THE ACCIDENT ON THE WESTERN NORTH CAROLINA ROAD.

Superintendent V. E. McBee gives the Citizen the following particulars regarding the railroad wreck on the W. N. C. road near this city on Sunday morning last, in which train-hand Harvey Carruthers was instantly killed, and conductors Winslow and Spaugh, and engineers Keever and Boone, were bruised up.

The Captain said: "The accident was caused by the negligence of night operator A. C. Weldon, at Asheville Junction, who had orders for trains Nos. 13 and 22 to pass at that station. When 22 arrived Weldon lowered his semaphore and showed a white light, which indicated that the track was clear and everything all right. In addition to this precaution used by the railroad authorities to prevent such accidents, all trains are required to register at Asheville Junction-it being a junction point for trains on the A. & S. road. When Conductor Winslow and Engineer Keever went into the office at the junction and registered their train, they asked Operator Weldon if everything was all right. He told them "yes," and at the same time had orders on his table for them to meet No. 13 at that station. Weldon is an operator, a man of long experience, and understands train orders thoroughly, as he was at one time chief train dispatcher on the Richmond & Danville road. His negligent action in this particular cannot be accounted

Of all Things in the World. Atonic is what nervous people require. To impart strength into the nervous organism is to insure its tranquility, provided canses of unhealthful excitement are avoided. A medicinal tonic that—like Hostetter's Stomach Bitters—commands the unqualified sanction of the healing profession, and which institutes a general reform in a bilious, dyspeptic and debilitated condition of the system, is surely entitled to a careful trial by intelligent p opic, capable of forming a due estimate of a medicine, from emphatic and of often recorded professional evidence in its behalf. Not only are the nerves and stomach invigorated by the Bitters, but the system is also endowed with unwonted power of resistrance to influences in air, water or daily avocation subversive of health. Prominently dangerous among the first named of these is malaria, against which Hostetter's Stomach Bitters affords a competent safeguard. Rheumatism and kidney troubles are also prevented and overcome by it.

The modes of death's approach are vsrious, and statistics show conclusively that more persons die from diseases of the Throat and Lungs than any other. It is probable that every one, without ex-ception, receives vast numbers of Tubercle Germs into the system and where these germs fall upon suitable soil they start into life and develop, at first slowly and is shown by a slight tickling sensa-tion in the throat and if allowed to continue their ravages they extend to the lungs producing consumption and to the head, causing catarrh.
