bodies having been broken. Several other men were badly hurt by the falling brick and timbers. The building had been sold for removal. The accident was due to carelessness in oner's verdict, charging them with

Baltimore Sun.
Paid With Snow.

Two respectable looking men entered Horace L. Harriman's restaurant at No. 180 Sixth avenue, New York, Wednesday, and ordered a dinner, of which turkey was the principal dish. When they had eaten their fill they coolly announced that they had no money. Harriman told them they must pay or give security for the thirty-five cents due. One of the pair, who had an oblong cardboard box in his arm, rather hesitatingly proposed to leave the box as security.
His companion objected that it was sorely wise to trust it to Harriman, but after some more conversation calculated to impress Harriman with the value of the parcel, they offered him the mysterious box. Harriman wanted to know its contents, but the men objected, and when he insisted upon opening it one of them sided towards the door and made a sudden break for the street. Harriman held on to the box and the second man, and upon opening the former found that it contained a general assortment of dirty snow. A policeman took the prisoner to the Jefferson Market Police Court, where the man gave the name of John Conners. He said he was out of work and had accepted the invitation of the man who had escaped to dine at his expense. Justice Gorman fined him $10, and in default of payment Conners will get free meals in jail for ten days.

MANY EMPTY SEATS.

CONGRESSIONAL ATTENDANCE THINNED BY SICKNESS.

A NUMBER OF MEMBERS OF THE HOUSE ILL
—BILLS AND RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED IN BOTH HOUSES.

By Telegraph to the News and Observer.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—SENATE—Among the bills presented and referred, was one by Mr. Faulkner, to provide for the World's Exposition at the National Capital in 1892.
Mr. Harris (in absence of Mr. Beck, and in his name) introduced the bill to suspend operation of the sinking fund laws until further order of the Congress. It was referred to the finance committee.

Mr. Voorhees offered preamble and resolution reciting the newspaper report that Mr. Chambers one of the United States District Attorneys, at Indianapolis, had interfered in his official capacity to prevent the arrest of W. Dudley on the charge of feloniously violating the election laws of Indiana at the last Presidential election, and directing the Attorney General to report what instructions the department of justice had issued to Mr. Chambers on the subject, and to furnish copies of the correspondence. He asked that the resolution go over till tomorrow when he would submit some remarks upon it.
Mr. Edmunds.—That is right; I am in favor of the substance of it. The resolution went over.

Mr. Morgan proceeded to address the Senate on the subject of a bill heretofore introduced by Mr. Butler to provide for the emigration of persons of color from the Southern States. In summing up his speech Mr. Morgan pointed to the fact that the negroes had no chance to rise in this country. There was no negro bank president; no negro railroad president; no negro presidents of commercial, mining or navigation companies; no negro directors, cashiers or tellers in banks; no negro engineers or conductors on railroads; no negro State or Federal judges; no negro Governors of States or Territories; no negro in any Northern legislature; no negro representative in either House of Congress from any Northern State. The negro's entire field of endeavor was limited to political exploits. This field was occupied with little benefit to himself and with great injury to others.
Political influence would never lift the negro race in this country above its present level. On the contrary the friction and collision caused by the negro's use of a ballot would create more and more envy against the negro race. He (Morgan) looked forward to the establishment of a free republican government in the Congo region by the influence of the American negroes who would thus be redeemers and regenerators of their fatherland. He had a plan which he would present to the committee on foreign relations out he should indulge in the hope that some plan better than his would be found to facilitate the important work of civilizing the interior of central Africa by inducing eight millions of negroes in this country to contribute their strength, knowledge and Christianity to that work.
He thanked the Senate for the patience with which it had listened to his remarks.

A message from the President in relation to the claim of the widow of Jno. Paul, a German subject, arising out of his death in Wilmington, N. C., and recommending an appropriation of $5,000, was presented to the Senate and referred to the committee on foreign relations.
After a brief executive session devoted to routine business the Senate adjourned.

There was an unusually small number of the members present when the House was called to order at noon, and the prayer of the chaplain for protection of the sick representatives was listened to with unwonted interest.

On motion of Mr. Carlisle, of Kentucky, (acting under instructions from the committee on rules), a resolution was adopted providing for the appointment of two additional members on the committee on commerce.
The Speaker stated to the House that (in accordance with the authority vested in him yesterday) he had administered the oath of office to Sam'l J. Randall, of Pennsylvania.

Mr. McComas, of Maryland, offered a resolution that the House resolve itself into a committee of the whole for the consideration of the District of Columbia appropriation bill, the committee to be governed by the rules of the last Congress.

