

SEVENTH STREET CHURCH NOTES.

By Miss Marie S. Lindsay

Sunday morning Dr. Wyche preached to us from Galatians 5:1: "Stand fast, therefore, in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free, and be not entangled again with the yoke of bondage." His subject was, "Gospel Liberty."

Liberty is something that is very precious, sometimes more than life itself. Abraham Lincoln freed the Negro slaves. That was civil liberty. Its cost was dear.

The gospel liberty cost more but makes men free indeed. It cost the blood of Christ. Christ gave his life for the world that it might be free from the moral law. Jesus Christ fulfilled the law. He was the end of it. The first Adam fell. Jesus, the second Adam, came and kept the law.

After Christ was offered there was no more offering of lambs and bullocks. His sacrifice was for all time. We can not bring anything that will take the place of this sacrifice. That is the meaning of the hymn, "Nothing in My Hands I Bring." Nothing we can bring can help pay the debt. Jesus Christ paid the debt when He poured out His blood to free men from bondage.

We must look to the One who is able to free us from the guilt of sin, the Lord Jesus Christ. If we are not free from the power and guilt of sin, we are still in bondage. If we are free, we are delivered from the fear of death and the wrath to come.

Mr. J. E. Hemphill made an urgent appeal to the members of the church for their earnest support in the $1,400 drive.

The ladies of the church are planning a bazaar for the first week in February. Committee on arrangements are: for supper—Monday night, Mesdames Lillie Adams, A. Lindsay and Bonnie Pearson. Tuesday night, Mesdames Carrie Moseley and Lucy Means. Wednesday night, Mesdames E. Webb and C. P. Pitchford. Thursday night, Mesdames R. P. Wyche and C. P. Pegues. Friday night, Mesdames Janie Means, Mary Means and Frazier.

Program: Monday night, Misses J. B. Dixon and Frances Adams. Tuesday night, the Volunteer Class, Miss Janie Wallace, Chairman. Thursday night, Mrs. Victor Jones. Friday night, Dr. T. A. Long.

The Volunteer Class will have a costume party February 15th in the basement of the church.

Mrs. R. P. Wyche's class reported $10.05 Sunday to go toward the organ fund.

The Woman's Missionary Society will meet Friday evening at the home of Miss Janie Wallace.

The Sheaf Gatherers' Bible class will meet at the home of Mrs. Agnes McKnight, Thursday evening, January 21.

CHERRY STREET NOTES, HIGH POINT.

By Miss Daisy Keno.

Sunday morning, January 3, being the first Sunday in the New Year, we listened to an appropriate sermon from our pastor, Rev. C. A. Washington. As we enter the New Year with new resolutions and higher aims, may we remember our pledges to those less fortunate than we. We are praying for a successful year in our church work. On January 3rd we had five young men to join the church: Messrs. Theodore Beger, Porter Hampton, Richard Campbell, Dan Miller and Ellis Johnson.

The following persons were at home during the holidays: Mr. William McCain and James Morrison from New York City; Mr. Andrew Horne from Mary Potter School, Oxford; Mrs. E. H. Steel; Mrs. Carrie Harris and Mr. Black, of Concord. Miss Maggie Keno spent Sunday evening in Winston-Salem with friends.

Dr. J. C. Morgan spent a few days recently in Washington, D. C., with friends. The Communion of the Lord's Supper will be observed at the church next Sunday morning, January 24.

JOHNSON C. SMITH UNIVERSITY NOTES

By A. H. Primes

Conference and prayers were conducted on last Saturday evening by President McCrorey. On Sunday evening an address was delivered to the faculty and students by Attorney Francis Clarkson, of the Charlotte bar.

The Philosophy Club met last Tuesday evening in the Library building. The topic for the evening was "Transcendentalism." Mr. Chas. H. White introduced the topic with a historic review of the subject, which was very enlightening to many. Each one present spoke on this topic. The club was formed about four years ago by Dr. Anderson for the deepening of the students' love for philosophy and truth and is still active in pursuing the purpose for which it was organized.

Mr. Josiah Haynesworth, a former student, was a visitor on the campus last Monday while enroute to Philadelphia where he is engaged in the real estate business.

Prof. W. J. Knox, Jr., addressed the Y. M. C. A. on last Sunday morning. His subject was "A Name."

Miss Catherine Gardner and Miss Carolyn Chapin, of Englewood, N. J., were pleasant visitors on the campus Wednesday and Thursday of this week. Miss Gardner is Secretary of the Eastern District of the Board of National Missions of the Presbyterian Church, Pittsburgh, Pa. Thursday morning Miss Gardner made a very pleasing talk at the Chapel service. She is a recent addition to the Board's Secretarial staff and her present trip over the Church field is for the purpose of getting first hand information about our church and school work.

Miss Fannie Partee was called to Baltimore, Md., last Monday to attend the funeral of her aunt, Mrs. C. S. Briggs, who was sick for only a short time.

