THE NORTH CAROLINA LEGIS- LATURE.

(Condensed from the News.)

SENATE.

SATURDAY, Jan'y 25, 1873.

The Senate was called to order at 11 o'clock, Lieutenant Governor Biogden in the chair.

Introduction of Bills.

By Mr. Avera, a bill for the better protection of the poor. Referred to the committee on Propositions and Grievances.

By Mr. Terry, a bill to aid planters, farmers, miners, manufacturers and others, in their respective vocations.— Referred to the committee on Agriculture, Mining, &c.

Rules Suspended.

On motion of Mr. Ellis, of Catawba, the rules were suspended and the House bill in favor of the commissioners of Madison county, providing for the payment by the State Treasurer of $150 for the support of John Sawyer, a lunatic, who was taken from the asylum and sent back to his county, was taken up on its second reading.

The bill passed its final reading by 38 ayes to 6 nays.

House resolution asking our Senators and Representatives in Congress to use their influence to prevent the repeal of the bankrupt law of the United States was taken up. Adopted by 28 yeas to 8 nays.

Special Order.

The consideration of the Midland North Carolina Railway Company was resumed.

The sixth section of the bill was then taken up. Several amendments were offered. Pending the discussion on the amendments, on motion of Mr. Humphrey the bill was recommitted to the committee.

The "Amnesty and Pardon bill" was taken up at 1 1/2 o'clock. The following amendment to the bill was offered by the committee, to strike out "or violation of the laws of the State of North Carolina."

Mr. Hyman offered an amendment to strike out first day of September, A. D.
1871, and insert in lieu thereof 29th day of January, A. D. 1870, which was intended to leave out the date of the so called Shotwell raid or disturbance.— Lost.

Mr. Seymour offered an amendment excluding from the provisions those who had committed murder, arson and burglary.

Mr. Allen hoped the amendment would not prevail, and replied to the statement made by Mr. Seymour yesterday that only those mentioned in the latter part of the names of organizations mentioned were guilty, and intimating that all of the Democratic party belonged to either one or the other of the organizations.— He said, admitting this proposition to be true, then all the Republican party must have belonged to the Leagues, and asked who it was that murdered Hunnicut and the Foster family?—negroes who belonged to the Leagues. It was useless for Republican members to attempt to show that no crime had been committed by the Leagues, or whatever they may be termed, when history speaks for itself.

Mr. Flemming did not expect to say anything on this bill when it was brought up, but wished to express his gratification that the amendment had been opposed by the Senator from Craven, as it gave him a better opportunity to reply to the opposition to the bill. Mr. Flemming continued at some length in which he reviewed the history of the organization named in the bill, the natural causes that led to this organization and deprecating both the causes that occasioned and the existence of the organizations, he thought for the preservation of peace and harmony, general amnesty should be granted.

Mr. Morehead, of Guilford, thought that if an amnesty was passed it should be complete, and therefore could not support Mr. Seymour's amendment.

Mr. Respass took the floor in opposition to the bill. He referred to the enormous crimes committed by the Ku Klux Klan, which was purely a political organization. He dwelt particularly upon the one result of their power, which was to change the General Assembly of 1871 to nearly two-thirds Democratic, when in 1869 it was two-thirds Republicans. For this and many other reasons he was opposed to the bill.

Mr. Merrimon followed Mr. Respass for the bill. He stated that he was never in any way connected with any secret political organization, and did not know that there were such organizations before the Holden trial.

But he knew there were such organization and had committed crime. If general rumor, newspaper reports and jury trials were to be believed the Union League had also committed crimes. They were all known to be political organizations and as these crimes were necessarily for political offences, why this solid opposition to the bill by the Republicans when they had proclaimed here on this floor so often for amnesty and pardon. Mr. Merrimon continued at some length in favor of the bill.

Mr. Harris again stated his objections to the bill, vindicated the Union League; referred to Horace Greeley as one of its founders, etc., etc.

Mr. Murphy replied at some length to

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

House called to order at the usual hour.

Journal of yesterday was read and approved.

Mr. Badger rose to a question of privilege in regard to statements in the Daily Sentinel, in reference to the bill to exchange stocks of the State for bonds with which such stocks were obtained. Mr. Badger denied the motives imputed to him by that paper. He stated that the assertion that the bill was introduced in the interest of any railroad corporation, was incorrect.

The bill of the Committee on Education, proposing amendments to the school law of 1872, being the unfinished business of yesterday, its consideration was resumed.

The debate was resumed upon the 23th section proposed by the committee for sections 25, 26 and 27 of the old bill.

On motion of Mr. Rhodes, the rules were suspended and the bill was again taken up, ordered to be printed and made special order for Tuesday next.
On motion the House adjourned.
