THE appointments made by President Cleveland of ministers to England, Germany, France and Mexico, while veral of them were unlooked for and were surprises to the politicians, have been favorably received by the press generally and the people. Even the New York Tribune says, "the country at large will approve Mr. Cleveland's selections." Edward J. Phelps, the new minister to England, is a prominent lawyer of Burlington, Vt., and about 60 years old. He studied law with Senator Edmunds, is an ex-President of the American Bar Association, has a large practice before the U. S. Supreme Court, has delivered law lectures at Yale College and is the usual Democratic candidate for Governor in Vermont. He is a strong lawyer and a man of culture and means. George H. Pendleton-"gentleman George"-the new minister to Germany, is 60 years old and a resident of Cincinnati, Ohio. Everybody knows his career. He was in the House of Representatives for three terms and was the Democratic leader in the House during the war. In 1864 he was the Democratic candidate for Vice-President with McClellan for President. He had just served out a term of 6 years in the Senate on the 4th of March, being succeeded by H. B. Payne. He was the originator of the civil service rules. His appointment is a black eye to John R. McLean and the ring faction in Ohio politics which is hostile to such decent men as Thurman and Pendleton. Henry Rootes Jackson, minister to Mexico, is a native of Athens, Ga., and is 65 years old. He is a rich Savannah lawyer, an old editor and a cultivated man of letters. He was a brigadier-general in the army of the Potomac during the war. Governor McLane, of Maryland, the new minister to France, is 70 years old and has had much diplomatic experience. He is a graduate of West Point, having previously, however, attended the College Bourbon in Paris. In 1853 he was appointed by President Pierce commissioner to China with the power of a minister plenipotentiary and at the same time was accredited to Japan, Siam, Corea, Cochin-China with a naval force at his command. President Buchanon sent him in 1859 as minister to Mexico. He has served five terms in Congress and was elected Governor of Maryland for four years in 1883. The appointment of Governor McLane, if we except Pendleton's, was the only one that was looked for. For some weeks it has been almost certain that he would be appointed, as Senator Gorman, who seems to have the ear

THE nominations made by President Cleveland have been so far too "business-like" for the politicians. The nomination of Mr. Daniel Mc-Conville, the private secretary of Gov. Hoadley, of Ohio, to be auditor of the treasury for the postoffice department, was the first crumb to the ruling ring of the democracy in Ohio and is to be credited to Senator Payne, but it failed to appease the hunger of that wing of the party coming after Pendleton's brilliant appointment. The Senators, who have wielded the most powerful influence under Republican administrations, seem to be almost ignored. It has been suggested by some of the Democratic Senators that they go in a body and make a protest but the suggestion was not acted upon. Although some extremists even · now hint that Cleveland is about to play the John Tyler or Andy Johnson game on his party friends, the more conservative and reliable among the -Senators are prepared to hold up the President's hands and predict that his course will be patriotic and equitable to the party in power.

of the administration, has worked hard for him.

BEFORE the new judicial districts were formed we insisted that the counties should be grouped together in them so that the population would be homogeneous, putting neighbors together in the same district. We have lost Alexander, Catawba and Iredell from the old district, each one of which counties is in a separate district and the terms of court in those counties, as will be seen in the calendar gotten up by Judge Cilley and published on the first page of THE TOPIC, are so arrenged as to conflict with the terms | convention.

in this district. This is a great hardship on our lawyers who have much practice in those counties. It is but justice to Senator Bower and Representative Wakefield to state that they were opposed to the wretched arrangement, but the committee was inflexible. The people of Henderson county very much object to being in the tenth district.

THE war spirit in England is at a high pitch and great enthusiasm prevsils over the calling out of the reserves by the Queen. The government has given orders for 100,000 uniforms, arms and munitions of war are being collected at all the arsenals and England will be on a war footing in a few days. On the 16th ultimo Earl Granville proposed to Russia that both the Russians and Afghans should withdraw troops from the frontier until the close of negotiations in progress between Russia and England. On Wednesday Russia declined to do so. The English Government reiterated the demand and required an answer by last Monday. The question of war depends upon that answer.

TAMMANYITE though he be we like the appointment of "Sunset" Cox to the Turkish mission, and Tammany Hall is perfectly wild over the appointment. This appointment indicates the wisdom and magnanimity of the Democratic President.

