TO THE BURNING OF THE CHATTANOOGA HOTEL.
Gen. Biggar's valise found empty - BELIEF THAT THE HOUSE WAS BURNED TO COVER ROBBERY AND MURDER - OTHER NEWS
By Telegraph to the News and Observer.
Chicago, Nov. 22. - A dispatch from Chattanooga, Tenn., says: Gen. P. H. Biggar, of Atlanta, Ga., was one of those who lost their lives in the European Hotel fire the night of November 2, which is supposed to be incendiary. Yesterday his valise, filled with stoner, was found in the Tennessee river. The money which Gen. Biggar was known to have carried in the valise was gone. A negro named Webb was arrested in Cincinnati a few days ago and he is believed to be the one who robbed the valise. When apprehended he had $14,000 on his person. Detectives are still at work on the case and are certain that they will be able to show that the house was burned to cover up murder and robbery.

TO BE CONTESTED.

THE VOTE OF VIRGINIA FOR PRESIDENTIAL ELECTORS.
By Telegraph to the News and Observer.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. - As a result of the conference between Gen. Mahone and Senator Quay, recently held in this city, it is announced that proceedings will be begun in the Virginia State courts and the U. S. Circuit Court for Virginia, attacking the right of the democratic electors of that State to cast their votes for President in the electoral college. The certificates of the electors will not be issued until after the meeting of the State Board of Canvassers in Richmond next Monday, and the contemplated proceedings will be then immediately instituted. It will be in the nature of a petition of writ of quo warranto, to compel the electors receiving the certificates to show by what right they assume to serve as such. One of the petitioners will be Mr. Lamb, of Norfolk, the other probably the republican candidate for elector from the Richmond district. It is said by the republican attorney in the case that the petition for a writ will be backed up by such a showing of fraud in the count of ballots cast on the sixth inst. as will satisfy any one that the republican candidates for electors received at the polls a plurality. Inasmuch as only a very short time will intervene between the beginning of proceedings and the meeting of the electoral college, and as the electors holding certificates cannot be prevented from exercising the functions of their office by injunction, it is more than probable that Cleveland will receive the vote of the Old Dominion for President. Both Quay and Mahone deny any desire for mere party advantage, but say that it is of prime importance to develop and prove election frauds in the South, with a view, in case of failure in these efforts in the courts, to arousing Congress to the necessity of enacting laws to secure a true count of votes cast for presidential electors and members of Congress.

The First Prize at the Great Danville Tobacco Exposition.
DANVILLE, Va., Nov. 22. - The main feature of the Danville Tobacco Exposition today was the award of premiums on tobacco exhibits. The first premium on bright wrappers goes to Madison county, N. C. Indian Disturbance Denied.

Head Coverings and Acceptances.

For Engrossing Clerk.

The friends of R. G. Lewis, Esq., of this city will present his name to the Democratic caucus of the House of Representatives for the position of Engrossing Clerk. They do not claim any special consideration for Mr. Lewis on account of his lifelong active Democracy, or because he comes from a county which made the largest Democratic gains in the State in the past election, but they ask this position for him because of his peculiar fitness for it. He is a lawyer of ability and ripe experience but has been prevented latterly from actively following his profession by the development of a severe throat trouble. He needs the position and his many friends would be gratified to see him get it. X.

Secretary Fairchild's forthcoming report is expected to devote considerable space to the Treasury surplus.

A FURIOUS ATTACK

ON THE FARNELL COMMISSION BY "UNITED IRELAND."

DUBLIN, Nov. 22. - United Ireland makes a furious attack on the Farnell Commission because of the heavy fine imposed upon Mr. Edward Harrington. It says whether it is guilty of contempt or not it will not abstain from commenting upon the action of the judges. It then reiterates the charge made by the Kerry Sentinel against the commission, and asserts that the government, whose existence is at stake, has packed the court.

THE W. & W.

