The Speaking at Kinston New Berne Jomrnal, 16th Yesterday was a big day for the Democrats at Kinston. B. ween two and three thousand people gathered there from Lenoir and adjoining counties to hear the great issues of the campaign discussed. At 11 o'clock Senator Ransom

Congressman Simmons, C. B. Aycock. Esq, and others ascended the stand that insight into human nature which had been erected on the Court House Square, when John F. Wooten. give so often display. He was big in body, big in mind and big in Esq., introduced Hon. M. W. Ransom. For over two hours Senator heart. His talent for the acquisition Ransom held the nudivided attention of knowledge, his skill in imparting of the vast crowd while he piled argument upon argument, convincing and incontrovertible, to show why the people should vote the Democratic ticket. When he was well under way a shower of rain began to fall and the court house was soon literally packed and the Senator proceeded with his masterly effort.

N. J. Rouse, Esq., introduced Hon. F. M. Simmons as the member of Congress who introduced the bill in Congress to remove the duty on jute bagging so long as the trust existed. Although Senator Ransom had held the crowd for about two and a half hours, Simmons at once drew their attention. His exposition of the inequalities of the tariff laws was so plain, practical and convincing that even the colored people, a good number of whom were present, had the scales removed from their eyes, and after the meeting openly declared they would go for Simmons. C. B. Aydock, Esq , followed Mr. Simmons in a short, sharp and enthusiastic speech.

No speakers ever received better attention from so large a crowd. The people seemed anxious to hear the issues of the campaign discussed and these speakers appealed to their rea-Special opportunity is now offered son and good judgment and presented the issues so clearly that no one was left in doubt.
