WATAUGA COUNTY.

A Trip Across the Mountains—Items of Interest Around Boone and in Watauga County—Court Notes and Proceedings.

Saturday evening of week before last at 4 o'clock two gentlemen very foolishly left Lenoir with the determination of reaching Blowing Rock that night. They did get to Clarke and Martin's hospitable ranch by 10 o'clock and were kindly cared for, but the drive up the mountain in the darkness was a dangerous one.

Sunday was spent at Blowing Rock in enjoying the scenery, attending the organization of a Sunday school by Rev. Mr. Ingle, &c. There was positively not a fish-hook thrown overboard in Silver Lake, lucky as Sunday fishing is said to be.

The great Watauga Hotel, which had just been covered with tin was examined, and Messrs. Finley and Claxton, the proprietors, were very polite in giving information. The hotel contains 74 rooms and will be finished in two weeks, says R. L. McGinnis, Esq., one of the contractors.

Close by the hotel is Abernethy's livery stable, about completed, and across the road is the site for Henkel's which is soon to be begun.

Judge Avery came by Estes' where our party was delightfully located, about 3 o'clock Sunday evening, driving his pair of Banks ponies with which he had started from Morgantown early in the morning. He reached Boone about 5 o'clock. This was a quick trip and a hard drive for two little ponies—47 miles in a day.

Arriving at Boone about 9 o'clock Monday morning our party found the Judge in the court house, expounding the law to the grand jury. Col. Joe B. Todd in the clerk's place, with deputy clerk Pressnell beside him; sheriff Baird who looks like Napoleon III and his deputies George Cable and Lloyd Wagner—all appeared as natural and as large as life.

There was nothing of special interest to draw a crowd to court, therefore the attendance on each day was large. THE TOPIC thanks its friends for their promptness in paying up scores and, had as the times are, increased its list of subscribers considerably.

The people are hopeful on the stock question, as the Virginia stock men are beginning to come in to examine stock and some sales have been made in Watauga and in Ashe. As soon as the cattle are sold money will be easy.

Boone is nearly altogether shaded by cherry trees and, as they are in bloom, they look beautiful in their white robes.

The local directors of the Normal School have succeeded in obtaining the Court House, the Methodist Church and the Masonic Hall for the exercises of the school which begins July 8. The citizens are all enthusiastic about the Normal and are preparing for a large attendance. News from the Lenoir election was much sought after by our party, especially by a certain "country hoss" who seemed to be much pleased with the result.

The following ticket was elected in Boone: For mayor, D. B. Dougherty; for commissioners, B. J. Council, W. L. Bryan, J. W. Floyd. Capt. Imboden, well known in Watauga, was in Boone. He has charge of extensive mining operations in Honduras and will soon carry an expedition down there. H. H. Lewis, W. P. Clarke and others will go.

The postoffice department has ordered the mail route from Lenoir, via Blowing Rock and down the Watauga river to Trade, to be changed via Boone, and Sugar Grove to Trade. At present the route from Boone to Blowing Rock is discontinued and the new arrangement will begin in a month.

Judge Avery left for Morgantown Thursday. He leaves this district and Judge MacRae takes his place at Ashe. We met Judge MacRae as we came down the mountain.

At Coffey's hotel in Boone and at Estes' at Blowing Rock we were taken care of in princely style.

The improvements on the turnpike will be ready for travel as soon as a little more blasting is done. Mrs. J. E. Finley and son left Meat Camp last week on a visit to her father in Surry.

Mrs. W. C. Newland accompanied her husband to Blowing Rock and remained while he was at court. Fish were not biting because the weather was cold and disagreeable the whole week.

We have some more notes for next week.

A Sensation at Asheville.

Yesterday afternoon a private dispatch was received here from Asheville. It stated that Thursday night Ed. Ray and W. A. Anderson, so well known in connection with the Mitchell county mica mine tragedy, attempted to escape from jail at Asheville. These men are both held there, one being under sentence of death and the other being under sentence to twenty years' imprisonment.

Both have taken appeals to the supreme court. The sheriff was instructed by wire yesterday to carefully guard the jail, increasing the force if necessary. The troops were also warned. It was stated last evening that the numerous friends of Ray and Anderson might possibly last night attempt a rescue.

EXCITEMENT AT THE JAIL—A FUTILE ATTEMPT TO ESCAPE.

