

THE PLAINDEALER.

WILSON, NOVEMBER 2, 1909.

AT HOME.

The ties that connect business men—advertisers.

Major Marcus Erwin, it is said, has become associate editor of the Raleigh Standard.

The Legislature meets on the second Monday (15th) inst.

The Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad Company has declared a semi-annual dividend of 2 1/2 per cent.

Rev. H. E. Terry has resigned the pastoral care of St. John's (Episcopal) Church, Wilmington.

Dr. Wm. G. Hill, of Raleigh, has been elected physician of the penitentiary. A good selection, no doubt, as the Standard complains that he does not belong to its party.

Judge Garry Gries, native of this State, died recently.

Some two hundred members of the Society of Friends from the North passed through Richmond a few days since, on their way to the Yearly Meeting in Guilford county.

A correspondent of the Tarboro Southerner, writing from Oxford, says: "Rev. T. B. Kingsbury, D. D., united with the Methodist church here on last Sunday."

Father Ryan, the accomplished Southern lecturer and poet, will visit Wilmington during Christmas week, and deliver a lecture, the proceeds of which will be devoted to charitable purposes.

A Grand Tournament and Coronation Ball is to come off at Marlboro, Pitt county, on the 26th inst. Knights and ladies from all parts of the State are respectfully invited to attend.

Mr. Calvin Herring, charged with complicity in the killing of the negro on the Kingston bridge last winter, came down to the city on Monday, in the custody of Sheriff Hunter, of Lenoir, to whom he had voluntarily delivered himself. Judge Thomas adjourned him to bail in the sum of $10,000, on the same day.

The Plaindealer subscription list is steadily increasing. Within the past few weeks we have received handsome additions to our list from Pitt and Greene counties. We have also received a number of orders for the paper to be sent to North Carolinians now resident in other States. We thank our friends for the interest.

B. H. Bardin, Esq., and Mr. Upchurch, of Black Creek District, in this county, on yesterday started on a business trip to California, going by way of New York and thence by Pacific Railroad. They expect to be gone some six weeks or two months. We trust they may have a pleasant and successful trip.

By advertisement in another column it will be seen that the Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad Company will be held in Wilmington on the 10th instant. A number of the stockholders from this section, and their friends, will visit Wilmington at that time.

The Standard noticed on the streets of Raleigh, Thursday, a cart load of willow baskets manufactured in Johnston county by the lady who was offering them for sale. This willow is native to our soil, and these baskets, of various patterns, were quite as handsome as those brought from the North and offered in other stores.

The machinery for the new steam mill and cotton-ginning establishment of Mr. R. J. Taylor, is now being put in position, and in a few days the whole will be in successful operation. Mr. Taylor deserves great credit for the energy he is displaying in efforts to establish manufactures in our midst, and we trust that he may meet with abundant success.

Eastern N. C. Land Agency. We are glad to learn that this beneficial institution is meeting with great encouragement. We are informed that agents are being established in all the eastern counties, and that the Agency has already made one sale, having received many applications. Our citizens should encourage an enterprise which promises so much general good to the community.

KOSKOO!—THE GREAT BLOOD AND LIVER MEDICINE.

Eastern N. C. Land Agency. We are glad to learn that this beneficial institution is meeting with great encouragement. We are informed that agents are being established in all the eastern counties, and that the Agency has already made one sale, having received many applications. Our citizens should encourage an enterprise which promises so much general good to the community.

KOSKOO!—THE GREAT BLOOD AND LIVER MEDICINE.

Eastern N. C. Land Agency. We are glad to learn that this beneficial institution is meeting with great encouragement. We are informed that agents are being established in all the eastern counties, and that the Agency has already made one sale, having received many applications. Our citizens should encourage an enterprise which promises so much general good to the community.

Eastern N. C. Land Agency. We are glad to learn that this beneficial institution is meeting with great encouragement. We are informed that agents are being established in all the eastern counties, and that the Agency has already made one sale, having received many applications. Our citizens should encourage an enterprise which promises so much general good to the community.

Eastern N. C. Land Agency. We are glad to learn that this beneficial institution is meeting with great encouragement. We are informed that agents are being established in all the eastern counties, and that the Agency has already made one sale, having received many applications. Our citizens should encourage an enterprise which promises so much general good to the community.

