A companion of the dead burglar, known to the police by the sobriquet of "Rats," who was watching on the outside of the building, was arrested and is now locked up.

Hats will be worn with much lower crowns than they were last season. The prevailing form will be the cavalier shape, with low set crown and a wide brim raised at the back and held in place by a bow of satin ribbon. In white felt, with the inside of the brim of a delicate gray and all the trimmings in the latter hue, this style is peculiarly elegant. Toque hats, with the crown high in front and sloping downward to the brim at the back, are also shown. A bonnet with the crown and sides in black velvet, embroidered with jet and having the front in a lattice work pattern of jet beads and bugles, was trimmed with three or four exquisite deep pink roses and buds without foliage. Pheasant and peacock plumage will be a good deal used in the construction of bonnets, the former in combination with chestnut brown velvet and the latter with dark green.

Zubia ran several steps down the walk, and coming up behind Brigham struck him a heavy blow over the head. Judge Zubia, in an interview last night regarding his assault upon Consul Brigham, said: "Brigham and Cowart had waited at the courtroom from 2 to 5 p. m. I did not keep my engagement with them because I had been detained at home by a sick wife. My interpreter says the consul used language when speaking to me that a Mexican would call insulting, and that he did not interpret more than half of it to me. Thereupon I ordered Cowart and Consul Brigham from my residence. On the street the consul continued to use violent language and without any weapon, ran down to him and struck him on the head with my hand." The latter started to use his cane and Zubia ran into a house and locked the door. Consul Brigham has telegraphed the affair to Washington. He is corroborated by agent Cowart.

Brutality to Georgia Convicts.

CHICAGO, September 1 .- A Times' special from Atlanta, Ga., says : Gov. Gordon has received information from Dodge county of a case of brutality to convicts in Degree's camp which has been unearthed by the Dodge county grand jury. At that camp, where fifty convicts are worked, the superintendent's name is Bryant. One of the convicts was made to work by a fire. He complained of being sick, but with the lash Bryant compelled him to keep at work until at last the convict fell dead at his feet. The grand jury has indicted Bryant for murder, but he heard of it and escaped into Alabama. Other convicts were equally badly treated. Another case was that of a negro who escaped from the camp. The managers supposed that he would make his escape by railroad and sent a guard to intercept him. The guard went to a cut below the station where there had been an old mill After some time they heard a clanking of chains and knew that the negro was coming. The negro came in sight and was shot dead. The guard said he halfed the negro and he ran. This statement was controverted by the fact that every shot was fired into the negro's breast and front.

New Orleans, September 1 .- Mr r. H. Patterson, a passenger on the steamer Knickerbocker which arrived here yesterday from New York several days over-due, says the steamer encountered a gale early on the morning of the 23d, which soon developed into a cyclone of great severity. The storm continued 48 hours, during which time everybody thought the ship would go to pieces. The ship was blown three hundred miles out of her course and the steamer was further delayed 48 hours, going under sail. During the cyclone the water broke over the ship, and at one time there was considerable water in the engine room.

Meeting of Orang Presbytery. Cor. of the News and Observer. CROSS ROADS CHURCH,

ALAMANCE COUNTY, Sept. 1, 1887. Orange Presbytery met at this church yesterday morning at 11 o'clock. A large number of members of the Presbytery were present, also a very large congregation. The open ing sermon was preached by the last moderator of the Presbytery that met in April last at New Berne, Rev. Mr. Welham, of Hillsboro, after which he called the Presbytery to order and it was organized by the election as moderator of Rev. R. B. Willis, of Oxford, and Rev. H. Darnell, of Durham, as temporary clerk, Rev. Dr. F. H. Johnston, stated clerk. The meeting promises to be a very interesting one. The delegates to the late General Assembly at St. Louis will make their report, &c. The Presbytery adjourned until today at 9.30, when the moderator will announce the committees. The church in which the meeting is held is a new one, just having been finished this week. It is one of the best country churches in the State. It takes the place of the old church built and dedicated in 1765. Dr. Watkins, delegate from the First Church of your city, is here on his way home from Virginia, where he has been spending the summer. The Rev. Mr. Robt. Pell is to fill his pulpit in Raleigh on Sunday next. This church is six miles North of Mebane's depot, and is an offshoot of Haw Fields church, which is three miles south of Mebane, was built and dedicated in 1750, and at which the Rev. Hugh McAden preached in 1755. Orange Presbytery was organized at Haw Fields church in 1770, and its centennial, which was held in 1870, a number of Raleigh people attended.

Note.—The Rev. Hugh McAden above was the grandfather of Rufus McAden, Esq., of Charlotte, and Mrs. Simpson, of Raleigh.
