LOCAL ITEMS.

Just received at VanOrsdell's another lot of those beautiful Walnut Mouldings.

CHATEL Mortgage Deeds for sale by S. G. HALL.

THERMOMETER 81 degrees at noon today in the City Hall.

We are requested to state that Wm. H. Tegen was not before the Mayor's Court as reported in the Post of yesterday.

THE COMMANDERY will meet tomorrow night. Let every Sir Kt. take heed. Many important matters will come up for consideration.

THANKS.—We have been requested by the residents in the neighborhood of the foot of Mulberry street, to return their thanks to Col. E. R. Brink, Mayor pro tem., for his promptness in suppressing the nuisance in that neighborhood.

W. M. STEVENSON has opened his confectionery and grocery establishment on Princess Street near the office of the Post. "This sweet to be remembered and 'tis sweet to visit him in his new quarters."

Mayor's Court.
His Honor JAMES WILSON, Mayor, presiding.

John Outlaw, a young scamp of fifteen years growth, was sent to the Work House for 30 days for throwing stones in the street. "Only this and nothing more."

We believe our city fathers were deprived by the last Legislature of the power to remove the porches and piazzas encroaching on the sidewalks, but some action should be taken at once to remove this intolerable nuisance. We believe there are over one hundred houses built on the line of the sidewalk, and their steps or porches intruding on the right of way. Let us have something done to rid us of this annoyance.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.—M. London, Esq., was appointed Attorney of the Board at $400 per annum.

Board approved of the appointment of Mr. J. Bishop by Mr. W. J. Bivins, late Register, to post the Register's books at his expense.

Several applications for the reduction or remission of taxes was acted on.

Board decided that the old U. S. Hospital property is subject to taxation. Adjourned to meet on Monday next at 11 o'clock.

The Fayetteville Eagle says that: "Notwithstanding the health of the place, and the corrupt Radical government and enormous tax, still Wilmington is growing."

This is a pretty good joke. Why there is no healthier city in the Union than Wilmington and its affairs are in better shape than they have been in many a long year. Stay longer Bro. Eagle next time you come down and learn more of our city affairs.

THE TOWN CRISIS.

— It is getting warmer.

— Gold quoted in New York at 114.

— Thermometer stood this noon at 81.

— The Seward—no she did not come. We can't make an item out of her this time.

— The mousful song of the shivering mosquito can be heard in the silent night watches.

— The Go West clubs of soldiers and sailors at Washington has gone to Pittsburg in force.

— Barnum's gorilla says he don't want to wear a hair overcoat in hot weather at $10 per week.

— Mr. W. H. Gerken, formerly of this paper, has been very ill, but is now about the streets.

— It is said that there was a scrimmage at Abbottsburg yesterday. We cannot get the particulars yet.

— "Go abroad for home news" is the old saw. We neglected to chronicle the return of two fine horses with the City Marshal yesterday.

— As Wilmington bears but little resemblance to King Solomon's Temple, we can now hear the sound of axe, hammer and other tools of iron.

— Maj. J. W. Schenck and Hon. G. L. Mabson left here Saturday night to attend the Pittsburg Convention to be held in that smoky City today.

— Watermelons have gone where the woodbine twines, and even grapes are getting small. But the New River Oysters will soon be welcomed in our midst.

STATE ITEMS.

RALEIGH indulges in wife beating.

EXERCISES at Wake Forest College began on the 16th.

INDIAN war among the 'Big Leg' show at Littleton.

One hundred and fifty thousand Methodists in North Carolina.

THE Goldsboro Brass Band will make music for the approaching Fair.

THE Tremaine Brothers will perform in Goldsboro during Fair week.

It is thought that the Goldsboro Bank will be in operation by the latter part of this month.

NEW hydraulic apparatus at the Raleigh Insane Asylum is capable of throwing eight thousand gallons of water in an hour into or on the buildings.

THE Messenger of Goldsboro is responsible for the statement that a young son of ex-Sheriff W. H. Cullom, of Johnston county, recently shot a black fish in Neuse river, that weighed 10 1/2 pounds. The fish contained an eel two and a half feet long. Young Walter is good at the gun.

THE Statesville American say: "One Daniel Dishman, a prisoner in the jail in this place, attempted to effect his escape on Thursday night last, and with that object in view, about 11 o'clock set fire to the jail. The smoke soon became so oppressive that the prisoner raised the alarm, when a number of citizens gathered, who cut a hole in the ceiling and poured in water until the flames were extinguished. None of the prisoners escaped. Dishman was on Friday started to Raleigh, where he will take lodgings in the Penitentiary, to which he was last week sentenced by Judge Mitchell."

The Marriage of Pere Hyacinthe. [From the New York Herald.]

