MR. J. M. WISE signs a call for "Republicans" to meet with him and Mr. McOulds in the laterest of GREELEY. Mr. Wise's political course has heretolors been somewhat on the curckered order, and his authority to speak as a Republican, to Republicans, is very limited. We are very glad to know how he stands at dast.

AS INCIDENT. - We are informed that after the arrival in our city yester day morning of Hone Henry Wilson, as soon as he had divested himself of the dust and stains of his journey, and before taking his breakfast, he went afoot to visit the National Union Cemetery where so many of the moys in Blue" lie buried, and drop a silent tear to their memory, and from there he made a visit to the Confederate Cemetery at Oakdale and the monument crected by loving hearts to the champions of the lost cause.

WE were much aniused to notice the demonstrations of the F. F. N. C.'s yesterday in front of the City Hall. They positively preferred the fresh turned soil of the streets to the fine pavement over which floated the Star Spangled Banner. We thought that the old antipathy had died out. What's the use? That flag is yours as much as ours, and yop are going to live under its protection the remainder of your lives. Should you by chance meet with insult in a Foreign country, how gladly would you call into aid its glerious inviolability.

WILMINGTON, N. C., July 19, 1872. EDITOR OF POST :--

Your account of the Republican mars meeting at Wilson, on the 17th inst., does Col. Long, of Rowan county, great injustice. Col. Long made a powerful speech on the occasion, and in my opin ion, it had good effect upon a great number of democrats who were present. The Colonel is doing great good for the Republican cause in a number of the eastern counties. He will return to Rowan next week, and will continue to speak there until the day of election. JUSTICE.

HON. HENRY WILSON

then came forward and addressed the thousands of earnest men before him, with one of those calm noble speeches and arguments never to be lorgotten. At some future day we may publish the speech in full. The crowd was still unsatisfied and ready to listen longer, and Mr. WARWICK took the stand. For one hour, the vast throngs, now swayed by his eloquence, and now literally convulsed with laughter over his side-split ting anecdotes, listened and applauded. These stories-unlike many told by out Democratic brethren, would not bring a blush upon a maiden's cheek and their arrivatility and the inimitable manner in which they were told, established a sympathy with his large audience, which enchained them before him. We hope to hear him again before the campaign is over. He is a great addition to our list of speakers.

This was one of the largest gatherings we have seen in Wilmington for many a day and we could not help but admire the forethought of our Commutee of arrangements who provided a place for Senator Wilson to speak from the porch where the great old lover of liberty CORNELIUS HARNETT WAS wont to walk. HARNETT and WILSON! Noble lovers of liberty; both their names will remain upon the scroll of our American history when the present generation of detamers are dead and forgotten.

The meeting then adjourned to meet at the City Hall at night to listen to Senator Pool.

At night, the City Hall was packed city. to listen to the words of wisdom from our noble Senator Pool, who showed up the Democracy in their true colors. Gentlemanly and honorable in his debate, plain statements of unanswerable facts were hred like volleys of hot shots fired upon the shrinking foe, Hon. C. H. Brogden followed and the enthusiasm was kept up until a late hour in the night. The meeting will be productive of great good and was a success in every respect. | night. The delegations were mostly from the country, a large portion of the employees of the city refusing to let their workmen off. The fruits of this great meeting will show themselves in August, and thousands of men left those hallowed grounds yesterday, more firmly set in the faith of and confidence in Republicanism than ever before. Senators Wilson and Pool and Mr. Warwick left for Goldsboro this morning. A right cordial welcome will greet any of them upon a return to our

After the G. M.'s address the subject | would have been burned at the stake sooner than deliver them, even to the common govvernment. Thus, I do not perceive that any body is hurt, there is but one paper, the perusal of which gave me any pain, the Hon. Jacob Thompson's report of operations on the frontier, &c., the existence of which was unknown to me until the officer with whom I lately went to Canada found it, as he would testify if called upon. It was too late then to search, nor could I have been induced to falsify history by destroying it.

And here follows a curious episode. Knowing that the documents exhibited the fact that Mr. Thompson had a very large amount of Confederate States gold in his possession at the time of the collapse, which gold "has gone where the wood-bine twineth," I went a long journey last summer to see him, and out of abundant kindness told him of the fuct that such paperss were still extant, he would not be convinced saying Mr. of the kind had been destroyed, and dare say, he was so informal and believed this being manifested. Now, inasmuch as the Confederate Government was indebted to the writer, in the amount of at least $50,000 of that gold on liquidated account. He, the writer, felt virtuously indignant, that Messrs, F. and B. should have gobbled it all by Mr. Thompson's permission. I after-

FOR GREELEY .- Our friend E. H. McQUIGG, Esq., formerly of the Federal Army is out in a card for Greeley, and still claims to be a Republican. A few short years ago Mr. McQuigg felt called upon to publish a card in which he bewailed his attempt to act with the "Conservatives" and acknowledged that such action did not remove the prejudice his neighbors at Rocky Point had against Northern men. He was then nominated and elected a Magistrate by the voters of this city. At the next shores.