Eastern N. C. Land Agency. We are glad to learn that this beneficial institution is meeting with great encouragement. We are informed that agents are being established in all the eastern counties, and that the Agency has already made one sale, having received many applications. Our citizens should encourage an enterprise which promises so much general good to the community.

Eastern N. C. Land Agency. We are glad to learn that this beneficial institution is meeting with great encouragement. We are informed that agents are being established in all the eastern counties, and that the Agency has already made one sale, having received many applications. Our citizens should encourage an enterprise which promises so much general good to the community.

Eastern N. C. Land Agency. We are glad to learn that this beneficial institution is meeting with great encouragement. We are informed that agents are being established in all the eastern counties, and that the Agency has already made one sale, having received many applications. Our citizens should encourage an enterprise which promises so much general good to the community.

Eastern N. C. Land Agency. We are glad to learn that this beneficial institution is meeting with great encouragement. We are informed that agents are being established in all the eastern counties, and that the Agency has already made one sale, having received many applications. Our citizens should encourage an enterprise which promises so much general good to the community.

Eastern N. C. Land Agency. We are glad to learn that this beneficial institution is meeting with great encouragement. We are informed that agents are being established in all the eastern counties, and that the Agency has already made one sale, having received many applications. Our citizens should encourage an enterprise which promises so much general good to the community.

Eastern N. C. Land Agency. We are glad to learn that this beneficial institution is meeting with great encouragement. We are informed that agents are being established in all the eastern counties, and that the Agency has already made one sale, having received many applications. Our citizens should encourage an enterprise which promises so much general good to the community.

Eastern N. C. Land Agency. We are glad to learn that this beneficial institution is meeting with great encouragement. We are informed that agents are being established in all the eastern counties, and that the Agency has already made one sale, having received many applications. Our citizens should encourage an enterprise which promises so much general good to the community.

Eastern N. C. Land Agency. We are glad to learn that this beneficial institution is meeting with great encouragement. We are informed that agents are being established in all the eastern counties, and that the Agency has already made one sale, having received many applications. Our citizens should encourage an enterprise which promises so much general good to the community.

Eastern N. C. Land Agency. We are glad to learn that this beneficial institution is meeting with great encouragement. We are informed that agents are being established in all the eastern counties, and that the Agency has already made one sale, having received many applications. Our citizens should encourage an enterprise which promises so much general good to the community.

Eastern N. C. Land Agency. We are glad to learn that this beneficial institution is meeting with great encouragement. We are informed that agents are being established in all the eastern counties, and that the Agency has already made one sale, having received many applications. Our citizens should encourage an enterprise which promises so much general good to the community.

Eastern N. C. Land Agency. We are glad to learn that this beneficial institution is meeting with great encouragement. We are informed that agents are being established in all the eastern counties, and that the Agency has already made one sale, having received many applications. Our citizens should encourage an enterprise which promises so much general good to the community.

Eastern N. C. Land Agency. We are glad to learn that this beneficial institution is meeting with great encouragement. We are informed that agents are being established in all the eastern counties, and that the Agency has already made one sale, having received many applications. Our citizens should encourage an enterprise which promises so much general good to the community.

Eastern N. C. Land Agency. We are glad to learn that this beneficial institution is meeting with great encouragement. We are informed that agents are being established in all the eastern counties, and that the Agency has already made one sale, having received many applications. Our citizens should encourage an enterprise which promises so much general good to the community.

The preliminary trial of Commodore Higgins, and other officers of the steamer Cuba, before U. S. Commissioner Rutherford, at Wilmington, was concluded on Saturday, by binding the parties over in the sum of five hundred dollars each, for their appearance at the next term of the District Court of the United States for the Cape Fear District of North Carolina, which met at Wilmington yesterday.

There are some persons in every community, who are always waiting to get the benefit of other people's labor in building up the country without paying for it. Such are not fit to live in a civilized community. They ought to be banished to some island, and then they could never reap where they had not sown. Unwilling to help others, they could not be helped; but there they might spend their cravish lives to their own satisfaction, and with no detriment to the outside world.—Danville Times.

The Richmond Enquirer has the following, which we publish for the benefit of whomsoever it may concern:

"Some people seem to think that the special mission of a newspaper is to 'pitch into' (as they elegantly phrase it) whatever person or thing may be pointed out to the editor as obnoxious. Their idea seems to be that a newspaper is in some sort a terrier dog posted at the street corner for the purpose of barking whenever anybody sets it upon an object he hates and wishes to wrong."

