

ROYAL BAKING POWDER Absolutely Pure.

WATERBURY'S PATENT REGULATORS

A WONDERFUL MEDICINE

Woolcott & Son

Woolcott & Son

Woolcott & Son

Woolcott & Son

Woolcott & Son

Woolcott & Son

Woolcott & Son

Woolcott & Son

Woolcott & Son

Woolcott & Son

Woolcott & Son

Woolcott & Son

Woolcott & Son

Winston Talk. Cor. of the News and Observer. Winston, April 1. Several hundred people composing a Democratic convention for the purpose of nominating city officers were called to order last night in Brown's Opera House by Mr. E. J. Shephard, chairman of the executive committee.

Prof. Wm. A. Blair has handed me a list of teachers that will constitute the Normal School faculty at the coming State Normal School here. The school will open the 10th of July, and special pains will be made to make the session one of unusual importance and value.

Winston and Salem are peculiarly blessed with good schools. Every-body in N. C. knows all about the grand old Salem Academy, and I believe Winston has the best Graded School in the State, taking into consideration everything connected with it.

Rev. Dr. Hume, of the State University, will preach the Baccalaureate sermon of the Salem School. The programme for the commencement exercises of this school, I understand, will be unusually attractive.

Dr. Robbins, the historian, is progressing rapidly with his History of Winston and Salem. Judging from some of the proof sheets that I have been permitted to see I would say that the book will be one of great value to our section. The book will deal with facts, and not fiction or fancy.

Dr. Robbins, the historian, is progressing rapidly with his History of Winston and Salem. Judging from some of the proof sheets that I have been permitted to see I would say that the book will be one of great value to our section.

CONGRESS. PROCEEDINGS YESTERDAY IN SENATE AND HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—SENATE.—Mr. Edmunds, from the Judiciary committee, reported back adversely the Senate bill to repeal the statute allowing pensions to Judges in certain cases.

The Senate then, on motion of Mr. Sherman, proceeded to executive business, this being the first secret session for several days. The accumulation of nominations by the President, among them that of Mr. Fuller to be Chief Justice, were referred to a committee and a number of reports mostly upon postmasters, were made to committee.

Mr. Harmer, of Pennsylvania, presented a memorial of dealers in tobacco of Philadelphia in favor of a speedy repeal of the tax on tobacco. Mr. Edmunds, from the Finance committee, reported the bill to amend the inter-State commerce laws. Placed on the calendar.

Mr. Wilson, of Minnesota, said that the surplus in the treasury was demeriting in the extreme. He briefly reviewed the history of the attempts of the Democratic party to reduce that surplus by a reduction of tariff duties.

Mr. Latham, of Texas, did not claim to be an expert philosopher in dismal science. What he had to say was, he stated, designed for the home market and local consumption. He was not vain enough to believe his remarks would be in demand for export or that there would be occasion to exhaust the supply which he expected to provide for his immediate constituents.

Mr. Latham, of Texas, did not claim to be an expert philosopher in dismal science. What he had to say was, he stated, designed for the home market and local consumption.

people of his district or retarding the well being and prosperity of his State. He argued that free wool growers of Texas, would prove a benefit to him as it would have the effect of inviting the wool growers of other States where the price of land was high.

Mr. Allen, of Massachusetts, wished he could take the members of the House to the heights opposite Lowell where would be seen miles of cotton mills filled from basement to roof with throbbing armies of skillful workmen and women.

Mr. Allen, of Massachusetts, wished he could take the members of the House to the heights opposite Lowell where would be seen miles of cotton mills filled from basement to roof with throbbing armies of skillful workmen and women.

Mr. Allen, of Massachusetts, wished he could take the members of the House to the heights opposite Lowell where would be seen miles of cotton mills filled from basement to roof with throbbing armies of skillful workmen and women.

Mr. Allen, of Massachusetts, wished he could take the members of the House to the heights opposite Lowell where would be seen miles of cotton mills filled from basement to roof with throbbing armies of skillful workmen and women.

Mr. Allen, of Massachusetts, wished he could take the members of the House to the heights opposite Lowell where would be seen miles of cotton mills filled from basement to roof with throbbing armies of skillful workmen and women.

could not exist so now the North contended that protection was its only safety. As the South had found that the liberation of its slaves was the commencement of its greatness, so the North would find that the adoption of a revenue tariff would awaken her energies, add new impulse to her enterprises, and lend to every power double power to reach the desired end.

Mr. Allen, of Massachusetts, wished he could take the members of the House to the heights opposite Lowell where would be seen miles of cotton mills filled from basement to roof with throbbing armies of skillful workmen and women.