No more notable event has happened in the Catholic Church of late than the marriage of Pere Hyacinthe, known to all the world as a scholar, an orator, and a thoroughly honest and pure ecclesiastic. This sudden breaking of the bonds imposed by the Church and open renunciation of celibacy has caused intense excitement in the Catholic world, and the end will probably be excommunication. In the aplogy which he puts forth in action, he declares himself still unwaveringly faithful to the principles of the Catholic Church, but yet will in no manner be bound by its abuses, among which he is convinced that the most fatal are perpetual vows.

He says: "I owe to the rule of religious celibacy some of the most exquisite joys, some of the most profound and desirable experiences of my existence. From the age of eighteen, when I chose it, I have observed it with a fidelity for which I give glory to God. If now, at the age of forty-five—in the calmness as well as in the maturity of my judgment, of my heart, of my conscience—in a word, of my whole being—I believe myself bound to renounce it, it is that marriage comes home to me as one of those laws of the moral government of the world which can not be set aside without overturning the fabric of life, and without running counter to the will of God." Further on he says: "I will ever submit myself to the laws of the Church when I am not called upon to recognize as such what Jesus Christ, speaking to the Pharisees of the ancient people, already designated as 'the commandments of men which made of no effect the commandments of God.' It is fully admitted that celibacy is not an article of faith; it ought to be acknowledged that it is not even a matter of Catholic discipline, but merely of the discipline of the Latin Church. Even at this hour, in the East, the Catholic clergy are married with the full approbation of the Holy See." He closes in the following remarkable words: "I am nothing, O my God; but I feel myself called by Thee to break the chains which Thou hast not made, and which weigh so heavily, often alas! so shamefully on the holy tribe of Thy priesthood. I am a frail and fallible man; but, nevertheless, Thy grace hath made me strong to brave the tyranny of opinion, to refuse to bow before the prejudices of my time and country, and hath made me steadfast to act as though there were in the world nought save my conscience and Thee."

When the Democratic orators talk of forgiveness we are ready to listen to them, for forgiveness is a manly and a christian duty; but when they ask us to forget, they make a demand to which, without eradicating our manhood, it is impossible to accede. Is there anything to be ashamed of in the struggles of the Republic to govern itself that the citizens of the Republic should banish them from recollection? Was it a good deal to rebel? Was it a bad one to encounter and suppress rebellion?"

— Tribune, March 3, 1868.

"With the simple remark that, while no member of a partnership can of his own mere motion break up the concern, taking so much of its property as he considers his share, I WOULD CHEERFULLY HAVE CO-OPERATED WITH YOU in devising and promoting peaceful means of liberating the Cotton States from a hated bond, had they not chosen rather to break out, and to take with them whatever they could lay their hands on. I remain yours HORACE GREELEY." Letter to S. M. Hawkins, Grenada, Miss.—Tribune, March 20, 1851.

"THE Republicans uniformly testify that there was AN ORGANIZED AND ARMED CONSPIRACY, whereby they and especially the blacks, were deterred from voting—that offering to vote would have cost them their lives—that the Democrats were determined to carry the State for Seymour, and did carry it by SYSTEMATIC TERRORISM, against which the poor and humble dust did not contend. * * * Now, the Ku Klux organization may be active in this locality and dormant in that—may seem dead to day—AND BE REVIVED TO-MORROW—BUT THE KU KLUX SPIRIT STILL LIVES AT THE SOUTH AND IS VERY FORMIDABLE."—N. Y. Tribune.

LONDON, September 17.

A dispatch was received here, announcing the arrest by the German authorities yesterday, of Edmund About, the French author treated it as a trifling affair. It now appears, however, that the case presents a serious aspect, and creates considerable excitement.

About is confined at Strassburg, and his wife and children are not permitted to see him. The cause of arrest is said to be publication of articles from his pen on the German occupation of the French-Rheinish provinces which have afforded the latter government.

HUMANS share with HORSES the benefits derivable from the world-renowned MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT. The most irrefragable testimony establishes the fact that this wonderful balsam exerts the same soothing and healing influence when applied to the human system, that it does in cases of sprain, founder, ringbone, poll evil, scratches, wind gall and other ailments of the horse, which require outward treatment. It is, in fact, the most effectual of all external remedies for rheumatism, gout, stiffness of the neck, neuralgia, sore throat, swellings, cuts and bruises of all kinds.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Dec. 13, 1870.

DR. E. V. PIERCE: For the past six months I have used your Golden Medical Discovery in my practice, and in that time I have tested its merits in every case, both acute and chronic, in chronic diseases of the throat, severe cases of bronchitis, general derangement of the system, constipated condition of the bowels, and wherever a thorough alternative, or blood purifier, has been indicated. In all cases I have found it to act gently, yet thoroughly and effectually in removing the various diseased conditions, and bringing about a healthy action throughout the system. Yours fraternally,

H. L. HALL, M. D.
