

The Evening Post.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

Saturday, May 24th, 1873.

The Raleigh News ought to know how it is itself. The National Republican at Washington, claiming to be a Republican newspaper, is devoting its influence—what it has—to slandering Senator Pool and other gentlemen who failed to vote to give the Congressional Printing to that paper.

The Journal denies that it advocated the $1,000,000 appropriation to the Charlotte Road, which was passed at the Convention of 1868, while Colonel Cowan was President of the Road.

The Journal adds that it never asked anything from the Legislature of 1868 and 1869. We never claimed that it did, and here is where the Journal persists in doing injustice to Gen. Abbott, who was elected to the U. S. Senate before any appropriations were passed by the Legislature, and consequently voted for none.

It is said of an old man who was criticizing a preacher, that he declared that he could preach if they would only give him a chance. So it was agreed, and on Sabbath morning he ascended the pulpit and read his text, but could get no farther. After stammering a while, he suddenly exclaimed, "Well brethren, if you think its easy to preach, just come up here and try it."

We like an honest criticism of public men. Such things are beneficial, and that is about all the use the Democratic party can be put to. The Salary Act has attracted much attention, and has been condemned by most Republican Conventions and Legislatures throughout the country.

Some of our exchanges are wondering if Grant will disgorge that $100,000 which was his share of the salary grab. Of course he will—as soon as Radicals become honest.

Now, will the Messenger be kind enough to explain to us how the President could claim $100,000 under the act? We defy it to show any such clause in the act, or to show that the President drew a dollar in excess of his salary during his past term.

The Quartermaster General, who has charge of all national cemeteries, states that they have not been placed under the sole charge of the Grand Army on Decoration Day, but that all organized processions or parties desiring to take part in the ceremonies will be admitted.

The ladies of the Episcopal church at Weldon will have a Feast and Fair on the 27th inst.

Tennessee Justice. Upon reading our report of the man who had been in Court, a few days since, a friend told us the following true anecdote, which we believe has never appeared in print:

In the primitive days of Tennessee, a log cabin was used as a Court House. It is known that Tennessee was a daughter of North Carolina and adopted her code of laws, among which, as a corrective of crime, the stocks and whipping post were brought into frequent requisition.

A delegation of Gaugers called upon Commissioner Douglass Wednesday for the purpose of urging him to reconsider his ruling reducing their pay from nine to six dollars per day. The Commissioner declined on the ground that an increase of pay would create a deficiency in his appropriation.

EDITORIAL BUDGET.

The case of J. W. Norton charged with embezzling $11,500 from the post office, will be tried at the October term of the United States Circuit Court.

The body of an unfortunate man was found in the river at Harbeck street Brooklyn. From the fact that the dead man had a deep gash over his right eye it is suspected that he met his death by foul play.

Henry Coulter has accepted a challenge of Wm. Scharff to row a five-mile race for $2,000, and articles were signed in Pittsburg on Wednesday night that the contest take place August 2nd, near Pittsburg.

At a meeting of the King's county supervisors, Supervisor Johnson said he discovered $288,883 expended off the penitentiary in 1868, 1869 and 1870; which was $30,000 more than the law authorized. Among the items was one of $20,000 for work done for which no trace was found.

The counsel of Taintor, the defaulting cashier of the Atlantic bank, moved to quash the indictment against the prisoner on the ground that the exact amount of the alleged embezzlement is not stated, and the exact denominations of the bills withdrawn from the bank is not given. Decision reserved.

The arrest of Price, the correspondent of the New York Herald, in Havana, and the refusal to allow his counsel and friends to communicate with him, has revived the question of the power of the Government to try foreigners according to Spanish law, by which the testimony of witnesses is taken by the judge without publicity, and prisoners are compelled to answer written interrogatories without knowing the charge against them or who are their accusers.

During the ceremonies of laying the corner stone of a new Catholic Church in Shamokin, Pa., on the 22d inst., a portion of the temporary flooring, which had been erected for the accommodation of the vast multitude, gave way and precipitated into the basement beneath a large number of persons. It is impossible to give the names and the number of injured, but it is supposed that only six are seriously hurt.

The Quartermaster General, who has charge of all national cemeteries, states that they have not been placed under the sole charge of the Grand Army on Decoration Day, but that all organized processions or parties desiring to take part in the ceremonies will be admitted.

WASHINGTON NOTES.

Senator Hamlin having at the adjournment of Congress, and since, declined to receive the additional compensation for the past Congress, the same has been covered into the Treasury by the Secretary of the Senate.

Dispatches received at the Navy Department, from the Asiatic station, state that the Hartford has arrived on the station, and that Admiral Jenkins had transferred his flag from the Lackawanna to the Hartford.

Several members of the syndicate called on Secretary Richardson Wednesday, and notified him that the syndicate were fully prepared to meet its obligations on the first of June. It has not yet been decided when the second call of bonds will be issued.

Secretary Robeson left here Wednesday morning for New York and will probably return on Monday. No telegrams have been received from the Frolic since her departure from New York. Her commander was instructed to telegraph his arrival at and departure from St. Johns.

A delegation of Gaugers called upon Commissioner Douglass Wednesday for the purpose of urging him to reconsider his ruling reducing their pay from nine to six dollars per day.

General Sweet, first deputy commissioner, assumed his official duties after a somewhat protracted official visit West. During his absence he visited Salt Lake City, and had a protracted interview with Brigham Young. He says that the rumors which have been circulated regarding Young's resignation of the presidency of the Mormon people is without foundation.

PROSPECTUS.

THE EVENING POST

ENTERS UPON ITS SECOND VOLUME with indications of enlarged future usefulness. The past year has demonstrated that a DAILY REPUBLICAN NEWSPAPER can be made self supporting, and that it is consequently independent of all rings or combinations. THE EVENING POST will labor for the welfare of this portion of North Carolina with renewed vigor.

INTERNAL IMPROVEMENTS Calculated to improve the condition of the people, and strongly favorable to

as its course during the past year has shown, and it commends itself to all the people now on earth who believe in progress, as a co worker for the material interests of North Carolina.

The columns of THE POST, are offered to the advertising public as a first class investment for liberal dealers, who wish to extend their trade. Such men eschew politics, and place their announcements "where they will do the most good" among the people. THE POST does not claim that it is the only advertising medium in this city, but it does claim that it enables merchants to reach of buyers, which can be done in no other way, and dealers consulting their own interests will patronize the advocates of both political parties.

THE EVENING POST hopes to gain the reputation of being a Live Newspaper.

in its broadest sense, and to commend itself to the people, irrespective of political predilections, as a news paper to be sought for by every one desiring the very latest intelligence.

While the editors of THE EVENING POST are firm believers in

they have shown during the past year, even during the heated political campaign, through which they have passed, a firm belief in the

RIGHTS OF OPINION,

Inherent to every man in the State—Liberal to its opponents, acknowledging their full rights of free thought, it claims the same for itself, and equal justice of criticism at their hands. This policy will be in the future as in the past, the rule and guide of its faith.

Experience having proved the soundness of a cheap daily paper, THE EVENING POST will be offered at the following TERMS: Daily, One Year, $5 00 " Six Months, 3 00 " Three Months, 1 50 Weekly, One Year, 1 00 " Six Months, 50 Cash invariably in advance.