While it is alleged that the calling out of the reserves by the Queen was done on account of her majesty's trip to the continent so as to be prepared for an emergency and that war with Russia is not imminent, an Anglo-Russian war is decidedly probable. News and Observer The Governor on vesterday commissioned the following judges Henry C. Conner, of Wilson, for the third district; R. H. Battle, of Raleigh, for the fourth district; and W. J. #### An Anglo-Russian War Imminent.

In accordance with the Queen's message to the House of Commons the British war effice yesterday called out the army reserves and the militia, and other steps were taken in anticipation of war with Russia. It will be recalled that the summons of Indian troops to Malta by Lord Beaconsfield during the last Russo-Turkish war, in conjunction with other vigorous steps of a threatening character at that time taken by the British government, caused Russia to desist from her advance upon Constantinople and averted the war between Great Britain and Russia, which a more halting policy would have invited. It is not impossible that the large preparations for fighting being today made in England and India may have a like happy effect, though it is difficult to see how the Czar can now draw back from the arrogant position assumed in regard to territory hitherto conceded to the Afghans. Be Russia's action what it may, there is no doubt about the earnestness with which all England is preparing for war, nor about the heartiness with which her course is supported by her colonies and other portions of the empire. In the face of events of this magnitude the indecisive fighting before Suakim loses somewhat in interest, and the conjecture that it has all along been intended to transfer Gen. Graham's force to Afghanistan becomes not improbable.

Hon. Samuel Sullivan Cox, popularly known as "Sunset" Cox, the new minister to Turkey, was born at Zanesville, Ohio, September 30, 1824. He graduated at Brown University in 1846, and became a lawyer and editor in Ohio : traveled in Europe, and in 1855 was appointed secretary of legation to Peru. In 1856 he was elected to Congress from Ohio, and re-elected in 1858, 1860 and 1862, thus serving for eight years. In 1866 he took up his residence in New York and was elected to Congress from that city in 1868 and re-elected in 1870, defeating Horace Greeley. In 1872 he was defeated as candidate at large for the State. In 1873 he was re-elected to Congress to succeed Hon. James Brooks, deceased, and hes been re-elected at the close of every succes-sive term. Mr. Cox is regarded as the wit of the House of Representatives, and is a humorist of fresh and original fancy. #### Educational Meeting in Watauga.

McBride's Mills, March 26.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TOPIC :-I desire through the columns of your valuable paper to report the proceedings of an educational meeting held on the 26th instant, at the school house near the Cove Creek Baptist Church. The committee was organized by electing Rev. J. J. L. Sherwood chairman, and Thomas Bingham secretary. Rev. G. W. Osborn explained the object of the meeting to be the selection of the most accessible point in the community at which to establish and carry on a school of high grade. After somewhat carefully considering the different localities in which to commence the school the point at which the meeting was held was unanimously selected. The public schoolhouse at this place is a large com-medious one story building but to which will soon be added a second story. Some other improvements are also to be made after which we calculate to start a school in which young men and ladies may acquire a thorough education. Rev. I. W. Thomas, our very efficient county superintendent, was present and made a good speech on education.

A number of others also made speeches manifesting commendable zeal in advocacy of this enterprise. No neighborhood of which I have any knowledge within the bounds of our county is better able to run a sohool of high grade than ours. Contiguous to the place selected for the school and within easy reach there live about one hundred and fifty children whose parents as a rule are able to educate them. On this subject there seems to be every incentive concieveable impelling us to action. Only think of 150 children which could be gathered into one school so soon to pass from childhood into the active scenes of busy life, grappling its realities and assuming its responsibilities and that too without that intellectual culture which is not only our duty to give but of which we may now easily avail ourselves of the opportunity of giving, should prompt us alone to immediate and decisive action.

SHULL'S MILLS, March 22.

days soon. Corn, wheat and rye are scarce here and demands a good price. Hay and fodder cannot be bought and rye straw is a legal tender and in greater demand than greenback and right here I wish to impress the farmers how important it is that they should sow more grass seed, especially timothy and clover here, where it grows to perfection. I know farmers who have lived here for a number of years that have no meadows and have to buy provender every year to feed their horses and cattle, and hundreds of acres of land lying here idle and uncultivated, that would make timothy equal, if not superior, to any land in the world. Farmers allow me to exhort you to sow grass seed and have it to sell in place of buying.
