RALEIGH, N. C., TUESDAY MORNING, JANUARY 1.

The N. Y. Commercial and Financial Chronicle FRIDAY NIGHT, Dec. 28, 1888. Favorable weather gave a brisk impulse to the holiday trade, and the esson winds up more satisfactory to the retail dealers than promised early in the month. As a consequence there is an agreeable reflex influence felt in the larger fields of business, giving promise that the new year will open with a cheerful tone in mercantile circles. Sharp declines in wheat and cotton are incidents of speculative dealings, and much excitement in coffee. Values of merchandise generally have not been fully sup-

There has been a fair amount of activity in the speculative branch of the market. A break in values on Wednesday was due to free selling on Western account, and this morning the lowest prices of the week were made, followed by a slight recovery and a steady closing.

Beef remains steady at $7.50a$8 for extra mess and $10.50a $11.50 for packet per barrel; India mess quoted at $21a$23 per tierce. Beef hams are dull at $12.75a$13 per barrel. Tallow dull at 6a6to. Stearine quoted at 9a950., and oleomargarine 750. Butter is easier at 21a23c for creamery and 13a23c. for Western factory. Cheese dull at 10a12c for State factory.

GOODS Coffee on the spot has been during and prices are somewhat depressed, closing today entirely nominal, with fair cargo Rio quoted 16%, which is rather an extreme. The progress of the speculation in Rio options has been attended by a sharp controversy on 'Change, a good deal personal in its character.

was no tea sale this week. The speculation in cotton for future delivery at this market for the week under review has felt the effect of a close holiday (Christmas) and the closing of foreign markets for several Disque and kid body Dolls from 25c days together. Saturday was quite buoyant There was a demand to cover contracts and to close accounts for the season, and Liverpool was dearer. Besides, the statistical position encouraged some buying for the rise. But on Monday the very heavy receipts at New Orleans, Memphis and Galveston caused a small decline under sales to realize. On Wednes day a weak opening was followed by a steady though dull market, the movement of the crop for the day comparing unfavorably with the corresponding date last year. On Thursday the Liverpool market was re-opened, and there was a decided reival of speculative interest. There 2000 yds 35-in Henrietta Cloth, all was an early advance on a stronger report from Liverpool, the smaller port receipts of the previous day, and the general stopping of short notices for January. Then the bulls began exchanging options for the early months to the more distant deliveries, and when it was seen that this had exceeded the aggregate of 30,000 bales for the day, there was a general selling movement, in which the early advance was not only lost but a slight further decline established Today the increased receipts at interior towns led to something of a break in values, but the close was steady. Cotton on the spot was dull and nominally unchanged, with bids generally below current asking prices. Today the market was dull

THE OBJECT OF THEIR MEET-ING.

THE GREATEST STEIKE THE COUNTRY HAS EVER KNOWN SAID TO BE POSSIBLY AT HAND-OTHER NEWS.

By Telegraph to the News and Observer. CHICAGO, Dec 81 .- A local paper says; One the leading spirits of the recen railroad engineers' meetingvin this city said last night to a reporter: This meeting we are holding is one of investigation rather than of action. We have searned by reports made at this meeting that all the great roads of the country with the exception of three which run cut of Chicago have been assisting the C. B & Q road, financially, and boy-cotting all "Q" striking engineers who applied for work. The magnitude of this and the figure it may cut in future may not be appreciated until I explain it a little later in detail. Last April when the Brotherhood was boycotting the "Q." road and others which were attempting to help them out several general managers said to us: Raise your boycott against the roads other than the "Q." and we will hereafter treat striking "Q." engineers as on an equal footing with others as far as giving them employment is concerned. We we have just learned of the support of the company and the boycott of "Q." strikers, which has apparently been running now for several weeks. We have had reports from skilled, sober and reliable striking "Q." en-

PROTRACTED CONSERENCE -THE DROTH-

STRIKERS A protracted conference was held today between officials of the C. B. & Q road and the grievance committee of the Brotherhood of Losomotive Engineers with a view to the settlement of differences between the company and the engineers who have been on strike for many months. No conclusion was reached and the conference was adjourned until tomorrow. After adjournment of the conference Wirt Dexter, solicitor for the road, said that the meeting was only an informal one, and that simply a general talk was the result. He said, however, that the committee would meet the officials again tomorrow and it was almost a certainty that the trouble would be patched up then. It is the general opinion that at the meeting tomorrow the committee on behalf of the Brotherhood will declare the strike off and such of the strikers as can be employed will be given employment. In speaking of the strike today a Texas and Rio Grande engineer said: The Brotherhood has grown fired of supporting 'Q.' strikers who are unable to obtain work and entered so strong a protest against it that it was decided by the Brotherhood to cut off all allowances totally and this would leave many of the men entirely without support. Over fifty per cent of the strikers are still unemployed, and are in fact black-listed by all the roads in sympathy with the 'Q's. It has already cost the Brotherhood $420,000 to support the strikers, and something must be done and that at

PHILADELPHIA'S MURDER MYSTERY-THE

CORPSE IDENTIFIED -AND THE MUS-DERER 'N PRISON. By Telegraph to the News and Observer.

