

THE TOWN CRIER.

Mild.
Awful dark last night.
A case of arson is to be tried next Court.
Most of the choirs had rehearsals last night.
Young Reeder, who was injured by a street car, is better.
How pleasant to the late laborer is the mournful howl of a dog!
Commercial Editors should not try to "bear" the market. It's naughty.
Alex. Lord was arrested on charge of larceny yesterday. Bond for $200.
Geo. Poisson, an escaped work house bird was captured yesterday, by R. N. VanSollen.
Only ten days more, including Sundays, in which suits can be brought to the April Court.
A riderless horse, saddled and bridled, dashing down Princess street, alarmed many last night.
The fire last night was the occasion of spoiling lots of good clothing among the well dressed firemen.
Wm. M. Poisson has resigned his position at the W. & W. R. R. and is to keep the books of Adrian & Vollers. They have got a first class accountant this time and no mistake.

ELEGANT, sweet, light, and wholesome Bread, Rolls, Biscuits, Corn Bread, Muffins, Buckwheat and other Griddle Cakes, and Pastry and Cakes, with Doolley's Yeast Powder. Sold by grocers.

DR. GEORGE H. WEST, a native of this city, a notice of whose graduation appeared in the Post some time since, will leave next Monday to take up his residence in Mansfield, La. He takes with him the best wishes of our people.

PRaisEWORTHY.—Twelve young gentlemen of the Hook and Ladder Company propose to organize a gymnasium, and to increase the organization in time, and make additions as fast as possible. This movement should have every possible encouragement.

INJUNCTION.—The bondholders resident in Charlotte, of the W., C. and R. R. R., have got out an injunction against the Referees appointed to sell here on the 10th of April, before Judge Logan, returnable on the 11th of April, at Charlotte. We will have something to say of this hereafter, but it seems rather strange that one Superior Court Judge should issue an injunction on the acts of another Superior Court Judge.

THE GALE.—A severe gale is blowing to day and we fear we will be called upon to chronicle some marine disasters. In the city, shade trees have been blown down and other trifling damage done. The buildings have suffered somewhat. The tin roof on the "Seaman's Home" was blown completely off and fell into Dock street with a terrific noise. No one hurt, but many startled. "Lippitt's Row" also suffered a similar disaster, the roof being blown off, but with no personal injury.

THE Superintendent of Public Instruction has issued his instructions to the County Board of Examiners. He decides that all teachers in the public schools must have new certificates.

The Board of Examiners for this county have decided to give, during the Spring, some instructions, which shall be free to all teachers in the county, and which shall precede the examination, so that all who desire certificates under the new and more rigid demand may have an opportunity to prepare themselves. The time and place of this drill will be announced.

We will give Prof. McIver's instructions a place in our columns in a few days.

FIRE.—The alarm of fire last night was caused by the burning of a lot of bags in the rear of Mr. C. W. Oldham's store house. Adjoining, was the ware room of W. I. Gore, in which was stored a quantity of peanuts. Dr. Jno. D. Bellamy had also stored in the building, about 2,500 bushels of peanuts covered by insurance and mostly ruined. On arriving at the ground, the smoke was so dense the firemen could not locate the fire, and played into the building. The consequence was, damage by water. With the river at hand and three fire engines at work, there was little danger of the spread of the flames. Mr. Oldham is insured for $2,000 and Mr. Gore for $7,000, so that they will not sustain much loss. The building was owned by Mr. Murphy and damaged about $300. No insurance.

CITY FREE SCHOOL COMMITTEE.—The Committee met last night at the office of the Chairman on Market street, four members present.

A resolution was adopted appointing a committee of four to examine and report what number and kind of school houses are required; what amount may be judiciously expended for buildings; and generally to take into consideration the whole matter of the establishment of schools at different points in the city. Information was received of the payment of the State fund to the County of 20 cents per pupil. Of this, $312 40 goes to the city; also, of the allowance of $2,000 from the Peabody fund. It is expected, with a small tax levied by the city, an excellent system can be commenced in October next, and that thereafter no parent will have cause to complain that the children of our city are deprived of means of instruction.

COTTON FACTORIES.—There seems an ominous lull in the exertions of our citizens regarding the establishment of cotton mills in Wilmington. We protest against this inaction. Our bread and butter depends upon some new enterprise. It is time now to commence, so that we may be ready for operation in October next. Let one mill be started this fall and in five years we look for twenty mills to be in successful working operation. Our country people have made money, and will gladly aid Wilmingtonians to build up the chief city of the State. There are few sources of profitable investment now, and, as money gets plenty, it will be more difficult to find suitable dividend paying stocks. There is no doubt about the profits of cotton manufacturing in this section. Our advantages are much greater than the country outside of the city affords. We are in a cotton market. We have plenty of labor, we have business men. Let us have cotton factories.

STATE ITEMS.

GIBSONVILLE now has a flourishing Lodge of Good Templars.

By Cable. LONDON, March 29. The race between the Oxford and Cambridge boat crews to take place this afternoon on the river Thames. As usual in the case on such occasions, there is great excitement in London, and business is almost entirely neglected. Although the race will not come off for some hours, yet the people are now leaving the city in great crowds, in order to secure eligible positions on the banks of the Thames, from which to view the contest. A dense fog prevails this morning but it is hoped that it will lift before the hour designated for a start. It is the general impression that the Cambridge crew will be the victors, and the betting is two to one in their favor.

LONDON, March 29, 2 p. m. The Oxford crew has suddenly become the favorites for the University race. There are rumors that the CONTABS have been overworked, and that some of the crew are sick. LATER—The race was won by the Cambridge crew by three lengths.

"The Immortal No" is dead. Hon. Joseph Powell died at Greenville, Tenn., lately, after an eventful life, and one act in it entitles him to an immortality of fame. He served in the South Carolina Legislature, and was the only man who voted "No" at a public meeting that passed the nullification resolutions. A gold headed cane was presented to him inscribed "The Immortal No." During the rebellion he served in Burnside's army, and was imprisoned at Richmond. There was Unionism that cost a man something, and the head of every loyal man should be uncovered as he passes the grave of "The Immortal No"—Hon. Joseph Powell.

Mr. A. J. Ellis, chief clerk of the Attorney General's Office, is about preparing a new register containing the names, &c., of all the employees connected with that office. The police department, which comes under the supervision of the Attorney General on the 1st of next July comes too late to be included in the publication.
