LOCAL ITEMS.

All sorts of blanks printed and for sale by S. G. Hall, Office on Princess st.

WILMINGTON RIFLE GUARDS, will meet to-morrow night at the Armory. By command of Capt. J. S. W. Eagles.

RECEPTION.—On Thursday noon from 12 to 1:30 Senators Wilson and Pool will hold a public reception at the City Hall, to which all are invited. After the reception, the procession will be formed and proceed to Hilton, where an opportunity will be offered to hear our speakers.

SABBATH SCHOOL CONCERT.—We understand that the Superintendent and managers of Christian Chapel Sunday School, have in projection a concert for the benefit of the Church. It will present the same features of last year's exhibition, but will, we trust, be a greater success, as the children have advanced considerably in their musical education since that time.

CARD.—In our local column appears a card signed by W. H. GERKEN, to which we invite attention. We hope the balance of that ticket will see the error of their ways, and likewise withdraw. It is due to Mr. GERKEN as well as ourself to say that he has not been connected with the Post since the regular Republican convention was held, and while we do not endorse all the settlements expressed in his "card," we hope the importance of the present election will induce the other persons on that ticket, as it has him, to withdraw while there is yet time.

A CARD.

WILMINGTON, N. C.,
July 16th, 1872.

To the Republican voters of New Hanover County:

After mature deliberation of the matter, I take this method of requesting my friends in the Republican party not to vote for me as a candidate for the Legislature at the coming election. True, after repeated declinations, I at last allowed my name to be placed upon the Peoples Ticket, but after due consideration, I have arrived at the conclusion that the questions at issue are of too great importance to the Republican party to admit of a division in our ranks. While I do not or cannot endorse the action of the Rocky Point Convention as a whole, still the important questions which will be brought before the next Legislature, are, in my opinion, of such a character as will need every Republican vote in that body so as to insure defeat, and in view of the fact, that my name might be the cause of losing one of the members from this County, and assist in the defeat of our candidate for Congress, I hereby inform my friends that I am no candidate, and cannot at this time serve them in that capacity. Thanking my friends for this manifestation of their appreciation of my past course, I sincerely trust that my future actions will meet with their approval.

W. H. GERKEN,

Trouble is anticipated between the Empire of Brazil and the Argentine Republic.

Discussion at Goldsboro—Carroll Butts Beck—Clingman Meets his old Brigade—State Issues all Ignored—Grant's Horses and Cigars—The Main Issue of the Campaign. Cantwell recounts the triumph of the last seven years and the progress under Republican rule.

GOLDSBORO, N. C., July 13, 1872.

DEAR POST:—Gen. Clingman commenced his State appointments by a speech at our Court House to day, and was replied to by Judge Cantwell, formerly an aide de camp on his staff. There were not many persons present, and they were all principally of the Democratic stripe. We noticed, however, Sheriff Rhodes, Messrs. Faircloth and Sherard, Maj. Graham, and Mr. Ezell of our party; also Gen. Cox, of Raleigh; Marshal Sam. Carrow and other dignitaries of the State.

The speaking commenced at fifteen minutes past twelve. Gen. Clingman opened with a herce onslaught upon Grant's pet dogs, brother-in-laws and horses. He also made Mrs. Grant a party defendant to the bill of complaint against the Republican party, and the administration. He complained that the White House was full of military characters and the country was full of tax gatherers, who were growing rich on the plunder of the people, and who were contributing vast sums of money to make up the corruption fund to be lavished by thousands. Our people, he hoped, were too honest to be bought as the wretches proposed. At this point Marshal Carrow rose, and said he had seen a letter from a man named James B. Beck to Gen. Clingman, dated at Washington City, charging him (Marshal Carrow) with having received over a quarter of a million of dollars for electioneering purposes in North Carolina. He asked leave to interrupt the speaker just here, as he had to leave for Raleigh. He only wanted to say, that he had not been absent from the State in several months. Mr. Beck had not stated the truth, either in regard to his (Carrow's) visit to Washington, or the receipt of any money for that purpose by him. Under an act of Congress, he was required to make his return every quarter, for costs and fees of the National Court in this district. These returns are made on oath, and are subject to the inspection and approval of District Judge Brooks. The three last terms had cost the people of the United States a heavy sum owing to the Ku Klux arrests and raids, and the violation of the Revenue Law and Internal tax. But this sum had been expended in North Carolina, and gone to enrich and not impoverish the people. His accounts had been inspected and approved by Judge Brooks. Vouchers to the amount of over two hundred thousand dollars filed in the usual way, passed upon by the officers of the Treasury, and he was happy to say paid and settled up in full.

If any gentleman wished to see the accounts in full, he could call at his office. It was not true as Mr. Beck said that he had received money from Washington for any other purpose or for any other account. Gen. Clingman resumed, next expatiating upon the presents Grant had received from his admirers.

