VANCE. HE SPEAKS IN THE SENATE ON THE FISHERIES TREATY.

THE TWO HOUSES ADJOURN AS A MARK OF RESPECT TO THE MEMORY OF SHERIDAN—OTHER NEWS.

By Telegraph to the News and Observer. WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Senator Vance, in the Chamberlain prayer, there was an indirect but feeling allusion to the death of Gen. Sheridan. As soon as the reading of the journal was concluded, Mr. Edmunds rose and said: I ask unanimous consent to offer at this time a resolution on a subject which every Senator will understand.

Resolved, That the Senate has learned, with profound regret, of the death of Philip H. Sheridan, late General of the armies of the United States. Resolved, That the Senate hereby expresses its great sense of his great and patriotic services in the cause of his country, its deep sympathy for the loss which the nation has sustained in his death and its sympathy with his family in their bereavement.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to the family of the deceased. Consent having been given, Mr. Edmunds said: It is quite unnecessary for any Senator to submit any observation in support of these resolutions. The career of General Sheridan has been so conspicuous, so grand, so noble, and so patriotic that any words which I could use in respect of his merit or praise of his career would be like gilding refined gold or painting the lily. I therefore, for my part, leave them to the judgment of the Senate without any further observations.

The resolutions were adopted unanimously. Subsequently a bill was introduced by Mr. Farwell and referred to its committee on pensions, granting a pension of $5,000 a year to Mrs. Sheridan. Mr. Blair introduced the following joint resolution, which was referred to the committee on foreign relations: Resolved, That the President be requested to open negotiations with the government of Her Britannic Majesty in which the Dominion of Canada and its several political subdivisions shall be represented with a view to the settlement of all differences between Her Majesty's government and the United States, and especially to the arrangement of terms mutually just, honorable and satisfactory for a political union between the Dominion of Canada (or between all of the several provinces or subdivisions of the Dominion of Canada) and the United States, subject to the approval of the people of the Dominion of Canada (or of the people of any province or subdivision thereof who may be included in such arrangements) and to the ratification by the United States in such a manner as Congress may prescribe; such a political union to be Republican in form and in accord with the Federal system and constitution of the United States.

Mr. Jones, of Arkansas, offered a resolution instructing the committee on finance to inquire into the fact of the alleged combination or pool of the producers of bagging; what companies and individuals comprise such pool; their methods of combination; the effect of such pool on the price of the article, etc. He spoke of the tax of 3 cents per pound on cotton bagging as costing the cotton producers of the country $1,500,000, and said that some few days ago the price had been raised (under the operations of the pool and without the slightest reason) from 7 cents a pound to 11 cents. He suggested the entire removal of the existing duty on cotton bagging. The resolution was, at the suggestion of Mr. Edmunds, who said he sympathized with it, laid over till tomorrow.

Mr. Edmunds, from the judiciary committee, reported favorably and the Senate passed the Senate bill to remove the political disabilities of Wm. L. Bradford, late an officer of the United States Navy. The Senate then resumed consideration of the fisheries treaty in open executive session and was addressed by Mr. Vance in favor of its ratification. He accounted for the remarkable heat exhibited by the Republicans against the treaty by telling a story of a fellow in North Carolina who was once caught with an extra "Jack" in his sleeve when playing the game of "Old Sledge," and who, in reply to a fierce denunciation from his adversary, said: "Bill, you know we were six-and-six and it was your deal, and I was obliged to do something." "So," said he, "the Presidential election is coming on and the Republican party, which desires once more to get into power, and whose chief joy is 'the fish pots of Egypt,' knows that the game stood about 'six-and-six' and that the deal was ours and that they were obliged to do something. All at once it seemed as if while they were journeying toward Damascus a great light shone about them, and a voice was heard: 'Let me not be considered profane. I do not intimate that that light or that voice was from heaven. Far from it. I should rather suppose it to have come from the antipodes of that blessed region, but at all events that light shone round about these Senators and that voice was heard saying: "Why will you not raise a row against Great Britain and get the Irish vote." Whereupon they promptly responded: "Lord, what wouldst thou have us do?" and a voice again said, Get thee to the place called Canada, and there it shall be told thee what to do." And so they assembled in that upper chamber, and there the voice was again made manifest, and they were told that their only chance, "the only avenue opened

SHERIDAN DEAD. AT HIS RESTING PLACE IN NONQUITT.

