

NEWS OBSERVATIONS.

A Russian engineer, M. Coslowich, claims to have invented a navigable balloon. To avoid betraying his secret he has had the different parts of his apparatus constructed in different countries of Europe. The aerial machine in question is said to be 200 feet long.

One of the amenities of debate in the British House of Commons, for which that body has lately become notorious, occurred in a passage at arms between Mr. Goschen, Chancellor of the Exchequer, and Sir William Vernon Harcourt. The latter addressing the former in a speech teeming with bit or personalities, said: "You have gone from this bench a deserter. We shall take care that you do not return to it a spy."

The milliners, as is usual, are the first to enter the field with new styles for the coming season. Despite the warm weather, which renders difficult a just appreciation of hats in felt and bonnets in velvet, and of fur bands for trimming, it must be confessed that the new winter fashions for headgear are very tasteful. Velvet, dotted with minute spangles in gold, silver or steel, or embroidered with gold thread and spangles, forms the richest material for bonnets. Bands of astrakhan or sealskin or of curled ostrich feathers will be much used for trimming. Felt hats and bonnets in white or pale gray are shown, the former trimmed with pale gray satin ribbon and ostrich tips of the same hue. White felt bonnets with brims in ruby or sapphire velvet are very successful. There is but little variation in the shapes of the winter bonnets so far. The close capote form, and that with a pointed brim and with flat sides, maintain their place in popular favor.

The President's Movements.

WASHINGTON, August 30.—It is the intention of the President to spend the next few weeks at Oakview. He regards this as his vacation time, and while he will spend it near the Capitol so that he can attend to the actual public business, he will not feel obliged when necessarily called to the White House to devote any time to persons seeking places or merely desirous of paying their respects.

The Thunderer on the British Sealers.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—The Times protests against the treatment to which the British sealers in Behring's Sea are subjected by the American authorities in Alaska and suggests that the government send a cruiser to the Alaskan waters to secure strictly legal treatment for British vessels.

STATES' RIGHTS

IN THE INDIAN DIFFICULTY—AN ORDER FROM THE PRESIDENT ON THE SUBJECT.

THE OPERATIONS OF THE STATE AUTHORITIES TO BE KEPT WITHIN STATE LINES—OTHER NEWS BY WIRE.

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 30.—The following telegram from Gen. Terry, dated Chicago, August 29th, was received at the War Department today: "Referring to Maj. Randlett's dispatch of the 27th, forwarded to me this morning, I suggest that under sections 2,147, 2,149 and 2,150, Revised Statutes, Indian Agent Byrnes should be instructed to remove from his reservation all persons who may intrude upon it, and that the military commander at Fort DuChesne be instructed to give him all the assistance that he may require. It is hardly to be supposed that the civil and military officers of Colorado will forget that State rights do not run beyond the boundaries of the State. But in the excitement of the situation this may be overlooked and Maj. Randlett does not seem to feel at all sure that punishment of the Indians will not continue. I think as a precaution the orders which I suggest should be given."

General McFeeley, acting secretary of war, submitted this telegram to the President at the cabinet meeting today and the situation was carefully considered, resulting in telegraphic instructions being sent this afternoon by the President through the Interior Department to Governor Adams of Colorado to confine the actions of the civil authorities strictly within the limits of the State so as to prevent sheriffs' posses or the military from crossing the reservation border. Should such precipitate action be taken it is feared that a disastrous outbreak of the reservation Indians would follow, and everything possible will be done to avoid such a result.

A later dispatch from Gen. Terry, dated today, conveys the following from Major Randlett, dated Fort DuChesne, August 29: "Colorado and all his followers are now at Ouray agency, fifty miles from Colorado, and manifest a disposition to remain on their reservation. No more excitement among the Indians. The militia and cowboys hold hundreds of horses and thousands of sheep and goats belonging to Colorow and Chapita (Ouray's widow). This stock was grazing on the land claimed by the Indians as belonging to their reservation, and where they have been permitted by their agent to live for years. Colorado settlers have claimed a location there and have at last succeeded in driving the Indians in. Colorow has not in this trouble been on the warpath and has made his way to the reservation, avoiding hostilities as far as possible."