We again request our Agricultural friends to write short practical articles, bearing on the farming interests of this section, for the columns of The Plaindealer. We have a large circulation among the farmers of this and neighboring counties, and we desire to make the paper useful to them. Give us the result of experiments in the use of commercial and home-made fertilizers; in the raising of improved and common breeds of farm stock; the use of improved implements; the best modes to reconstitute worn out lands; modes of drainage; and general hints upon the management of the farm. Nothing will advance the interests of our section more than a general diffusion of information upon these subjects among the people.

The Journal states that another week will find the grounds and everything in readiness for the Fair of the Cape Fear Agricultural Association, which opens on the 16th inst. A large number of persons from this county will visit the Fair, and several of our people will have articles on exhibition. No doubt the Fair will prove a great success, and will bring together a large number of the enterprising farmers of the eastern portion of the State. Such a reunion can but prove advantageous to the interests of our section.

We acknowledge the reception of a ticket making us an annual member of the Society.

We had occasion, on yesterday, to attend the session of the Board of County Commissioners, and while there were struck with the orderly and systematic manner with which the business transacted before the Board was conducted. The Board now hold their sessions in the County Court room, on the first Monday in each month, where all persons having business to come before them may present the same. While we politically differ with the members of the Board and are not personally acquainted with them, yet it gives us pleasure to state, that we believe the people of the county generally give them credit for the impartial manner in which they have endeavored to discharge their duties.

From a gentleman just from Greene county, we learn that a negro man named Ned Blount, was killed on Mr. Elias Blount's plantation, near Adams' bridge, in that county, on Saturday night last. It seems that on several occasions cotton had been stolen from Mr. Blount's gin house, and Ned, who was in Mr. Blount's employ and a very faithful darkey, had offered his services to catch for the robbers. Taking his position near the gin house, on the night above alluded to, he did not have to wait long ere the cotton thieves made their appearance, and from all indications had commenced carrying off cotton, when Ned advanced towards them, fired. It seems, however, that these cotton stealing scoundrels had another party on the watch, who shot Ned before he had time to fire the second time, killing him instantly. Several negroes are strongly suspected, and much excitement prevails in the neighborhood, especially among the colored people, who, it is said, are using every effort to bring the guilty parties to justice.

Married.

On November 1st, 1909, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. M. E. Church, South for upwards of fourteen years. During this time the christian character she most beautifully in her character, especially around the Home Circle. Quiet and unobtrusive in her disposition, she nevertheless wielded a decided influence for good so far as the sphere of her influence extended. I doubt if she had a single enemy, loving all, she was in turn beloved. She lived to see the most of her family happily contented and faithful members of the Church of her choice; living thus, God rewarded her richly by his presence and grace, sufficient not only to enable her to do His will, but to suffer it also; for she was the child of affliction for many years, but was always patient and often cheerful, never complaining, always submissive. When Death came it found her ready, tranquil and free from alarm; soothing her children as they stood around her dying bed, telling them to follow Christ, so that the end of their lives may be as triumphant as was hers, and then a glorious reunion in the Kingdom of heaven will complete the round of their happiness.—Episcopal Methodist. C. C. D.

On Chapel Hill, on Saturday morning, 23d inst., Mrs. MARY BRAGG WATSON, relict of the late Wm. Watson, aged 84 years. This venerable woman was Chapel Hill's oldest inhabitant, and one of its worthiest.

On November 1st, 1909, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. M. E. Church, South for upwards of fourteen years. During this time the christian character she most beautifully in her character, especially around the Home Circle. Quiet and unobtrusive in her disposition, she nevertheless wielded a decided influence for good so far as the sphere of her influence extended. I doubt if she had a single enemy, loving all, she was in turn beloved. She lived to see the most of her family happily contented and faithful members of the Church of her choice; living thus, God rewarded her richly by his presence and grace, sufficient not only to enable her to do His will, but to suffer it also; for she was the child of affliction for many years, but was always patient and often cheerful, never complaining, always submissive. When Death came it found her ready, tranquil and free from alarm; soothing her children as they stood around her dying bed, telling them to follow Christ, so that the end of their lives may be as triumphant as was hers, and then a glorious reunion in the Kingdom of heaven will complete the round of their happiness.—Episcopal Methodist. C. C. D.