Mr. Breckenridge, of Kentucky, called Mr. McComas' attention to the fact that both Mr. Doherty, of Missouri, and Mr. Clements, of Georgia, (members of the sub-committee of the committee on Appropriations) were absent on account of sickness, and asked that the bill be not considered today.

Mr. McComas said that so far as he knew there was no difference in regard to the bill existing between his Democratic colleagues and himself, and he insisted upon pressing his resolution.

Mr. Breckenridge thereupon raised the question of consideration against the resolution.

The Speaker ruled that the question of consideration could not be raised against the resolution because

DIED IN PRISON.

SAD END OF MRS. HANNAH SOUTHWORTH.

WHO SHOT STEPHEN PETTUS IN NEW YORK SHE PASSES AWAY IN HER CELL AT THE TOLSONS—DEPRESSION AND HEART FAIL-URE THE CAUSE.

By Telegraph to the News and Observer.

New York, Jan. 7.—Mrs. Hannah B. Southworth, who shot and killed Stephen Pettus on Fulton street early on the morning of November 22d, died in her cell at the toms at 6:15 o'clock this morning. Her mother, Mrs. E. T. Martin, and her brothers, George and William Martin, were at her bedside when she expired. The coroner has been notified of her death.
Dr. Chetwood who granted the death certificate places the time of death at 2:30 o'clock and gives as the cause of death, heart failure and general debility. The death of Mrs.
Southworth is described as having been peaceful.

The grief of the dead woman's mother was painful to witness. The body of Mrs. Southworth was wasted almost to a frame. As soon as Coroner Schultz reached his office he granted an order permitting the removal of the body to Brooklyn where it will remain at the residence of her brother until Thursday, when it will be removed to Greenwood Cemetery and placed in a receiving vault temporarily. As soon as Mrs. Martin is prepared to return to her Southern home she will arrange for the removal of the body to Louisville, Ky. for final interment in the family plot there.

Resolutions of Respect.

At a regular monthly meeting of the Raleigh Cotton Exchange the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, The Giver of all life has seen fit, in his inscrutable wisdom, to remove from our midst Mr. C. O. Barbee; and whereas it is deemed proper and appropriate that this Exchange, of which he was an honorable and honored member, should spread upon its minutes some evidence of the esteem and regard in which he was held by his brother merchants; therefore be it

Resolved, That by the death of Mr.
Barbee we lose a member who in all the relations of life was a thoroughly good man, possessing the sterling qualities of integrity and honesty and an unwavering devotion to duty, coupled with the beautiful attributes of a generous nature, charity and brotherly love. He was not only eminently just, but thoroughly generous, and in all the relations of life, to his country, to his neighbor, to his family and to himself, he earned the title to "Well done, thou good and faithful servant; thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things; enter thou into the joy of thy Lord."

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this Exchange, and that a copy thereof be sent to his family, and that the newspapers of this city be requested to publish them.

Death of a Prominent Citizen of Fayetteville.

Wilmington Star.

A telegram from Fayetteville to the Star announces the death in that place last Sunday at 1 a. m., of Mr.
Alfred A. McKethan, one of the most prominent citizens, in the 80th year of his age. He was the founder of the McKethan Carriage Factory, for years the largest in the South and known all over the country. He was Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, President of the Fayetteville and Florence Railroad Company, a director of the Cape Fear and Yedkin Valley Railroad Company, Mayor of the city, and in his long years of usefulness held many other positions of trust and honor, being a man of prominence, abundant charity and great public spirit. The telegram states that a town meeting was held yesterday, at which Col. Charles Haigh presided. Stores were closed and bells tolled during the funeral, which took place at half-past three o'clock in the afternoon. The funeral was one of the largest and most impressive ever held in Fayetteville.

Peg-Leg.

This is to certify that it is the opinion of this writer that it will not be safe for "Peg-Leg" Williams or any of his hirelings to show themselves in these parts any more until next fall. They can come again next fall, after crops are housed, and welcome, too, to take all the "coons" that are foolish enough to go to the Yezzo of "Peg Leg." But 'til then, "Peggy" old boy, take the advice of the Argus and don't materialize in these parts, otherwise it might not be altogether lovely for you. Of course this is only our opinion. It goes for what it is worth.

Mortally Wounded.
By Telegraph to the News and Observer.

CHARLOTTE, Jan. 7.—A special to the Chronicle tonight says: B. O.

