HOUSE. The House met at 11.45 this morning. The legislative day of Wednesday last continuing. Mr. Phelan, of Tennessee, as a priv ileged question, submitted a conference report upon the bill authorizing the construction of a bridge across the Mississippi river at Memphis, Tenn.

The Senate amendment repealing the bridge charter now existing was agreed to. The report was adopted. Mr. Blount, of Georgia, asked unanimous consent to report the postoffice appropriation bid, but the demand for the regular order from Mr. Reed, of Maine, operated as an objection, and the seventh day of the contest over the direct tax bill was formally opened.

Motions for recesses for ten, fifteen, twenty and twenty-five minutes were submitted by Mr. Breckenridge, of Arkansas; Mr. Weaver, of Iowa; Mr. Anderson, of Illinois, and Mr. Oates, of Alabama. These was further supplemented with motions to adjourn until Thursday, to adjourn adoctors will have a consultation until Friday, and to adjourn until about 2 o'clock this afternoon. Saturday.

Mr. Kelly, of Pennsylvania, called attention to the violation of the rule prohibiting smoking upon the floor, and the Speaker pro tem (Mr. Hatch, of Missouri,) emphatically directed the sergeant-at arms and the doorkeeper to enforce the rule vigorously. There is no change or prospect of a change in the dead-lock; no concessions have been made by either side of the controversy, and all talk of a compromise has ceased. It is generally thought among the members that the present condition of affairs will continue until Tuesday next, the day when it is intended to call up the will be made to break the dead-lock. There is a desire on the part of the Democratic advocates of the direct tax bill to have a caucus called for the purpose of determining what course should be pursued to put an end to the present stagnation of business; but while the opponents indicate a willingness to have a caucus called for consultation, they decline to be bound by the action. A call of the House was in progress at 3 p. m. The hours were away without being marked by a single incident of interest. Late in the afternoon a vote was taken on a motion to adjourn, in order that a test might be made of the strength of the combatants. The affirmative vote was 80-exactly the number who voted in a similar manner yesterday; the negative vote fell off from 156 yesterday to 146 today, the ranks of the supporters of the bill. Subsequently the sergeant-atarms appeared and stated that all the members who were reported as absent had returned to the House except such as had been excused or were out the city, and the House, having received his report, relapsed into a state of lassitude. Mr. Parker, of New York, was the first to claim attention with a parliamentary inquiry. It was, he said, the custom of the House to send out special committees effects of the strike now existing in the House of Representatives. The Speaker pro tem. was not of the opinion that the inquiry presented was a parliamentary one, and Mr. Parker resumed his seat with his querry unanswered.

AND HIS CONDITION EXTREMELY PRECARI-QUS -SLEEPING UNDER THE INFLU-ENCE OF OPIATES

By Telegraph to the News and Observer. New York, April 10 .- At 7 o'clock this morning Mrs. Conkling was seen. She said Mr. Conkling passed a comparatively easy night and is feeling somewhat better. He was resting quietly and has not had any more attacks of delirium and in every way seemed to be much improved.

At 9.30 o'clock this morning the doctors said that Mr. Roscoe Conkling's condition was much improved this morning and that the operation that had been performed seemed to accomplish all that had been expected. His temperature has fallen to 99 and his pulse to 90. He had slept three hours during the night. The of Utica, a nephew of the ex Senator, visited the patient and within ten minutes he appeared again at the door. He said that only Doctor Anderson and the nurse were in the patient's room. "Mr. Conkling passed a restless night," said Mr. Cox," but he is considered to be some better. He was awake when I was in the room but did not speak to me." Dr. Barker would make no statement this morning as to Mr. Conkling's chances of recovery. Ed. Stokes called at the sick room shortly after 10 o'clock this morning. He said Mr. Conkling was conscious and lying in bed. He tariff bill-when a determined effort refused to take medicine from any person but Stokes. Among other callers in the early morning were ex-Judge Horace Russell, ex-Governor Hoadley, Col. Ed. Gebhard and Dorcas Barnes.

At 11 o'clock ex-Senator Conkling was reported as not being so well as in the early morning hours, he being conscious only at intervals of short duration. The effect of the operation is beginning to show itself in the way of causing a heavy strain on

At noon it was stated that Mr. Conkling had frequently arisen from his bed and paced his room in a state of delirium until so exhausted that he was compelled to return to his couch During these periodical attacks Mrs Conkling remains in the room with her husband. For over an hour Mrs. Conkling has kept the door of her own room locked and refused to see —Col. J. B. Mr. Conkling passed the day alternately in a stupor and fits of restlessness, in which he would pace the floor, talk excitedly and express a desire to go out. The attendants could do &c. nothing with him. He refused medicine and they could not force it into his mouth. Shortly after 5 o'clock Dr. Barker arrived. Mr. Conkling recognized him and said: "Doctor, can't you do anything to stop this for the purpose of investigating the bothering me?" PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

No. 5. SCHOOL MATTERS BEFORE THE WAR AND

In 1860 the public schools showed their highest development before the war. According to Superintendent Wiley's report, during that year the disbursements were $278,000, and the whole number of children between 6 and 21 years of age was 221,450. The per capita expenditure was therefore, $1.25 on the number of white children. This money was in part furnished from the interest on the permanent fund of about $2,000,000, and in part by county taxation, the counties being required to tax themselves. This requirement was perhaps the strongest factor in the establishment and improvement of the public schools before the war. In fact the wise founders of our public schools in 1840 started with this requirement and did not allow any apportionment from the State fund to counties that did not vote in favor of and levy a tax to supplement it.

