

Our citizens are aware that the Rev. C. O. Brady, a colored man, is a regularly ordained deacon of the Episcopal church, and is at present in charge of St. Mark's church of this city. He was educated in Boston and ordained in Connecticut, from which State he was transferred to North Carolina, where our good Bishop thinks he is worthy to preach the gospel of Christ. Mr. Brady has traveled over considerable of the United States, over the finest roads and on the finest steamers in the world, but it remained for a steamer on the Cape Fear river to be the first occasion of a refusal of accommodating on account of color. Mr. Brady desired to go to the convention, which convenes to-day at Fayetteville, and went to the steamer Hort about starting for Fayetteville, and asked for a state room. He was informed that they were all engaged. This was probably all proper enough as the steamer was crowded. Mr. Brady then asked if he could come up on the upper or cabin deck, but was refused. He was informed that by a recent regulation on that boat, colored men were not permitted to go upon the upper deck! He was kindly referred to the steamer Leo, which made no objections, and he went there, and was informed that they had no accommodations, and shoved off. And so a gentleman, a resident of Wilmington for nearly four years, a minister of the gospel, and a very talented one at that, was denied the poor privilege of riding in the cabin or on the upper deck of a Cape Fear steamer. We have traveled on magnificent steamers plying Long Island Sound, from New York to Fall River, and have seen colored men and women in the cabins. We have seen them on every good rail road line from Boston to Wilmington, occupying first class cars, but on the second deck of a Cape Fear river steamer, a clergyman is denied admittance, because God Almighty made him with a darker skin than He did some of the rest of His people! We think we need a small edition of the civil rights bill down here.

We must confess the above statement is very surprising to us. We did not deem it possible that a colored gentleman would be subjected to such treatment at this age of the world, and would have hesitated to publish it, had not Mr. Brady himself been our informant.

There appears to be a very serious trouble among our Methodist brethren in this community, which has assumed so large proportions as to almost supersede all other topics of conversation. The rumors, reports, and insinuations have been rife for some time, but they finally culminated in certain advertisements in the morning papers, so that the trouble became public property. We remained silent because we never interfere in family quarrels, if we can avoid it, but as the excitement seems to remain at fever heat, and with no apparent chance of adjustment, we feel called upon to have our little say in relation to the matter. The Post sides neither with the right or with the left in this matter, but it begs to remind these Christians who are quarreling "for the love of God," that it seems as if the Christian character—as defined by the example of our blessed Lord and Master—was completely lost sight of. This publicity can work no good, but must prove of very serious damage to the professions made by Christians who advocate this cause. We dislike to see wrangling among sinners, but of them we expect nothing good. We cannot see how it can do any good to the church, or to the cause of the Lord, to have the members of the church quarrel, and to have the members of the church quarrel, and to have the members of the church quarrel.

WAR DEPARTMENT, Washington City, May 24, 1873. The Quartermaster General of the Army: Sir: The national cemetery at Arlington will, on the 30th day of May, for the purpose of strewing flowers upon and decorating the graves of deceased Union soldiers, be under the control of the organization known as the Grand Army of the Republic, and the cemetery will on that day be reserved for that purpose. All organized processions or parties desiring to visit the cemetery for the purpose of decorating graves other than those named above, can be admitted on any day subsequent to the one above named, upon proper application. Very respectfully, your obedient servant, Wm. W. BELKNAP, Secretary of War.

QUARTERMASTER GENERAL'S OFFICE, Washington City, May 24, 1873. Official copy, respectfully furnished Mr. F. H. Sprague, commander Department of Potomac, G. A. R., Pension office, Washington, D. C., for his information. By order of Quartermaster General, J. D. BINGHAM, Quartermaster U. S. A.

EDITORIAL BUDGET.

Reports from Fairchild's state that Captain Jack is north of the Pitt River country with twenty-five warriors, who say they will die with their rifles in their hands. General Davis has ordered the troops to go in pursuit of the savages. General Gillem has been ordered to proceed to the headquarters of his regiment at Benicia. Colonel Wheaton has been reinstated. It is thought half a dozen Modocs were lately near camp, waiting to surrender. The savages who are still free have broken into small bands. Movements of the soldiers will be made accordingly.