There are thirty-eight boarders at the Hotel de Rich, in this city, two under sentence of death for murder, four under indictment for murder, and the remainder for less serious offences. Of course, among some of these prisoners, a desire to escape would naturally be strong. It was arranged among a number of them, that when the Sheriff entered last night on his usual rounds, they would seize him and hold him while they could escape. There were nine in the attempt, the most conspicuous being Anderson and a man named Miller. Sheriff Rich was the first to enter and Anderson attempted to catch him. Deputy Sheriff Dan Henderson, who was near, ran in, when he was seized by Miller. In the scuffle Deputy Henderson came near killing both Anderson and Miller, the powder from his pistol scorching the face of Miller, and the scalp of the Anderson. By the time the prisoners got into the opening adjoining the cells, Deputy Morgan, who was down stairs, rushed up to the outer door, which was locked, and which has a small aperture in it, and presenting his pistol held the crowd at bay until they could be quieted and placed in their cells. Had they overpowered Sheriffs Rich and Henderson, they could not have escaped, as the outer door was securely locked from the inside. Sheriffs Rich and Henderson behaved with great coolness and courage. The prisoners are all quiet today, and say they greatly regret the attempt. Anderson, we learn, says he was put up to the attempt, and those who encouraged him failed to stand up to him. It is impossible, however, to get out of the jail. There is not such a one in the State and with the care of Messrs. Rich and his deputies, those who enter in may as well leave all hope of escape behind.

In view of the probabilities of an attempt to rescue the prisoners, Ray and Anderson, from the Asheville jail, it is well to let it be known that the jail is well guarded, and a rescue party will meet a very rude welcome. A word to the wise, &c. Asheville Citizen.

We give below the appointments in which our readers are most interested. The salary is from $900 to $1,000 with expenses from $300 to $400. All applications for subordinate positions must be made to these deputies:

Gen. A. S. Johnson's Grave.

In a beautiful mound of earth, about sixty feet in diameter and fifteen feet high, in Metairie Cemetery, near the city of New Orleans, rest the remains of Gen. Albert Sydney Johnson. On a level with the walk, is an aperture about six feet wide and ten feet high, nearly half way through the mound, at the end of this aperture rests the body of the illustrious dead, and on the marble slab that closes the niche is inscribed the following:

Behind this Stone is laid, For a Soldier, ALBERT SYDNEY JOHNSTON, A General in the Army of the Confederate States.

Who fell at Shiloh Tennessee, On the sixth day of April, A. D. Eighteen hundred and sixty-two. A man tried in many high offices And critical Enterprises, And found faithful in all;

His life was one long Sacrifice of Interest to Conscience; And even that life, on a woeful Sabbath, Did he yield as a Holocaust at his Country's need.

Not wholly understood was he while he lived; But, in his death, his Greatness stands confessed In a People's tears. Resolute, moderate, clear of envy, yet not wanting In that finer Ambition, which makes men great and pure;

In his Honor—impregnable; In his Simplicity—sublime; No Country'er had a truer Son—no Cause a nobler Champion; No People a bolder Defender—no principle a purer victim, Than the dead Soldier Who sleeps here!

The Cause for which he perished is lost— The People for whom he fought are crushed— The hopes in which he trusted are shattered— The Flag he loved guides no more the charging lines; But his Fame, consigned to the keeping of that Time, which, Happily, is not so much the Tomb of Virtue as its Shrine, Shall, in the years to come fire Modest Worth to Noble Ends. In honor, now, our great Captain rests; A bereaved people mourn him; Three Commonwealths proudly claim him; And History shall cherish him Among these Choicer Spirits, who holding their Conscience unmixed with blame. Have been, in all Conjectures, true to themselves, their People and their God.

Over this mound will be erected a beautiful monument. In Greenwood Cemetery, across the canal from Metairie Cemetery is the beautiful confederate monument twenty-four feet high, representing a Confederate soldier resting on his arms. Half way up, with steps leading to a platform, are the life-size busts of Generals Lee, Jackson, Polk and Johnston placed on the squares of the pedestal that supports the statue of the soldier. Beneath this mound of earth and stone lay the remains of a large number of our Confederate dead, and in the language of a minister who visited the monument a few weeks since, "Green be their graves forever."