On Chapel Hill, on Saturday morning, 23d inst., Mrs. MARY BRAGG WATSON, relict of the late Wm. Watson, aged 84 years. This venerable woman was Chapel Hill's oldest inhabitant, and one of its worthiest.

On November 1st, 1909, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. M. E. Church, South for upwards of fourteen years. During this time the christian character she most beautifully in her character, especially around the Home Circle. Quiet and unobtrusive in her disposition, she nevertheless wielded a decided influence for good so far as the sphere of her influence extended. I doubt if she had a single enemy, loving all, she was in turn beloved. She lived to see the most of her family happily contented and faithful members of the Church of her choice; living thus, God rewarded her richly by his presence and grace, sufficient not only to enable her to do His will, but to suffer it also; for she was the child of affliction for many years, but was always patient and often cheerful, never complaining, always submissive. When Death came it found her ready, tranquil and free from alarm; soothing her children as they stood around her dying bed, telling them to follow Christ, so that the end of their lives may be as triumphant as was hers, and then a glorious reunion in the Kingdom of heaven will complete the round of their happiness.—Episcopal Methodist. C. C. D.

On Chapel Hill, on Saturday morning, 23d inst., Mrs. MARY BRAGG WATSON, relict of the late Wm. Watson, aged 84 years. This venerable woman was Chapel Hill's oldest inhabitant, and one of its worthiest.

On November 1st, 1909, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. M. E. Church, South for upwards of fourteen years. During this time the christian character she most beautifully in her character, especially around the Home Circle. Quiet and unobtrusive in her disposition, she nevertheless wielded a decided influence for good so far as the sphere of her influence extended. I doubt if she had a single enemy, loving all, she was in turn beloved. She lived to see the most of her family happily contented and faithful members of the Church of her choice; living thus, God rewarded her richly by his presence and grace, sufficient not only to enable her to do His will, but to suffer it also; for she was the child of affliction for many years, but was always patient and often cheerful, never complaining, always submissive. When Death came it found her ready, tranquil and free from alarm; soothing her children as they stood around her dying bed, telling them to follow Christ, so that the end of their lives may be as triumphant as was hers, and then a glorious reunion in the Kingdom of heaven will complete the round of their happiness.—Episcopal Methodist. C. C. D.

On Chapel Hill, on Saturday morning, 23d inst., Mrs. MARY BRAGG WATSON, relict of the late Wm. Watson, aged 84 years. This venerable woman was Chapel Hill's oldest inhabitant, and one of its worthiest.

On November 1st, 1909, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. M. E. Church, South for upwards of fourteen years. During this time the christian character she most beautifully in her character, especially around the Home Circle. Quiet and unobtrusive in her disposition, she nevertheless wielded a decided influence for good so far as the sphere of her influence extended. I doubt if she had a single enemy, loving all, she was in turn beloved. She lived to see the most of her family happily contented and faithful members of the Church of her choice; living thus, God rewarded her richly by his presence and grace, sufficient not only to enable her to do His will, but to suffer it also; for she was the child of affliction for many years, but was always patient and often cheerful, never complaining, always submissive. When Death came it found her ready, tranquil and free from alarm; soothing her children as they stood around her dying bed, telling them to follow Christ, so that the end of their lives may be as triumphant as was hers, and then a glorious reunion in the Kingdom of heaven will complete the round of their happiness.—Episcopal Methodist. C. C. D.

On Chapel Hill, on Saturday morning, 23d inst., Mrs. MARY BRAGG WATSON, relict of the late Wm. Watson, aged 84 years. This venerable woman was Chapel Hill's oldest inhabitant, and one of its worthiest.

On November 1st, 1909, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. M. E. Church, South for upwards of fourteen years. During this time the christian character she most beautifully in her character, especially around the Home Circle. Quiet and unobtrusive in her disposition, she nevertheless wielded a decided influence for good so far as the sphere of her influence extended. I doubt if she had a single enemy, loving all, she was in turn beloved. She lived to see the most of her family happily contented and faithful members of the Church of her choice; living thus, God rewarded her richly by his presence and grace, sufficient not only to enable her to do His will, but to suffer it also; for she was the child of affliction for many years, but was always patient and often cheerful, never complaining, always submissive. When Death came it found her ready, tranquil and free from alarm; soothing her children as they stood around her dying bed, telling them to follow Christ, so that the end of their lives may be as triumphant as was hers, and then a glorious reunion in the Kingdom of heaven will complete the round of their happiness.—Episcopal Methodist. C. C. D.

