For the past week there have been 16 carts in market.

At the First Baptist Church to-morrow night (Sunday), after the sermon the ordinance of baptism will be administered.

IMPROVING.—Eddie, the little son of Mr. Turlington, who fell from the window of a two-story house a day or two ago, is steadily improving.

ONLY 978 persons have listed their taxes up to date, which is not one-fourth. The time is limited to the 20th instant, and delinquents had better take warning.

STAGE ACCIDENT.—We interviewed a gentleman this morning, who was one of the passengers on the stage, between Wadesboro and Charlotte, that was overturned a few days ago, and which the horses ran away with afterwards, completely demolishing it. He says that there were seven in the stage including the driver, and that five of them were more or less hurt, the driver and one of the passengers escaping uninjured. Mr. Williams, our informant has a very ugly scratch upon his right cheek, and his spine was injured to some extent. Mr. Thomas Leak seems to have been the worst sufferer, he having had his left arm broken in two places, and receiving internal injuries of a grave character.

QUITE cool to-day.

VERY few vessels in port.

VERY fair market this morning.

THE planking of North Water street continues.

SIXTY reynards were captured this last season around Wilmington.

THE chain-gang are to work over in Brooklyn to-day, improving the streets.

Mr. F. M. KING has been appointed by his Excellency, a Notary Public of this city.

SOME of our street crossings are in an almost impassible condition, just after a heavy rain.

AN eagle was shot near Hilton yesterday afternoon, that measured five feet from tip to tip.

HANDS are busily engaged preparing to lay a pavement on Second, between Market and Princess streets.

WE are glad to learn that Mr. R. L. Sellers is some better to-day, though he is still confined to his house.

THE steamer North State will be down next week, and the Murchison will be laid up for repairs on Monday.

TREMENDOUS freshet in the Cape Fear river. At Fayetteville yesterday morning the water had risen forty-five feet, and still rising.

SNOW.—There have been heavy snow storms in Kentucky and Tennessee, which accounts for the cool weather we are now experiencing in this section.

THE debris on the corner of Market and Second streets has been cleared away, and the erection of a three-story brick building will at once be begun.

THE sailor who was shot a few days ago is at the Poor House, where he receives all attention requisite. He is said to be recovering from his wounds rapidly.

NEW LODGE.—D. D. G. M. Andrews of Cape Fear Lodge No. 2, I. O. O. F., will organize a new lodge of this Order at Elizabethtown, Bladen county, in a few days.

SABBATH SCHOOL scholars, remember that all of you who intend to participate in the Grand Charity Concert, on Wednesday evening next, are requested to assemble in the Session Room of the First Presbyterian Church, this afternoon at 4 o'clock for practice.

TWO women, one white and the other colored, are serving out their time of sentence on the street force. They are both cleansing windows and scouring at the City Hall to-day. Better keep them at this, than putting them to work upon the streets.

IT has been said "That music hath charms to soothe a Savage" and a friend adds "To split a rock and burst a cabbage." It is unnecessary for us to tell our readers that our friend is quite a poetical genius, of that fact, we feel assured they are already convinced.

STILL AHEAD.—The Star man tells his readers this morning, that he has heard of a cow only twenty-one months old, that gave birth to a calf. If Bro. Muse will call at the Post he can hear of a cow that at the age of sixteen months, gave birth to a full size, well fomed calf. "This beats the Star's cow all hollow."

COUNTERFEITER.—Antone Freeman, a deserter from the German Barque Claudia, who was arrested last night for passing counterfeit money, is confined in jail, where he will remain until his confederates are captured, if possible, when he will be tried before Justice Cassidy U. S. Commissioner.

CONFINED.—Wm. Cole was arrested and brought before the Mayor this morning, charged with not having paid his regular monthly license tax as huckster, for the past twelve months. The Mayor ordered him to settle up at once, or give bond for his appearance before Court Monday morning; both of which he refused to comply with, threatening the officials with the law at the same time. His Honor ordered him locked up in the guard house until Monday, in the mean time he will be released, should he consent to give bail.

Mayor's Court.

His Honor W. P. CANADAY, Mayor, presiding.

ONLY two cases appeared for trial this morning, they were continued over until Monday morning.