THE NEWS IN WASHINGTON—THE PRESIDENT'S ACTION—GEN. SCHEFFELD TO ASSUME COMMAND—OTHER NEWS.

By Telegraph to the News and Observer. WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—The President was informed of the death of General Sheridan this morning and immediately sent the following dispatch to Mrs. Sheridan: "WASHINGTON: To Mrs. Sheridan, Nonquitt, Mass., via New Bedford, Mass.: 'While the nation mourns its loss and shares your sorrow, let me express to you my personal grief and most sincere condolence. (Signed) 'GROVER CLEVELAND.' The flags on all the public buildings, hotels and many business houses were at half mast out of respect to the memory of General Sheridan. The President received the first information of General Sheridan's death by a telephone message sent to him at Oak View from the White House by Col. Lamont, who arrived there about 8:30 o'clock this morning. The President had decided to remain at Oak View during the day, but this news altered his plans and he decided to come into the city. He reached the White House at 10:45 o'clock and sent for the Secretary of War to meet him at the White House. In the meantime the following executive order was issued: 'EXECUTIVE MESSAGES. Washington, Aug. 6, 1888. 'As a mark of respect to the memory of Gen. Sheridan the President directs that the national flag be displayed at half mast on all the buildings of the executive department in the city of Washington until after his funeral shall have taken place. By direction of the President. (Signed) DANIEL S. LAMONT, Private Secretary. Col. Kellogg of Gen. Sheridan's staff will leave Washington this afternoon at 2 o'clock for Nonquitt. The Secretary of War will issue a general order to the army this afternoon announcing Gen. Sheridan's death and directing that the flags at all military posts be placed at half mast. The President directed that Major General Schofield, commanding the Division of the Atlantic, with headquarters at New York, be ordered to Washington at once to assume command and a telegram to that effect was sent him by Acting Adjutant General Kellogg this afternoon.

THE DEATH BED. NONQUITT, MASS., AUGUST 6.—All through yesterday General Sheridan had been in unusually good spirits, laughing and chatting with his brothers and members of the family. At 7:30 Dr. Matthews said the General was doing so well that there would probably be no bulletin issued for a week. After dinner at the hotel Mrs. Sheridan carried down to the General a slice of roast beef, which he ate with appetite and relish. He dozed off a bit during the afternoon, but awoke at supper and then went to sleep again. Unfavorable symptoms made their appearance so unexpectedly and were so rapid in development that the children were aroused barely in time to take the last look at their dying father. With the General at the death-bed were Mrs. Sheridan, Mrs. Louise, Irene and Philip, the children; Col. Sheridan, his brother, with his wife and sisters, just in, and Doctors O'Reilly and Matthews. Mrs. Sheridan and nurses were on their knees in prayer as his spirit departed. Mrs. Kellogg, a dear friend of the family, arrived just the moment after the last breath was drawn and assisted Mrs. Sheridan to her feet when she closed the eyes of the deceased. At 2 a. m. the embalmers were put in possession of the body. Up to a late hour nothing had been decided as to the place of interment but it is thought it may be taken to Illinois, where the General had a family lot and where his mother is buried.

THE FUNERAL. WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—The President has directed Major General Schofield to take charge of the military arrangements for the funeral of General Sheridan and to consult Mrs. Sheridan's wishes on the subject. He overruled the previous order for General Schofield to come to Washington, and he will go to Nonquitt instead. Col. Lamont says another order will be issued closing the Executive Departments on the day of the funeral. The President sent the following message to Congress at 12 o'clock: 'EXECUTIVE MESSAGES. WASHINGTON, Aug. 6, 1888. 'To the Senate and House of Representatives: 'It becomes my painful duty to announce to the Congress and the people of the United States the death of Philip H. Sheridan, General of the Army, which occurred at a late hour last night at his summer home in the State of Massachusetts. The death of this valiant soldier and patriotic son of our republic, though his long illness has been regarded with anxiety, has nevertheless shocked the country and caused universal grief. He had established for himself a strong hold in the hearts of his fellow-countrymen, who soon caught the true meaning and purpose of his soldierly devotion and heroic temper. His intrepid courage, his steadfast patriotism and the generosity of his nature inspired with peculiar warmth the good will of all people. Above his grave ambition for the man and pride in his achievements, will struggle for the mastery, and too much honor cannot be given to one who was so richly endowed with all the qualities which make his death a national loss. (Signed) GROVER CLEVELAND. NONQUITT, MASS., AUGUST 6.—It was this morning substantially arranged that Gen. Sheridan's remains will be transported to Washington in a special car, to leave New Bedford Wednesday, and that the funeral ser-

WIND AND RAIN. TOGETHER THEY DO GREAT DAMAGE.

