TUESDAY, APRIL 10, 1888. DRMOORATIC DISTRICT CONVENTION

A convention of the Democratic party of the fourth Congressional dishrict will be held at Raleigh on May 29th, next, to nominate a candidate for Congress, a candidate for district elector, to elect two delegates to and for other purposes. By order of from other banks. the committee.

E. J. PARRIS.I. Chairman executive committee. (District papers will please dopy)

Mas Ross, the new postmaster at Washington City, has produced great consternation in that establishment of the cases the notes must be paid by beginning the work of putting in in cash at an early day, which will secompetent Democrats.

STATISTICIAN DODGE, who dodged the recent blow aimed at him successfully, finds that he has a more serious attack to combat. It is now thought phase of feeling has some what abated that his official head may not escape.

THEY are celebrating the centennial a iniversary of the settlement of "the Ohio country" by Gen. Rufus Putnam and the soldiers of the Revolution. The day of centennials is a long one in the nature of things.

THE Direct-tax bill is to distribute some seventeen million dollars among the northern States. Is that "mendicancy" or what? Will the New York Post please rise to explain? We know the suggestion is that they paid some taxes once upon a time.

THE Democratic caucus Saturday bill provides for the admission of hind us. Dakota, Montana, Washington and New Mexico, and the caucus resolved that an enabling act should be pased at this session.

THE BARK MATTER. N. Y. Commercial and Financial Chronicle The return of the absconding president and cashier of the State National Bank has been attended by the circumstances we anticipated and foreshadowed some ten days since. Just a fortnight ago the community and, indeed, the reading public of the enfireState were thrown into a state of the greatest excitement and consternation as the fact of their flight became realized-for indeed it was difficult to be understood and realized. Then came the developments connected with the condition of the bank, the public learning that its capital had been impaired, and that the president and eashier had been using forged paper the National Democratict Convention both in the bank and to obtain money 7.95c for prime to choice Western, money While in some instances arrange ments may be made, yet in the bulk riously embarrass many business men. Such are some of the consequences yet to be suffered. In the first flush of exasperation our eople expressed themselves with uncontrolled indignation, but that and the tendency is now sympathetic, mingling pity, and commiseration, with a feeling of regret that the men whom we have all known so pleasantly, so kindly-in some instances so with sales reported below current affectionately-should be in such condition. IT is sad, as we formerly said it would be a sad day when they should be brought back. But sadder yet will be the day of trial. Sadder yet the end of the law. It is not needed for any one in this community to say that the processes of the law will and needs must go on. Nothing can arrest its inevitable progress. But the duly of the public is to see that the trial be fair, impartial, not accompanied by undue harshness, but rigerously just and exact.

We should say too-unless there decided to stand by what is known be some e'ement of defense not now as the omnibus bill with respect to known, that the sooner the better for the admission of territories. That the community; so that this part of

THE enterprising Constitution has interviewed about fifty lawyers in At. lasta with the question -- Who is the best lawyer in that city. To be sure a great diversity of sentiment is noted, but it is gratifying to observe that Hoke Smith, who has good North Capolina blood in his veins, is spoken of as "the best lawyer to win a case." That is generally what lawyers are wanted for.

THE Atlanta Constitution gravely saus: "As to the Mills bill, we confesh that we do not understand it." Ok, well; that's all right; the country can't wait for the Constitution to be understanding things. Let the bill be passed, and perhaps when the South has taken a new boom and a whole lot of new subscribers are able to buy the Constitution, it will begin to understand what made the countrj prosperous.

THE situation in the House of Repregentatives at Washington remained unchanged yesterday morning. The direct tax bill, on which the fight is being made, was in 'exactly the same polition that it occupied on Tuesday morning last when E. B. Taylor, of Ohic, moved that the House resolve itself into Committee of the Whole for the consideration of the measure. The House has never yet reached a vole. Motions to adjourn and to take a recess have preference at all times, and these motions have been repeated so often that nothing else has been enjertained. The force opposing the bill has been admirably led by Mesars. Bretkenridge of Kentucky and Oates of Alabama.

Oun"ninety-year-old" friend, Wm D. Herrington, is entitled to some little latitude, and we print his communication, remarking, however, that he is under a wrong impression as to what took place at the time he was in Raleigh.

At the recent election these restrictions were removed notwithstanding the fact that the Republicans elected their candidates or the State offices and the legislature.