The following news has been received from the Rio Grande: Nothing extraordinary has transpired since the raid. General McKenzie reached Fort Clark with his command and prisoners last Wednesday. The prisoners were forwarded to San Antonio on Thursday, guarded by a company, and will probably arrive to-day. The excitement on the Mexican side is great, and when the news was received of McKenzie's movements the population was very indignant. A large force was organized, and carriers sent to the interior towns calling for volunteers to intercept McKenzie, but he was too quick for them, and recrossed the river safely. The guide, Juan Green, arrived at Fort Clark on Thursday evening. He reports that the Indians are assembling on the bank vowing destruction to the residents on the Texas side, and notifying Mexicans living on the Texas side to vacate their ranches and cross the river lest they be murdered among those to be attacked. It is also reported that the Lipan Indians, from the Remalino reservation, are assembling 300 strong contiguous to the Rio Grande ostensibly for treaty purposes with the Mexicans, but the inference on this side is widely different from the above reports. It is but natural that the people resident on the frontier should have grave apprehensions. The settlers in the most exposed localities are already removing their families, and doubtless some settlements would be vacated altogether but for the protection offered them by the military. Troops are now stationed at the most important crossings. Those remaining at Fort Clark are getting in readiness to proceed to any point at a moment's notice. The action of Gen. McKenzie gives assurance of full protection. Probably the excitement among the Mexicans will subside, as it is reported that Generals Fanchan, Rodriguez and other leaders among the Mexicans on the frontier are exercising their influence to keep peace, not only arguing the question of United States troops crossing the river after hostile Indians, but actually favoring the cooperation of the Mexican forces with them when attacking the Indians in their camping grounds.

WASHINGTON NOTES.

A special agent sent out to the Indians in Idaho reports to the Indian office that the Shoshones and Bannock are off their reservation and near the settlements, but are peaceably disposed.

Nothing has yet been heard from ex-Governor Jewell, of Connecticut, as to whether he will accept the Russian mission, which has been tendered him, but it is the impression in Washington that he will do so.

The following is the financial exhibit of the Treasury Department at the close of business Tuesday: Currency, $1,394,913.43; special deposits of legal tenders for redemption of certificates of deposit, $29,095,000; coin, $74,142,478.38; including coin certificates, $26,500,000; outstanding legal tenders, $356,425,878. The receipts from internal revenue sources yesterday were $824,320.83.

The Secretary of War has issued, through the Quartermaster General of the Army, to this department of the Grand Army of the Republic, the following order relating to the decoration of the graves of Union soldiers at Arlington, on the 30th instant:

WAR DEPARTMENT, Washington City, May 24, 1873. The Quartermaster General of the Army: Sir: The national cemetery at Arlington will, on the 30th day of May, for the purpose of strewing flowers upon and decorating the graves of deceased Union soldiers, be under the control of the organization known as the Grand Army of the Republic, and the cemetery will on that day be reserved for that purpose.

All organized processions or parties desiring to visit the cemetery for the purpose of decorating graves other than those named above, can be admitted on any day subsequent to the one above named, upon proper application. PROSPECTUS.

THE EVENING POST. ENTERS UPON ITS SECOND VOLUME with indications of enlarged future usefulness. The past year has demonstrated that a

DAILY REPUBLICAN NEWSPAPER can be made self supporting, and that it is consequently independent of all rings or combinations. THE EVENING POST will labor for the welfare of this portion of North Carolina with renewed vigor. THE POST is a warm advocate of INTERNAL IMPROVEMENTS. Calculated to improve the condition of the people, and strongly favorable to

IMMIGRATION, AGRICULTURE and EDUCATION, as its course during the past year has shown, and it commends itself to all the people now on earth who believe in progress, as a co-worker for the material interests of North Carolina.

The columns of THE POST, are offered to the advertising public as a first class investment for liberal dealers, who wish to extend their trade, seek new customers, and place their advertisements "where they will do the most good" among the people. THE POST does not claim that it is the only advertising medium in this city, but it does claim that it enables merchants to reach

ALL CLASSES of buyers, which can be done in no other way, and dealers consulting their own interests will patronize the advocates of both political parties.

