The Use of Stimulants Between Meals. Although all persons who indulge in alcholic stimulants well within the margin of actual drunkenness speak of themselves as "moderate drinkers." there are two special classes of them which bear no resemblance to each other, except in the one solitary circumstance that they never at any time take sufficient to intoxicate themselves. The one class is that which only partakes of stimulants while eating; the other indulges in them between meal-times. To the latter habit is applied in this country the title of 'nipping," while in the East it is spoken of as "pegging." And this is the most pernicious of all forms of drink- Carr. There is no man who ever reing, from the fact that stimulants spords more cheerfully to the calls taken without at the same time partaking of food, though only imbibed in small quantities at a time, have most deleterious effects on the internal organs. A man who habitually indulges in a single glass of sherry in the forenoon, a brandy-and-soda in the afternoon, and a glass of whiskyand water in the course of the evening, does far more injury to his constitution than one who partakes of a Monthly for June.

A number of excellent gentlemen have been mentioned for nomination by the Democratic State convention which convenes today. It behooves us to take a calm survey of the field and select only those, who are in ev-duties of the high office. We must have learned, impartial, pure and true men, whose training, experience and natural gifts will enable them to fill the office with credit to themselves and satisfaction to the State, whose opinions may be cited, as of yore even in "Westminister Hall." The locality from which any aspirant hails should have the least influence upon our selection. No man should be nominated because he hails from the East, or from the Center, or from the Wes . In the good old times all of the Supreme Court Judges were for a while residents of Hillsboro, and f. r many years two of them. Judges Ruffin and Nash, our brightest luminaries, lived in the shades of that classic town. Nor should any one be ignored by the convention because note that almost every leading Re- he has not so far forgotten the dignity of the office, or his own self-ruspect as to descend into the drty political whirlpool, and make a personal canvass for the place, forming combinations, loading down the mails with appeals for help and urging his claims by personal solicitations with friend and acquaintance. The office should seek the man and not the man him. Brilliant, audacious, unscruputhe office, and the lawyer of modest merit and intrinsic worth will disdain to strip off, as the prize fighters, and enter the competitive ring. He who, unmindful of these rules of propriety and common decency, adopts a different course, exhibits the best evidence of his mental and moral unfitness to wear the judicial ermine

Oor, of the News and Observer. In yesterday's News and Observer appeared a communication calculated to some extent to prejudice Judge Shepherd. From some of the delegates who are already upon the ground I find that Judge Shepherd s indorsed by the large counties of the first district and he has a decided majority in that district. It is further stated that the counties apparently in favor of another aspirant will go for Judge Shepherd if there is a prospect of his election. The eminent qualifications of the Judge fit him peculiarly for the Supreme bench; and it is sincerely hoped that he will be nominated upon the first ballot. The centre and west are strongly in favor of the Judge, and if his friends in the east will only be patient, in my judgment there will be no doubt of his nomination. To the Alumni of the University of North

We have made every effort to send a copy of the circulars of the President and Secretary of the Alumni Association, and of the faculty, to each Alumnus, but the records do not give the address of all, and so many have changed their places of residence that we are not satisfied that we have succeeded. We have done our best and hope no Alumnus will stay away because he has not received a copy of the circulars.
