AN AMERICAN RAT DOG.

THE FLOWERS COLL

Last summer, Bob L. crossed the Atlantic spend a little time and a good deal of money in looking at the women and wonders of the old world. Among the wonders which he took along, "jist for the fun of the thing," was a small sized. scapping-turtle. Having a wook's leisure at Lon-don, Bob packed up his traps and went over to Ireland, The first night he passed "on the sod" was at a little roadside inn, about fifteen miles from Dublin. Having partaken of a supper, of bacon and eggs, Bob walked into the bar, and placed the turtle on the floor. The first person to notice the "critter," was Mr. Flinn, who kept who kept the house.

"And what do you call that ?" "That is an American rat dog."

"An American rat dog."

"Musha, go long-and do you call such a spalpeen a dog

"I do indeed, and he is worthy of his name. " Will he fight ?

" Yes, sir, not only fight, but will whip any eight pound dog in Ireland."

Will you hold me ten shillings on that ?" - I will.

" Enough," said Flynn. "Barney, get the brindle pup we bought of Sheriden yesterday, and let him out then made a plunge. She caught the brindle pup by the nose. The brindle pup gave use yell and put for the docr. When last seen he was rushing towards Dublin as it he had eight tin cullenders tied to his tail.-Whether Flyon gave up the money without getting a shelalah to act as ampire, will be known when the next steamer arrives.

DISSOLVING THE UNION .- It is funny to hear complucent and dogmatic manner in which sundry politicians of the North and South talk of dissolving the Union. They speak of the matter as if it were one of the easiest things in the world, as if they could do it. That is the grand misdivioul agitators. They take of these malco imagine that they

Symmes, on the usyages, had on board a splendid spec-tructure to a splendid spectrum of the second splendid spec-tructure to the formilland breed, name 7 Napo-be and his magnificent size and preportions, his lligent head, broad white chest, white furt and white tipped tail, the rest of his glossy bod being black, made him as beautiful as his parties namesake, who, no doubt would have been proud to possess him. He was owned by a meman named Lancaster, who was naturally enorth, fond of him. energy, fond of him. Cot. Symmes, however, was not partial to animals of any kind, and had an unaccountable and special repugnance to dogs; so much so in-dee as if his ancestors had died of hydrophobia, audhe dreaded to be bitten like his unfortunate

Processors. This dialike he one day developed in a most shaking manner, for as Napoleon had several time entered his room and by wagging his great bamer of a tail, knocked paper and ink-stand off his lesk, on the next occasion the Captain seized a hife, and cut half the poor animal's tail off. The dog's yells brought his master to the spot, and seeing the calamity and the author of it, without a moment's hesitation he felled Captain Symmes to the cabin floor with a sledge hammer blow, rhich, had it had it hit the temple, would ferver prevented the Captain from cutting off ferver prevented the Captain from cutting off 987 40 any more dog's tail.

The result was that Lapenster was put in irons, from which, however, he was soon released -Cash, Symmes partly repented his cruel deed, on learning that Napoleon had once saved his owner's life. fbe white shark, as all my nautical friends are

SKETCH OF THE LIVE AND SERVICES

We consider this a particularly appropriate time to give a brief aketch of the life of Doctor Kane, now that he is before the world in a more conspicuous position than he has ever occupied before. He was born in Philadelphia, on the 8d of February, 1822, so that he is at present about thirty-three years old. In 1843 he graduated, after a seven years' course of studies, at the Penn-sylvania Medical University, and soon after he entered the United States mavy as assistant surgeon. While acting in this capacity he was appointed as physician in the first embassy to China from this country. His naturally adventurous disposition led him to project a visit to the interior, but the difficulties were so numerous that he could not accomplish his purpose as fully as he desired. He, however, succeeded in travelling over a large section of the country; and before his return he visited the Philippines, Ceylon and other islands in that region, and even succeeded in penetrating into the interior of India, his travels through which were full of adventures and perils; but perils to a man of Dootor Kane's temperament appear only to have the effect of making them more attractive. While in India, he descended the crater of the Tael of Lerzon, suspended by a bamboe rope from a projecting erag which hovered above the interior scoria and debris, over two hundred feet. This act of daring nearly cost him his life, for the natives regarded it as a merilegious act, which could only be ef-geance, and afterwards went to the saudwich Is-Republic in the ands with the celebrated Baron Loe of Prussia, where he sas attacked by a whole tribe of the savage inhabitants of those islands. Against these he successfully defended himself, but the hardships he and his companion subsequently underwent were more than the latter could endure and he sunk under them. Dr. Kane alone passed hatoften thrilled me with horrow. During the overto Egypt, ascended the Nile as far as the

A dog, belonging to Col. Metmann, has dis tinguished himself in the Crimen. During the battle of Tchernaya, he broke his chain, fought in the ranks, saved the life of a sergeant and private, and took three Russian prisoners. He was wounded in the foot, which only the more enraged him. He threw himself upon a Russian officer, flung him to the ground, and dragged him prisoner by his coat collar to the French. He will receive some mark of honor, as a dog in the English army now wears a medal for his devotion to his unster.

"How do you get along with your krithmetia "asked a farther of his young hopeful.
