SCLICITOR B. F. Long, noticing that the man Joiner has stated that he had applied without avail to the authori ties for protection, or redress, at once telegraphed to the New York Herald that no such application had been made to him.

SENATOR BUTLER is this week to address the Senate on his proposition to remove the negroes from the South under the supervision of the Quartermaster General, and Senator Ingalls is to reply. We do not know the details of Senator Butler's measure, but we do not sympathize with any such movement.

THE weather, which has been so unusual, is now about to break up. In Canada 43° below zero is reported. Heavy snow covers the ground in Nebraska. A terrible storm has swept with great loss of life struck Kentucky, and various minor disturbances are reported at other points. Yesterday morning we had a touch of a wind storm, and the appearances are frost looks like.

THE situation in Portugal is critie l. The people have been dissatisfied with their government to such an extent that when Braz l declared for a Republic, it was understood that the influence of that movement put at risk the monarchy of the mother country. Now come complications arising from a conflict between the interests of Portugal and Great Britain in Africa; and the government appearing to yield to England's demand, the people are indignant and are still more inflamed against the powers that be. In like manner, the people of Spain are on the qui vive. There have been Republican risings in various parts of that country and had the young King died, unquestionably, there would have been a disturbance. As it is there is great excitement in Spain and the government has issued decrees to repress all Republican movements with a strong hand.

Another is found in the changed conditions under which we live. Let us recall an illustration. For many years there lived in the coast counties of Massachusetts a hardy race of seamen and fishermen, whose families tilled small farms, while the ablebodied men went out upon the sea in ships, and, when the fishing season was over, drew their vessels into sefe barbors, and spent the stormy females, malicious injury to property winter months in making shoes. The factory system had deprived them of their home work. That in like manner is what is troubling us. Do you need a horse shoe-you buy one made at a factory. Do you need horse shoe nails -you buy them made at a factory. Do you need an sxe belve, or a broom, or a spool of thread, or a yard of cloth, or a pair of shoes, or a pair of socks, some kind factory furnishes them ready made, and there is no work done at home except to delve the ground and reap the crops. They can make things so cheap at the factories by the use of machinery, Mississippi, while a eyelone attended that it seems like time wasted for any one to make them at home.

Every year the factories make them cheaper and cheaper. But that is just a repetition of the ill-turn those shoe factories did for the poor fisherthat we shall soon know what jack men of Massachusetts who were forced, by being deprived of their winter's work, to desert their old homesteads.

What do our people find to do that saves a penny, or brings in a dollar ? The men labor in the crops, but the women and the children, and the men in the stormy days, what do they find to do that adds to the income of the family? It is because they make nothing to sell that they have hard times.

They have time, spare time, plenty of it. They are willing to labor, to work industriously; but they find no employment. The factory system has been the undoing of the family industry. More blessed would be the name of the man who would introduce some industry that would give employment to the households of this land than if he were a conquering hero, victorious in a hundred Welcome a la Shepard.

Vashington Post. Mr. Depew had come to Washington to speak before the committee of Congress to urge the claims of New York to the World's Fair, and the Washington Post thus welcomes him.

Dr. Chauncey M. Depew (three alphabets) is in Washington. Through the faulty schemes of a great nation it is impossible for him to read the Mail and Express of today at dinner. In the first place, New York is too far away; in the second place, Col. Elliot F. Shepard has religious and other business scruples against Sunday newspapers. Therefore it devolves upon us to welcome the eloquent stranger within our gates.

Welcome, Doctor Depew, thrice welcome! We are honored to have you in our noble midst. How did you sleep last night? Not Roma on her seven hells ruled so great a world as that which receives its political impetus from Washington. Come down and stop with us in 1892 and see the World's Fair. Illustrious brother, child of many nations, father of many speeches, president of many societies, and wet-nurse of a grippestruck boom, how are you?

That tall shaft which you see from your chamber window is the Washngton Monument. That magnificent structure to the east, arched like a pantheon and domed like St. Peter's, is the National Capitol. The Capitol, Dr. Depew; Doctor Depew, the Capitol. Make you acquainted.

Walk around the town, Chauncey. It is a magnificent city. It epitomixes the nation. Young, strong, vigorous, beautiful, majestic. Absorb and localize the atmosphere of patriotism; let your bosom swell with World's Fair, and when you have done so, the New York boom which took five palace cars to bring to pill box.

Welcome, thrice welcome to Washington, Doctor Depew.

RTUGAL BOWS TO ENGLAND'S POWER-A GOVERNMENT THAT CONFESSES IT IS TOO WEAK TO UPHOLD ITS OWN CLAIMS. LISBON, Jan. 12 .- Mr. Glynn Petre, the English minister, on Saturday to catch him mispronouncing some fourteen words, either according to Worcester or Walker."