BLOWING AT THE RATE OF A MILE A MINUTE AND RAINING IN TORRENTS—OTHER NEWS.

By Telegraph to the News and Observer. CHICAGO, Ill., August 6.—A wind and rain storm prevailed here nearly an hour, which did considerable damage in the city and on the river. The wind blew at the rate of sixty miles per hour for ten minutes and the rain fell in torrents. Hundreds of heavy trees were blown down in all parts of the city, and fences, signs and awnings were strewn all along the walks. The roof of the engine room of the Cairo elevator was destroyed, and two warehouses were blown down entire in the upper part of the city. Great damage was done on the river. A barge of coal, containing 16,000 bushels, belonging to the Browns of Pittsburg, was broken in two and sank in three fathoms of water. One of the machinery boats used in Ohio here was wrenched from its moorings and its side torn, but was prevented from going down by good work on the part of those in charge.

A WOMAN POISONED BY HER HUSBAND AND SISTER-IN-LAW. From Oxford it is learned there has been perpetrated one of the most horrible murders in the history of Granville county. The murderers were lodged in jail Saturday, making fifteen there to be tried for their lives at the next term of the court. About seven miles from Oxford lived Henry C. Adcock and wife, Eliza Ann Adcock, while his brother, John W. Adcock, and his wife, Jennie C. Adcock, lived about half a mile in a thinly settled neighborhood. For several months Henry C. had pretty much deserted home and taken up at his brother's on account of an infatuation (or they call it in those parts "cungering"), and about which he and his brother John had had several fights. On the 31st of July Eliza Ann, wife of John W., died suddenly, and as no neighbors were called in to help shroud her, etc., suspicion was aroused, and Coroner J. J. Keen was sent for on the 1st inst. He took along with him Dr. J. B. Williams, arrested the parties above named and summoned a jury of inquest. Upon analysis of the stomach arsenic was found, upon which fact, together with admissions of the parties, the jury brought in a verdict of guilty against Henry C. and Jennie C. Adcock. Both parties are in the mercantile life. Henry C. having eight children and his paramour two, the youngest about ten years of age. Deputy Sheriff Folland and police officer Rogers brought the party to Oxford and lodged them in jail, where rumor says they have made further cringing confessions, and an officer has been sent to bring the arsenic bottle from the hiding place designated.

THE Y. M. D. C. OF SCOTLAND NECK. Cor. of the News and Observer. The Young Men's Democratic Club of Scotland Neck, previous to last Thursday night, had invited Hon. T. W. Mason and Don Gilliam, Esq., to address them on the above night, which was their regular meeting night. Very much to the regret of the club they were unable to be present, one of the gentlemen being detained at home on account of sickness, the other being professionally engaged. The club met promptly in full strength, with a nice address from the town and county. After dispensing with what business was before the clerk, Mr. E. E. Hilliard, one of our rising young men and editor of the Scotland Neck Democrat, came forward and made a short but most interesting and instructive address. Hon. W. H. Kitchin being present, was then called out by voices in all parts of the house. He came forward and in his most eloquent manner entertained the audience for an hour and a half. Capt. Kitchin was in good trim and did himself justice. His speech was highly complimented. Mr. W. A. Dunn being called upon stated that as the hour was very late and the night very warm, he would only detain the audience for five or ten minutes. He then spoke in his usual fine way, showing that he bids fair to become one of our best speakers. He is sound and level-headed, and gives the rads Jesse wherever he touches them.

DEATH. GRAY.—Saturday, August 4th, 1888, at 3 25 p. m., at the residence of her parents in Norfolk, Miss E. C. Gray, eldest daughter of Eibert H. and Virginia C. Gray, aged 37 years. Funeral from the family burial ground, Isle of Wight county, Sunday.

