THE FIRST THREE BALLOTS—ADJOURNMENT TILL THIS MORNING -OTHER NEWS

By Telegraph to the News and Observer. CHICAGO, Ill., June 22 .- The convention has reached that stage in Ingails 10, Gresham 1. which all interest in its proceedings culminates. The decks have been cleared for action and the battle royal is about to begin. What the first hallot will d sclose is already known. The absorbing curiosity is to know what the third or fourth or fifth ballot will show. F

The men who pull the wires have Gresham 1. been up nearly all night and the air of Illinois, G the convention hall as it begins to fill is full of rumors, theories and blind guesses. Sherman loomed up last night because of the great demonstration which Foraker's second of den. Hasting's nomination of the Ohio Senator's name provoked, but there was a feeling in the city that does not win today he cannot win at Allison 2. Blaine 2, Depew 1. all. Yesterday's demonstration is | Maine, Allison 2, Alger 3, Harrison generally believed to be more of a 2. Sherman 1, Depew 3, Gresham 1. Foraker room than a Sherman boom | Maryland, Sherman 5, Harrison 5 but no one can separate the shouts Allison 2, Depew 1, Gresham 1 for Foraker. Senator Quay, of Pennsylvania, 11, Depew 1. who was at work for Sherman until the small hours of the morning, comes into the convention hall with a weary and anxious air. The Pennsylvania delegation is hard to handle and there have been stories current all the morning that the Harrison people have succeeded in making a strong impression there, and it is openly boasted that Quay cannot hold his men for Sherman longer than three ballots and that most of the Fitler vote will go to Harrison after the first ballot. But with all the talk and chatter and nods son 1, Depew 1, Blaine 1, Alger 2, and winks of the knowing ones who Gresham 2 think they have the straight tip the convention meets with no new known quantity to solve the puzzling prob-

em before it. The men who are seeking to prevent's great stampede at the start but who are equally anxious to prevent the nomination of any other man are watchful but nervous and anxious. They possess sympathy and at critical moments would have the support of Chairman Estee, whose voice nearly gave out yesterday in his efforts to quell the pandemonium which followed Foraker's appearance. The delegates do not come in promptly. This was antici- ham 1. pated. They are being wrestled with | Wisconsin, Rusk 22. or are themselves engaged in missionary work, while the leaders have been seeking to get together and agree upon some satisfactory ticket. The big floral emblem inscribed with the legend 'No rebel flags surrendered while I am Governor," which appeared along with the Sherman-Foraker demonstration of yesterday, has been removed from the convention hall stage, where it was placed yesterday. It may serve its purpose at some future time. The pressure for admission for outsiders is so great that its influence can be felt in the auditorium room itself. Those who get in are excited over their efforts vince the doorkeepers that their tickets are all right. ANOTHER ROW. There has been a row between the local committee and the sub-committee of the national committee having charge of the tickets, and Chairman Clarkson of the former and Sergeantat-Arms Fitzsimmons have had an encounter over the dispute in which it is asserted that blows were passed.

It is claimed that the galleries were packed yesterday. The managers of the hall and seats are very sensitive, that Seate, most of them being votes naturally, at anything which may which on the first ballot, had been look like special favors to any of the canidates. Sample copies of newspapers, containing the face of one of the candidates appeared, and was the candidates appeared, and was who and been disappointed at the distributed in the seats early this vote for their favorite on the first morning, but as soon as the charac- ballot. ter of their pictures was discovered, they were all collected by the ushers and carried out of the hall.

Chairman Estee's desk was redecorated with cut flowers this morning and is almost hidden behind wreaths of roses and begonias. The chairman wants to keep up his record and compel the convention to come to order on time but as there is a good deal of confusion as 11 o'clock arrives it is doubtful whether he will be able to do so. The convention misses the genial and heretofore familiar face of Chauncey M. Depew, who does not come in with the New Yorkers. Depew, however, is not far off and will be informed almost as soon as the convention itself knows what the result will be. But there are three men in the convention who are within range of convention lightning. These are McKin-ley and Foraker of Ohio and ex-Gov. Porter of Indiana. Each of these is received with applause as he enters the hall. THE CONVENTION CALLED TO ORDER. A few moments past 11 o'clock, the convention was called to order by chairman Estee, who, having com- for Blaine, and Massachusetts still Hiscock to the chair to preside over opened with prayer by Rev. J. H. Worcester, of Chicago. The convention at once proceeded to a call of States for a ballot for President. When the vote of Tennessee was announced a poll of the State was again demanded. The request was greeted with hisses. When the poll began one of the delegates said he arose to a question of privilege and said he was here under positive instructions to vote for Blaine. The second ballot was then procoeded with. During the announcement of votes the convention was more sedate than it had been at any time during the session. Spectators and delegates were too much interestest in noticing changes from the previous ballot to make any demonstration. Senator Quay had evidently done good work among the Pennsylvania de egates last night. Sherman gained 24 votes from cist for Fitler. EVENING SESSION. The convention was called to order at 7:15 p. m. by Chairman Estee, who had recovered his voice to a certain degree. The band struck up inspiring national airs, amongst them being "Dixie," which, however, aid not create the enthusiasm which the every rendition excited at the recent St. Louis convention. "My Country 'tis of Thee" was greeted with applause as was, also, "Marching Through Georgia." As the music ceased, Depew ascended the platform and received an enthusiastic greeting from the delegates and audience. Depew withdraws and the announcement is greeted with tremendous applause. Mr. Wise announces that Virginia has elected him chairman of the delegation. (Applause). Hastings takes the platform and moves to adjourn till 10 a. m. tomorrow. Calls for the roll.

The convention adjourned amid great confusion. Cries were made for Ingersoll, who took the platform, all the delegates and audience remaining to hear him. Ingersoll made a speech favoring protection, He favored the nomination of Gresham. (Tremendous applause and hisses all through the hall.) Amid the greatest confusion the delegates leave the hall, when cries of Blaine are mingled with yells from the crowd and the confusion grows intense. In gersoll turns and shakes hands with Fred Douglass and sits down, when the band struck up to drown the noise. Ingersoll leaves the platform. When Fitch, of California, takes the platform, most of the New York and Ohio delegates left the ball. Cries made for Douglas who takes the platform while Chas. Pope of St. Louis is reciting "Sheridan's Ride." Douglas rapped to order and introduced Fitch, of California, to speak but while Fitch was speaking the crowd rapidly left the hall.

This Company was organized for life insurance exclusively, in the year 1850. It has no connection with any other business. Its public statements give insurers a full knowledge of the character of its business, the nature of its assets, and its progress from year to year. Over one-third of a century of successful business has placed it in every respect among the feading life companies; its conservative management commends it to the confidence of insurers as one of the strongest and best. Its small death rate shows great care in the selection of its insurers. Its rate of expense of conducting the business has been very It exhibits a larger percentage of surplus, as computed by the New York insurance department, than any other Company in this State, showing the security and prosperity of the Company, and making certain the payment of claims which must occur in future years. Attention is particularly called to the following facts regarding this Company: Its solid, simple organization. Its age. The great publicity and openness of its affairs. The small death rate. The small rate of expense. The excellent character of its investments. Its strength compared with the amount of its obligations. PETER M. WILSON
