SOME ERRORS.

In the Clinton Caucasian we find an extract from a letter written by by the NEWS AND OBSERVER, of to feel obliged for so much. which Mr. Moye wrote "a refutation" that, according to Mr. Carr, we declined to print.

contrary we did print what Mr. Move wrote on that subject, and besides made the correction desired editorially in the first issue after receivaid at all; nor do we now think that error as we made the desired correc- on Market street near Front. tion immediately on receiving Mr. Moye's letter.

the course which the NEWS AND OB-SERVER has pursued in regard to a drift that appeared to be setting towards the disintegration of Democratic organization. A drift of that kind unless checked soon becomes of such volume as to defy all attempts to arrest it, and after the harm is done it is entirely too late. We have at different times in a very conservative, moderate way, and certainly in no unkind spirit called attention to this matter and have believed that all that was necessary was to point out the possible danger. We think that what we have done has had the desired effect. We think so from the number of letters we have received from alliance men on the subject. We are all brothers and in the same boat. We must stand or fall together. Who gets the offices is a matter of the merest moonshine to us, for we are sure that the people will select only good men.

But as a band of brothers we must stand together. This is only introductory to a letter from which we propose to make extracts as a sample copy. We are glad to receive such letters. No laborer who likes to work can be indifferent whether his month in silver under the Bland bill. Under it the registrar is given absoemployers approve or not. As our whole heart is in our work, it gratifies us to win approval. But to the letter. Our correspondent writes:

Believing that you appreciate the endorsement and moral support of your readers generally, and of your N. C. Democratic readers in particular, I write this personal note to express my approval of the manner in which you are defending the public men of N. C. against the aspersions of such writers as the coarse and abu-ive "Old Fogy," the self-constituted leader and conscience keeper of the Alliance men of N. C. I have been a mentber of the Alliance two years, but I have been a Democratic voter sixteen years, and whenever fealty to the Alli mce means dis loyalty to Democratic principles and doctrines, and disloyalty to our trusted political leaders, then I say "Away with the Alliance for North Carolina!"

I think that "Old Fogy," "dressed in a little brief authority," is undertaking a great deal more than is warranted by Alliance prin-ciples when he enters upon a crusade against the North Carolina Democracy, and I have no doubt that a great many of the best Alli-ance men in the State will repudiate him as an exponent of Alliance principles."

We are sure there is no requirement of the Alliance inconsistent with fealty to the Democratic party in North Carolina. If any rise up and preach a different doctrine, we know that the Alliance itself will apply the remedy.

THE Republican members of Congress from the South have been interviewed in regard to federal control of our elections. Some are fiercely in favor of it, being pure and simple consolidationists. Some oppose it as unnecessary for various reasons. Some refuse to express themselves, which means they want it, but do not care to let the people know how they stand. It is by no means certain that the bill will pars, but the bulk of the Republicans will ply. press its passage. We give elsewhere an interview with our North Carolina Republican members. There is to be fought to the bitter end.

WE direct attention to the letter from Mr. John H. Small, a member of the State Executive Committee, which seems to us to be about right. The farmers want a late canvass, and the Executive Committee has been called together rather later than usual to meet that aspect of the case. Matters ought to remain as they are until after the State Committee convenes and fixes the time for the State Convention.

It is announced in the papers that Col. A. B. Andrews and Col. Thos. B. Keogh have been appointed commissioners to the World's Fair, with Mr. Elias Carr and G. A. Bingham, Esq., as alternates. Thes: appointments, we believe, are made by the seum of war relics in the Confeder-Governor of the State.

THE ladies who purchased Mt. Vernon govern it by a council of vice-Carolina being Mrs. L. Walker Morehead. The other day as the council was in session at Mt. Vernon, they received as visitors a number of guests, among them Mr. Wirt Henry, a descendant of Patrick Henry. It was a very pleasant episode.