This principal of helping those who help themselves has had wide application in the establishment and development of school systems in other States and countries.

It will be seen that while last year we spent $653,037.33 on a school cansus of 566,270, the average per capita expenditure was only $1.16less than in 1860 by 9 cents on each child of school age.

Besides having less money now for each child than was applied in 1860, we labor under the additional disadvantage of having two races to instruct in separate schools. The separation of the races is a necessity, but it is somewhat more expensive to educate two races in this way than it would be to educate one race having the same number of children. Having this race disadvantage and less money per capita, our school terms will of course be somewhat shorter than were the terms in 1860. Then the salaries of teachers averaged about the same as we now pay our teachers, perhaps a little more.

The machinery of our system is very much the same now as it was before the war. It recognizes local management, and the necessity of making Boards of Education, County Superintendents and committees spec ally responsible for such man-Thenthe County Court selected five men to act as a Board of Superintendents; now the Justices of the Peace and the County Commissioners select three men to act as a Board of Education. > The average cost of the Board of Education now is just about one per cent of the funds-one dollar out of one hundred dollars. Under the old system the chairman was county superintendent, gave bond and handled all the money, and was paid 21 per cent of the funds, and if he visited the schools the board paid him extra: now we have a county superintendent who examines teachers, is secretary of the board, visits the schools, gives the board such information as they must have to enable them to perform their duties intelligently, has a general oversight of the superintendents last year was only ourselves? about 3 per cent of the funds. The system then did, however, save the treasurers' commissions which we now pay, because it did make the county superintendent snother mill because the de de de treasurer, and these commissions went far toward paying the cost of superintendence.

It may be well to call attention to the fact that good county boards and efficient and active superintendents are perhaps more of necessities now you know, they never dreamed of than when we had but one race to stripping for the race, and we had it provide for. This thought I would

And further, about one third of all the money raised in the State by taxation for all purposes goes into the coal mines, and their new methods of schools. Some local authorities must agriculture, and their shrewd enterbe paid to manage it, and it is folly prise, and their commercial daring, not to pay enough to have it effi-ciently managed. What we pay now the tighter and strike a livelier gait, to the boards of education and the superintendents would lengthen the average school terms only about two and there is room enough for generdays per annum.

Dr. Barker at the conclusion of the conference said that the patient's condition was very unpromising; that he was suffering from inflammation of the ear, which had extended to the membranes of the brain. The probabilities were that Mr. Conkling would not recover, though there was a possibility that he might get well. His temperature was 1034 and his pulse 100. Dr. Barker did not think that there would be any marked change in his patient's condition for perhaps twelve hours.

Drs. Delafield, Sands and Barker held another consultation and it was dose that she slept all night and with decided to cut through the temporal bone to ascertain whether there was pus lodged on the brain. Dr. Sands removed a portion of the temporal bone and found a secretion of the matter, which was drained off.

The operation was performed by making an incision in the squamous portion of the temporal bone and raising the base of the brain by the aid of a mallet and chisel.

At 9.45 p. m. Dr. Fordyce Barker, on behalf of the attending physicians, said that Mr. Conkling was resting much easier, and that there was no immediate danger of death. His temperature was 102 and his pulse about 92. Mr. Conkling moved so much that his pulse could only be approximately taken. Dr. Barker said that the operation had been in every way successful. Two holes about half an inch in diameter were made in the skull behind the ear, and about an ounce of matter was taken out. He seemed soon after to be greatly relieved. Dr. Anderson is in constant

E. J. HARDIN.

THE operation on ex-Senator Conkling was so heroic that it would seem the disease must have appeared to be desperate. His recovery is problems atical. If he shall not recover, his loss will be greatly felt, for without doubt he is one of the most brilliant men of this day. We believe also that although a stalwart Republican he so lived as to command the respect of all parties.

Watch in a Ring, Chicago Herald.

A seal ring, with a watch set in room of the seal, is the latest thing out in jewelry. The timekeeper is a marvel of delicate workmanship, and really a triumph of the jeweler's art. It is a trifle larger than the ordinary cameo or signet for ladies' wear, but not large nough to be clumsy or to ook out of place on a delicate hand.

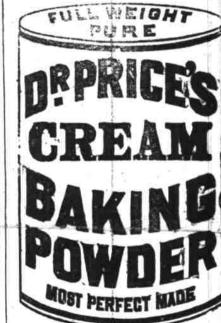

It is said that the Prince of Wales has made over to his son and heir. Prince Albert Victor, the duty of being the glass of fashion and the mold of form for England's golden youth, and that Albert Victor more than all else dotes on the set of his turn-down collars, allowing no fingers less royal than his own to meddle with their immecculate surface or turn down their tips.

A Woman's Discovery.
"Another wonderful discovery has been made and that too by a lady in this county. Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severests tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly and could not sleep. She bought of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption and was so much relieved on taking first writes W. C.