The stockholders of the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad Company met in Wilmington Wednesday. The old officers and old board of directors were re-elected. We condense from the Star's account the further proceedings as follows: The reports of President Bridges and General Manager Walters shows that the closing fiscal year has been a prosperous one, and that both the freight and passenger business show a healthy increase. The gross earnings of the Wilmington & Weldon road were $1,135,532, and the expenses $587,102.65; net receipts $548,429.67.

The report of operations of the Wilmington, Columbia & Augusta Railroad shows that the gross earnings were $779,988.82, the expenses $539,340.72, and the net receipts $240,648.10. Of the work accomplished the past year, the following is an epitome: They have extended the Scotland Neck branch from Scotland Neck to Conehoe Creek, a distance of twelve miles from its present terminus, or thirty miles from its junction with the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad, and the grading is completed to the Albemarle & Raleigh Railroad, a distance of twelve miles, making twenty-four miles. The rails and cross-ties have been secured, and the company is laying the track from Conehoe to the Albemarle & Raleigh Railroad, which will be completed during the present year, and ready for operation. The contract has been made for grading from there to a point near Greenville.

They have also constructed 297 miles from the State line towards Fayetteville, being part of the Wilson & Fayetteville branch, completed as far as a station called Rowland. This, with the Florence railroad, commencing on the W. & A. near Pee Dee river, a distance of 24.47 miles, makes complete this part of the line from the Pee Dee, on the W. & A. & A. R. B. to the station Rowland. The remainder of this line to Fayetteville will be completed whenever the company wishes the same to be done.

The Manchester & Augusta railroad starts from Sumter, S. C., going in the direction of Augusta, Ga., and has been completed to Halfway, or Pine Log Swamp, a distance of 14 miles. The remaining four miles have been let to contract. This company has agreed with the Richmond & Danville Railroad Company to furnish one-half the money necessary for building the Othow & Southern Railroad from Portsmouth to Tarboro, with a terminal in Norfolk, for which large expenditures have been made.

It is gratifying to note that there has been a considerable increase in the local freight and passenger business, the number of local passengers having increased 24.4 and the revenue 13.5 per cent, and this too while the local passenger rates were decreased 12 1/2 per cent, and an additional train, both north and south bound, was run the year round to serve the local business of the road. It has given such satisfaction to the public that the General Manager recommends that, while its receipts have not equalled its expenses, it should be continued as a permanent. The trucking business developed by the Atlantic Coast Dispatch Line, for the shipment of early vegetables and fruits to Northern markets, has been beyond the expectations of the most sanguine, and a large increase in this business is anticipated the coming year, particularly from local points on the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad.

It is proposed to relay the Clinton branch road with steel, although the road has been operated at a loss this year - as expected. There was a meeting of the stockholders of the Wilmington, Columbia & Augusta, the Florida & Manchester and Augusta railroads as well as of the W. & W. and the same officers elected by the W. & W. were elected to serve on these roads. The News and Observer understands that the Wilmington & Weldon agreed to extend the Scotland Neck railroad from Scotland Neck to Greenville to Kineston to Jacksonville in Onslow county.

THE JORDAN MATTER.

A STATEMENT BY THE COMMISSIONERS OF THE TOWN OF DURHAM.

ANY PERSON OR PERSONS WISHING TO INVESTIGATE CORDIALLY INVITED TO DO SO.

Durham Tobacco Plant. At a regular meeting of the mayor and commissioners of the town of Durham, held November 20th, 1888, it was resolved that a statement be prepared of certain recent occurrences in the town, respecting one E. G. Jordan, in order to satisfy numerous inquiries, and to re-open the following was prepared and adopted, and is believed to be a statement of matters connected therewith: In 1885 one E. G. Jordan appeared in Durham. He claimed to be a blacksmith by trade, and called himself "Professor Jordan." He was reported to have been run away from two towns in this State, before coming here. He was here but a short time before he was arrested as a common nuisance, being a loud and boisterous profane swearer on the public streets. He was also arrested as a disturber of the peace. He was convicted of both and required to give bond for good behavior. At that time very few, if any, persons knew his politics.

