

ROYAL BAKING POWDER. Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness.

Despondency or Melancholy. Commonly called the "blues," generally proceeds from a sluggish liver.

CONGRESS.

PROCEEDINGS YESTERDAY IN SENATE AND HOUSE

WASHINGTON, June 14.—SENATE.—Mr. Sherman, from the committee on foreign relations, reported an amendment to be offered to the sundry civil appropriation bill.

The Senate joint resolution granting leave of absence (without deduction of pay or of annual leave) to all persons now in the employment of the government and who were present at the battle of Gettysburg, whether on the Union or Confederate side, to attend the reunion there on the third of July next, was adopted after being amended by striking out the words as to the Union and Confederate sides and letting it simply apply to all persons now in the government service who took part in the battle.

Mr. Hoar returned to this remark by saying it was "barking at the stick." The amendments to the agricultural appropriation bill (adding several items and increasing the amount) were agreed to and the bill passed.

The postoffice appropriation bill was then taken up. The concurrent resolution reported yesterday from the committee on foreign relations as to internal arbitration was taken up and passed.

The doors were reopened at 3.30 and the Senate for half an hour resumed legislative business. The bill appropriating $275,000 for the reconstruction of the Government dam at Rock Island, which was washed away by the flood, was passed. The Senate adjourned on Monday.

Mr. Townsend, of Illinois, offered a resolution providing for the consideration of bills by unanimous consent for a half hour every morning. Referred to the committee on rules.

The House went into committee on the tariff bill. Mr. Buchanan offered an amendment to strike out the words admitting free of duty plates coated with a mixture of tin. After another political debate, Mr. Buchanan's amendment was rejected, as also was one offered by Mr. Dalzell, of Pennsylvania, to limit free plate to sizes not larger than four feet and thicker than No. 26 gauge, and another to strike out the entire tin plate paragraph.

When the next paragraph (bores war) was reached, Mr. J. J. Taylor, of Ohio, carried the discussion back to the paragraph just passed. When the paragraphs relating to glue and gelatine were reached, Mr. Weber, of New York, moved to strike them out, thus forestalling the committee amendment to the same purpose.

The general debate which followed this motion partook largely of personalities and political sharp shooting. Mr. Weber's motion to strike out glue from the free list prevailed without division. A motion to strike out crude glycerine failed, but by a committee amendment offered by Mr. McMillin, glue and glass were restored to the existing rate of duty. Phosphorus and steeple dip were all passed over. On extract of hemlock there was considerable debate, but party protected large numbers of poor people against Canadian competition. A motion to strike out the paragraph was defeated.

THE LARGEST CROWD PACKS THE MEMORIAL HALL TO WITNESS THE CLOSING SCENES OF THE FIFTY THIRD SESSION OF WAKE FOREST COLLEGE.

GRAND FINALE

WAKE FOREST, June 14.—"Our Zeb" didn't take all the people away when he left Wednesday evening. The usual commencement visitor was largely present today, accompanied by his wife and children, aunts, uncles, cousins and aunts and all their kith and kin, by blood or marriage.

The aforsaid c. v. was arrayed in rainbow-dyes, and the above mentioned relatives vied with him in gorgeous raiment. They deposited themselves in the college campus, reined on the grass and drank in the ravishing strains of melody blown out of the horns by Iardella's band.

The more dignified portion occupied the numerous benches conveniently disposed about the grounds. At 11 a. m. the second bell called the audience to Memorial Hall to hear the senior orations. The crowd present was greater than on any preceding day. Not only was every seat occupied, but chairs were placed in aisles and seats were obtained on the rostrum steps.

The following numbers of the graduating class spoke on subjects as follows: Salutatory Address—J. W. Lynch, Lenoir, N. C. Oration—The Hidden Truth: Claude Kitchin, Scotland Neck, N. C. Oration—The Philosophy of Success: W. J. Ward, Bladen county, N. C.

Oration—Loud Pretenders vs. Silent Toilers: R. B. Linberry, Chatham county, N. C. Oration—Disinterestedness: M. L. Keeler, Statesville, N. C. Oration—Poetry of the Lost Cause: D. T. Winston, Granville county, N. C.

Valedictory Address—"That Good Old Word, Good-bye": G. C. Thompson, Apex, N. C. Thesis—Remember the Sabbath: J. A. Boothe, New Hill, N. C. Thesis—A Distinguished Pioneer: T. C. Buchanan, Swain county, N. C.

Thesis—The Old North State: W. L. Carmichael, Franklin county, N. C. Thesis—The Blessings of Emancipation: F. B. Hendren, Wilkes county, N. C. Thesis—The Nucleus of Life: T. E. Holding, Wake Forest, N. C.

Thesis—The Education of the Masses, the Hope of the Country: A. T. Howell, Gatesville, N. C. Thesis—Sketch of Dr. Matthew Lyon Yates: Henry S. Simmons, Wake Forest, N. C. Thesis—The Permanence of Our Republic: S. S. Woody, Wilmington, N. C.

Thesis—A Call from Many Places: F. T. Wooten, Wilmington, N. C. Salutatory Lynch made the decided hit of the occasion. President Taylor prefaced the speech by saying: "Mr. Lynch would speak extemporaneously—something unheard of in the annals of all college commencements."

There has never, in the history of Raleigh, a merchant undertaken to sell a stock of first-class clothing at a sacrifice of a thousand or two dollars. This sacrifice is, however, now about to be made by Messrs. Berwanger Bros., who are determined at whatever cost to pay their creditors.

He was for a number of years a member of the Baptist church in Milton and superintendent of the Sabbath-school. He was called to be a teacher in an institution for the Deaf and Dumb in Flint, Michigan.

He married Miss Isabella Jenkins, of Raleigh, and three children, two sons and one daughter, survive their parents. Willie is in the banking business in Canada, Ernest is in Northern Michigan, and Helen is a teacher in an institution for the Deaf and Dumb in Flint, Michigan.

THE WILSON AND PAYETTEVILLE ROAD.

NOT OFFICIAL THAT THE WORK ON THE SHORT CUT AT PAYETTEVILLE SOUTHWARD AS FAR AS HOPE MILLS, WILL BE COMPLETED AT AN EARLY DAY.

The Wilson and Fayetteville Road, which has been under construction for some time, is now being pushed with energy. Last week the second supply of convicts passed down the C. F. & N. V. for Payetteville. We learn that fully one hundred and fifty have recently been transferred to this work.

Colonel John Oehlert thinks that among Presidential candidates Sheridan would have had the strongest pull in the South. Sheridan was brave enough to fight the South, and he was brave enough to protect them.

But suppose Mrs. Cleveland should— "Great Scott!" said Oehlert, "in that case there would be no show for Sheridan."—A. J. Hardin.
