freight train ran into the rear sleeper of the passenger while under full headway. Many of the passengers were injured. Several were seriously hurt, but it is not known that any were killed. Only a few of the names of those injured are known. The sleeper was derailed and almost entirely demolished. Several cars on the freight train were telescoped. The engineer and fireman on the freight engine leaped just in time to save their lives. There is a web of intersecting tracks where the accident occurred The Michigan Central has the right of way at all times, and a neglect of this rule brought about the collision. The gates were down as usual and the signal light displayed. The express train was crossing the tracks of the Wabash and Western when the freight train, under a full head of steam, broke through the gates and crashed into it. The engine struck the sleeper directly in the middle, nearly cutting it in too, tore it from its couplings and threw it from the tracks. The freight engine was derailed. Three or four freight cars were telescoped and piled upon it. Meanwhile the passengers who were buried in the wreck of the sleeper were shouting for help. The trainmen procured lanterns and dragged from the wreck a dozen passengers. Five of them were severely injured and others badly shaken up. None were fatally hurt. Eight passengers, injured slightly, were put upon the express train which proceeded within an hour after the accident.

Bank Examiner Samuel McD. Tate arrived yesterday morning on the 6:30 train from the West and is stopping at the Yarboro. He formally took charge of the bank yesterday morning and has since been busily engaged in making investigations. Col. Tate is a man of somewhat distinguished appearance and impresses one as a man well calculated to take charge of the business in hand. He has an intelligent and business-like face, is rather slight in physique and appears to be a man of about middle age.

Our reporter interviewed Col. Tate about 12 o'clock yesterday and was informed that no developments of a definite nature had yet been arrived at.

PROMPT ACTION. He has taken charge of all mail which has arrived since Monday night and will examine the same and promptly return all mail of importance. The deposits of Monday, which have all been kept to themselves are still held and it was the desire of the directors to have them returned to the depositors, but the question has not yet been decided and cannot be till something further is known of the affairs of the bank. THE LATEST INTELLIGENCE.

Our reporter had another interview with Col. Tate late yesterday evening and he spoke in very encouraging posed. He says that, so far as he has been able to ascertain, the extent of the defalcation will not exceed $75,000. The most gratifying intelligence which our reporter received from the bank expert, however, was to the effect that he believed that every depositor and creditor of the bank would be paid probably as much as seventy-five cents on the dollar.

Said Col. Tate: "The affairs are in a bad tangle and it will take time to straighten them out, but it is my firm belief that the bank will eventually be able to pay all its depositors in full." This is certainly good news, and will be hailed with joy by a number of desponding people who supposed that everything would be lost This intelligence, coming as it does from Col, Tate, has the weight of authority and may safely be credited. Col. Tate stated that he could speak in no definite terms of the bank, but was confident that the crash had been much exaggerated. Several days will be neccessary to get matters in shape. THE STOCKHOLDERS

A good many inquiries have been made concerning the stockholders, who they were and how much stock they owned respectively. Mr. Cross owned stock in the bank to the amount of $30,000 and there is reason to be 'ieve that a large block of additional stock has recently been transferred to him, The other stock holders were the directors. The five new directors took stock to the amount of one thousand dollars each on their election as directors, and owned stock to that amount at the time of the collanse. Capt. Stamps owned stock to the amount of four thousand and Mr. Primrese to the amount of one thousand and nearly all the remainder of the stock was owned by Mrs. John G. Williams. Mr. White's interests in the bank were small.

Examination was made yesterday and it was found that all private valuables which had been deposited in the bank for safe keeping were untouched.

During yesterday several persons who had valuables on deposit visited the bank and on identifying their property were allowed to remove it. Mr. R. L. Cheatham, of Franklin-ton, who came to this city Tuesday evening to look after $800 which he had sent by mail Monday to be deposited, had his money returned to him yesterday. The fact has just come to light that the defaulting officers some time ago made false reports of the condition of the bank, and it is thought that the immediate cause of their leaving was not for the purpose of stealing alone, but from the fear that their irregularities would be detected.

As early as 11 o'clock this 'morning the galleries of the House were crowded with spec ators anxious to observe the funeral services over the remains of the late Chief Justice and to do honor to the memory of the deceased.