Soon afterwards he became noisy and disposed to be turbulent. He was evidently a man of a bad heart and given to sowing discord and discontent in the community. He was notoriously regarded as an anarchist, who boldly and defiantly declared his principles, and who sought to instill these notions in the negroes. He proclaimed the social equality of the blacks with the whites and set himself up as the special champion of the negroes, by whom he was nominated for the office of constable of this township, in this year. A few weeks before the election he declaimed, in a speech made in the public hall of the town, to a convention of negroes, that he had lived in twenty-eight States of the Union, and a few days before the election he boasted that "after the election we negroes will control this county."

During the week preceding the election he was reported as holding secret meetings at night with the negroes, he being the only white man present. On the night of the election, the county having reversed its political complexion and gone democratic, wiping out its small republican majority of two years ago, the negroes were violent in manner and incendiary in language. A railroad camp was raided and one hundred dynamite cartridges and a keg of blasting powder stolen by the negroes, and Mr. O. B. Green, chairman of the democratic county executive committee was notified, by a negro, on election night, that there was a plan on foot to injure him that night. The people were very much excited and all believed Jordan to be the instigator of all the disturbance and the leader of the negroes.

At 2 o'clock that night, while Mr. Green was absent, his house was saturated with kerosene oil and set on fire and his wife and children barely escaped with their lives. The sentiment of the community was almost unanimous that Jordan, having threatened that there would be trouble, was either the actual incendiary or the instigator of the burning.

It became the opinion of the citizens generally that if he did not leave much bloodshed would ensue, for the people were then wrought up to the highest pitch of excitement, not knowing what would next be attempted. In this state of affairs some young men, carrying out the demand of the best citizens of the town, took it on themselves to notify him to leave. They did so, and he not going, they took him out in a carriage to make him go. Other citizens, fearing they might do him bodily harm, offered to see that he left on the next train if released. He was then readily released and the citizens contributed the money to pay the fare of his family and himself. It is not believed that it was intended by the young men to kill or injure him.

After Jordan left the excitement abated, quiet was easily restored and there has been no further outbreak or violence of any kind, and it is the general feeling of the community, without regard to politics or color, that his departure was a happy riddance. We will simply add, as to Jordan's character and the weight to be attached to his statements, that there is strong suspicion and current rumor in the community that he has been for some time guilty of incestuous intercourse with his daughter.

Durham is and will be a safe and happy home for good men of any latitude or politics, but not for men of the Jordan class. We pity any community where he would be welcome if his true character was known. We believe the above to be a true and fair statement of the incidents connected with Jordan's departure. The statement made by Jordan regarding separate boxes for whites and blacks being used in the election is false. There was only one set of boxes used. There was no talk of contesting the election, and the votes were counted, beginning immediately after sunset and completed by day-break, but the election of township constable was ascertained soon after the polls were closed. We will be glad to welcome any person or persons to our town who may wish to investigate the above matter. Geo. W. Woodward, Clerk Board Town Commissioners.

A HORRIBLE MURDER.

A Farmer in Cleveland 'Century Shot Down in His own Door. Special to the News and Observer.

SHELBY, N. C., Nov. 22. - The most horrible and cold-blooded murder in the annals of Cleveland county was committed last night shortly after dark. James Philbeck, a thrifty and industrious farmer, 60 years old, who lives four miles west of Shelby, was called to his back door by a man who said he had a note from a friend and was shot down in the most cold-blooded way, one ball entering his right nostril and the other the roof of the mouth. His wife, who had followed him to the door, was compelled to surrender all the money she had - a ten dollar bill and about three dollars in silver. The burglar then cursed her and said she had more, as her husband had just sold seven bales of cotton. She offered him the keys and said he could search the house and that she would strike a light, the wind coming from the open door having extinguished the lamp. As she struck a match the burglar put a pistol to her face and shot her under the left eye, the ball ranging downward, and then he made his escape. Mrs. Philbeck was unconscious for about half an hour, when with a great effort she made her way to the house of Perry Lovelace, her brother-in-law, about fifty yards away. The latter heard the shots, but thought Philbeck was unloading lumber. He at once summoned assistance, but the murderer had made his escape, leaving no track behind him. Mrs. Philbeck could not identify the man, but says she thinks he is either a white man or a bright mulatto. He was evidently acquainted with the premises. Philbeck and wife lived alone, their children having married or being at school. Sheriff Hamrick, with a posse, is in search of the murderer but has no clue. The people of Shelby are greatly excited over the tragedy and if the man were caught tonight he would be lynched. The burglar was alone.