A Valuable Prize.

HALIFAX, N. S., August 31.—The steamer sighted off this place last evening with a disabled vessel in tow proved to be the Richmond Hill and her prize, the German bark Highflyer of Elmfield. They arrived in the harbor at a late hour. Captain Hyde of the Richmond Hill reports falling in with the Highflyer Saturday. After passing her the bark ran up signals of distress and, bearing down on her, Capt. Hyde was informed that the vessel was in a helpless state, her topmast and jibboom gone, her bulwarks stove in and three feet of water in her hold. The captain stated that the crew refused to work. The captain of the bark had resolved to abandon the vessel before the steamer was sighted and had set fire to her, but the flames did not appear till after the crew were taken off by a boat from the steamer. The boat crew returned at once and put out the fire. Some time later the flames burst out again and threatened to prove too much for the men, but they finally succeeded in overcoming them. The steamer and bark were then connected by hawser and their heads turned for Halifax. The bark is not seriously damaged by fire, and as she has over 5,000 barrels of oil on board is a valuable prize. She left New York August 16th for Dantzic. The Richmond Hill, which will proceed today for London, is from New York with a cargo of cattle and general goods.

The Decision in Senator's Stamford's Case.

CHICAGO, August 30.—A Springfield special says: Commissioner Littler was seen last night in regard to the refusal to grant the order applied for to compel Senator Stamford to answer certain questions in the Pacific Railroad investigation and Mr. Littler said: "The decision, as I understand it, will restrict the commission in the further prosecution of its inquiries into the expenditure of money for the purpose of corruptly influencing State and Federal legislation. So far as I can see no other effect will flow from it. The main and important inquiry prescribed by the act of Congress—namely, as to how the government can secure payment of the amounts advanced to several companies still remains an important subject of inquiry and the commission will have full power to proceed with the taking of evidence upon every question mentioned in the act creating the commission."

British Fisheries Convention.

LONDON, August 30.—Sir James Ferguson, parliamentary secretary for the foreign office, announced in the House of Commons this afternoon that the government had agreed upon a new commission to represent British interests in the North American fisheries convention. He added that he was glad to say that Mr. Joseph Chamberlain had accepted the office of principal high commissioner for Great Britain.

The Southern Dental Association.

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS AND OBSERVER.

Three hundred dentists are present, representing every State in the Union, England, France, Sweden and other European countries. North Carolina is represented by Drs. Turner, of Raleigh, responded to by Dr. J. H. Prewett, of Kentucky.

Robert Hare Powell's Sons Assign.

PHILADELPHIA, August 30.—The assignment of Robert Hare Powell's Sons & Co., extensive coal and iron operators, has just been announced. This morning the announcement was made that Robert Hare Powell & Co. and Robert Hare Powell's Sons & Co., the great coal mining firms of 419 Walnut street, had failed, and the street was necessarily startled. The failure was admitted by John C. Bradley, who is manager and partner in both firms. He stated that the failure was the result of the suspension of Chas. E. Pennock, of Coatesville, an extensive iron-plate merchant, whose paper bore the endorsement of both firms—Robert Hare Powell & Co. and the junior, one of Robert Hare Powell's Sons & Co. The liabilities he placed at $150,000, which is assumed to be the aggregate amount for which they became endorsers on Pennock's notes that were protested yesterday, while the assets, consisting of four tracts of valuable coal lands and appurtenances, are fixed at $400,000.

The Guarantee Trust Co. has been made assignee and Mr. Bradley was at one o'clock in consultation with President Cochran of that institution. It was generally believed that the assets of the two firms are far above their liabilities and that the course adopted of assigning the estate was the wisest to meet all legitimate claims and prevent sacrifices.

Exciting Scenes at Irish Evictions.