Mr. Allen, of Massachusetts, wished he could take the members of the House to the heights opposite Lowell where would be seen miles of cotton mills filled from basement to roof with throbbing armies of skillful workmen and women.

Mr. Allen, of Massachusetts, wished he could take the members of the House to the heights opposite Lowell where would be seen miles of cotton mills filled from basement to roof with throbbing armies of skillful workmen and women.

Mr. Allen, of Massachusetts, wished he could take the members of the House to the heights opposite Lowell where would be seen miles of cotton mills filled from basement to roof with throbbing armies of skillful workmen and women.

Mr. Allen, of Massachusetts, wished he could take the members of the House to the heights opposite Lowell where would be seen miles of cotton mills filled from basement to roof with throbbing armies of skillful workmen and women.

COMPLETE THAT TRAGEDY IN THE MISSISSIPPI TOWN OF JACKSON.

BOTH PARTIES TO THE SHOOTING AFFAIR KILLED—A THIRD MAN SUSPECTED OF IMPLICATION—OTHER NEWS. NEW ORLEANS, May 2.—E. L. Martin, publisher of the New Mississippiian, sends the following account of the tragedy at Jackson yesterday: Mr. Martin was returning to his office from his dinner at about 2 o'clock when he was met midway between his home and his office by Gen. Adams and a friend who had left the post office a few minutes earlier and were proceeding toward Martin's home.

Mr. Martin was returning to his office from his dinner at about 2 o'clock when he was met midway between his home and his office by Gen. Adams and a friend who had left the post office a few minutes earlier and were proceeding toward Martin's home.

Mr. Martin was returning to his office from his dinner at about 2 o'clock when he was met midway between his home and his office by Gen. Adams and a friend who had left the post office a few minutes earlier and were proceeding toward Martin's home.

Mr. Martin was returning to his office from his dinner at about 2 o'clock when he was met midway between his home and his office by Gen. Adams and a friend who had left the post office a few minutes earlier and were proceeding toward Martin's home.

Mr. Martin was returning to his office from his dinner at about 2 o'clock when he was met midway between his home and his office by Gen. Adams and a friend who had left the post office a few minutes earlier and were proceeding toward Martin's home.

Mr. Martin was returning to his office from his dinner at about 2 o'clock when he was met midway between his home and his office by Gen. Adams and a friend who had left the post office a few minutes earlier and were proceeding toward Martin's home.

ALABAMA'S USUAL BUDGET OF SENSATIONS.

By Telegraph to the News and Observer. BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 2.—A quiet strike is in progress at the Pratt mines. A company proposed to reduce wages five cents a ton and the miners resisted. The matter will be discussed by the board in a day or two. A strike is also reported at the Wheeling mines.

By Telegraph to the News and Observer. BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 2.—A quiet strike is in progress at the Pratt mines. A company proposed to reduce wages five cents a ton and the miners resisted.

By Telegraph to the News and Observer. BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 2.—A quiet strike is in progress at the Pratt mines. A company proposed to reduce wages five cents a ton and the miners resisted.

By Telegraph to the News and Observer. BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 2.—A quiet strike is in progress at the Pratt mines. A company proposed to reduce wages five cents a ton and the miners resisted.

By Telegraph to the News and Observer. BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 2.—A quiet strike is in progress at the Pratt mines. A company proposed to reduce wages five cents a ton and the miners resisted.

By Telegraph to the News and Observer. BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 2.—A quiet strike is in progress at the Pratt mines. A company proposed to reduce wages five cents a ton and the miners resisted.

HANGED BY A MOB.

By Telegraph to the News and Observer. BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 2.—A quiet strike is in progress at the Pratt mines. A company proposed to reduce wages five cents a ton and the miners resisted.

By Telegraph to the News and Observer. BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 2.—A quiet strike is in progress at the Pratt mines. A company proposed to reduce wages five cents a ton and the miners resisted.

By Telegraph to the News and Observer. BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 2.—A quiet strike is in progress at the Pratt mines. A company proposed to reduce wages five cents a ton and the miners resisted.

By Telegraph to the News and Observer. BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 2.—A quiet strike is in progress at the Pratt mines. A company proposed to reduce wages five cents a ton and the miners resisted.

By Telegraph to the News and Observer. BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 2.—A quiet strike is in progress at the Pratt mines. A company proposed to reduce wages five cents a ton and the miners resisted.

By Telegraph to the News and Observer. BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 2.—A quiet strike is in progress at the Pratt mines. A company proposed to reduce wages five cents a ton and the miners resisted.

Woolcott & Son

Woolcott & Son

DR. PRICE'S BAKING POWDER

OUR OPTICAL DEPARTMENT

Woolcott & Son