The Haytian Rebellion About Ended.

By Telegraph to the News and Observer. New York, Nov. 22. - Consul-General Bassett, who represents the Haytian government at New York, has received information that peace between the Haytian government and the insurgents is being arranged by the ambassadors. The first steps in the negotiations were taken at the request of the high authorities of the Roman Catholic Church. The rebels are nearly out of money and peace is confidently expected within a few days.

Sanctified Homeicide.

Elizabeth City Economist. About 5 a. m. on Wednesday morning near Hertford, Perquimans county, a murder was committed by a man named Henry Lowe who, ordinarily was considered an idiot, but occasionally had paroxysms of violent mania. On Tuesday of election, and we learn it, he applied to vote, but was rejected because he had not registered, which greatly affected him. He was living with Mr. Matt Wood, of Perquimans county, and on Wednesday morning last, just before day he knocked at the door of the bedroom of Mr. Wood, and being refused admittance, he fired through the door, striking Mr. Wood on the face. He then burst in the door and fired another shot at Wood inflicting a fatal wound in the breast from which Wood died immediately. He then turned upon his own brother who had come in and fired at him, striking and breaking his arm. He then sought Mrs. Wood, who escaped from the window with her children. Two of the neighbors came in, aroused by the commotion, and met Lowe in the yard with his pistol, which was emptied. When he saw them he commenced to run, but upon being halted and warned of his danger, and a rifle presented, he stopped and was arrested. He was then taken to jail, where he is now confined. This case presents a question of responsibility which may well puzzle casuists. If conscious of the crime which he was committing when the act was done, the act was murder; if unconscious of homicidal intent, then it was the act of an irresponsible man. Madness is often nearly allied to the most subtle intellect and all forms of insanity are still more closely allied. The law in its acknowledged wisdom has said that an innocent man should not be punished through a thousand guilty men go unpunished. This is judicial wisdom where the question of insanity does not arise, but if the legitimate result be to suffer insane men to go unconfined, then the wisdom of the law in its application to such cases is very questionable.

Mr. Dillon is going to Australia.

MORTON.

HE VISITS WASHINGTON TO INSPECT AN APARTMENT HOUSE.

HE IS BUILDING IN THE FEDERAL CAPITAL - HE IS APPARENTLY IN PERFECT HEALTH - OTHER NEWS.

By Telegraph to the News and Observer. WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 22. - Vice-President-elect Levi P. Morton, accompanied by Mrs. Morton, is spending the day in Washington. They came over from New York last night and expect to return tomorrow morning. To an Associated Press reporter Mr. Morton stated that his visit was for the purpose of inspecting his large apartment house, now approaching completion, on the site of the residence occupied by him during his previous stay in Washington, corner 15th and H streets. He had not been here before and came at the request of the architect. "When do you expect to visit Gen. Harrison?" he was asked. "Oh, I don't know. That has not been settled yet. It will depend upon the mutual convenience of the parties."

Mr. Morton desired to be as free from public notice as possible during his stay and for that reason did not, as usual, stop at any of the hotels but is the guest of his sister, Mrs. Hobson, on N street. Upon politics he had nothing to say. The Vice-President-elect bears every appearance of perfect health.

The National Grange.

