General trade partakes of the charofer of the holiday season which is at hand, and presents no features calling for especial mention. In the leading speculations, however, there are some notable changes, among which the decline in wheat, in conse-quence of prolonged dulness of ex port trade, may be noted. In cotton curred, notwithstanding the continuance of an active demand for export. Lard on the spot has not been active, but today there was a fair business at hardening values, 7 75c for preme city, 8 40a8 50c for prime to choice Western and 9c for refined to he continent. Packers offered freely to reduce the prices of swine, but the market became steadier, and to-day there was more advance on a de-mand to cover contracts, partly on Western account, and the close was steady at the advance. Pork has favored buyers, but close steady with a fair demand at $13.75 and $14 for extra prime, $14 50 and $14 75 for mess and $15.50 and $17 for clear back. Cut meats have continued in demand, and the sales to day embraced pickled bellies, 12 and 11 pounds average, at 7½ and 7½c, with shoulders quoted at 7½ and 7½c and hams 9¾ and 10c; smoked shoulders, 8c. and hams 10¾ and 11c. Beef is steady at $7 50 and $7.75 for extra mess and $10 50 and $11 50 for packed per bbl.; India mess quoted at $21 and $23 per tierce. Beef hams are dull at $12.75 and $13 per bbl. Tallow dull and lower at 6 and 610 Stearine quoted at 9 and 9½c, and oleomargarine 7½c. Butter is steadier at 21 and 35c. for creamery and 18 and 24c. for Western factory. Cheese quiet at 10 and 12c. for State factory.

Coffee on the spot was dull until today, when there was a better demand at firmer prices, the sales including Rio No. 7 at 157 a16c. and Capitana at 16c., affoat, besides large lines of Maracaibo, Laguayra, &c., on private terms. The speculation in Rio options has been very unsettled, the market today making an advance of 50 points, closing firm with sellers as follows, showing a slight advance for the week.

Haw sugars have been dull and and more active; new erop New Or-leans selis at 35a45c. as to quality, and 400 hhds. Trinidad sold today at a private price. The offering of tess on Wednesday was not a large one, and about steady prices were obtained.

The speculation in cotton for future delivery at this market was at declining prices for most of the week under review. The comparatively free movement of the crop discouraged the bull party, and there was much unloading. But when January sold at $9.50c, the "shorts" bought freely to cover contracts, and there was buying for the rise. The de mand, however, was not maintained, and the bears again began selling for the decline. On Wednesday, the report of an increased crop estimate by a leading house had a depressing influence. In the meantime the Liverpool market, though weak, was bet ter sustained than this or the South ern markets, where the pressure of the increasing supplies began to be felt. On Thursday the market was unsettled, with considerable spirit and activity to the speculation, clos ing somewhat easier, in sympathy with duil Southern markets. Today there was an early decline, which was recovered on reports of free takings by American spinners. Cotton on the spot declined 1-16c. on Monday, and again on Tuesday, without leading to any increase of business. Stocks, however, show no serious accumulation, as large quantities go forward to Europe promptly on arrival. Today the market was steady at 93c. for middling uplands. The figures indicate a decrease the cotton in sight tonight of 258,708 bales as compared with the same date of 1887, a decrease of 355,949 bales as compared with the corresponding date of 1886 and a decrease of 189,325 bales as compared with 1885.

The totals show that the old interior stocks have increased during the week 41,065 bales and are tonight 59,518 bales less than at the same period last year The receipts at the same towns have been 28,983 bales more than the same week last year, and since September 1st the receipts at all the towns are 352,665 bales less and a purse of gold. than for the same time in 1887.

My lations with all foreign powers con tipue friendly. I regret that the convention concluded between myself and the President of the United States for the adjustment of ques tions which have arisen with refer ence to the fisheries in North Ameri can waters, has not commended itself to the judgment of the United States Senate, in whom, according to the Constitution of the United States, the power of ratification is vested. The temporary arrangements, however, which have been made will, I trust, prevent any immediate inconvenience arising from this decision. The conference which has been held on the subject of bounties upon sugar for export has been brought to a satisfactory issue by the conclusion of convention for their abolition, which has been signed by the representatives of most of the sugar producing countries.

The speech referred exclusively to the Vation and Italy. His Holiness painful situation he was placed in. One could easily ask, How far will measures you have sanctioned will they go at present. Systematic war was being waged. Even the person of the Pope was exposed to the threats of the mob. Enemies of the holy have weapons enough already to injure Papacy, and if these did not suffice they were prepared to manufacture fresh weapons. It was per sistently asserted that the Pope was an enemy of Italy. This assertion was simply made to mask the real object of the perfidious war against the church and that object was to render the Italian hostile to the Papacy. To vindicate the rights of pontiff the was in reality to advance the prosperity of Italy. To demand that the greatest moral power in the world should possess real sovereignty in Italy, where Providence placed the church centuries ago, was not an act of hostility to the country. The fact that bishops in foreign lands were laboring for the restoration of the Pope's temporal rights proved that the interests of the whole Catholic church were bound up in the