Earls Station, in Cleveland county, was shot through the body and mortally wounded by J. E. McNeilly.
The cause of the quarrel is not known and McNeilly has escaped.

A DISTILLER SHOT.

A PROBABLY FATAL AFFAIR NEAR SHELBY YESTERDAY.

Special to the News and Observer.
SHELBY, N. C., Jan. 7.
B. O. Jenkins, owner of a government distillery near Earls Station, nine miles from here, was shot through the body and mortally wounded by J. E. McNeilly, storekeeper and gauger at the distillery.
The cause of the quarrel is not known.
McNeilly has made his escape, having cached a money order at the Shelby postoffice after five o'clock this evening, and then hired a horse and buggy at a livery stable. At that time nothing was known of the shooting here.
McNeilly is from Burke county and has been in office only a short while.

GREENVILLE STARTLED BY A SHOOTING SENATION.

Special to the News and Observer.
GREENVILLE, N. C., Jan. 7.—Tonight at seven o'clock as Sydney Owens was leaving the hotel he was shot by an unknown party who was concealed behind a tree near the hotel. Suspicion rests on John Hatton a young man who some time ago had a difficulty with Owens. Hatton is now under arrest and it is feared Owens' wounds may be fatal. Considerable excitement in town.

The Casaria's Hopes.

It is announced in St. Petersburg that the empress of Russia will soon become a mother. This news is something of a surprise. The casaria, born Princess Dagmar, sister of the princess of Wales, is now just past forty-two years of age. Her first child, the Ozarewitsch Nicholas, was born in May, 1868; the second, the Grand Duke George, in April, 1871; the third, the Grand Duchess Xenie, in March, 1875; the fourth, the Grand Duke Michael in November, 1878, and the fifth, the Grand Duchess Olga, in June, 1882. All these were born either at the Winter palace at St.
Petersburg or in the Summer palace at Zsarakoselo. Some years ago, at the coronation in Moscow, where the casaria received a deputation of Poles it was hinted that in case of a fresh family event in the imperial family on the Nevah, her majesty might graciously condescend to follow the example of the empress of Austria and give her next child its natal place in the palace of the Polish kings at Warsaw. The casaria is usually acknowledged as the imperial protectress of the interests of Poland in the czar's palace.

A cable dispatch from St. Petersburg states that the condition of the Grand Duke Nicholas is so grave that the court festivities will not be held in St. Petersburg.

Married on Sight.

Baltimore Sun.

The train from the North carried to Newport, Arkansas, Thursday, Mrs. Burleigh, from Dayton, Ohio.
She went in response to an advertisement for a wife by David M. Jack, a member of the G. A. R., who two weeks ago was appointed postmaster at Sulphur Rock, Arkansas. He was a widower, with several small children, and advertised for a wife in a number of Northern papers. The replies he received would have filled a bushel basket, but none of them impressed him so favorably as Mrs. Burleigh.
He met her on arrival. She pleased him and he pleased her, and they were married within the hour.

Greenboro's Big Mill.

The Baltimore Manufacturers' Record says: "The organization of a company to build a 150-ton Bessemer furnace at Greensboro, N. C., to be followed by other furnaces and steel rail mill, means a great deal for the railroads of that State. A furnace to produce 150 tons of iron a day will create about 800 tons of freight a day in the way of ore, coke, limestone and the iron that it makes out of these materials. Taking 300 days a year as the average time in blast, though furnaces do not shut down for Sundays, the total freight created by this one furnace will be 240,000 tons a year. That means 12,000 car loads of freight, averaging 40,000 pounds to the car. The entire cotton crop of North Carolina is only about 100,000 to 110,000 tons in weight, so that this one Greensboro furnace will furnish double the amount of tonnage to the railroads that the whole cotton crop of the State does. Then the building of this furnace means the beginning of North Carolina's iron and steel development, and many other furnaces will follow.

A BAD BLUNDER.

BRADSTREET PUTS DOWN A SOLID NORTH CAROLINA FIRM AS HAVING FAILED.

Charlotte News.
Bradstreet has made a big error, and one about which there will likely be a question of damages. That authority reports Hall Brothers, of Hickory, as having assigned, while that firm is today, one of the soundest in the State.

It is believed that Bradstreet fell into the error of putting Hall Brothers, of Hickory, in place of Hale Brothers, of Halifax.

A telegram correcting the impression that might have been made by the publication in Bradstreet's, was received in Charlotte today from Mr.
Hall. He says that the report in Bradstreet's is utterly without foundation. Hall Brothers have never been pressed, have plenty of money, and are on a solid financial basis.
