THE TOWN CRIER.

— A delightful day.
— Delightful moonlight nights now days.
— Gold is quoted in New York today at 114.
— The Thermometer stood at noon today by the mark 78.
— Don't forget the meeting of the Commandry to-night.
— Very dull here for the lawyers.— Why don't somebody sue somebody?
— Lippincott's Magazine for October is unusually interesting. J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia.
— An exchange says that as the weather is getting cold you should see that your house is coaled also.
— A run away horse alarmed the frequenters of Front street last night. No one hurt—but a dangerous experiment.
— The Marshall has sailed out of the city again. If he does this much oftener, we shall apply for a habeas take'em.
— The spirits turpentine market is firmer to day, and tends upward under the advices received. See market reports.
— The Theatre repairs are progressing finely. We will soon have one of the neatest places of entertainment in the South.
— The Opera season has commenced in New York. Old Mario is again delighting Gotham, after an Enoch Arden absence.
— Steamship Lucille, Capt. Price, has arrived from Baltimore, with a full inward cargo. She leaves on her return trip to-morrow morning.
— When young men, who don't read much poetry, lose the society of their sweethearts, they manfully quote the title of popular love songs.
— The Star is frantically calling upon friends to organize. It will shriek under in November when it will have no party or no organization to direct it.
— Why do not the various choirs of the city get together and perfect an organization for the study of music? There is talent enough for a first class society.
— J. P. Sampson, editor of the Colonial Citizen, Washington, was assaulted today night by a powerful man named Graver. The affiant was arrested and a United States warrant was issued for his arrest.

The Star appears with its old head, which is more suitable. We failed to see the beauty of the miserable arrangement which has been lying at the head of the Star in its new dress, and congratulate its proprietor upon returning taste.

STATE ITEMS.

LARGE quantities of naval stores awaiting shipment at Fayetteville.

A good deal of brandy is being distilled in the western part of the State this year.

The fall term of the Superior Court of Craven county begins in New Bern next Monday.

FAYETTEVILLE is fixing to get ready to entertain the droves of hores and mules that the Eagle expects there this winter.

YOUNG Holmes who met with such a painful accident recently on the W. railroad and whose leg was amputated in consequence, is, we are happy to state, recovering.

The Charlotte Bulletin does not care for the assaults and slanders, posted from Charlotte for the New York Tribune, touching the Bulletin. Mercenary hirelings are always ready to lie when money is offered as a reward.

The Physicians of Randolph county have entered into a mutual agreement to keep a black book, containing the names of those who can and won't pay, and also those who are in the habit of changing their Doctors annually.

The Raleigh News says: "Chas. Loughlin, Esq., formerly a citizen of Warrington, N. C., was found dead on the streets of Norfolk, in front of Salisbury's shoe store, at an early hour yesterday morning, shot through the head with a ball, supposed to have been from a pistol.

We learn that a few days ago the new mill of John M. Johnson, Esq., on James Creek, some twenty eight miles west of Fayetteville, was struck by lightning and burned. Mr. Johnson's new mill was not completed, and much of the timbers was just ready to erect. The loss is some few hundred dollars.—Eagle.

The Fayetteville Eagle sensibly says: "Schools are especially needed in our State now more than at any former period. One great and constant duty, of our law makers should be to originate and provide the most simple, cheap and effective system of popular education. Every one in any station entrusted to any extent with the public welfare, should give this his best attention. We need and must have more practical colleges than formerly. Instead of so much Greek and Latin let us have more of the scientific and practical. Teach the German language, so our young people can transact business in the German settlements in Western States. Provide night schools for winter, exempt and promote teachers and give every indirect aid to scholars, so actual expenses may be less."

LATEST BY TELEGRAPH.

From Missouri.
St. Louis, Sept. 18.
A late Fort Smith Arkansas paper learns from a gentleman, just from the Creek nation, that the troubles there are coming to a head. Chief Chiste with his men, favorable to law and order, are in arms and are sustained by the United States troops, sent here from Fort Gibson. The entire party numbers 800 men.
The Sando party is also in arms, with nearly the same strength, and a collision is regarded almost inevitable. It is stated, if Sando's party attempts further resistance to law, no quarters will be given.

