TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

To Organize a Milling Association. By Telegraph to the News and Observer.

BEAUREGARD, Miss., Feb. 27.—J. H. Johnson, owner of a fifty barrel flour mill here and devoted to the Farmers' Alliance doctrine, has created a great deal of comment in this neighborhood, by issuing a letter to the farmers urging them to organize a Farmer's Alliance Milling Association. He maintains that the farmers of Dakota and Minnesota have lost $28,000,000 on wheat sold up to December 8th, 1891, of this year's crop.

He then proceeds to show farmers their folly in not building their own mills and thereby securing $1 per bushel for their wheat, with a ton of feed per hundred bushels, together with some minor advantages. Any community that can be delivered of 75 odd bushels of wheat he says, can thereby keep a fifty barrels mill running for a year, and the mill can be built for $7000.

This, Mr. Johnson says, will secure $1 per bushel for every bushel of wheat raised by shareholders. Johnson would a low 50 cents per barrel for handling of flour, and he would send agents abroad to dispose of it, and they would be farmers sons.

Another Lynching. By Telegraph to the News and Observer.

MARSHFIELD, Mo., Feb. 27.—A secret meeting night before last decided to lynch Dick Cullen, and last night at 10 o'clock one hundred and fifty determined men were halted on the west side of the square. A rope was produced, the men quickly marched to the jail and the sheriff was overpowered. The mob got their man, marched him to the square and asked him if he and his mother were guilty. His answer was "Pull your damned rope." He was at once drawn up over a limb nine feet high, and the command given to "Pull away boys." In a few minutes Cullen was dead. Cullen's crime was a heinous one: Four years ago a babe ten days old was found at his step father's door. Young Cullen later thought it was meant for the heir by adoption last Monday night he tied a car link to the neck of the child, and threw it into an unfinished well. His guilt was certain. His mother was arrested as an accomplice on account of her indifference and evasive answers. The coroner caused the body to be cut down, and taken to the court house. The lynchers dispersed.

Total Visible Supply of Cotton. New York, Feb. 27.—The total visible supply of cotton for the world is 4,720,872 bales, of which 4,518,372 bales are American; against 3,548,317 bales and 2,878,217 bales respectively last year; receipts at all interior towns $85,981 bales; receipts from plantations 116,659 bales; crop in sight 7,859,235 bales.

YESTERDAY IN CONGRESS.

INDIAN APPROPRIATION BILL—POSTOFFICE AFFAIRS—PUBLIC BUILDINGS.

Mr. Henderson Gets a Report from Wannamaker on Mail Service—Special Mail Facilities—Public Buildings Demanded—Army Officers for Indian Agents—Support of the Indian Schools.

By Telegraph to the News and Observer.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27. HOUSE.—The House went into a committee of the whole, (Bynum of Indiana, in chair) on the Indian appropriation bill.

Mr. Bowers, of California, offered an amendment authorizing the President to detail officers of the army as Indian agents when a vacancy occurred in any of the agencies.

Mr. Holman offered an amendment to the amendment providing that army officers while acting as Indian agents shall be under orders and direction of the Secretary of the Interior. Agreed to.

Upon a standing vote the committee agreed to Bowers' amendment as amended 83 to 49.

Ma Pickler, of South Dakota, an opponent of the proposed change in the Indian service, raised the point of no quorum.

Mr. Wilson, of Washington, said that there was evidently a quorum present.

The Chair replied that there was evidently a quorum present, but that the Chair could not vote them. Gentlemen must do their voting. (Applause)

On a vote by tellers Mr. Bowers' amendment was adopted 123 to 43.

Although the amendment was agreed to by the committee, Mr. Peol, of Arkansas, gave notice that he would ask a separate vote upon it in the House.

Mr. Reed offered an amendment increasing from $1,000,000 to $1,300,000 the appropriation for the support of the Indian day and industrial schools. Lost.

Pending final action the committee rose and the House adjourned.

Mr. Wannamaker's Reply. By Telegraph to the News and Observer.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Postmaster General Wannamaker has replied to the inquiry made by Jno. S. Henderson of North Carolina, chairman of the House committee, on post-offices and roads concerning appropriations for special railroad mail facilities. After giving a statement of the appropriations made for this purpose during the past twelve years. The Postmaster-General says: "The practice of compensating a few railroads upon a higher basis than others rendering the same is more satisfactory service and has been a source of much annoyance which each year becomes more perplexing to the department and harmful to the general service because it acts as a check to the extension of the fast mail system in sections where it would work great benefits. The schedule to which the special facility allowance now applies really possesses no marked advantages at this time for the advancement in either direction of the West India commercial mail, while it is believed it operates to the disadvantage of the commercial mails between the North and South. The mail service between the chain of Northern cities starting in New York and extending via Washington into such portions of South Carolina, Georgia and Florida as are tributary to the coast line is not such as the national department of trade and population stride with railroad progress warrants."