On Chapel Hill, on Saturday morning, 23d inst., Mrs. MARY BRAGG WATSON, relict of the late Wm. Watson, aged 84 years. This venerable woman was Chapel Hill's oldest inhabitant, and one of its worthiest.

On November 1st, 1909, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. M. E. Church, South for upwards of fourteen years. During this time the christian character she most beautifully in her character, especially around the Home Circle. Quiet and unobtrusive in her disposition, she nevertheless wielded a decided influence for good so far as the sphere of her influence extended. I doubt if she had a single enemy, loving all, she was in turn beloved. She lived to see the most of her family happily contented and faithful members of the Church of her choice; living thus, God rewarded her richly by his presence and grace, sufficient not only to enable her to do His will, but to suffer it also; for she was the child of affliction for many years, but was always patient and often cheerful, never complaining, always submissive. When Death came it found her ready, tranquil and free from alarm; soothing her children as they stood around her dying bed, telling them to follow Christ, so that the end of their lives may be as triumphant as was hers, and then a glorious reunion in the Kingdom of heaven will complete the round of their happiness.—Episcopal Methodist. C. C. D.

On Chapel Hill, on Saturday morning, 23d inst., Mrs. MARY BRAGG WATSON, relict of the late Wm. Watson, aged 84 years. This venerable woman was Chapel Hill's oldest inhabitant, and one of its worthiest.

On Tuesday evening last the money drawers of the drug store of C. J. Roun tree and the dry goods store of S. E. Spier, were robbed of small amounts of money. At the drug store no one was noticed or suspected in connection with the robbery, until after the robbery at Mr. Spier's became known. About dark on that evening a white man entered the store and engaged Mr. Spier in conversation about some article he said he wished to purchase, and in the meantime a negro accomplice stole the money from the drawer. Mr. S. discovered his loss in a few moments after the white man left the store, and at once concluded he had by whom the robbery had been effected. He informed Mayor Lutts of the transaction, and steps were at once taken to overhail the guilty parties. Through information furnished the authorities at Rocky Mount, the above-mentioned white man and three negroes were arrested at that place and brought here for examination. The negroes acknowledged to Mayor Lutts the robbery of Mr. Spier, while the white man kept him engaged. They denied any knowledge of the robbery at the drug store.

We learn that the same parties are suspected of having robbed the store of Col. Parker, at Rocky Mount, of about $27.

The four were committed to jail for trial at the next term of our Superior Court.

The white man turns out to be one Charley Johnson, of Wake county; and we are informed by a gentleman who was one of the State's witnesses in the case, that he was condemned to be hung at the Fall term of Wake Superior Court, in 1867, for highway robbery, committed upon the person of Solomon Gresson, of Guilford county. The same gentleman informs us that through the influence of Gov. Holden, Gen. Sikes, and others, he was pardoned by Gov. Worth, Johnson is about 25 years of age, dark hair, thick set, and will weigh about 145 pounds.

The three negroes also hail from Wake.

The card of Messrs. Davis, Roper & Co., Commission Merchants and Wholesale Grocers, Petersburg, Va., appears in this issue. They are clever gentlemen, fully up to the wants of the trade in their line.

A list of letters remaining in the Post-office in Wilson November 1, 1909.

Allen, Rev. Gideon Mack, Marrah, Col. Barrett, Stephen Mayo, Mess. J. W. & Co. Barnes, Henry, col. Morris, Mr. Jenn. Barnes, Redmon, col. Moore, Tenney Barnes, W. W. Maddox, Mrs. Eliza Bates, Wm. B. 2 Peacock, Blitch Bottoms, Mrs. Polly Parker, Mr. Gilbert Bottoms, Mr. W. A. Parker, Miss Eduey Burnett, Miss Jody Peel, Mr. Jessie Bryant, Wm. T. Strickland, J. B. 3 Best, Miss Nancy South, Howard Boykin, Miss Catharine Shubert, Dankin Boykin, Jos. J. Smith, James S. Baines, Miss Folly Shields, R. H. Brown, H. H. Corbett, Mary F. Carey, Mr. Joseph Edgors, Elbert Gray, Rosetta Gresson, John A. 3 Howell, Mr. Wm. Harrell, S. P. Hays, Miss Martha S. Hays, Miss Julia J. Mitchell. Joyner, Miss Sallie A. Williams, Mr. Jim Jones, Rebecca Webb, Mr. Bennett Lamon, Mr. Westery, Thomas Lee, Mr. Joseph Linton, H. H. Wilson, Mr. John Murphy, M. T.

