A NARROW ESCAPE

FROM BEING ROASTED IN A SLEEPING

By Telegraph to the News and Observer.

CHICAGO, Ill., Dec 18 -A number of passengers in a sleeping car on the Illinois Central narrowly escaped roasting yesterday morning about 5 o'clock. The train was approaching Kankakee when the brakeman at the rear of the train noticed smoke pouring from the sleeper. The conductor took in the situation at a glance and directed his first attention to getting the passengers out of the sleeper. This they accomplished with little difficulty, nine gentlemen and one lady being transferred to another car in very lively fabion. Then the brakemen deluged the car with water. When the flames were extinguished was found that four berths, with heir contents, curtains and hangings, had been burned and much damage done by water and smoke.

The South in the Cabinet.

From the New York Tribune. WASHINGTON, Dec. 15 -It seems to be the opinion of almost everybody that one member of President Harrison's Cabinet will be taken from the South and trustworthy information received here shows that Southern republicans are up and doing in behalf of their friends. A Southern man of considerable prominence today said that the movement in behalf of ex-Senator Mahone, of Virginia, is more general than most people realize.

Another man whose friends are making a concerted effort in his behalf is A. F. Buck, of Georgia, who is said to have received assurances of sympathy and support from prominent republicans in North Carolina, South Carolina, Florida and Alabama as well as in his own State. The sudden death of Judge Settle, of Florids, is thought to have removed one promising Southern candidate for the covetad honor.

CIVIL SERVICE. LIVELY DISCUSSION OF THE

LAW

THE FEDERAL HOUSE YESTERDAY-NO HOLIDAY RECESS FOR THE SENATE-OTHER NEWS.

By Telegraph to the News and Observer. WASHINGTON, Dec. 18 .- SENATE .-The resolution for evening sessions was taken up and an amendment offered to it by Mr. Morrill providing that (until otherwise ordered) the daily hour of meeting of the Senate shall be 11 a. m. and that at 5 30 each day a recess shall be taken till 8 p. m.

Mr. Vest opposed the resolution.

He fully appreciated the present condition of affairs considered from a political standpoint. Democratic Senators who were not members of the finance committee could not have been familiar with the details of the tariff bill and had had no time to examine the schedules. It was simply out of the question that they could do so. On account of the sickness of Mr. Beck work had been devolved on some other demogratic Senators that was irksome but that had to be performed, and now the proposition to change the hour of meeting and to hold evening sessions was simply (if Senators were to do justice to the details of the bill) cruel and outrageous. For his part he could not agree to it and would not agree to it.

The resolution was also met with determined opposition from Messrs. Vance, Harris, Voorhees, Blackburn and Cockrell, and was advocated by Messrs. Hoar, Hawley, Aldrich, Allison, Morrill, Sherman and Dawes.

Mr. Cockrell moved to amend the resolution so as to provide for a daily meeting of the Senate at 11 a. m. but not to provide for night sessions. Rejected—25 to 27.

Mr. Gray proposed an amendment providing for a daily meeting at 11 o'clock and for night sessions during the remainder of the week with the understanding that the concurrent resolution for a holiday recess be agreed to.

Mr. Morrill-With a view of arranging a compromise with the Senators on the other side, I ask for a postponement of the resolution till and the resolution was postponed till tomorrow.

Mr. Morrill then reported back from the finance committee the House emcurrent resolution for a holiday recess with an amendment restricting it to the House of Representatives

The Senate then resumed consideration of the tariff bill, taking it up at paragraph 150 in reference to wire

Mr. Turpie moved to change the phraseology of the bill by substitu-ting "Mulis" instead of "tenth s of a cent" in stating fractional rates. Rejected. No change was made in this paragraph. Paragraph 151 was then taken up. It applies to "wire made of iron or steel," and taxes that which is smaller than No. ten, and not smaller than No. 16, 13 cents per pound, and that which is smaller than No. 16, and not smaller than No.

26, 3 cents per pound.

Mr. Saulsbury offered an amendment which was agreed to, inserting after the words "except fence wire" the words "and iron and steel, flat, with longitudinal ribs for the manufacture of fencing."

The Senate then, having disposed of about three pages of the bill, proceeded to the consideration of executive business and at 5 35 adjourned.

Mr. Springer, of Illinois, stated that he would not call up the territorial bill today. There would be a meeting of the committee on territories tomorrow and it would be then determined when these measures would be considered.

There was a brief contest between Mr. Blanchard, of Louisiana, in charge of the river and harbor bill, and Mr. Randall, of Pennsylvania, in charge of the legislative appropriation bill, for precedence for their respective measures, and Mr. Randall beng successful, the House proceeded to committee of the whole (Mr. Blount, of Georgia, in the chair) to consider his bill.

There was no interruption in the reading of the bill until Mr. Holman, of Indiana, offered an amendment inpreasing the number of messengers on the "soldiers' roll" of the House from 14 to 20. This amendment caused a political debate and was fihally rejected, 53 to 66.

Mr. Henderson, of Iowa, moved to increase the clerical force of the Civil Service Commission, and the smendment was opposed by Messrs. Randall, Spinols and Cummings, of New York, and others.