DUBLIN, August 30.—Evictions on the O'Grady estate at Herbertstown began today. The bailiffs were reinforced by one hundred soldiers and three hundred policemen. All the houses occupied by tenants were barricaded and guarded for defence. The house of Mrs. Crimmins, a widow, was the first advanced upon by the bailiffs. The widow and her friends were well armed with paving stones and boiling water, and both were showered upon the bailiffs with such telling effect that they were repulsed no less than four times.

The sheriff's men in their attacks attempted to clobber their way through the walls and roof and Mrs. Crimmins had the scalding water poured over their heads, faces and necks. After the fourth repulse of the bailiffs, the police attempted to storm the house. They also were driven back. Finally a joint rush was made by the bailiffs and the police and the house was broken into and captured. It was found that the defenders numbered but five men and four women. All were taken prisoners. A large crowd had collected about the house to witness the contest. The crowd all sympathized with Mrs. Crimmins and did all in their power to cheer her up in her battle and to annoy and exasperate the officers. When the widow's party were at last overpowered the crowd became frantic and pressed closely up towards the house. The prisoners when they were led out sang "God Save Ireland." The crowd joined in the singing and became so demonstrative that the police had to club their way out with batons.

Yesterday in Berlin.

BERLIN, August 30.—The police order forbidding Socialists to celebrate the death of Ferdinand Lassalle did not have the desired effect, as thousands of followers of the great labor union organizer made a pilgrimage to Grunau yesterday. A row occurred during the day and several arrests were made by the police.

The annual assembly of German Catholics opened at Treves yesterday. Three thousand delegates were present.

Herr Windthorst in an address said the entente cordiale which existed between the Pope and the Emperor was highly important as indicating a turning-point in their relations. He proposed the health of the two potentates.

The Fidelity Bank Again.

CINCINNATI, August 30.—An evening paper says that Receiver Armstrong, who is in charge of the Fidelity National Bank, has prepared a petition to be filed against the late directors of that bank, Eugene Simmerman, Henry Pogue, W. H. Chatfield and Briggs Swift for a sum aggregating between two and three million dollars. They will be charged with having betrayed their trusts as directors and having become individually liable for the losses of depositors. Directors Gaher and Harper are also defendants in the action.

Why Old Men Suffer.

The pains of old age make the path to the grave one of thorns. Rheumatism and kidney troubles seem ever to be their companions, yet Alcock's Porous Plasters give certain relief. Mr. Terrence Kelly, of No. 225 Myrtle avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I am nearly eighty-four years old, and have suffered from rheumatism and kidney troubles. I have tried numberless remedies, but none ever relieved me as did Alcock's Porous Plasters. I suffer from pain in the lower part of the back, which is constant torture unless I keep these valuable plasters continually on. They are the only remedy my family and self ever use for pains or soreness in the chest or throat."

TEXAS OUTLAWS

AND HOW THEY ARE DEALT WITH.

