RISING ON THE DIPLOMATIC HOBIZON-FGUR CHINAMEN THE CAUSE-OTHER NEWS

By Telegraph to the News and Observer. NIAGABA FALLS, October 15 .- Four Chinamen continue to be wards of the Grand Trunk Railway, sleeping on the floor in the general waiting room of the station. They have written and received several letters since they arrived here a week ago. The Grand Trunk authorities have done Mr. Lanham then suggested that Each time the reply has come that they cannot be allowed to enter the country. Ah Ling, the seemingly repre-sentative and educated one of the party, received a Chinese letter from friend in Chica; o on Friday last advising him to communicate with the Chinese Ambassador at Washington, stating fully the cause of their deten-tion, which he has done. No doubt the matter will become an international question between China and the United States. The feeling here is that the Canadian government should object to Canada being made a dumping ground for the Chisese pauper population of the United States, made paupers by the United States authorities not allowing them Gents' Furnishing Goods states authorities not allowing them to return to their places of business

HOUSE. Mr; Dougherty, of Florida, asked unanimous consent for immediate consideration of the Senate joint resolution are tive to a conference to be held to inquire into methods for the suppression of yellow fever.

Mr. E. B. Taylor, of Ohio, objected, and reiterated his statement that no more legislation should be enacted during this session.

When Alabama was called, Mr. Wheeler, of that State, offered the following for reference:

WHEREAS, The Senate of the United States has reported a bill to revise the tax laws, which bill is more op-pressive to the masses of the people and more in the interest of monopolists than any measure ever pro posed to any legislative body of which we have a record; therefore, be it resolved, that the Democratic members of this House pledge themselves to continue their efforts to defend the people against this unequal unjust and unwise legislation, which if enacted into law, must inevitably check and limit the sale of American products in foreign countries, stimu-late and strengthen the operations of the combinations and trusts and prolong, if not perpetuate, the subjection of the people to the exactions of accumulated capital; and the Democratic members of this Congress will maintain the contest upon this floor until victory is won, or the duties with which they have been charged by the people lapse by constitutional limitation; and be it also resolved, that the Senate tariff bill should be discussed upon this floor to the end that its features may be exposed and made known to the people. The reading of the resolution was interrupted by Mr. Dingley, of Maine, with the remark that the resolution was not one contemplated by the rules, but was a caucus resolution. It was not a resolution which could be adopted by either House.

The Speaker replied that the gengleman from Alabama had regularly offered the resolution when his State was called.

Mr. Dingley contended that the resolution might be a proper one for a caucus to adopt but not for the House.

Mr. Wheeler maintained that second resolution was eminerally proper for the House to adopt. The Speaker said the chair had no control over the character of resolutions offered except to see that they were respectful in tone. Mr. Farquahar, of New York, thought that independent of its bad sense and bad taste the resolution was not a proper one for the House to act upon. The Speaker suggested that the House could take such action on the resolution as it saw proper. It could lay it on the table or refuse to receive or refer it. Mr. Wheeler demanded a further reading of the resolution, and notwithstanding Mr. Dingley's protest that the House should not be compelled to listen to a caucus resolution, the reading was completed and the resolution referred to the committee on rules.

Mr. Oates, of Alabama, introduced the following:
Whereas, The present session of Congress has continued longer than ever held in the history of the government; and Whereas, Much less than legislation can constitutionally be en-journing their respective houses on Wednesday, the 17th of October, at

Mr. Oates said that in view of the fact that there was no quorum in either branch of Congress and no probability of there being one he thought that the resolution for final adjournment should be agreed to. The committee on ways and means was likewise without a quorum; nothing would be gained by referring the res olution to that committee. But he was willing it should lie upon the table until tomorrow.

Mr. Lanham then suggested that the resolution offered by Mr. Oates in its preamble itself raised the point of no quorum and the speaker acquiescing in this opinion intimated that the resolution could not be passed in its present shape.

Mr. E. B. Taylor-Let the gentleman strike out the preamble and let us pass the resolution. (Ories of vote!" "vote!")

Mr. McMillin said that the House had been waiting to give the Senate an opportunity to act on the bill which the House had sent it for a reduction of taxation. If it became necessary for a quorum to be here for the purpose of reducing taxation there was no day upon which a quorum could not be obtained.

Mr. Lanham inquired whether it had not been developed to the satisfaction of the gentleman and of the country that no tariff bill would be passed this session? Mr. McMillin replied that the rec-ord showed all that he knew upon the subject. There were reasons satisfactory to the ways and means committee why a resolution of adjournment should not be introduced today, Mr. Oates then withdrew the pre-amble and the resolution was laid over till tomorrow, Mr. Kilgore, of Texas, giving notice that he would demand a vote upon it at that time.

Mr. Dougherty, of Florida, with-drew the point of no quorum raised by him some days ago on the motion to table the motion to reconsider the vote by which the House passed the Presidential count bill. The motion to table was then carried, thus clinching the passage of the bill.

Mr. McMillin then, in view of the fact that Mr. Taylor had given notice that no legislation should be enacted (a notice which Mr. Taylor modified by excepting the labor bills), moved to adjourn, and the motion was agreed to.

The first car was run out and proceeded on its way without event The next six cars were then run ou , and had proceeded to Centre street, when the mob rushed from an alley near by, and made a savage assault upon the new drivers and conductors. Stones and missiles were burled through the air and several of the mob pounded the men and endeavored to drug them off the cars. A hand-to hand struggle then ensued. Capt. Schaack was notified of the trouble and with twenty-five men at once started for the scene. The mob, which had evidently vented its spite, ran away when the police approached. Several of the conductors and drivers were hurt pretty severely. The new men say they recognized men in the mob as strikers.