PHILDELPHIA, Pa., Dec. 31.—As was telegraphed from here last night the mystery surrounding the finding of the mutilated remains of the mur-dered man in East Fairmount Park Wednesday last has been solved, the corpse in lentified and the murderer put in prison. The murder is shown to have been a diabolical one. The motive for the deed was to obtain the money of the murdered man, but all that the murderer a known to have realized by his destardly crime is $80. The case has baffled the police authorities since the finding of the body and many class have oeen "run A young man named Keefer, residing near Gillingham and Cadwallader streets, in the northeastern section of the city, yesterday saw a cut of the murdered man in one of the Sunday papers which he thought resembled the features of a German named Schilling who had lived with another German named Jacob Schroop, at the corner of the above named streets. He imparted his suspicions to the policemen of that district and was taken to the morgue, where, on looking at the corpse, he immediately identified it as that of Schilling. The police then brought Schroop's daughter to the morgue and she also identified the body as her father's boarder, Antone Schilling.
Officers were then sent to Schroop's house and informed him that they wanted him at the police station. The German exhibited the most abject terror and when taken up the steps of the station house his trembling

It is believed that Mrs. Schroop is accessory to the murder and butchery. Numerous evidences of cleaning and scrubbing are plainly seen in the house. It is stated that Mrs. Schroop attempted to choke herself in the night but was revented by the policemen on guard. Chief of Detectives Wood went to he prisoner's cell shortly after midnight and when he came out, about two o'clock this morning, he said the man had confessed to the murder, but he refused for the present to give the prisoner's statement to the public. How the murder was committed and the manner of the subsequent removal of the dismembered body to its hiding place in the park has not yet been learned, though it is surmised that Chief Wood has all this information in his possession. The place where the body was found in the park is three or four miles distant from Schroop's house. The hatchet, axe and saw used by Schroop were found in the cellar of his house this morning. These implements were covered with blood and bore marks of the terrible work and bore marks of the terrible work out any disparagement to other pub-they have so recently been used to lie men, and allowing that different perform. They were taken in charge by the police and will be preserved as evidence at the trial. The body, either before or after life was extinct, was carried into the cellar, where it was, evidently, judging from a little clot of blood, allowed to remain until the following morning, when, after having been cut into pieces and placed in bags it was removed to the place where it was found in the East Park. In the house was also found a red-colored pulse warmer which is evidently the mate of the one found on the murdered man. FIGHTING MILITIA AND DRIVING THEM OFF-A JUDGE AND COUNTY CLERK RUN OFF -OTHER NEWS.

By Telegraph to the News and Observer Louisville, Ky., Dec. 31 .- A letter from Hazard, Ky., brings the news of a fight between the French Evesold feud and a detachment of State troops recently organized there. On Christmas day they practically took possession of the town and held a carousal. Finally a warrant was issued against Jesse Morgan, one of the rioters, and Harry Creech, Jason Combs, Grant Holliday and Albert Hoskins of the militia were called upon to execute it. Morgan took refuge with Jesse Fields, the jailer, and James Davidson and John Combe of French's men who were barricaded in a brick house. As the soldiers approached Fields fired upon them, sending one ball through Creech's clothing and another whizzing over Combs' head. Before he could fire again, Holliday replied, grazing Fields' hand and retiring him. His friends, however, poured a volley into the soldiers, who beat a hasty retreat. They will gather a large force and try to take Morgan. The County Judge and County Clerk at Hazard have been run off by the outlaws.

LATE PUBLICATIONS.

A fine article on co-operative cream-eries in New England, nicely illustrated and fully describing the sys-tem by which dairying is made there so profitable, adds much to the prac-tical value of the American Agriculthrist for January. A plain practical paper on the composition and diges-tibility of feeding stuffs, with an original chart showing the feeding values much more plainly than would be possible by any tables of figures, and a finely illustrated article on the American Delaine Merino sheep, will attract attention. The poultry features are strongly and well illustrated, and the same is true of the horticultural features. The peculiarly marked Dutch Belted Cattle are falthfully pictured, and there is a telling article on wheat farming in the Northwest, with a full page group of pictures. The prize road-ster, Judge Hayes, for three years the first prize horse at the American horse show, forms the subject of an illustrated article. Other special articles and very liberal household features complete the finest issue of this sterling magazine yet published.