There was a two hours' struggle today in the House Committee on Public Buildings over the policy to be pursued in committee with reference to public building bills. The committee is very much divided on the subject, and when the adjournment took place the policy which would secure adherence of the majority of the members of the committee was very much in doubt. The members who want public buildings are making a strong fight, and will perhaps defeat any policy which proposes not to recommend the erection of any new public buildings at all, but it seems likely that the action of Chairman Bankhead will have the effect of keeping down the appropriations to narrow limits.

Virginia and the World's Fair. By Telegraph to the News and Observer.

ROANOKE, Feb. 27.—The House World's Fair bill failed to pass that body today by two votes. A motion to reconsider was tabled. In the Senate the bill known as the appropriation bill was passed. To this bill was attached a provision which appropriates $50,000 for the Virginia exhibit at the World's Fair. The House bill fixes the appropriation at $35,000, which of the two, if either will pass, is a matter of conjecture.

The latter road runs from Roanoke to Weldon, N. C., and will make the Norfolk and Western Railroad a competing line with the Richmond and Danville. The lease will have to be ratified by the stockholders of the Roanoke and Southern who will have a meeting here March 16th. The amount paid is not stated.

Foreign News. By Cable to the News and Observer.

PARIS, Feb. 27.—Loubet has succeeded in organizing a Cabinet as follows: M. Loubet, President of Council and Minister of the Interior; De Freycinet, Minister of War; Ribot, Minister of Foreign Affairs; Bourgeois, Minister of Public Instruction and Fine Arts; Rouvire, Minister of Finance; Devile, Minister of Agriculture, Roche, Minister of Commerce; Ricard, Minister of Justice and Public Worship; Viette, Minister of Public Works; Cavaignac, Minister of Marine. De Freycinet, Ribot, Bourgeois, Rouvire, Devile and Ricard were members of the former Cabinet, in which they held the same portfolios, which they will hold in the new ministry. The new Prime Minister is a staunch moderate Republican. The members of the new ministry waited on President Carnot at the Palace of Elisee this evening.

The Cumberland Fair. Special to the News and Observer.

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C., Feb. 22.—At the annual meeting of the Cumberland County Agricultural and Mechanical Society here today the following officers were selected by acclamation: Walter Watson, president; Z. W. The Tableau (Tomorrow Night).

The "Ben Hur" performance, to be given tomorrow evening for the benefit of St. John's Hospital and the Church of the Good Shepherd, promises to be quite a success. Mrs. Bradford arrived yesterday, and is the guest of the Church of the Good Shepherd at the Rectory. The ladies and gentlemen who are to take part in the tableau net last night at the rectory, had a very satisfactory rehearsal. Some of our most prominent society people take part. The sale of seats is progressing very satisfactorily, and we would advise all who have not done so to secure seats early tomorrow.

Seats are on sale at Bobbitt's drug store, and Williams' bookstore. Reserved seats 75 cents; general admission, 50 cents; gallery, 35 cents.

The ladies receiving will be: Mrs. Ed. Chambers Smith, Mrs. John London, Misses Marshall, McVea, Hale, Badger and Alice Jones. The public cordially invited.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

Raleigh, Feb. 8, 1892.

James H. Webb, 1405 New York Avenue, Washington, D. C.:

DEAR SIR:—In reply to yours of the 5th, I have to say that I have used your Electropoise occasionally, and have always found relief from its use.

I have not had an opportunity to use it, as I would like to have done, as I was so situated that I could only use it occasionally. At those times, however, I have always had good results.

Very truly yours, (Signed) THOS. M. HOLT, Governor.

A STREET CAR RIOT.

EXCITING SCENES IN INDIANAPOLIS.

The Police Attempt to Assist the Company in Operating the Line, But the Mob Interferes, and a Bad Riot Rages.

By Telegraph to the News and Observer.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 27.—Mayor Sullivan, owing it is thought to popular clamor, ordered the police to assist the Street Car Company, in its endeavor to run the cars. At six o'clock three cars were started out of the New Jersey Street Stables, each car having five or six police aboard. From that time till after 1 o'clock the city was in a continuous riot. The cars were turned crosswise of the track with police on them, others were deposited in gutters; teams were unhitched and turned loose. One driver was beaten nearly to death. Among the injured were Secretary Anderson, of the Street Car Company and Police Superintendent Colbert. A good many rioters arrested, were promptly jailed in $300 each.

At 12:30 the Street Car management announced it was calling in the cars and would make no further attempt to run cars today. The Mayor made an address to the men at the New Jersey Street Stables this morning, requesting them to be lawful and allow cars to run, but it availed nothing, as the moment cars were showed out of the barn they were charged by men who resolved themselves into howling mobs.

