THE Democratic party in North Carolina is fully committed to the repeal of the internal revenue laws. Our public speakers have advocated the measure from the stump, our newspapers have done likewise in print, our State conventions have embodied the idea in several platforms and the present Legislature passed a resolution instructing our members in Congress to vote for the abolition of the internal revenue system. Our - Congressmen will, without exception we suppose, obey these instructions. We know that Col. Cowles will. Having done this the North Carolina Democracy will have redeemed its pledges and done its duty. It will have exerted all of its influence in the direction of the abolition. Still it is very doubtful if the next Congress, being Democratic, will repeal these obnoxious laws. With us and with some of the neighboring States this has been and is a very live issue and the repeal is heartily desired, but the Democracy as a National party, will be found in favor of retaining the system, we think. We may be mistaken, but that is the way it looks now, taking in view the decidedly hostile stand assumed by the last House of Representatives against abolition. Some high tariff Democrats-outside of North Carolina, we mean, for low tariff men favor abolition here-and a few high tariff Republicans will be in favor of abolishing the system root and branch, in order to throw the whole burden of Federal taxation upon the tariff system, thus keeping the rate of duty up. As a general rule tariff reform Democrats and tariff reform Republicans-of whom there are many in the West-will favor a retention of the revenue laws. So, when it comes to a vote in Congress the abolition of the internal revenue laws will probably fail. We, in North Carolina, are or seem to be of one mind on this subject. We want it abolished and our Congressmen will work and vote to that end. The prospect of success seems to be poor and we may as well look the question squarely in the face. If Congress should turn the matter over to us to decide, we should vote to abolish. But, upon this condition : That a State tax, and a heavy one, should be imposed upon distilled spirits in the interest of education. A distinction should be made between food and raiment and other necessities and such a "luxury" as whiskey and it should be made an expensive luxury by a special tax. Every time a man takes a drink he should drink to the advancement and upbuilding of the public schools. In the meanwhile, however, we shall hold the new Collector, Major Dowd, and the officers under him, to a strict enforcement of the laws. President Cleveland will do that but, as a public journalist, we shall wink at no slipshod work by Democratic officials. As long as the revenue laws are on the statute books they must be enforced equitably. No overriding of private rights can be suffered; the revenue service must not be a political machine; and when revenue officers break the laws um attaching to the revenue service. THE reappointment of H. G. Pearson to be postmaster at New York has occupied much of the public attention at Washington. We must confess that we entertained a hope that Mr. Pearson would be requested to step down and out, but the President was moved to reappoint him because he had made a good officer, had not used his office as a political machine and was strongly backed by the Independent Republicans to whom he owes much for his vote in New York. It was a disappointment to many good Democrats, in New York, some of the leaders going so far as to predict that it will lose the State to the Democrats in the next election. . On the other hand well posted Republicans say it is a stroke of policy, that it closes their mouths in charging that Cleveland disregards the civil service rules and that it will draw around the President's standard thousands of liberal Republicans who voted for Blaine under protest.

At any rate the President avows that this is an exceptional case and is not to be repeated.

WE had intended to speak more at length upon the subject of the sale of whiskey in Lenoir township, but lack of space forbids it this week. It is charged that there are more than one set of men in Lenoir township selling whiskey openly under a Revenue license. They have no State or county license because the commissioners will not issue license for the sale of whiskey in that township, being a prohibition township. This is spitting in the face of the commonwealth of North Carolina and the proper officers should see that they are suppressed

WE are very glad indeed that Russia had the good sense to back squarely down before the rising bristles of the British lion, thus brushing the war-cloud aside.

The President appointed, last Saturday, John R. Garrison, of Virginia, deputy first comptroller of the Treasury and John S McCalmont, of Penn, commissioner of customs.

There was some wild talk by two or three of the extremists among the Democratic Senators about not confirming the appointment of postmaster Pearson, but they were squelched incontinently.

Premier Ferry was hooted at and iusnited, when he and his colleagues resigned, not only by the mob in the gallery but by members of the Corps Legislatif. "On to Pekin!" is the war cry in Paris.

General Grant was very much worse last week. He was weak and unconscious and was thought to be sinking. He revived, however, and it is thought (Sunday) that he may live several days yet.

The signal defeat which the French sustained at the hands of the Chinese, an account of which will be found in another column, raised a great commotion all over France and in Paris. The policy of Premier Ferry in not keeping the French croops in China, so enraged the populace that they swarmed around the Legislative hall and soldiers had to be called into service to keep down a riot. The Corps Legislatif refused a vote of confidence and the ministry resigned. 4

HEW SOLIGITORS.

News and Observer,

We are reliably informed that the Governor has determined to appoint and will commission on his return from New Orleans, Col. D. Worthington, of Martin county, as solicitor of the third judicial district and W. H. Bower, Esq., of Caldwell county, as solicitor of the 10th district.

These will be fine appointments and will afford the people of the districts more particularly interested special gratification. Both gentlemen are lawyers of decided ability and men of energy, tact and courtesy. They will make officers of the first order.

Mr. Bower was born in Wilkes county, June 6th, 1850, and was educated at the Finley High school, Lenoir, Caldwell county. He read law under Col. G. N. Folk, of Lenoir, and obtained to license practice. In 1876 he emigrated to California, but returned to the State in 1880, and since that time has resided at Lenoir. As a member of the House in 1883 he made his mark as a man of wisdom and eloquence and this reputation he admirably maintained as a Senator in the last assembly. He is one of the State's young men of brightest promise. We congratulate the people on the determination of the Governor to appoint these gentlemen.

LONDON, April 1.-The Pall Mall Gazette this afternoon states that Russia's answer to England's proposals on the Afghan question amounts to a cordial acceptance of the proposals as made by Earl Granville, British foreign minister. The Gazette says that Russia consents to accept as debatable territory the zone laid out as such by England, and accepts the principle that the frontier line shall not be drawn further south than Karezelias and Chamenibeid, or further north than Shirtepe and Sarivazi.

"This leaves as the only point still to be discussed the Russian suggestion that it would be more practical if the zone of survey overlapped the roughly defined zone of de-batable land, in order to allow for topographical and ethnographical conditions. It is not expected that this expected extension of the zone of survey to the south of the boundary line run by M. Lessar, the Russian commissioner, appointed to meet Sir Peter Lumsden, the British commissioner, to arrange the Afghan boundary dispute, will be serious enough to cause further difficulty."

The Apple Prospect.

Probably no apple in the world can surpass the Limbertwig for the various qualities of "keeping," flavor, &c. It is just unequalled as a good, every-day, homespun fruit. The farmers in those sections have already large orchards bearing prolifically and we doubtless fall short of the mark when we put the Caldwell apple crop at 100,000 bushels. As an instance, D. D. Coffey harvests 1,000 bushels nearly every year.

As the old trees become barren they are replaced by young ones and new orchards are set out. Within new orchards are set out. Within 5 years at least 5,000 young trees have been set out on Mulberry alone. We give a partial list: H. C. Coffey, 500; E. P. Moore, 100; W. R. Coffey, 700; J. C. Coffey, 500; G. W. Moore, 100; E. L. Moore, 100; Robert Green, 300; Jas. Edmiston, 500; Newton Moore, 400; P. V. Coffey, 400; H. N. Coffey, 200; C. P. Abernethy, 100; Archibald Lindsey, 100. Of course there are more, but this shows the apple prospect for the future. pect for the future.
