POLK AND REQUESTOR TOXIGHT. We note with pleasure that Col. L. I. Polk has entered the campaign. He will be a power for Democracy. There are few if any men in the State whose voices at this juncture would wield more influence than his voice will. He is, moreover, earnest and eloquent in a high degree in bohalf of tonight on his chosen theme: The political situation from a working man's standpoint, and we advise all who can do so particularly the business men, the young men, and above all, the workingmen of Raleigh—to

Mr. N. B. Broughton will speak with him, and in this gentleman's address we can promise the public a clear, forcible, sirring presentation of the issues now pressing upon us for settlement. There has been no more faithful, earnest, intelligent and successful worker for the Democracy in this campaign than Mr. Broughton, and there are few more impress ve speakers among as. Make it a point to hear Polk and

Business men, young men, workngmen especially should hear Polk and Broughton at Metropolitan Hall ton ght.

Lincolnton, removes one of the most conspicuous figures in the State and one of the noblest of our gentlemen. Col. Hoke was of the best type of the Southerner and the North Carolinian. High minded, high spirited, generous, warm hearted, true, his sterling worth shed lustre on the page of the State's history and marked him the worthy bearer of his distinguished name. He served the people of North Carolins, whom he loved patriotically and sin cerely, in more than one position, with faithfulness and ability. He has won honors, but has worn them al ways with such modesty that the stranger had to find them out for himself. He was of the sort the people delight to honor. He was one of the comparatively few of whom it may truthfully be said: "He bore without offence the grand old name of gentleman." Peace to his sakes.

The news of Col. Hoke's death was received with deep regret in Charlotte, where he was well known and esteemed. He was married in this city years ago to Misi Catherine Alexander, a daughter of the late guished lawyer of Charlotte. Col. Hoke was born in Lincolnton. He was "cative and to the manner born," having always lived in the county of his birth At the time of his death he was in his 69th year. 'He leaves a Misses Nannie and Sallie Hoke. sense of the word. He served through the Mexican war as a captain, and later cu a the outbreak of the civil war he was active in raising troops. He fought though the war as Colonel of the 23d North Carolina Regiment. He was frequently elected to represent his county in the House of Representatives and Senate of the State legislature and served with signal ability. He was a good citizen in every respect and the news of his death will be beard with regret throughout the entire State.

The Wilmington Messenger says Col. Hoke graduated at the State University in 1841, in a class on which Rev. Samuel McPheeters, Gov. John W. Ellis and Gen. Francis P. Blair have conferred distinction. He read law with Gov. Jarvis, and was icensed to practice in 1843.

He was Adjutant General of the State at the beginning of the war, and upon him devolved the duty or organizing the North Carolina troops in 1861. He has confined himself to the prace of the law since 1865 Public Speaking.

Minister West's Letter.

Secretary Bayard, on his return to Washington, had an interview with the President on the subject of the Lord Sackville West letter, and later freely expressed his opinion on the subject. He said: "I have read both letters. I have not seen the British minister since be went to Europe last spring until be called on me this morning.

"Lord Sackville has no other or better means of knowledge of the intentions of the Presiden: than any one of the 65,000,000 Americans. His very particular," &c who reupon Mr. personal opinion is worth no more than that of any one of them which Dockery staid, the Hotel on the ground of knowledge, Fountain, repeats the charge to the and much less on the ground Winston Daily and the last named of interest in the subject. While paper says: "He emphatically says there must be a concensus of opinion that Dockery did have whiskey in his as to the impropriety of the expresroom, that negroes did visit him sion of individual views by any one while in his room, and Mr. Harris holding the position of a foreign (the clerk of the ho:el,) says that a envoy, it is still to be hoped that we will be able to settle the issues involved in the canvass without the importa ion of foreign interference or intermeddling in our domestic affairs. ment that he makes is a liar, and that | The American people will be prompt to resent and repel as impertment any such attempt, but they will easily recognize the political pitfall arranged and addressed to the British minister, into which he has so surprisingly tumbled. ry Bayard's statement said he did not care to criticise it. "The letter sent from California," he said, "was undoubtedly written for the purpose of entrapping me. In a few days I expect to be in a position to make public the manner in which the affair was planned and the identity of the persons concerned in it. The efforts which are being directed to the discovery of the tricksters were instigated by me, and I think I shall succeed in making everything plain." Washington Cor. N. Y. Herald. I am informed by the highest authority that while the language of the statement of the Secretary of State, especially as addressed to his own people, is not such a rebuke as would compel the withdrawal of Lord Sackville, the British Minister, it must make his position so unpleasant that it would make his transfer both agreeable to himself and in the interest of his government.

The transfer of Lord Sackville would also be entirely agreeable to the Department of State, since in the event of future negotiations with Great Britain the relations between the present Secretary and His Lordship could not be of a friendly and intimate character.

It is therefore understood that the result of the action taken by the administration will be the immediate recall of Lord Sackville. He may personally request to be recalled, or the British foreign office, in order to maintain the respect and dignity of its diplomatic relations with the United States, may assign Lord Sack-

Bayard-"It is still to be hoped that we will be able to settle the issue involved in the pending canvass without the importation of foreign interference or intermeddling in our domestic affairs"—is such an expression as the Minister toward whom it is di rected cannot possibly endure with self respect and continue amicable reations with the Department of State.
