He didn't have it. I told him he was a liar, and I'd have it or stamp his gizzard out of him. He shelled it out, and now when that fellow sees me coming he just asks: "Jones, how much do you want? THE SESSION AT GOLDSROBO.

Argus of Yesterday. Yesterday was an interesting day in the deliberation of the Synod which is now holding its sessions in this city. The question of most in-terest, or at least which elicited the most discussion, was a memorial from the Convention on Home Missions which convened in this city on Tuesday last, as to the advisableness of the Synod placing an evangelist in the field to work in the destitute places within the bounds of the Synod. The discussion was engaged in by Rev. Mr. McIlwaine on behalf of the Convention, and by Revs. J. W. Primrose, A. L. Phillips, Peyton Hoge, Alex. Sprunt, Rev. J. H. Smith, D. D., Rev. B. F. Marable, D. D., on the part of the ministry. Gov. Scales. J. G. Bynum, Esq., Gen. Barringer and Mr. Taylor on the part of the Elders. Gov. Scales made a stirring speech in favor of the proposition. and it was a matter of comment on all sides that the Governor showed as much interest in, and familiarity with church affairs, as with matters of State. Rev. Dr. Marable with his sharp wit, elicited hearty laughter and rounds of applause, and by his earnest eloquence aroused the en-thusiasm of his hearers. Rev. A. L. Phillips with the earnestness and enthusiasm of youth chided the more cautious for their lack of zeal; while Rev. Peyton Hoge, with the true instincts of a successful tactition, poured oil on the waters that had almost been lashed into foam, by pointing out the fact that there really existed no difference of opinion on the general merits of the proposition. Just as, to an outsider, the discussion and the third time for intellect, and had reached the point of its greatest said he: "All combined I had the interest, the hour of dinner was announced. A LABOR CONGRESSMAN'S VIEWS.

Hon, Henry Smith, of Wisconsin, Explains Why he Voted for the Mills Bill. Hon. Henry Smith, the only member of Congress nominated by the Labor party and elected on a Labor platform, voted for the Mills bill, and his action excited much comment and attention all over the country, espe-cially among workingmen. He has not hitherto publicly explained his reasons for voting as he did, but in Washington, D. C., Oct. 27.—In re-ply to an inquiry as to what steps the following letter:

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES. WASHINGTON, July 28. Sin :- In reply to yours of the 26th instant, requesting my reasons for voting for the Mills tariff bill, I answer as follows: First-It is conceded by the representatives of the Demce, atic and Republican parties that the accumulation of a large surplus of money in the National Treasury is fraught with danger to the business interests of the country by withdrawing that me-dium from the channels of trade, which, if not stopped, will cause a this effect. evil, I gave the bill my support.

The misplaced switch is a pel our people to pay for foreignmade woolen goods, with a tariff tax added, when by permitting wool to enter our ports free, our manufactu-rers would be given a chance, to provide us with home-made goods, and thereby give twice the amount of employment to wage workers? My personal experience has taught me that tion can be made prosperous or happy form of government like ours this rangement, but their greed than is actually required for an economical administration of public afany trouble the Court House was any trouble the Court House was fairs. Again, a large accumulation of money in the Treasury breeds extravmoralization in many ways. It is in its action like malaria; it enters the system slyly until the whole body is poisoned. All taxation, of whatever kind or nature, rests upon the pro-ducts of labor, for without labor wealth cannot be produced, and, as the existence of civilized man rests upon the products of the soil, it is of the highest importance that legisla-tion should be framed so as to place the least possible burden upon the tiller of the soil, thereby placing him in a position to aid his fellow-laborer in the shop and factory by becoming a larger consumer of manufactured articles, and vice versa. Again, I find that in those States that are supposed to receive the benefits of a protective tariff there is more dissatisfaction, strikes and lockouts than in States not so protected. There must be something wrong in our political machinery that has compelled the wage worker and also the farmer to organize in associations for protection against extortion, abuse and wage reduction. It is a sad pieture to look at, after a century of constitutional existence.