Married.

On November 1st, 1909, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. M. E. Church, South for upwards of fourteen years. During this time the christian character she most beautifully in her character, especially around the Home Circle. Quiet and unobtrusive in her disposition, she nevertheless wielded a decided influence for good so far as the sphere of her influence extended. I doubt if she had a single enemy, loving all, she was in turn beloved. She lived to see the most of her family happily contented and faithful members of the Church of her choice; living thus, God rewarded her richly by his presence and grace, sufficient not only to enable her to do His will, but to suffer it also; for she was the child of affliction for many years, but was always patient and often cheerful, never complaining, always submissive. When Death came it found her ready, tranquil and free from alarm; soothing her children as they stood around her dying bed, telling them to follow Christ, so that the end of their lives may be as triumphant as was hers, and then a glorious reunion in the Kingdom of heaven will complete the round of their happiness.—Episcopal Methodist. C. C. D.

On Chapel Hill, on Saturday morning, 23d inst., Mrs. MARY BRAGG WATSON, relict of the late Wm. Watson, aged 84 years. This venerable woman was Chapel Hill's oldest inhabitant, and one of its worthiest.

On November 1st, 1909, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. M. E. Church, South for upwards of fourteen years. During this time the christian character she most beautifully in her character, especially around the Home Circle. Quiet and unobtrusive in her disposition, she nevertheless wielded a decided influence for good so far as the sphere of her influence extended. I doubt if she had a single enemy, loving all, she was in turn beloved. She lived to see the most of her family happily contented and faithful members of the Church of her choice; living thus, God rewarded her richly by his presence and grace, sufficient not only to enable her to do His will, but to suffer it also; for she was the child of affliction for many years, but was always patient and often cheerful, never complaining, always submissive. When Death came it found her ready, tranquil and free from alarm; soothing her children as they stood around her dying bed, telling them to follow Christ, so that the end of their lives may be as triumphant as was hers, and then a glorious reunion in the Kingdom of heaven will complete the round of their happiness.—Episcopal Methodist. C. C. D.

On Chapel Hill, on Saturday morning, 23d inst., Mrs. MARY BRAGG WATSON, relict of the late Wm. Watson, aged 84 years. This venerable woman was Chapel Hill's oldest inhabitant, and one of its worthiest.

On November 1st, 1909, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. M. E. Church, South for upwards of fourteen years. During this time the christian character she most beautifully in her character, especially around the Home Circle. Quiet and unobtrusive in her disposition, she nevertheless wielded a decided influence for good so far as the sphere of her influence extended. I doubt if she had a single enemy, loving all, she was in turn beloved. She lived to see the most of her family happily contented and faithful members of the Church of her choice; living thus, God rewarded her richly by his presence and grace, sufficient not only to enable her to do His will, but to suffer it also; for she was the child of affliction for many years, but was always patient and often cheerful, never complaining, always submissive. When Death came it found her ready, tranquil and free from alarm; soothing her children as they stood around her dying bed, telling them to follow Christ, so that the end of their lives may be as triumphant as was hers, and then a glorious reunion in the Kingdom of heaven will complete the round of their happiness.—Episcopal Methodist. C. C. D.

On Chapel Hill, on Saturday morning, 23d inst., Mrs. MARY BRAGG WATSON, relict of the late Wm. Watson, aged 84 years. This venerable woman was Chapel Hill's oldest inhabitant, and one of its worthiest.