A SHARP FIGHT WITH A BAND—WHO MAY BE THE FLATONIA ROBBERS—OTHER TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—A Times Houston special says: On Wednesday last four of a gang of horse thieves which has been making raids near here for some time rode to Thompson's Switch, a small station seventy-seven miles from Houston, mounted on thoroughbred horses. They ordered dinner, after which they got drunk, fired off their pistols and terrified the inhabitants of the settlement, when they rode off in a northwesterly direction. On Saturday John Williford, a farmer and stockman of Cypresseton, reported to sheriff Ellis that he had two horses stolen from him Thursday, and that the thieves were still in the vicinity of his farm. Sheriff Ellis at once left for Navasota, where he organized a posse and started after the outlaws in the hope of heading them off. Yesterday morning two men rode into Houston and notified deputy sheriff Albert Erickson that the outlaws were camped at Eureka, five miles from this city. Deputy Erickson mounted a horse and immediately started for the camp of the outlaws. On arriving at the place where the outlaws were camped Erickson discovered that the gang had gone. After riding about for some time the deputy found three men camped under a tree on the prairie. He at once telegraphed Houston for assistance and a posse under command of Captain Lubbock immediately left for the scene of action. On arriving at Eureka the posse parted, deputy sheriff Erickson and apart of the posse proceeding in the direction of Smokeyville and the remainder under Captain Lubbock heading for the prairie. The latter posse soon struck the trail and in a short while located the outlaws who were still camped under the lone tree. Captain Lubbock then formed his posse in line about fifteen feet apart and advising all to reserve their fire until within thirty yards of the outlaws began advancing towards the camp. The outlaws, seeing this, quickly saddled their animals and started out at a quick gallop. After riding a few minutes the leader of the outlaws, who was riding a magnificent roan horse, threw his Winchester on his saddle, began shooting his rifle, sending shot after shot at the officers. The other outlaws, who were armed with six shooters, began firing at the posse. Capt. Lubbock's men reserved their fire as ordered until it was evident that the outlaws would reach the timber. The command to fire was then given and about forty or fifty shots were exchanged, the outlaws halting and making a desperate fight. During the skirmish the horse of Capt. Lubbock was killed. One of our German citizens named Kessner, who lived near Hockley and was accompanying the party, was wounded in the arm by a rifle ball. After the encounter on the prairie Capt. Lubbock returned to the city and another party started out in pursuit. It is learned that the sergeant of the convict camp near Goliath, on the International road, had a pack of bloodhounds on the trail but withdrew them for fear the outlaws would kill them. From the peculiar method the outlaws had of lying low on their horses, and their quick wheeling in running and firing, it is thought they were a part of old Sam Boss' gang who defied the State authorities of Texas a few years ago. From the large rolls of money displayed by the outlaws on their visit and drunken spree at Thompson's Switch it is confidently thought they are the same gang who robbed the Southern Pacific train at Flatonia in June. A dispatch was received from Sheriff Ellis at Cypress last night late stating that he was on a hot trail and expected to bag his game before daylight. The robbers are plucky and desperate and a bloody battle is anticipated should they be discovered.

The Proclamation of the League to Be Modified.

LONDON, August 30.—A cabinet meeting was held today. It was hastily summoned and it is understood the object of the conference was to take action respecting the serious and determined opposition of Liberal-Unionist leaders to the government's action in proclaiming the Irish National League. It is reported that the cabinet has decided to modify the proclamation so that it shall apply to certain districts only.

The Southern Express Company and the Inter-State Commission.

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 30.—Mr. S. Christol, general counsel of the Southern Express Company, has submitted to the Inter-State Commerce Commission a printed answer to the circular communication of the commission, in which answer the company argues that it is not legally bound to furnish schedules of its rates. It is, says the answer, a corporation established under the laws of Georgia, using various railroads, steamboats, steamships and other vehicles of conveyance. The use of the railroads has always been the subject matter of special contracts which differ in their terms and conditions and are subject to change or abrogation at the will of the railroads. The rates and charges of the express company are therefore made up of an estimated reasonable allowance for the use of its own property and for the use of other lines. With one railroad it may contract for car space, with another upon the tonnage, and to a third it may pay a percentage of its revenues. The answer quotes from an opinion by Chief Justice Waite sustaining the right of an express company to make special contracts with railroads, and it likens the relations of the express and the railroads to those between the railroads and the Postoffice Department or the Western Union Telegraph Company. It is submitted that legislation to reverse established legal principles should certainly make some reference to the law or principle to be changed; yet section 6 of the Inter-State Commerce law not only contains no reference to express companies, but declares in unambiguous language that its provisions apply only to railroads. The schedules provided for are required to state the places upon the railroads and contain a classification of freights in force upon the same; and copies of the schedule are required to be kept in every depot or station; yet the express company owns no railroad, has no control over railroad rates or classification, has no officers or agents in many depots of the lines with which it has contracts.

The Ives Case.

NEW YORK, August 30.—The witnesses in the Ives reference case, with the exception of Ives, Stayner and Doremus, signed their testimony today. The motion of Ives' counsel to strike out his cross-examination will be argued probably tomorrow. When the court rules whether or not the referee had the right to cross-question the partners, they will be asked to sign their testimony.

Loss by Fire.

LEVANNA, Ohio, August 30.—Over twenty dwelling houses, besides a large mill known as the Boyd Manufacturing Company, were burned in yesterday's fire. The town is almost destroyed. Loss $100,000; insurance light.