Very truly yours, HENRY SMITH.

New YORK, Oct. 27.—The business men's Cleveland and Thurman demonstration this afternoon was very successful, considering the weather. Rain has fallen all day and Broadway was covered with water and sticky mud. Notwithstanding this, between fifteen and twenty thousand men marched up Broadway and were reviewed by President Cleveland from a stand in front of the Worth monument. Mayor Hewitt stood at the

It has been thought for some time that both these satellites of slander would like to be relieved of their ever-increasing embarrassment and disappointment, but no open way presented itself until today when Tom Deverenx jumped the train and left Dockery alone to rehash his own stale tale of vituperation. The same amount of slander and misrepresentation was gone through with. If it were possible Oliver's remarks fell flatter than ever before.

KITCHIN'S CROWD was more enthusiastic than ever, so much so that it was difficult for him to speak. He gave them a speech that they never forget. It was indeed the finest and clearest exposition of the tariff question ever heard in the West. It is a common criticism that he handles this great question with more ease and to the fuller satisfaction of his hearers than any one who has attempted it during this campaign. It is impossible to justly criticise Capt. Kitchin's speeches. They are so full of stunning facts and just you suppose that was! A feldenunciations and evoke so much applause, that the best way to judge them is by the effect; that is, watch the crowd and see how they almost devour him at the conclusion. He had a large number of warm friends here, made four years ago, but his speech today has added many more to him and the Democratic party. The condition of the Democratic party in Rutherford county is more healthful than it has been in some years. There are many who have lately renounced Republicanism and will vote the Democratic ticket in November. What Two Raisighites Saw,in Richmo Cor. of the News and Observer.

We arrived in Richmond on the evening of the 23rd inst. The monster engine had behind it fifteen coaches loaded down with people. There was a great commotion among the people when we landed, and not knowing exactly what to do, or where to go we called our legs into service and proceeded to foot it up the street and somewhere to sleep. The more we walked the more hungry we got, and already we had begun to sympathize with the unfortunate man that was to feed us. Walking up the street we noticed and read the signs over the doorways, and my companion saw the name of H. B. Chalkley and he instantly remembered the purchases of leather he had made of him. We went in and grasped him cordially by the hand. He was

To his home we went and after introducing us to his handsome wife, he brought in his little daughter. She sight we beheld! is that there is scarcely thing on exhibition that was not made within the city. We heard a prominent North Carolinian say he had visited the expositions at Atlanta and Boston but they did not compare favorably with this one. You must do your thinking your talking before you get into the car for you have no time to think, no time to speak, no time to say good bye, when that thing begins to move. By Cable to the News and Observer.

Bealis, Oct. 27.—The municipal deputation in waiting upon Emperor William today presented an address of welcome on the occasion of his return home, and were startled by some emphatic remarks in the course of the Emperor's reply on the scandal and gossip of the press affecting the imperial family.

I'or the pleasant surprise which the municipal representatives had prepared for him he thanked them all, much more for the reason that it bappened to come on the day when the Church of the Holy Cross, in which his father, Emperor Frederick, had always shown the greatest interest, was consecrated. The Emperor expressed the hope that he would soon see more such fine churches erected in Berlin. He trusted that his journeying would have the best results for the Empire.

He had learned with regret that during his absence while using his best efforts for the interests of the Empire disputes had arisen in the Berlin press regarding the affairs of the members of his own family. At-tacks were made such as would not be tolerated by nor permitted against any private individual. He requested the deputation to do their utmost to put a stop to the unseemly discussion as it concerned them all. He desired to live among the people of Berlin as a Berliner. He relied on the representatives of the Capital to respond to that desire. None of the members ventured to make any remark on the Emperor's unexpected reproaches. Even il et:quette had allowed it they were too much amazed to respond.