This afternoon there is still much excitement. The Mayor, it is understood, is considering what action to pursue.

"Relie" on a Historical Building. Correspondence News and Observer.

In your issue of the 27th I find a communication from Ledorio signed "Relie," in which he advocates the building of a fire-proof building for the preservation of the historical records of the State, and cites the rapid growth of the Wisconsin Historical Society and the great work of Dr. Lyman Draper in collecting history of this State. Now "Relie" is on the right track; when our present large and commodious Supreme Court and Library Building was erected it should have been made fire-proof. Dr. Draper truly did a great deal in preserving the early history of this country, but you will find very few men in this State who will devote much time to hunting through musty records unless there is "big pay" just ahead of them. Col. W. L. Saunders devoted some twenty years in trying to rescue from oblivion the history of this State, and that too, without pay or the hope of reward, unless you might term a rising vote of the Legislature ample reward for his years of toil. "R-h" says that one of the "special features" of the society is the preservation of each editor of the State of a copy of his publication, and when a sufficient number has been received they are substantially bound and placed on the shelves. Now I am in a position to know whereof I speak, for I spend a great deal of time in our Library, when I say that the present State Librarian has been, ever since he entered upon the duties of Librarian, collecting all of the old history of the State that could be obtained. He keeps in correspondence with the old book dealers of this country and Europe, and whenever a publication relating to our early history is for sale, it is at once purchased and put on the shelves. When he entered the Library only about twelve newspapers were on file, the number has been steadily increased until now about seventy-five in the State and six outside are regularly received and kept on file. These are carefully preserved and at the end of each volume are securely bound and placed on the shelves. Should a copy fail to arrive he immediately notifies the publisher and requests a copy. But I am sorry to say that some of the editors think so little of the importance of keeping a perfect file in the Library, that many neglect the request and when the file is ready for binding several copies are missing. Only a few days since I was hunting for information to establish a certain fact, and in looking over the file of the paper in the Library the very issue wanted was missing. "Relie" also speaks of the contribution to the Wisconsin Historical Society. I enquired of the Librarian as to the contributions for our Library, turning to his report for 1889-90 he showed me that only 43 volumes were received by contributions and only 11 of them related to North Carolina.

While our State Library building is not strictly fire-proof, a great deal of valuable history is there collected, and still room for a great deal more, and any one having works relating to the history of this State, desiring them preserved, would do well to contribute them to the State Library where every one could have access to them.

Should "Relie" visit Raleigh in the future it would be the right thing for him to visit our Library rooms, which are a credit to our grand old State.

A Delightful Lunch.

Yesterday at her home on Fayetteville Street, Mrs. Herbert Jackson gave a most delightful lunch to Mrs. Julian Timberlake.

The table was ornamented with a centre-piece of violets and primroses, and smilax drooped from the chandeliers and twined its graceful tendrils among the flowers. The delicately painted menu cards were in the shape of a large violet, and tiny bouquets of violets were laid at the plate of each guest. The subdued light of wax candles gave to the luncheon all the glamour of an evening entertainment, and lent an additional charm to the lovely room. The following were the invited guests:

Mrs. Julian Timberlake; Mrs. Joseph Daniels; Mrs. William Rufin Tucker; Mrs. Omega Foster; Mrs. E. L. Chambers Smith; Mrs. Thomas R. Jernigan; Mrs. John Longdon; Mrs. John Kinealy; Mrs. Van Moore; Mrs. Joseph Pogue.

The Cruiser Raleigh.

Appropos of the interest now manifested in the matter of a proper souvenir to be presented to the new United States cruiser Raleigh, the following letter to the editor of the NEWS AND OBSERVER will show that interest in the move is being shown elsewhere and that Raleigh can not afford to lose further time in talking steps herself. Here is the letter:

BIG FALLS, N. C. Feb. 25th.

EDITOR NEWS AND OBSERVER, RALEIGH, N. C.

My Dear Sir—I have noticed several articles in your editorial columns, asking the people of Raleigh to take some action as to securing funds to make a suitable donation to the Cruiser Raleigh, named after our Capital city.

I have no response to your appeals, and since Hon. B. F. Tracy, has been so gracefully complimentary to our Governor's daughter, I am more than ever impressed with the fact that it becomes our duty, as citizens of North Carolina, to make some kind of a handsome, and lasting present to the new cruiser.

Unless what I may do, will conflict with something already on foot, to accomplish the end indicated, I shall make an effort in Governor Holt's native county to secure the funds necessary to make a donation as heretofore stated. Will you kindly advise me by return mail, what is being done? I am,

Yours very truly, JUNIUS H. HARRIS.