BROWER, Cheatham and Evarts voted for the McKinley tariff billwhich as Maj. McClammy in his telling speech the other day showed was such a sectional measure. It taxes cotton ties and other things which the South needs. The Republicans lions of dollars shall be deposited show that they have no interest in their section as far as their votes can

WE are glad to note that the Supreme Court draws a line where interference with the rights of the people of the separate States are not to be interfered with. They hold that Mr. Elias Carr, in which he refers to the legislature can determine how a a statement made by Mr. Branson as man sentenced to death shall be exbeing based on some "charges" made ecuted. The deceased was a brother to Judge J. C. MacRae, of Fayetteville, of the Superior Court bench, WE HAVE received many letters and brother to Mrs. W. L. Smith, of from Alliance men in approval of our city. He was aged about 42 years and unmarried. He was, we believe, born in Fayetteville, but has been a resident of Wilmington for twenty years or more. For a number of years past he has been employed in the office of Mr. T. D. Meares', agent in this city for the Carolina Central Railroad. The funeral will take place tomorrow from St. James' Episcopal church.

WHAT THE REPUBLICAN PLATFORM MEANT.

Republican Senators Did Agree.

FEDERAL ELECTION LAWS.

regents, the vice-regent for North Views of North Carolina Republican Congressmen.

> Washington Post. The next caucus of the Republicans in the House of Representatives will probably decide which one of the several Federal election bills now before the House shall receive the party support. As this legislation will be solely for sectional application, and is resorted to ostensibly as a remedy for certain evils complained of in the Southern States, the correspondent of the Evening Post has called on the Republican Representatives from Monroe Register, Alliance organ. Southern districts, as the persons most directly interested, for their opinions as to the respective merits of the several bills, and as to the advisability of passing any such bill at all.

Mr. Ewart, of the ninth district of North Carolina, said: "Speaking for myself simply, I am not in favor of the enactment of any Federal election law. If, however, the party decide to adopt one of those now benot chosen. At that point I draw

Q .- Your objection is not merely, then, that the bill in its original shape would disfranchise the illiterate negroes? A .- No; for what the Democrats gained by that in the part of my State where the negroes most abound would be amply made up to the Republicans by the disfranchisement of illiterate whites in other parts. The Lodge bill is, as you know, only one of several, looking to to the same general end, which have been introduced this session. I have given the others only a casual examination, because I consider the whole idea of no practical value to my State. We have election laws of our own in North Carolina which are good enough if properly executed, and same time interested in them as our elections, as a rule, are as fair as stockholder and director. No, I do not say that I would vote against a moderate law if it were adopted by our party in the House as a political measure; but I should be sorry to see it pass, for I can foresee no practical good to come

Q. You have your own notions, though, as to the advisability of some such legislation? A. Oh, certainly. I believe that legislation of some kind in the interest of honest elections is a habit I got into when I was a boy, desirable. But I am by no means and I've never been able to break sure just what that legislation ought to be. I am very conservative in my way of looking at all these matters, and my preference would be given every time to that form of law which would be most moderate in its methods, and which would accomplish the greatest good with the least friction between the white and colored peo-ple. I have both races in my district, and I want to cast my vote for the law which will be best, not for I both equally. Q. If the party caucus should decide, however, in favor of a more radical measure than you could really approve, would you defy its instructions? A. No, indeed; I should stand by my party. But within those lines whatever influence I have will be exerted in favor of moderation.

Mr. Brower of the Fifth North Carolina District was frightened at the prospect of an interview, and made one shallow excuse after another to elude it. His dodging was finally successful.

"UNION" IN MONROE REGISTER.

The Alliance has regarded him (Capt. Alexander) as one of its brightest jewels and best counselors. His opinion and judgment were respected and honored throughout the State by Alliancemen, and when his name was proposed for Congress a shout of rejoicing went up from the Alliance camp throughout the district. But, lo, and behold! what do we hear? we hear to our chagrin and surprise that Capt. Alexander until quite recently was a stockholder and a director in the First National Bank of Charlotte. If what was said against Brother Alexander in the article referred to had been said by an outsider it would not have received any notice whatever. Gured by Guticura.

I cannot say enough in praise of the CUTICURA REMEDIES. My boy, when one year of age, was so bad with eczema that he lost all of his hair. His scalp was covered with eruptions, which the doctors said was scall-head, and that his hair loctors said was scall-head, and that his hair would never grow again. Despairing of a cure rom physicians, I began the use of the CUTI-URA REMEDIES, and, I am happy to say, with he most perfect success. His hair is now splentid, and ther is not a pimple on him.