This lying in wait to catch Everett mispronounce, reminds us of an incident. When the divine Sontag came to this country in 1853, the boys of the Shire, beyond the Zambest, of the Ruo and south of the Zambest, Portugal failed to reply in twenty-four hours the British legation would board the Enchantress and await a reply at Vigo. The King immediately convened a cabinet counsel to consider the ultimatum. The council met last night and sat until 1 this Minister Glynn Petre that Portugal, weak to withstand it, would order the withdrawal of the Portuguese from the Shire and Mashonaland while reserving all rights to the Portuguese crown in those Territories. It is asserted that this decision was further influenced by reports of an intention on the part of the British to make naval demonstrations at Quillimane, Delagos Bay and St. Vincent. It is on Thursday. Today the market was reported that the opposition in the firm but quiet at 10% 1. for middling this matter.

A mob composed of students and others, shouting "Down with the ministry!" attacked the British legawere powerless to control them. They then broke the windows of the residences of various members of the ministry, after which they dispersed.

It is rumored that Senhor Gomes, the minister of foreign affairs, will resign.

Negotiations with England over the situation in Africa were in regular course until January 5, when Mr. Glynn Petre, the British minister, presented unexpected demands, to which Portugal replied on January 8, as already announced, and negotiations appear to have been still in prcgress when England's ultimatum arrived.

FRIDAY NIGHT, Jan. 10. The weather has been changeable. There was promise of lower temperature a portion of the week, but it is warm and rainy sgain now, with no appearance of winter as yet. This condition is unfavorable to some trades. The money stringency of last week has been relieved, though rates advanced.

Lard on the spot has been about proving demand at hardening values, the sales today aggregating about 2,-000 tes. at 5 70c for prime city and 6.1516.17 o for prime Western, with refined for the continent quoted at for future delivery has also been improving, and today was quite active, the sales being 3,500 tes. at 6 21c for February, 6 30c for March and 6 40a 6 41e for May.

Pork has declined, but at the reduced values business has been more active, the sales today aggregating 1,150 bbls, of which 500 bbls short clear at the West on private terms; quoted at $10a10 75 for old and new mess, $9 50a9.75 for extra prime, and $11 50s13 00 for short clear. Out meats have been rather more freely dealt in at steadier prices, yet are not active; the sales today included 8,000 lbs. pickled bellies, 14 lbs. average, at 5go. Quoted: Pickled bellies, 47 a 63., according to weight; pickled hams, 8\frac{1}{2} \frac{1}{2} and pickled shoulders, 4a4\frac{1}{2}.; smoked hams, 9\frac{1}{2} \frac{3}{2} \frac{3}{2}, smoked shoulders, 5151c. Beef weak; extra mess, $7.65a7.25 and packet $75a 8.25 per barrel; India mess $13 50a 14 50 per tierce. Beef hams steady at $12.00a12 25 per barrel. Tal-low is steady at 4 7-16c. Stearine is quoted at 62:67s. for Western and city, and oleomargarine 51 51s. Butter dull at 17,28 to. for creamery. Oheese quiet at 914101c. for State factory, full cream.

Coffee on the spot has been fairly active and closes sligatly firmer at 171c. for Rio on the spot, but rather quiet. The speculation in Rio options has been unsettled, but today the market was firmer on favorable Euro pean advices, closing firm, with sellers as follows:

Raw sugars show some further improvement, especially for muscova dos, which at the close are quoted at 54s. for fair refining, but centrifuga is lower and unsettled. Refined sugars fairly active and firm. Foreign molasses dull. The tea sale went off noble impulse and the conviction that at steady prices, except O longs at a here, here alone, is the place for the Congress, which were easier. The offering was a large one, amounting to nearly 15,000 pkgs.

The buying here was mainly to cover contracts, but operators for the rise acted with some confidence, and on Tuesday there were buying orders by cable. The impression gained ground that the course of the Liverpool market was largely due to the general speculative temper which has pervaded Great Britain for some time rather than to any apprehension of a serious deficiency in supplies. On Wednesday a fur further advance, which carried March to 10 40c. and June to 10.60c, although supported by a buoyant Liv erpool market and small port receipts, was followed by brisk selling to realize, under which most of the early advance was lost. The speculation in lard was adopted in England so that peo ple might be kept at a safe distance if necessary. It will be seen if a woman shaker hands breast high that the man whom she is greeting is kept at a distance of two or three feet, while if she shakes bands waist high there is a natural inclination of the head and body. From a sanitary standpoint, therefore, it is perhaps an exceedingly wise proceeding, and sanitary considerations should certainly outweight those which only have to do with the graceful and artistic side of life.

Poison in the Flour Barrel,

CABBONDALE, Pa, Jan. 12 -Ed Church, seventeen years old, a son of Walford Church, who lives one and a half miles from Hawley, became angered at his father because he would not let him ride a certain horse, and so he went up to Guyandotte and bought a box of rat poison and put it into the flour barrel.

The whole family, excepting Ed, were poisoned by biscuits made from the flour, and one child, a girl thirteen years old, died from the effects of the poison on Monday. The father, mother and two other children are dangerously ill, and may not recover. A dog and hog that ate some of the biscuits are both dead.

Ed Church made a confession and afterward fled, and has [not yet been apprehended.
