

more intelligent than he seems to suppose, and the first Thursday in August will a tale unfold, and strike the scales from his eyes; and we suppose he will conclude, after the first of January, 1857, that "the post of honor is the private station."

North Carolina Argus.

FAYETTEVILLE.

TUESDAY, JUNE 7, 1856.

"We join others to no party that does not carry the flag and keep step in the music of the Union."

For President,

MILLARD FILLMORE,

OF NEW YORK.

For Vice President,

ANDREW JACKSON DONELSON,

OF TENNESSEE.

"Mr. Fillmore administered the Executive Government with signal success and ability. He has been tried and found true, faithful, honest, and courageous."—HARVEY CRATE.

AMERICAN ELECTORAL TICKET.

FOR THE 9TH AND 10TH DISTRICTS COMPOSED OF

THE STATE AT LARGE,

L. B. CARMICHAEL, of Wilkes,

JOHN F. CAMERON, of Cumberland,

W. H. COOPER,

1st District:

Jas. T. LATHAM, of Granville,

A. J. SHADWAN, of Chatham,

Gen. J. M. LEACH, of Davidson,

Gen. A. J. Dargan, of Anson,

FOR GOVERNOR,

JOHN A. GILMER,

OF GUILFORD COUNTY.

AMERICAN TICKET

FOR CUMBERLAND and HARNETT.

FOR THE SENATE,

DAVID MCNEIL.

FOR THE COMMONS,

THOMAS S. LUTTERLOH,

Maj. ANGUS SHAW.

AND

NEILL McKEY.

FOR SHERIFF OF CUMBERLAND COUNTY,

Capt. HECTOR MCNEIL.

C. C. McComman, Esq., is the authorized agent for the Argus, and will attend to the settlement of subscriptions and advertising accounts.

CINCINNATI CONVENTION.

CINCINNATI, June 6th.

Editor of the North Carolina—Buchanan nominated at the seventh annual meeting, receiving two hundred and ninety-six votes out of two hundred and forty-seven.

J. C. Breckinridge, of Kentucky, nominated for Vice Presidential second ballot. Buchanan nominated by Means, of Virginia, amidst the greatest ap-pause.—North Carolina of the morning.

We have kept back our paper this morning for the latest news from Cincinnati. By the above descripted copied from the Citizen, it will be seen that

JAMES BUCHANAN, of Pennsylvania, has been put in nomination for the Presidency, and J. C. Breckinridge, of Kentucky, for the Vice Presidency. A passenger by the Carroll stage this morning, says that Mr. Hill of Louisiana, is the nominee for the Vice Presidency, according to his information; but the Carolina people are evidently anxious to have a man of their own nomination.

The Convention then adjourned to meet at noon light, when the body reassembled, and Neill McKey,

Maj. Shaw, and Capt. McNeil, being the three members of the delegation from the State of North Carolina.

We have kept back our paper this morning for the latest news from Cincinnati. By the above de-

scripted copied from the Citizen, it will be seen that

JAMES BUCHANAN, of Pennsylvania, has been put in nomination for the Presidency, and J. C. Breckinridge, of Kentucky, for the Vice Presidency. A passenger by the Carroll stage this morning, says that Mr. Hill of Louisiana, is the nominee for the Vice Presidency, according to his information; but the Carolina people are evidently anxious to have a man of their own nomination.

At 10 a.m., Mr. Buchanan is the nominee for the first office. He is an old stage, and has been on both sides of nearly all parties. He commenced his career as a Whig, and stuck to that party until it would no longer pay, when he marched over to the Jackson ranks, and has ever since professed to be a Democrat, though he had before said that if he knew he had a drop of democratic blood in his veins, he would open them and let it out.

In 1819 he was opposed to the admission of Missouri without a clause in her constitution instituting slavery; and on the 25th day of November in that year, in the Lancaster County convention, he introduced the following resolution:

"Resolved, That the Representatives in Congress from this district be, by their unanimous vote, recommended to use their influence in the National Legislative to prevent the extension of slavery in any of the States wherever it may be erected by Congress."

"Resolved, That in the opinion of this meeting, the members of Congress, who at the last session sustained the cause of justice, humanity, and patriotism, in opposing the introduction of slavery into the States under-subject to be honored out of the Missouri Terri-to, are entitled to the warmest thanks of every friend of humanity.

In 1819, he advocated the extension of the Missouri

Compromises line to the Pacific; now, we are unable to say what his precise position is in relation to this matter.

About 1836, he was a hard currency man, and advocated a system by which it was said the wages of the laboring man would be reduced to ten cents per day. Since that time he has been familiarly known, as "THE CEST JIMMY," in his own State.

We have not time, at present, however, to hunt up the antecedents of Mr. Buchanan. They will be forthcoming in due season.

29.—The steamer Niagara with Liverpool dates to the 24th, has arrived at Halifax.

Cotton—lower qualities have slightly declined—upper and middling qualities firm.

CAROLINA CULTIVATOR.

The May No. of this excellent agricultural periodical is on our table. Its contents, as usual, are rich and varied. Price only one dollar in advance. Address William D. Cook, Raleigh, N. C.

THE ARATOR.

The Arator by Thomas J. Lemay, Raleigh, is also to the fore. Mr. Lemay has done much of his time to the study of agricultural subjects; and his Arator contains the fruits of his researches. Published the first of every month, at one dollar a year, invariably in advance. "Agriculture the great art which every government ought to protect, every proprietor of lands to practice, and every inquirer into nature to improve."

LEXINGTON FEAG.

Mr. James B. Shelton, formerly proprietor of the Lexington and Paston Feag, has disposed of the paper to Messrs. James A. Long and Alphonso W. Ingold.

Mr. Long has been the Editor of the Feag ever since it was started, and under his able and judicious management the paper has acquired a well deserved popularity. We wish the new proprietors success in their enterprise.

MR. GILMER AT ASHEVILLE.

We have copied into this week's Argus the Asheville Spectator's account of Mr. Gilmer's speeches in Hendon and Bumcombe, and ask for it a careful reading.

All that we want is for Mr. Gilmer to be correctly represented before the honest voters of North Carolina; and we have no fears for the result on the first Thursday of August. We shall avail ourselves of the earliest opportunity to express our views at length on the several matters involved in the canvas.

It will be seen that our old friend Thomas B.

MEARS, the American candidate for the House of Commons in Brunswick County. He will bear our standard with as much gallantry as any other man could do.

MR. GILMER AT ASHEVILLE.

Having neither nor animus to heat against the American party, Gov. Bragg seems to rely for success upon popular ignorance. In this we think he is much mistaken. The people are more intelligent than he seems to suppose, and the first Thursday in August will a tale unfold, and strike the scales from his eyes. We suppose he will conclude, after the first of January, 1857, that "the post of honor is the private station."

Mr. Gilmer at the next spoke of the extravagances of the government during the administration of Gen.

Washington were annually about $2,000,000 a year to defray expense! Mr. G. thought there was great need of retrenchment and reform.

He eloquently spoke of our duty to be governed by principles and to suffer no one to dictate to us—that in this free country every man should exercise his own judgment and act accordingly without interference from any one—said that it was becoming a too popular error, that it pursued to the equity, to have a desire to be on the strong side, without regard to principle—speak of the sufferings and martyrs of our ancestors in defending the Protestant religion—that they were persecuted for righteousness' sake, but were willing to do rather than abandon their principles.

Mr. Gilmer said that he abhorred no one—what he was willing to stand or fall by his principles —that the staple of Gov. Bragg's speech was