk and Western R. R. Co., with the consent of a majority of the stockholders, to increase the capital stock. There is no limit as to the amount or amounts.

The House of Delegates adopted resolutions that the committee on Roads investigate the management of the R. R. Commissioner's office to ascertain whether or not partiality has been shown by the Commissioner to any of the railroads of the State, and if he has not unjustly pursued the Atlantic and Danville Company, and whether said office has been of sufficient benefit to warrant its continuance as now managed.

Bad Weather at Lynchburg, Va. LYNCHBURG, Va., March 21.—The weather is cold, and snow and rain has been falling since early morning. The adjacent mountains are covered with snow.

Astonishing Success. It is the duty of every person who has used Boeche's German Syrup to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends in curing Consumption, severe Coughs, Croup, Asthma, Pneumonia, and in fact all throat and lung diseases. No person can use it without immediate relief. Three doses will relieve any case and we consider it the duty of all Druggists to recommend it to the poor, dying consumptive, at least to try one bottle, at 50c a dozen bottles were sold last year, and no one case where it failed was reported. Such a medicine as the German Syrup cannot be too widely known. Ask your druggist about it. Sample bottles to try, sold at 10c a 75 cents. Sold by all Druggists and Dealers in the United States and Canada.

Accidentally Shot. CHARLOTTEVILLE, Va., March 21.—An 18-year-old daughter of Floyd Walton was shot accidentally here today by a young man named Patterson, while handling an "unloaded" pistol. The wound is probably fatal.

Mrs. Gau Vorick says that she is going to take a cottage somewhere in New Jersey this season, but it is a sine qua non that there shall be no malaria a life.

CURRENCY.

ODE TO THE SPRING. [From Harper's Bazar.]

The Spring is here, and far and near The earth awakes, The frog parades, With joy profound, His jug-ur-rum, jug-ur-rum. A Chicago firm advertises: "Our dancing slippers for young ladies are simply immense." This is a complete vindication for the paragon.

"What are the last teeth that come?" asked a teacher of her class in physiology. "False teeth, mum," replied a boy who had just wakened up on the back seat. Wife—I've heard it's bad luck to be married on a Tuesday. Husband—If you'll leave off "on a Tuesday" I'll confirm the rumor.—Tid-Bits.

He—Would you like to go to the opera to-night? She—Indeed I would, but I haven't any clothes. He—Oh, that don't matter nowadays. Little Man—I understand, sir, that you have called me an unmitigated liar? Big Man—No, I didn't use the word unmitigated. Little Man—Then I accept your apology.—Harper's Bazar.

A Change for the Worse.—Tomkins—"How are you? Oh, say, I will pay you that bill the next time I meet you!" Johnson—"You have been saying that for months. A little change would suit me better." Tomkins—"Oh, well, I'll try not to meet you any more."—Life.

Roburite, the New Explosive. Fall Mal Gazette. The discovery of a new explosive by the German chemist, Dr. Root, of Berlin, is announced in the Paris Figaro, which gives the following details: The Roburite, as the new explosive has been called, has been in use for several years in the coal mines near Dortmund with the most satisfactory results. The only reason why it has not been adopted for general use in the mines is that it is too expensive, and that it is spoiled by any moisture. The Roburite has just been introduced into the German army, and the German military authorities hope to avoid the latter inconvenience by a new system of packing invented by an artillery Lieutenant at Spandau. With regard to its price, reductions will be made with the increase in the manufacture of the explosive. The fact that Roburite explodes neither from friction nor from sudden shock will greatly facilitate its transport. The efforts produced by an explosion of Roburite are said to be marvelous, and, though the statement that one discharge of it will remove mountains is exaggerated, the ravages caused by it are stated by eye-witnesses to be terrible.

Jan. S. Murphy, M. D., Company's Shop, N. C. writes:—"I sell a great deal of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, for every one who tries it likes it." "There are more things in heaven and earth, Horatio, than are dreamt of in your philosophy." Of course! Why, those old fuffies—understandably with scotch and pain, and didn't you know that Salvation Oil would cure them.

The Demmed hermit of New Brunswick, New Jersey, are to be released. Upon the trial it developed that it was impossible to determine whether the dead wife and dead brother had died naturally or otherwise. So it is understood that the surviving brothers will be released in a few days.

To Save Life. Frequently requires prompt action. An hour's delay waiting for the doctor may be attended with serious consequences, especially in cases of Croup, Pneumonia, and other throat and lung troubles. Hence, no family should be without a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which has proved itself, in thousands of cases, the best Emergency Medicine ever discovered. It gives prompt relief and prepares the way for a thorough cure, which is certain to be effected by its continued use.

S. H. Lattimer, M. D., Mt. Vernon, Ga., says: "I have found Ayer's Cherry Pectoral a perfect cure for Croup in all cases. I have known the worst cases relieved in a very short time by its use; and I advise all families to use it in sudden emergencies, for coughs, croup, &c." A. J. Ellison, M. D., Middletown, Tenn., says: "I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral with the best effect in my practice. This wonderful preparation once saved my life. I had a constant cough, night sweats, was greatly reduced in flesh, and given up by my physician. One bottle and a half of the Pectoral cured me."

"I cannot say enough in praise of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral," writes E. Bragdon, of Palestine, Texas, "believing as I do that, but for its use, I should long since have died."

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, PREPARED BY Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all Druggists. Price 61c; six bottles, $4.
