

OFFICE OF THE Weekly Pioneer. In Basement New Building, Public Square.

Weekly Pioneer

THE WEEKLY PIONEER A LITERARY AND POLITICAL JOURNAL, ISSUED EVERY THURSDAY MORNING.

VOL. VI. ASHEVILLE, N. C., THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1871. NO. 21.

CRUSHING THEM OUT IN SOUTH CAROLINA.

Operations in York County. End of the Reign of Terror-The Jail Fall of Klu Klux Hundreds Fleeing from Justice

YORKVILLE, S. C., Nov. 10.—One hundred and two Klu Klux in jail, over 200 confessed members of the order at large in parole, and 125 or 130 more fleeing from justice or hiding in the woods. Such is a summary of the results of the campaign against the mysterious Klan in York County, which has been vigorously prosecuted for the past fortnight by the civil and military officers of the Government. And the end is not yet, for every day men come in from all parts of the country, often riding 20 or 30 miles, to deliver themselves up and beg for mercy, and their confessions constantly implicate persons not before suspected, so that each day's development more fully exhibits the great numerical strength of the infamous order, which now appears to have embraced fully two-thirds of all the white men in the county. An officer scarcely exaggerated the state of affairs when he said to me, "Take a gun and go out and shoot every white man you meet, and you will hit a Klu Klux every time."

negroes who were killed last Winter and Spring; but a number of the chiefs of Klans remained and were hanged in the first haul made by the soldiers. Most of those who then escaped took to their heels without a day's delay, and a great number of privates in this new rebel army, who had money enough to leave, and upon the Holy Evangelists of Almighty God, do, of my own free will and accord, subscribe to the following sacredly binding obligation:

Article 1. This organization shall be known as the Order No. 1, of the Klu Klux Klan of the State of South Carolina. Article 2. The officers shall consist of a Cyclops and Scribe, both of whom shall be selected by a majority vote of the Order, and to hold their office during good behavior.

The Weekly Pioneer. THURSDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 23, 1871. GENERAL NEWS.

The recent sand storm in Los Angeles county, Cal., killed 40,000 sheep. "Boss" Tweed advanced $10,000 to pay the pipe laborers in New York on the 14th. On the 14th inst., the Legislature of Tennessee paid a visit of respect to the widow of ex-President Polk.

Just as the curtain rose and the lights were turned low upon the death scene in "Colleen Bawn," at the Nashville Theater, Monday night as if to make the dreary scene more dismal and sad, a bat made its appearance, and, flying several times around the lonely couch of the dying man, caused a deep feeling of awe and strange chilliness to fall upon the audience, who were almost breathless with the truly weird effect of the scene.

A despatch from Louisville on the 14th, says: Last night the citizens of Henrysville, Indiana, near where the brutal murder of the Park family occurred Saturday night, put a negro around the neck of George Johnson, a negro implicated in the murder, and telling him the crime had been traced to him, demanded to know his accomplices. Johnson, thinking all was discovered, made a full confession, stating that two negroes named Davis and Taylor, with himself, planned the murder, believing Park had $400 or $500 of hidden money in his house. Johnson says he watched outside, Davis had a light, and Taylor committed the bloody deed. His partners refused to divide the plunder fairly with him. They only got $140. The whereabouts of his accomplices became known, and a party of citizens immediately effected their arrest, the police taking the three prisoners through the woods to avoid a mob, and jailed them at Jeffersonville to-day.

his valuable. King handed him his watch and shot him dead at the same time. The appellants in the case of Mrs. Fair have twenty days to file a brief. The people will then have the same time in which to respond, so it is doubtful if a decision will be rendered before January first. We presume the Mr. Loring above referred to is Mr. Fred W. Loring, the popular Boston magazine and journalist. It will be remembered that he has taken part in the composition of the forthcoming mosaic story to be furnished to "Old and New," Roberts & Brothers' magazine, to which Everett E. Hale, Mrs. Stowe, and others were to contribute such a chapter. He was a rising young author, and the account, as given above, of his untimely taking off will carry sorrow to many a heart.