By Telegraph to the News and Observer. TOPEKA, Nov. 22. - At the closing session of the National Grange, Col. J. H. Brigham, of Ohio, was elected Grand Master, and Leonard Rhone, of Pennsylvania, was selected to fill a vacancy on the executive committee. A resolution urging that U. S. Senators be elected directly by the people was passed, as was also a resolution advocating pure food. The Grange adjourned, leaving the matter of selection of the next meeting place to the executive committee.

The Fever at Fernandina.

By Telegraph to the News and Observer. WASHINGTON, Nov. 23. - Surgeon-General Hamilton has received the following telegram from Surgeon Ross, at Fernandina, Florida: "One new case of yellow fever reported for the twenty-four hours ending 6 p. m. November 20. A careful analysis of the status shows four cases of yellow fever under treatment in Fernandina yesterday. On no day since my arrival here has the total number of cases under treatment been so small as yesterday. The yellow fever pabulum is about exhausted."

Not Likely to be Accomplished.

Wilmington Star, 22d. When it was reported a short time ago that negotiations were pending for the purchase of the Atlantic Coast Line by the Richmond Terminal syndicate, considerable interest was manifested in the matter here, as it was feared that the deal, if accomplished, would be detrimental to the interests of Wilmington. It is therefore gratifying to know, as was stated authoritatively by gentlemen present at the meeting of railroad men yesterday, that the proposed deal is not at all likely to be accomplished.

The Atlantic Coast Line.

Wilmington Star. The Star takes pleasure in announcing that there is no probability whatever that there will be any change in the ownership or management of the Atlantic Coast Line, as has been feared since it became known that negotiations looking to that end were pending between that corporation and the Richmond and West Point Terminal. The views of the parties interested are as divergent as would be the course of two locomotive engines starting from Weldon, one going North and the other going South, and both running a speed of sixty miles an hour.

ELSEWHERE it will be seen that the name of R. G. Lewis, Esq., a well-known member of the Raleigh bar and a good democrat, is to be presented to the democratic caucus of the House of Representatives for the position of enrolling clerk.

Office of W. H. & R. S. TUCKER & Co., RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 10, 1888. To the Public: On February 1st, 1889, Mr. Charles McKimmon will retire from the firm of W. H. & R. S. Tucker & Co. The business will be continued and conducted by the remaining members, Messrs. Boylan, Dobbin and Poe, under the firm name of W. H. & R. S. Tucker & Co., as heretofore. In the meantime we desire to reduce our stock of goods and to collect all notes and accounts now due. W. H. & R. S. TUCKER & Co. James Boylan, T. W. Dobbin, Charles McKimmon, G. W. Poe.

The New York Times of Tuesday says: Mr. Jay Gould is credited with owning over 50,000 shares of Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe stock in one Boston brokerage office. The same brokers were big buyers of Richmond Terminal yesterday, and the Street surmised it to be for Mr. Gould, too. The relations of the Terminal (by use of the Memphis & Charleston) at Memphis with Mr. Gould's system are to be peculiarly close, as plans to be made public soon will show. Perhaps there is truth after all in the Wall Street gossip that Mr. Gould's sons are to become Terminal directors. The Terminal directors yesterday accepted an invitation to visit the big Exposition at Augusta, Ga. Not only the Exposition managers, but the Mayor of Augusta and a special citizens' committee, joined in the invitation, which was presented through Mr. Marion J. Verdery of this city, a former resident of the thrifty Georgia town. President J. H. Inman, Col. Galvin S. Brice, Capt. John C. Calhoun, Gen. T. M. Logan, and other directors will probably make up the visiting party whose trip will begin the latter part of this week. Mr. Verdery will go as the guest of the directors. This visit of the Terminal Board to Augusta ought to be productive of great good to the Terminal interests. There has been a feeling, but thinly disguised, of opposition in the South to the recent moves of the Terminal Company in gaining control of so great a portion of the Southern railway system. This visit and the good fellowship it will be sure to develop between Southern citizens and Northern financiers, ought to go far toward removing much of the existing opposition.
