one as yet heard from; others may perhaps be waiting till the waters become more troubled. There was, however, a very good attendance at the political club meeting a few days ago. Our town has been very quiet for some time, but the citizens are becoming somewhat excited on the tin subject. Veins have been discovered recently near the town. Several gentlemen representing Northern capitalists have the land along the tin belt bonded. Some property has a fixed price, and there a bond could not be obtained. Mr. Furman, representing a New York company, has been here since last December. For three months past he has had a good number of hands at work night and day. Machinery has recently been put into operation. One shaft about sixty feet has been driven and others of less depth along the vein. The reports of the dynamite used in blasting remind us of war times. No doubts are entertained as to the quality or quantity. Some of the ore was shipped from this point a few days since and it is generally believed this company will take up the bonded property on the first of June, as the quantity and quality will justify them in continuing operations. Real estate has advanced 25 per cent within the past ninety days. We expect a boom to burst upon us soon after the first of June on the taking up of these bonded properties. The King's Mountain gold mine is in full force again. The Ormond iron mine, about two and a half miles off, is in fine working order, employing about sixty hands and shipping quite a quantity of ore. A Pennsylvania company is prospecting for mica with results that are very flattering. You see, Mr. Editor, from these prospects before us we cannot doubt the coming of a boom, bat still we have a "Thomas" or two among us. No spring chickens yet on the market but the growing prospect keeps us in good heart. King's Mountain, N. C., May 22.

WALTER L. STEELE OF RICH. THE HON. MOND COUNTY.

Cor. of the News and Observer. The appointment of proper men by our State Convention to represent North Carolina in the national con-

It has been the habit of the gentlemen appointed to attend the convention to have a good time and then return and detail their experience to a host of admiring friends and then let somebody else do the work in electing the candidates that they help to select. We think that the delegate to the national convention should be a man who when he returns home will take the stump to sustain the wisdom of his selection. The Hon. Walter L. Steele is such a man; he is a staunch, unflinching Democrat, and has never been a laggard in any political campaign.