On November 1st, 1909, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. M. E. Church, South for upwards of fourteen years. During this time the christian character she most beautifully in her character, especially around the Home Circle. Quiet and unobtrusive in her disposition, she nevertheless wielded a decided influence for good so far as the sphere of her influence extended. I doubt if she had a single enemy, loving all, she was in turn beloved. She lived to see the most of her family happily contented and faithful members of the Church of her choice; living thus, God rewarded her richly by his presence and grace, sufficient not only to enable her to do His will, but to suffer it also; for she was the child of affliction for many years, but was always patient and often cheerful, never complaining, always submissive. When Death came it found her ready, tranquil and free from alarm; soothing her children as they stood around her dying bed, telling them to follow Christ, so that the end of their lives may be as triumphant as was hers, and then a glorious reunion in the Kingdom of heaven will complete the round of their happiness.—Episcopal Methodist. C. C. D.

On Chapel Hill, on Saturday morning, 23d inst., Mrs. MARY BRAGG WATSON, relict of the late Wm. Watson, aged 84 years. This venerable woman was Chapel Hill's oldest inhabitant, and one of its worthiest.

On November 1st, 1909, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. M. E. Church, South for upwards of fourteen years. During this time the christian character she most beautifully in her character, especially around the Home Circle. Quiet and unobtrusive in her disposition, she nevertheless wielded a decided influence for good so far as the sphere of her influence extended. I doubt if she had a single enemy, loving all, she was in turn beloved. She lived to see the most of her family happily contented and faithful members of the Church of her choice; living thus, God rewarded her richly by his presence and grace, sufficient not only to enable her to do His will, but to suffer it also; for she was the child of affliction for many years, but was always patient and often cheerful, never complaining, always submissive. When Death came it found her ready, tranquil and free from alarm; soothing her children as they stood around her dying bed, telling them to follow Christ, so that the end of their lives may be as triumphant as was hers, and then a glorious reunion in the Kingdom of heaven will complete the round of their happiness.—Episcopal Methodist. C. C. D.

On Chapel Hill, on Saturday morning, 23d inst., Mrs. MARY BRAGG WATSON, relict of the late Wm. Watson, aged 84 years. This venerable woman was Chapel Hill's oldest inhabitant, and one of its worthiest.

On November 1st, 1909, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. M. E. Church, South for upwards of fourteen years. During this time the christian character she most beautifully in her character, especially around the Home Circle. Quiet and unobtrusive in her disposition, she nevertheless wielded a decided influence for good so far as the sphere of her influence extended. I doubt if she had a single enemy, loving all, she was in turn beloved. She lived to see the most of her family happily contented and faithful members of the Church of her choice; living thus, God rewarded her richly by his presence and grace, sufficient not only to enable her to do His will, but to suffer it also; for she was the child of affliction for many years, but was always patient and often cheerful, never complaining, always submissive. When Death came it found her ready, tranquil and free from alarm; soothing her children as they stood around her dying bed, telling them to follow Christ, so that the end of their lives may be as triumphant as was hers, and then a glorious reunion in the Kingdom of heaven will complete the round of their happiness.—Episcopal Methodist. C. C. D.

On Chapel Hill, on Saturday morning, 23d inst., Mrs. MARY BRAGG WATSON, relict of the late Wm. Watson, aged 84 years. This venerable woman was Chapel Hill's oldest inhabitant, and one of its worthiest.

On November 1st, 1909, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. M. E. Church, South for upwards of fourteen years. During this time the christian character she most beautifully in her character, especially around the Home Circle. Quiet and unobtrusive in her disposition, she nevertheless wielded a decided influence for good so far as the sphere of her influence extended. I doubt if she had a single enemy, loving all, she was in turn beloved. She lived to see the most of her family happily contented and faithful members of the Church of her choice; living thus, God rewarded her richly by his presence and grace, sufficient not only to enable her to do His will, but to suffer it also; for she was the child of affliction for many years, but was always patient and often cheerful, never complaining, always submissive. When Death came it found her ready, tranquil and free from alarm; soothing her children as they stood around her dying bed, telling them to follow Christ, so that the end of their lives may be as triumphant as was hers, and then a glorious reunion in the Kingdom of heaven will complete the round of their happiness.—Episcopal Methodist. C. C. D.

On Chapel Hill, on Saturday morning, 23d inst., Mrs. MARY BRAGG WATSON, relict of the late Wm. Watson, aged 84 years. This venerable woman was Chapel Hill's oldest inhabitant, and one of its worthiest.