PRETTY MARRIAGE AT MARTINSVILLE, VA.

With all the brilliance and yet with all the solemnity that marks the formal church wedding, Miss Mary E. Edwards became the bride of Mr. Jesse B. Anglin, Thursday, Jan. 14, 1926, at 11:00 A. M. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. P. Watkins, pastor of the Grace Presbyterian church, of Martinsville, Va., at Grace church, while the entrancing strains of the Lohengrin wedding march were played by Miss Ruth Thomas, daughter of Prof. Thomas, of Piedmont Christian Institute.

The bride wore a white canton crepe dress trimmed in lace and pearls. The groom wore a conventional black tuxedo. The bridesmaid, Miss Myrtle Edwards, was attired in a maroon crepe satin back dress, adorned with embroidered flowers.

The best man was Mr. M. G. Bullock, professor of mathematics and physics at Leaksville (N. C.) High School, who wore a full dress suit. The other attendants were Mr. J. B. Davis, Johnson C. Smith University, Miss Irene Anglin; Mr. Edward Anglin, also of Johnson C. Smith University, and Miss Barbara Murphy, all wearing costumes appropriate for the occasion.

The wedding party stood under a beautiful trellis covered with flowers, while the bride and groom stood in the entrance of a trellis with a huge white rose hanging over their heads.

An attractive feature of the wedding was the part played by the flower girl and ring bearer, Miss Ernestine Anglin, sister of the groom. She wore a pink crepe dress with pink tulle veil and carried the ring in a large pink rose.

The young couple are members of prominent families of Martinsville and are highly esteemed in the community.

The guests and friends were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. Anglin.

The bride and groom will take their honeymoon in the West during the spring.

ABUSE

There is hardly a worn out Ford in this country that has received half the abuse that the average person gives his stomach.

It is not only misused by improper eating, but if something goes wrong with the heart, liver, kidneys, lungs, etc., drugs of various kinds and quantities are put into the innocent stomach, and it has to suffer.

SPRINGFIELD CHURCH, LEAKSVILLE

On the second Sabbath, Jan. 10, the pastor, Rev. W. M. Fowlkes, delivered a wonderful sermon from Psalm 16:8: "I have set the Lord always before me, because he is at my right hand, I shall not be moved." The subject was: "Setting the Lord Before You."

In his masterful way the minister told of the kingship of Saul and David, contrasting their lives, and the hardships David had to endure. Yet he was able to say "The Lord is at my right hand, I shall not be moved." The right hand was defined as to power, activity and skill.

It was indeed a fitting sermon for the beginning of the new year.

The program and Christmas tree given on December 29th was quite a success. The tree was beautifully decorated and was laden with gifts for all who had attended during the year. By the help of interested friends the Sabbath school was able to gladden the hearts of all. There were suitable gifts for all ages.

The children were happy over their toys and bags of goodies and began to blow their horns as soon as they received them. The event closed with smiling faces. Everyone seemed to feel the real spirit which the Christ Child brought to the world.

Rev. and Mrs. Fowlkes had as their guests during the holidays their sister and daughter, Mrs. Lavinia Gaines, and Miss Gladys Fowlkes of Thyme Institute, Chase City, Va., and W. M. Fowlkes, Jr., of Johnson C. Smith University.

Miss O. V. Reese spent a part of the holidays in Roanoke, Va., visiting her aunt and cousin, Mrs. Ruth Broadnax and Miss Estella.

The school work of Springfield Institute has a good beginning for the New Year.

On account of sickness in the family we regret that Miss Janette Spencer has not been able to resume her school work.

SHINNECOCK CHURCH NOTES, SOUTHAMPTON, NEW YORK.

By Rev. E. W. Carpenter, Pastor.

We are pleased to state that 1925 was a prosperous year for us both spiritually and financially. The pastor has been paid promptly. The church has raised and forwarded to the Boards and Agencies the whole quota placed upon her. The Christmas tree given by the church and Sabbath school was loaded and many large boxes and packages rested under the tree. The heart of every person was made happy.

The program rendered by the young people before passing the many gifts was the best we have heard since we came to this parish.

Mrs. Nancy Smith and daughter have returned home from Hampton, Va.

On December 24, at 6:25 o'clock P. M., Miss Della E. Lee, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Lee, was united in marriage to Mr. Elmer Johnson, of New York City. The Rev. E. W. Carpenter officiated, assisted by Rev. Thomas C. Ogburn.

I am glad to mention the annual turkey dinner given December 31, by Shinnecock Social Club. The question may be asked, where did such large turkeys grow, and who was the cook to prepare them so well? The most of the members of the club were present. Special guests present were Rev. and Mrs. T. C. Ogburn and Rev. and Mrs. E. W. Carpenter.

Just at 12 o'clock as the old year was passing out and the new year was peeping in, prayer was offered to Almighty God by the writer, thanking Him for His special care over the Social Club and over all present. The writer earnestly asked the Master to take care of us through another year.