In old times five thousand dollars was enough to run the Federal Courts, now it takes a quarter of a million. The tax on whiskey and tobacco was a nuisance, and ought to be abolished, it provoked people to violate the laws. There were thirteen unlawful stills in his own neighborhood. He asked one of these men why they were not broken up, and was told the officers had been there, but had been driven off. A good many snug white houses had been built lately in the mountains. Every now and then you meet the owners of them, slick, fat, overdressed officials. He wanted their bills sharpened so that like the Irishman's duck, they should get only their share of the corn. Mr. Greeley was an honest man and an original secessionist, he would sweep the country like a tornado.

JUDGE CANTWELL

said in reply, he was happy to meet his old commander here to-day, they had both changed grounds considerably since the brigade was last at Goldsboro. He Judge C. had immediately after hostilities ceased taken the oath of allegiance to the United States, and been readmitted a citizen, and had ever since supported the government as his oath required, and in good faith. The time had not yet come to discuss the claims of Grant and Greeley, he would see Gen. Clingman about that sometime between now and November. The present Republican State Administration claims reelection and endorsement and the question is on their fitness for office in the State, and that question demanded immediate attention. The election took place in a few days. He could not tell whether Gen. C. was for Merrimon or not. All he could get out of him was for Greeley, and that Grant had been complimented by his countrymen, in various ways. Well, Grant had succeeded after others had failed. Had it not been for Grant Gen. C. had marched his victorious brigade into Washington city, and the conflict between them would not be for the Presidency but for the removal of Grant's disabilities. Had these presents been made to General C.'s friends the General was too generous himself to make any objection. Grant had saved the country from perpetual war and the Union from dissolution. We he (Judge C.) a northern man, he would refuse him nothing. He could smoke and drink, and enjoy himself for life at the expense of the country he had saved—the people begrudged him no proper enjoyment suited to his taste and exalted merits.

The State was thriving under Republican rule, slavery had been abolished—free labor introduced, the experiment was succeeding admirably. Go, said he, to the people, and tell them what things ye see and hear. The blind that is, the ignorant, receive their sight; the lame, that is, the poor and the oppressed, walk; the lepers, that is, the degraded and the oppressed, are cleansed and elevated. The deaf, that is, the Democracy, hear; and the poor have the gospel of peace and reconciliation preached unto them.

He entered into various statistics detailing the material progress of the people in the reduction of their taxes. Exemption of Imprisonment for debt, the abolition of the ca se law. Mechanics' lien and homestead, eligibility for office and the administration of justice, the happy riddance from the County Court system, no justice for life. No imposition of taxes without the consent of the people, owing to the Republican party. In all of which we were threatened with loss if the reactionists under Merrimon should succeed in the State election. The people should throw off their prejudice and lethargy, and sustain the political party, which has shown itself to be in accord with their interests, in sympathy with their government, and fully up to the demands of the age.

THE MEETING.

passed off satisfactorily to our side, and you may rest assured that old Wayne will vindicate herself on the 1st of August next.

Yours truly,

VERITAS.

LATEST BY TELEGRAPH.

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 16. The President has not arrived. A large number of visitors are disappointed.

From Canada.

ONTARIO, July 16. The case of Dr. Rufus Bratton, abducted from Canada on the 4th of June, and taken to South Carolina, came up on remand today. Bratton arrived here on Saturday, but kept concealed until after the opening of the court, when he made his appearance to the great surprise of the defendants. His testimony shows that Cornwall, the prisoner, laid violent hands upon him upon Waterloo street, handcuffed him and with the assistance of the cab driver thrust him into the car. He protested to the last and only yielded because he relied on British justice to sustain him in the end. The case was further remanded.

From New York.

NEW YORK, July 16. It is believed that Stokes will be refused bail. His next trial will probably be in Saratoga county.

A Long Branch letter says a party of missionaries, whose names are not reported, called at the Presidential cottage yesterday.

Gen. Porter is shortly to make a public list of Democrats who are going to stump for Grant.

The Herald's Boston special intimates that Gen. Banks has espoused Greeley.

The yacht Josephine was capsized in a gale yesterday evening, off Bedloe's Island, and sunk. Her crew and passengers were rescued by the police boat.

A party of ladies and gentlemen, while bathing at Concy Island, yesterday, were robbed of nearly $8,000 worth of jewelry, money and bonds.

From Louisiana.

NEW ORLEANS, July 16. Lieut. Gen. Pinchback, who, heretofore, has favored Grant, made a Greeley speech at a Republican meeting in St. James parish.

From California.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 16. Two Irishmen demanded work on a farm near Bates, Alameda county, last night, and were told by the farmer that he had a sufficient number of Chinamen engaged to harvest his crop, this morning they were detected firing the grain stacks, and were captured. The prisoners were tried by the neighboring farmers and hanged.

BY CABLE.

LONDON, July 16. The Alexandria and Egypt military commission are now sitting to inquire into the affair between Consul General Butler and the Khedives officers. Gens. Loring, Reynolds and Maj. Campbell testify to the circumstances which, in their judgment, clearly show an affray premeditated by Butler and his friends; their purpose being to take the life of Major Campbell. The latter is dangerously wounded. Butler left Alexandria in the mail packet steamer this forenoon.

New York Markets.

NEW YORK, July 16. Stocks dull. Gold firm at 112. Money easy at 3 per cent. Exchange—long 100%, short 107%. Government bonds dull but steady. State bonds quiet.