THE EVENING POST hopes to gain the reputation of being a Live Newspaper.

in its broadest sense, and to commend itself to the people, irrespective of political predilections, as a news paper to be sought for by every one desiring the very latest intelligence. While the editors of THE EVENING POST are firm believers in

SOUND REPUBLICAN DOCTRINE, they have shown during the past year—every during the heated political campaign, through which they have passed, a firm belief in the RIGHTS OF OPINION, inherent to every man in the State.—Liberal to its opponents, acknowledging their full rights of free thought, it claims the same for itself, and equal justness of criticism at their hands. This policy will be in the future as in the past, the rule and guide of its faith. Experience having proved the soundness of a cheap daily paper, THE EVENING POST will be offered at the following

TERMS: Daily, One Year, $5 00 " Six Months, 3 00 " Three Months, 1 50 Weekly, One Year, 1 00 " Six Months, 50 Cash invariably in advance. Business letters should always be addressed to W. P. CANADAY, Manager. Correspondence, of all sorts, should be addressed to J. C. MANN, Editor. may 20 1—1/2

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

HEALTH ORDINANCE. SECTION 10TH. All cellars, excavations, or open spaces, underlying any building in which water at any time stagnates or rises, or wholesome air is generated or found, shall, upon the notification and requirement of the Mayor or (whichever shall be his duty to give) be filled up by the owners thereof to the level of the street or alley adjoining thereto, with sand or gravel, or some other imperishable substance. And all lots on which water remains and stagnates, or which are generally wet and damp, and all lots situated below the level of the adjacent street or alley, and from which there is no suitable drain or outlet, of a permanent character, sufficient to vent water from the same, shall, upon like notification and requirement (which shall be the duty of the Mayor or of any officer authorized by the Mayor or of any other officer, or so drained by gutters, culverts or drains as to be kept free from water or dampness.

Every person failing to comply with the foregoing provisions of this section, after notification and requirement from the Mayor, shall forfeit and pay twenty dollars for each day of every day of such failure; and moreover, shall pay the cost and expense of filling up or draining as aforesaid, which, upon such failure, the Mayor shall cause to be done at the expense of the city. All occupants of houses with cellars, and if there be no occupants, then the owners, shall cause all dirt, filth and rubbish to be removed, filled up, or otherwise disposed of as often as they shall be notified and required by the Mayor so to do. All occupants, and if there be no occupants, then the owners of all stores, shops and warehouses, shall remove therefrom all fish, beef, pork, hides, or other matter or articles, or any other matter or substance, which is or may be, or may tend to corrupt the atmosphere, and shall ventilate and cleanse their building whenever notified and required by the Mayor. All persons keeping one or more cows, horses or hogs within the limits of the city, shall keep their stables, yards, pens or enclosures in which such animals usually stand or are kept, and thoroughly cleaned; and once in every fortnight, they shall remove the filth and offal from the same beyond the limits of the city. No person shall, in any public, not some or offensive matter or substance of any kind, to remain or be upon the lot or premises occupied by him, but shall immediately remove the same beyond the limits of the city. All privies or necessary houses, or places used as such, shall be emptied or cleaned out, or otherwise disposed of, in his absence, by the owner of the lot on which such privy may be. No owner of any lot shall suffer any manure or other weeds to grow thereon; but all lots shall be kept clear therefrom by the owners. No person shall place, deposit, throw, pour or convey by any drain or gutter, into or upon any street, alley, wharf, or other public place within the city, any dead animal, offal, garbage, or any other matter or substance, which may be, or may tend to corrupt the atmosphere, or may be, or may tend to be, offensive to the smell or injurious to health; nor shall any person keep, or suffer to remain, any such things in his yard or premises, or in or upon his yard or lot more than twenty-four hours. Every person violating any of the provisions of this section, shall forfeit and pay twenty dollars.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, CITY OF WILMINGTON, N. C. May 26th, 1873. THE ABOVE health ordinance is published for the information of the citizens, and that it is strictly enforced. The Marshal will immediately have any lot, cellar or vacant house in the city inspected, and if the owners or occupants, or any other persons, are found to be in violation of the ordinance, he will keep four (4) carts on the streets cleaning up for the next two weeks. Persons having large lots of garbage to be placed in receptacles for the carts, and information left at the Marshal's office, he will have it removed at once. Disinfectants can be had by applying at the City Hall. W. P. CANADAY, Mayor.
