SIN OF EXAGGERATION .- There is a fault which does not get itself called by the name of a "lie," but which is a dangerously close relation to it-A man hears a thing true enough in its original shape, but he passes it on with a little addition of his own. The man to whom he passes adds his touch of exaggeration, until at last the statethe world; and yet, though they are in their final state grossly false, and do sore injustice, it is difficult to charge any one with a full grown lie, for the share he has had in propagating the deceit. The result is a sort of acea mulative lie, made by persons successive; ly contributing a little touch of exaggeration of the story as it came to their hands. The worst of it is, that this mischief is caused by the exercise of a power that is sometimes useful-I mean that creative, imaginative power which lends life to a description .--it the color of his own thoughts almost unconsciously; yet, I fear, this may produce very mischievous, perhaps disastrous results. And who is to blame? Why every one who has a share in the accretions which the story or statement has received. See how responsible we may be for the ef-