DEATH OF CAPT. BEN. ROBINSON. The Fayetteville Journal of the 3rd inst. says: "A telegram from Pennsylvania, this morning, to Capt. John Robinson, brought the sad intelligence of the death at that place of his brother, Capt. Benjamin W. Robinson. He had been sick for some time, and was confined to his bed about six weeks prior to his death, which occurred yesterday afternoon. During his confinement he was a great sufferer, and death was a relief."

PURSUANT TO A RESOLUTION OF THE recent Democratic convention of the Second Congressional District held at Weldon, N. C., the delegates to said convention are hereby notified to meet at Wilson, N. C., on Friday, August 10th, at 2 p. m. to nominate a candidate for Congress for said district. JOHN E. WOODARD, Chairman. W. W. HALL, Secretary. District papers please copy.

Gen. Spinola is said to look the oldest man in the house of representatives.

SHARP ARRANGEMENT OF THE TARIFF.

FOR THE BENEFIT OF LAYS ON NEW ENGLAND INDUSTRIES.

The advertisement of the sale at public auction, August 16, of the Deane and Munson paper mill, located at Unionville, Ct., which I have asked you to insert in your columns for the next two weeks is, I fear, but the forerunner of many similar advertisements which are to appear in New England papers, if our Republican friends in Congress continue the policy of taxing New England industries out of existence. We are taxed on wood-pulp, taxed on coal, taxed on electricity. We are shut out of our harbors, which are the natural sources of the supplies for New England factories, and compelled by law to satisfy our wants from Pennsylvania and the West, and we are compelled to pay 20 per cent, 30 per cent and 100 per cent, sometimes, advance for the materials we need which we would be obliged to pay except for our so-called protective tariff. As a natural result, we have New England factories for sale at auction, New England towns abandoned, New England men driven from New England soil. Now if there are any of our so-called protectionist friends who will take these ruined properties off our hands at two thirds or even one half their value, we should be glad to make their acquaintance. JAMES L. COWLES, Farmington, Ct., August 2, 1888.

A SOUND LEGAL OPINION. E. Bainbridge Munday, Esq., County Attorney, Clay County, Texas, says: "I have used Electric Bitters with happy results. My brother also has very low malarial fever and jaundice, but was cured by timely use of this medicine. I can satisfy Electric Bitters saved his life. Mr. D. I. Wilcoxson, of Horse Cave, Ky., adds a like testimony, saying: 'He positively believes he would have died, had it not been for Electric Bitters.' This great remedy will ward off as well as cure all malarial diseases, and for all kidney, liver and stomach disorders stands unequalled. Price 50c. and $1 at Lee, Johnson & Co's."

BOND OFFERINGS AND ACCEPTANCES. By Telegraph to the News and Observer. WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Bond offerings today aggregated $33,850. Accepted $500 four at 127 1/2 and $1,000 four and half at 107 1/2.

TRUSTEE'S SALE. BY VIRTUE OF A MORTGAGE executed to me, I will sell at public auction for cash, September 9th, 1888, the following valuable property, in the town of Mt. Airy, N. C.: One new residence, two stories, rooms finished in Walnut, on best residence street in town; Lot 20, containing two squares from the business part of the town; Two vacant lots adjoining the above, one 1/2 acre each, also 2 1/2 acres, also 1/2 acre, fronting on same street; One new tobacco factory, 100 feet front, lot 180 ft. Main street; One vacant lot, 200 ft. front, at the intersection of two streets, at which 3/4 of the country trade enters; Lot 142 1/2, 200 ft. front, on Rockford street; Four acres on Wilson street; Vacant lots, 1/2 acre each, 200 ft. front, on Rockford street; From these lots one can see the State Capitol building as far as the eye will reach, the river four miles, railroad in view, splendid site for summer hotel, 200 ft. front, on same street opposite above; 25 vacant lots in the best desirable residence and business parts of town. All of this property will be sold for cash, subject to the usual conditions of the mortgage. The impelling power must be ascribed to the geographical location which nature has planned for a large city, being centrally located and the natural market for nine counties. Rich in name, farm and forest and having enough fertile soil to grow and drive the machinery of the entire State. To see the situation of the property, call on the undersigned and examine the plat of the property. H. H. REYNOLDS, Trustee.