On November 1st, 1909, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. M. E. Church, South for upwards of fourteen years. During this time the christian character she most beautifully in her character, especially around the Home Circle. Quiet and unobtrusive in her disposition, she nevertheless wielded a decided influence for good so far as the sphere of her influence extended. I doubt if she had a single enemy, loving all, she was in turn beloved. She lived to see the most of her family happily contented and faithful members of the Church of her choice; living thus, God rewarded her richly by his presence and grace, sufficient not only to enable her to do His will, but to suffer it also; for she was the child of affliction for many years, but was always patient and often cheerful, never complaining, always submissive. When Death came it found her ready, tranquil and free from alarm; soothing her children as they stood around her dying bed, telling them to follow Christ, so that the end of their lives may be as triumphant as was hers, and then a glorious reunion in the Kingdom of heaven will complete the round of their happiness.—Episcopal Methodist. C. C. D.

On Chapel Hill, on Saturday morning, 23d inst., Mrs. MARY BRAGG WATSON, relict of the late Wm. Watson, aged 84 years. This venerable woman was Chapel Hill's oldest inhabitant, and one of its worthiest.

On November 1st, 1909, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. M. E. Church, South for upwards of fourteen years. During this time the christian character she most beautifully in her character, especially around the Home Circle. Quiet and unobtrusive in her disposition, she nevertheless wielded a decided influence for good so far as the sphere of her influence extended. I doubt if she had a single enemy, loving all, she was in turn beloved. She lived to see the most of her family happily contented and faithful members of the Church of her choice; living thus, God rewarded her richly by his presence and grace, sufficient not only to enable her to do His will, but to suffer it also; for she was the child of affliction for many years, but was always patient and often cheerful, never complaining, always submissive. When Death came it found her ready, tranquil and free from alarm; soothing her children as they stood around her dying bed, telling them to follow Christ, so that the end of their lives may be as triumphant as was hers, and then a glorious reunion in the Kingdom of heaven will complete the round of their happiness.—Episcopal Methodist. C. C. D.

On Chapel Hill, on Saturday morning, 23d inst., Mrs. MARY BRAGG WATSON, relict of the late Wm. Watson, aged 84 years. This venerable woman was Chapel Hill's oldest inhabitant, and one of its worthiest.

On November 1st, 1909, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. M. E. Church, South for upwards of fourteen years. During this time the christian character she most beautifully in her character, especially around the Home Circle. Quiet and unobtrusive in her disposition, she nevertheless wielded a decided influence for good so far as the sphere of her influence extended. I doubt if she had a single enemy, loving all, she was in turn beloved. She lived to see the most of her family happily contented and faithful members of the Church of her choice; living thus, God rewarded her richly by his presence and grace, sufficient not only to enable her to do His will, but to suffer it also; for she was the child of affliction for many years, but was always patient and often cheerful, never complaining, always submissive. When Death came it found her ready, tranquil and free from alarm; soothing her children as they stood around her dying bed, telling them to follow Christ, so that the end of their lives may be as triumphant as was hers, and then a glorious reunion in the Kingdom of heaven will complete the round of their happiness.—Episcopal Methodist. C. C. D.

On Chapel Hill, on Saturday morning, 23d inst., Mrs. MARY BRAGG WATSON, relict of the late Wm. Watson, aged 84 years. This venerable woman was Chapel Hill's oldest inhabitant, and one of its worthiest.

On November 1st, 1909, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. M. E. Church, South for upwards of fourteen years. During this time the christian character she most beautifully in her character, especially around the Home Circle. Quiet and unobtrusive in her disposition, she nevertheless wielded a decided influence for good so far as the sphere of her influence extended. I doubt if she had a single enemy, loving all, she was in turn beloved. She lived to see the most of her family happily contented and faithful members of the Church of her choice; living thus, God rewarded her richly by his presence and grace, sufficient not only to enable her to do His will, but to suffer it also; for she was the child of affliction for many years, but was always patient and often cheerful, never complaining, always submissive. When Death came it found her ready, tranquil and free from alarm; soothing her children as they stood around her dying bed, telling them to follow Christ, so that the end of their lives may be as triumphant as was hers, and then a glorious reunion in the Kingdom of heaven will complete the round of their happiness.—Episcopal Methodist. C. C. D.

On Chapel Hill, on Saturday morning, 23d inst., Mrs. MARY BRAG