From California.
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 18.
Out of 550 jurors summoned a jury was at last obtained for the trial of Laura Fair DENYEN September 18.
On Saturday last, about 40 Sioux and Cheyennes attacked a Rancho seventy miles North East of Trinidad, Colorado, and murdered the family of the proprietor, who escaped to Fort Lyons. Troops were started immediately in pursuit of the savages. It is stated, if another band attacked the stock Rancho of James Bros., and all the stock had surrounded party in charge of herd of cattle, were fighting as best they could. Troops have gone to their relief.

Greeley's Partnership with Tweed.
It is now a week since we published the astounding history of Mr. Greeley's attempted blackmailing of the Tobacco Manufacturers' Association. During that time, no contradiction, no explanation, no excuse has been offered. The facts we alleged, therefore, must stand admitted as we know they must, for a judicial record is not easily disposed of by a flippant assertion that, like Doolittle's corruption, it was an "error of judgment and taste."

It is well, then, to again recall these admitted facts.

First—Mr. Greeley subscribed for five thousand dollars of the stock of the Company, for which he not only never paid a cent, but for which he never expected to pay a cent. He put his name down as a decoy to induce others to pay their money, and he succeeded.

Second—He consented to be, and acted as a Trustee of the Company with Tweed and Sants.

Third—When things appeared not to be going so prosperously as he had hoped, though the Company was perfectly solvent, and he and Tweed entered into a scheme, in connection with the Ring Attorney-General, Kraz Nathan and W. O. Bartlett, well known ring lawyers, to compel the Association to buy Tweed and Greeley off under threats in case they refused, of putting them into the hands of a receiver to be appointed by Cardozo.

Fourth—Tweed having sold out, Greeley unblushingly told them they must settle with Yeaton or they would have trouble. He did this, though Yeaton was judicially known to be a far from reputable man. When Yeaton was applied to, in order to see on what terms they could settle, the Company found that they were required to pay Greeley par for his stock, for which he had not paid one cent.

Fifth—Within a week after they refused to pay Greeley, Cardozo decided to appoint a receiver upon a motion which he had kept under advisement—that is waiting for Greeley and Graz to tell him when to decide it—for nearly three months.

Sixth—Only an accident and the strength of the reform movement prevented Greeley from ruining the Company.

Is this the kind of "Old Honesty" that the people want for President? We do not wonder that some of the stockholders, who subscribed upon the faith of Greeley's name, are meditating proceedings to compel him to pay up.—N. Y. Times.

When the Democratic orators talk of forgiveness we are ready to listen to them, for forgiveness is a manly and a christian duty; but when they ask us to forget, they make a demand to which, without eradicating our manhood, it is impossible to accede. Is there anything to be ashamed of in the struggles of the Republic to govern itself that the citizens of the Republic should banish them from recollection? Was it a good deal to rebel? Was it a bad one to encounter and suppress rebellion?—Tribune, March 8, 1868.

Humans share with Horses the benefits derivable from the world-renowned MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT. The most irrefragable testimony establishes the fact that this wondrous balm exerts the same soothing and healing influence when applied to the human cuticle, that it does in cases of sprains, founders, ringbone, poll evil, scratches, wind gall, and other ailments of the horse which require outward treatment. It is, in fact, the most effectual of all external remedies for rheumatism, gout, stiffness of the neck, neuralgia, sore throat, swellings, cuts and bruises of all kinds.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Dec. 13, 1870.
DR. R. V. PINNER: For the past six months I have used your Golden Medical Discovery in my practice, and in that time I have tested its merits in severe coughs, both acute and chronic, in chronic diseases of the throat—severe cases of bronchitis, general derangement of the system, constipated condition of the bowels, and wherever a thorough Alterative, or blood purifier, has been indicated. In all cases I have found it to act gently, yet thoroughly and effectually in removing the various diseased conditions, and bringing about a healthy action throughout the system. Yours fraternally,
H. L. HALL, M. D.

This medicine is sold by all respectable druggists in all parts of America.

MARRIAGE DOCTOR.

EVERY ONE HIS OWN DOCTOR.—Being a private instructor for married persons, or those about to be married, both male and female in everything concerning the physiology and relations of our sexual system, and the production and prevention of offspring, including all the new discoveries never before given in the English language, by WM. YOUNG, M. D. This is really a valuable and interesting work. It is written in plain language for the general reader, and is illustrated with numerous Engravings.—All young married people, or those contemplating marriage, and having the least impediment to married life, should read this book. It discloses secrets that every one should be acquainted with; still it is a book that must be locked up and not let lie about the house. It will be sent to any address on receipt of 50 cents.