The Presentment Against Solicitor Argo.

We learn that the presentment against Solicitor Argo at Johnston Superior Court arose chiefly from a misapprehension as to the cause of his absence from the court room and that the latter was occasioned by the fact that many very important bills had to be drawn for immediate action by the grand jury, and at his request the judge presiding appointed other counsel to conduct some prosecutions, until the bills could be prepared by the solicitor. We have the authority of Judge Merrimon and ex-Solicitor Galloway for the statement here made, and it gives us very great pleasure to make it.

Gov. Wilson's Reply to Foraker.

Perhaps Gov. Wilson made the best reply that could have been made to the ridiculously partisan utterances of "Little Breeches" Foraker at Wheeling the other day on the occasion to which we have already alluded. He was called on to speak after Foraker and in the course of a really eloquent and patriotic speech said: "I have been asked by some one at my side whether the Confederates were traitors. In reply I have only to say the man who asks that question at this day and on this occasion is lacking in patriotism and is inspired by the same sentiments that once moved for the destruction of this Union. He is the man who would keep sectionalism alive and fatten on sectional hatred. (Cheers.) Do you expect to feed this country on a dish of rebellion for the next hundred years to come? The true American soldier did not go to the war for the purpose of coming back here and talking about rebels. Let me tell the Governor who has told what he did in the war that it is not such a grand thing to be continually talking about your own exploits. I consider myself as much a patriot as any man here this evening, whether he has two legs, one leg or no legs." "You had better bear in mind," he continued, "that the soldiers who went into the war were not republicans. Hancock and scores of other officers and thousands and tens of thousands of the rank and file were good democrats as good patriots as any here this evening. I did not come here to talk politics, but I am not going to see the record of the democratic soldier swallowed up in the vortex of partisan hatred, without lifting my voice in protest."

Foraker should have hung his head in shame, but we have no report that he did so. He is probably lost to shame by this time, seeing that he is a republican of some years' standing.

Tabernacle Meeting—13th day and Last Cor. of the News and Observer.

RUTHERFORD COLLEGE, Aug. 28. Sunday was a great day. A very large and intelligent audience assembled under the Tabernacle—many were outside. Bishop Key delivered a sound gospel sermon from 1st Cor. 6—19 and 20th, and then took up a collection of over $100 to finish paying for the building before dedication. Levi Branson then read the 1st Bible lesson and J. S. Nelson the 2d. Dr. Abernethy presented the Tabernacle and the Bishop read the dedication service and prayer.

At 3 p. m. L. W. Cranford delivered his missionary sermon. The audience was still large. At night J. S. Nelson preached on the "Prodigal Son." Five penitents came to the altar. The conference met at 9 a. m. today. The farewell talks were made; sweet songs were sung; many kind words were said. The "Sweet Bye and Bye" was sung, the benediction pronounced and the great Tabernacle meeting of 1887 was over. It was pronounced a decided success.

Give Them a Chance!

That is to say your lungs! Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them. When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do the work. And what they do, they cannot do well. Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.

When a girl goes around with red hair and freckles, that's nature. When she can tone her hair to just the proper shade of auburn and conceal the freckles with an invisible application of prepared chalk, that's art. Nature is the most talked up, but art isn't to be sneezed at.

To Save Life

Frequently requires prompt action. An hour's delay waiting for the doctor may be attended with serious consequences, especially in cases of Croup, Pneumonia, and other throat and lung troubles. Hence, no family should be without a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which has proved itself, in thousands of cases, the best Emergency Medicine ever discovered. It gives prompt relief and prepares the way for a thorough cure, which is certain to be effected by its continued use.

S. H. Latimer, M. D., Mt. Vernon, Ga., says: "I have found Ayer's Cherry Pectoral a perfect cure for Croup in all cases. I have known the worst cases relieved in a very short time by its use, and I advise all families to use it in such cases, the best Emergency Medicine ever discovered. It gives prompt relief and prepares the way for a thorough cure, which is certain to be effected by its continued use."