SOME.—What a city we can boast of when our road to the Sound is completed, cotton factory established, water works in order, an iron span placed where "Boney Bridge" now stands, a steam ferry at Market dock, two ice houses in our city, a new post office, an elegant Market house, the street railroad south of Market street, a city park, our harbor improved, and to cut short our business, a complete reorganization of our police force. When, oh when shall we enjoy all this?

TRODDEN DOWN. A Novel. By Mrs. C. J. Newby. This is the fourth volume of the new, cheap and popular edition of the celebrated novels by Mrs. C. J. Newby, now in course of publication by T. B. Peterson & Brothers, Philadelphia. "Trodden Down" is a bright and pleasing story, pure in tone, and commendable in spirit. The plot is dramatic, and the manner of its telling, spirited. "Trodden Down," is issued in a large octavo volume, price fifty cents, and is for sale at Heinsberger's Live Book Store.

WHERE, OH, WHERE!—This morning near 12 o'clock we descried a tremendous crowd assembled on the sidewalk in front of a dry goods store, on Market, between Front and Water streets, and upon enquiring the cause, we were told that a clerk in the store and a countryman had had a rough and tumble combat, the clerk coming off victorious. So dense was the crowd, that without exaggeration—as our readers know full well, that is something a local is never given to—a red bug would have found it impossible to elbow his majesty through, but as usual, of late, no policeman was on hand, although, when we arrived on the spot, the fight had been over for some time, and the participants had fled. About an hour after everything had become calm, one of our valiant and ever-alert officers, like an old cow's tail, always behind, with a "biled" shirt on, and that full of gold or brass studs, was seen coming around the corner, but upon his arrival on the bloody field, he found that the birds had flown. The question that suggested itself was, where, oh, where? are the police? Answer—some suspended, and the rest of them home in their "little beds."

CONCERNING the case of Miss Phillis Williams, who, as it was stated in the Star and other papers, to have been lying under a spiritual influence from the 3rd to the 10th instant, without eating or drinking, except an egg and a little water. I fully acknowledge all this to be true, and, withal, I acknowledge the final resurrection of the above, and giving a full statement of her whereabouts while under religious influence. She stated, on her resurrection, that she had been under the influence of the Spirit of the Holy Ghost for said time, and is now able to give publicity to the world of what she received while under said influence. It is as follows: On Friday, the 3d inst., under the influence of the Gospel, preached by Rev. Isaac King, I felt the power of my sins, which caused me to fall to the ground, and while there, my spirit left temporarily this mortal body, and sought a place for a while among the spirits, both above and below, and while there I said things unutterable; things pertaining to this life, and also of that which is to come, and after seeing all of the above I was caused to yield to that power which controled, not only me, but the whole world, (which power I agree is the power of the living God) which no man can deny, wrought upon me a powerful influence, under which I publicly confess I received the remission of my sins, for which I feel thankful to our God, who made us all, and is able to do for us more abundantly than we are able to ask or worthy to receive. Now I, Phillis Williams, am a redeemed soul from hell, and washed in the blood of the Lamb of God. I thank God that I did stay under the influence of the Spirit from Friday 3d to Friday 10th, for by it I received eternal salvation, through the Son of God. And would that all men could say, even as I can at this time, that after staying under the influence of the Holy Spirit for eight days and nights, the Lord has redeemed them from eternal destruction in hell. With me all is well, and hope my deliverance may enhance the salvation of many others. A curious case.

W. H. B.

THERE have been slaughtered and brought to Market the past week—beefes, 27; hogs, 16; sheep, 9.

RESUSCITATED.—The colored girl, Phillis Williams, aged about eighteen years, a native of Duplin county, of whom it was stated fell in a trance on Friday, April 3d, revived yesterday morning about 10 o'clock. We are informed of the particulars by a responsible person, and give them as they were told to us. She informed her friends that something wonderful would take place, that she would dwell in Heaven for a time, and that on the 9th day she would revive, which she did on yesterday. She has lain prone on the floor of Ebenezer Church, on Seventh, between Orange and Ann streets, tasting neither food nor drink, until yesterday afternoon she was prevailed upon to drink a cup of coffee; and although she has taken nothing for the sustenance of life for eight days, she to all appearance is in the enjoyment of good health, and to look at her one would be astonished to think such a thing possible. Upon reviving she jumped several feet high, and left the church, since which time she has been going to and fro, visiting her friends and acquaintances, until at last she called upon the pastor of the church, and completely surprised him to see what a wonderful change had been effected in her talk. She, in company with some eighteen others, will be immersed at the dock, foot of Queen street to-morrow (Sunday) afternoon at 3 o'clock.