The Cast For Ben Hur.

The following will be the cast for the Ben Hur tableaux to-morrow night:

Ben Hur, Mr. Jos. Pogue; Messala, A. W. Haywood; Herod, Dr. V. E. Turner; Melchior, Mr. F. R. Griest; Balbasar, E. C. Smith; Gaspard, S. P. Child; Simonides, Mr. Jas. Anderson; Ilderim, Mr. E. S. Skinner; Soldier, Mr. Ward; Mother of Ben Hur, Miss Emily Smedes; Terzag, Miss Lucy Hawkins; Amrah, Mrs. Alf Haywood; Iras, Miss Maud Marshall; Esther, Mrs. S. P. Child; Children, Misses Jessie Higgs and Eva Lehman.

Rehearsal of Ben Hur.

The full rehearsal of Ben Hur was held last night at the rectory of the church of the Good Shepherd. In spite of the bad weather the entire cast was there. Every one present was delighted and they can assure the people of Raleigh that a treat is in store for them on Monday evening next.

Messrs. King & McGee have an advertisement in today's issue, which will be of interest to those wishing anything in the drug-business. They have also added a new line and are the sole agents for the celebrated Huyler's candies.

By reference to "the cast for Ben Hur," printed in another column, it will be seen that there is no attempt at the personation of the Christ.

The Ladies.

The pleasant effect and perfect safety with which ladies may use the California Liquid Laxative Syrup of Figs, under all conditions, makes it their favorite remedy. To get the true and genuine article, look for the name of the California Fig Co., printed near the bottom of the package.

Just as a St. Louis burglar was about to attack an aged woman the other night, the latter's pet cat jumped on his head, uttering at the same time a blood-curdling yowl. The sudden assault and the unearthly noises of the cat so frightened the burglar that he took to his heels.

Shiloh's Consumption Cure.

This is beyond question the most successful Cough Medicine we have ever sold. A few doses invariably cure the worst cases of Cough, Croup and Bronchitis, while its wonderful success in the cure of Consumption is without a parallel in the history of medicine. Since its first discovery it has been sold on a guarantee, test which no other medicine can stand. If you have a cough we earnestly ask you to try it. Price 10c, 50c and $1. If your lungs are sore, chest or lams back, use Shiloh's Parous Plaster. Sold by King & McGee.

Everybody gains when a bad man dies.

Bill Nye on Sanford, North Carolina.

"At Sanford, North Carolina, the other day we found a new thing in the way of eating-houses. Sanford is a station where two rival roads meet and shake their fists at each other. If one road has a train arriving in the morning, the other road has a train that arrives late in the evening to connect with it. This gives the traveler an opportunity to view the town of Sanford, which is composed largely of climate. A thrifty gentleman, realizing the need of this active little town, has established an eating-work. The distinguishing characteristic of this place consists of a large circular table, the outer rim of which is stationary; the inner table, or centre, containing the eatables, instead of pot, embalméd cockroaches and pie, revolves upon its axle-tree, so that while your plate remains where it was originally put the principal articles of indigestion may be obtained by taking hold of the revolving table and swinging it around until you get what you are after. This works very well so long as there is a friendly feeling among the guests, but the other evening there was a general soreness on the part of those who gathered around the festive board, a sort of strained and bitter feeling, growing, no doubt, out of the unfriendly relations between the two roads and their unfortunate connections, so that while one guest on the lee side of the table wanted something out of the castor, which was on the windward, and started the festive board to revolve at a rapid rate, another gentleman on the lee quarter decided that he also would like to open a bottle of vinegar so that just as the castor got to the first-named gentleman the table was given another whirl, and the air was filled with victuals, grary and gloom."

Resolutions in Memory of F. W. Sherwood.

At a regular meeting of Div. 359 B. of L. E., held Sunday, February 14th, 1892, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously endorsed:

Whereas, Our Father in His wisdom has thought it best to take to Himself our beloved Brother Francis Webber Sherwood.

Resolved: That while we bow humbly to the Divine power knowing He cannot make a mistake, it is natural for us to grieve with a grief that cannot be consoled. True is the saying "Death loves a shining mark," none had a handsomer figure none a more perfect character, he was a perfect man, pure, cordial, and sincere friend.

Resolved: That although he has gone to his reward, his example and influence live, and that we will do our utmost to profit by them, and are satisfied that we are better for having had such a friend and brother.

Resolved: That in the depth of one so young and useful, so beloved, we see the relentless and inevitable power of death; and hear the solemn summons "Be ye also ready."

Resolved: That to those who are suffering so acutely his loss we extend our heartfelt sympathy, at the same time fully realizing how weak and poor words are at such a time.

Resolved: As a testimonial of our loss we will wear crape on our left arm for thirty days and drape the charter.