Mr. Henderson said the increase was asked for by the Commission and that it should be granted if Congress desired to enforce the law in good faith. But he charged that the spirit ceed $5,000 a month. Mr. Dickey has of the law had not been carried out derson's amendment was rejected, 27

Randall said he had never agreed that there should be fastened upon the country a class of office-holders but that since the Civil Ser-vice law was enacted he had always voted for the appropriation necessary to corate it. His friends on the other side would soon be in charge and they sould make the civil service law spread all over the country and embrace all office holders. He was waiting with a great deal of anxiety and expectation of amusement to see their attitude in the pext Congress when they would profess their exfreme anxiety in connection with the civil service law. (Laughter) Mr. Cummings, of New York, moved to strike out the whole clause relating to the Civil Service Commission. He did this, he said, because t seemed that every bill that was introduced in the House to repeal the civil service act had been buried in committee, and he saw no other way of reaching the subject than by curtailing the Commission by striking out the appropriation for its maintenance. He believed the Commission un-democratic; that it favored certain voters at the expense of other voters. and he knew that if the rules of the Commission were applied to mem-bers of the House, not five eigths of them would ever reach the floor again. (Laughter). Believing the Commission to be un-democratic and in violation of the fundamental principles of the laws governing the Republic, he moved to strike out the whole section.

Mr. Spinola looked upon the motion of his colleague as a healthy one. Laughter.)

Mr. Bandall requested Mr. Cummines to withdraw his motion. As long as the civil service law was on the statute books he was in favor of appropriating money to enforce it.

Mr. Cummings replied that he would gladly withdraw his motion if be saw any other way of reaching the Civil Service Commesion. "I do not, he continued, "desire to obstruct the passage of the bill, and if the gentleman from Pennsylvania will agree to Strikers in Texas.

By Telegraph to the News and Observer. Sr. Louis, Dec. 18.-A dispatch from Texas say that the miners of the Texas and Pacific Coal Company in Rath county have been on a strike for a month past and that they are becoming quite unruly. On last Friday night some new men were attacked and badly beaten and there was a constant firing of guns and pistols between the strikers and new men, nearly all night. But no serious casualties are reported. The offices and storehouses of the company were riddled by bullets. The sheriff with a posse was on the ground but the orce was inadequate to protect life and property and the Governor had been appealed to. At last accounts the sheriffs of adjoining counties had been ordered to the scene of the conflict and a company of State Rangers will probably be sent there.

-A Paris dispatch of Friday says During another exciting scene at the Panama Canal Company's office to-day, on a call for M. Lesseps, Charles de Lesseps, his son, appeared. He announced that only 180,000 bonds had been subscribed for, and that the company would therefore commence returning the deposits to morrow. WALHALLA ANOTHER ACCOUNT OF THE

A DIFFERENT FACE PUT ON THE MAT-TER -THE WHITES FIRST FIRED ON BY THE NEGROES -OTHER

RIOT THERE.

By Telegraph to the News and Observer. MERIDIAN, M. 88 , Dec. 18 .- A number of telegrams were received here vesterday morning stating that a riot had occurred at Walhalla, Kemper county, 50 miles north of Meridian, and that Holly Morton, of this place, had been killed. A party of twenty men was at once organized and left for the scene on the regular passenger train. Subsequently another party of forty was raised and left on a special train.

A number of wild rumors were boon n circulation to the effect that the posse from this city had had a fight with the negroes and that several of them had been wounded. These rumors were set aside by the arrival of the posse on the regular mail train last night. They reported that everything was quiet at Walhalla and their presence was not required there. They told the following story of the riot: Last Thursday the son of G. F. Nicholson, a prominent farmer of Kemper county, was driving along the road when he met a negro desperado named Maruder driving in the opposite direction. Young Nicholson's vehicle by accident came into collision with that of the negro, who kept in the middle of the road as if determined to drive the boy out. The negro cursed the youth, when old Mr. Nicholson appeared and interfered. The negro thereupon drew a revolver but instead of firing closed with Nicholson and knocked him senseless with the pistol. The negro then fled. The following day Nicholson told his friends of the negro's assault, and on Saturday it was determined to organ-front of Maruder's house. Four of them walked up to the house but found it deserted. They then went to the smoke house where they found three negroes. These men were uestioned as to Maruder's whereabouts but they pretended they could not tell where he could be found. While the whites were trying to gain some information from them a man on the outside shouted: "Here is Maruder. Suppose you come and arrest him." The whites rushed in a body from the building, and as they merged were met with a volley from eight or ten muskets and shot guns. Wm. Vaughan was seriously wounded by buckshot in the left arm, neck and shoulder and another man whose name could not be learned was slightly wounded in the hand. This volley came from the cotton house and was promptly returned by the whites, but the ne-groes, being behind stout plank walls, Notwithstanding their osses, however, the posse determined to make another attack on the cotton house, approaching this time from the south side. As they came up to the building they received a third volley, the negroes apparently awaiting the order to fire as they had done in the previous instance. At the third volley Seth Cobb received twenty-two buckshot in the breast and stemach, tearing the entire front part of his body away. John Dew, another of the whites, was probably mortally wounded by a pistol ball in the groin. The whites again drew off for consultation, when it was decided that another attack on the building with their reduced force would be useless, and they determined to wait for daylight and reinforcements. While they were consulting the negroes rushed from the cotton house to Maruder's residence in a body and proceeded to fortify that building, and the whites went back to Walhalls.

Yesterday morning another force of fifty men was raised and proceeded to Maruder's residence. The place was found entirely deserted, even the removed. within five miles of the scene of the trouble. The white people from the adjoining towns poured into Walhalla all day and joined in the search, but, as none of the negroes except Maruder was known, they accomplished nothing. One negro was seen lurking in the woods and was rushed upon by a party of whites, but he instantly disappeared. When the posse from Meridian, under command of Capt. Thomas Jamison, reached Walhalla they were told that their services were not required.