WILMINGTON COTTON MILLS—ORGANIZATION OF THE COMPANY.—In accordance with advertisement, the stockholders of the Wilmington Cotton Mills met at the bank of New Hanover at 4 p. m. yesterday for the purpose of organization.

On motion of Col. J. W. Atkinson, Mr. E. Kidder was called to the Chair and Mr. Norwood Giles appointed to act as Secretary.

By request, Mr. W. A. French made some remarks relative to the cost of construction and equipment of the factory.

It was then suggested by Dr. A. J. DeRosset, that in lieu of entering into details, the meeting proceed to the more important work of the election of a Board of Directors, to whom shall be left the minor details.

Col. J. W. Atkinson moved that Mr. D. McRae and the Secretary be appointed to ascertain the number of shares of capital stock represented at the meeting, with a view of adopting a Charter and set of By-Laws for the government of the Company.

It appearing that (633) six hundred and ninety-three shares were represented in person, being a majority, the meeting was declared regularly organized.

Mr. W. A. Wright then read a Charter and a set of By-Laws, which were voted on seriatim and adopted.

On Mr. W. A. French's motion, the meeting proceeded with the election of seven Directors, which resulted in the election of the following gentlemen: Edward Kidder, A. J. DeRosset, F. W. Kerchner, J. H. Chadburn, Donald McRae, S. N. Martin, W. A. French. No other business appearing, the meeting adjourned.

The Board of Directors held a meeting after the adjournment of the stockholders' and elected Donald McRae as President and Wm. A. French as Vice-President, and resolved to call in an installment of five per cent. on the capital stock, to be paid at the office of the President on the 25th inst.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, April 11.

A dispatch from St. John's, N. F., in relation to the accident on the sealing steamer Tigress, gives the following report of the Captain of the steamer Panther, the vessel which brought the intelligence to St. Johns: "On the 3rd inst., the Panther was in long. 51, deg. 15, min. west latitude 50 deg 22 min. north on her return to St. Johns. The lookout reported a steamer, apparently moving only under sail, and as we approached her it was discovered that she had her flags at half-mast, subsequently, and after signaling her I ordered a boat to be lowered and went on board myself, when I discovered her to be the steamer Tigress of Polaris fame. Her Captain and chief officers were on deck when I got on board. I was then informed that on April 2nd, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, the vessel was shaken all over by a terrific explosion of a boiler, which created quite a terror and confusion as the escaped steam completely enveloped every compartment below and in consequence all steam facilities had been destroyed, and they had then been under sail against a head wind for twenty-four hours, and when I reached the deck of the Tigress I observed that a number of men were employed on carpenter's work, making up and nailing together a number of rough pine wood boxes and asked the commander what they were for, and he said they were designed for receiving the bodies of the unfortunate men who had been killed by accident on the day of the explosion.

Said the Captain of the Tigress to me: The weather was dreadfully cold and rough, a breeze blowing and heavy swell on. A number of men had gone below after their watch and had turned in on the top of the boiler for the sake of the warmth; 19 of the crew were reposing in this way when the crash occurred, and some of them were literally scalded beyond recognition. The consternation was fearful. The two engineers were on duty at the time and both were killed.

We left there on the afternoon of the 3rd, making for land under sail, and promised to report the disaster immediately on our arrival. I did not ascertain the names of the men as all the officers of the Tigress appeared in great grief and could give but few particulars.

The dispatch further says, since the Captain's statement was made yesterday, it was learned that the Tigress had arrived off the coast and had put into the Bay of Robert's, where, in all probability, she will land her dead and wait for assistance.

After the Polaris matter had been disposed of, the Tigress was fitted out for seal fishing. She made a trip and was returning south at the time, with her "catch," when the terrible disaster occurred.

KENTUCKY.

LOUISVILLE, April 11.

The particulars of the shooting of young Breckinridge, are as follows: He and some companions had been drinking during the day, and a seemingly playful dispute arose between Breckinridge and Anderson, about the possession of an umbrella belonging to Breckinridge. This was finally quieted and Breckinridge asked the party to drink; while they were leaning over the bar Anderson suddenly drew a derringer and placing it at Breckinridge's head fired, the ball penetrating the brain.—Anderson fled.
