The Week's Review of the Town Council and Piedmont Carolina.

There are at present 123 children at the Thomasville Orphanage.

The Revenue collections at our branch office this past week footed up $14,050.83.

Don't abuse the town you live in. If you don't like it you can leave it unless you are in jail.

The auditorium needs of Winston-Salem are claiming attention. "Where's there a will there's a way."

The equinoctial storm evidently came to hand Tuesday, two months behind time, but with full force and effect.

A 200 horse power engine will drive the machinery of the new Cotton Mill at South Side. It has arrived and is being placed in position.

Hillyer's Grand Gift Carnival was at the Opera House three nights this week. It extended no favors and can expect none at our hands.

The Republican does not think it worth the while to print notices about big porkers, unless their weight is exceptional, say, from 400 up.

Governor Carr offers $100 reward for the apprehension of Robert Seales, who at Madison, Rockingham county, assaulted Miss Bolton, aged 17.

The Dispatch says A. H. Hiatt, of Davidson county sold one bushel of tobacco, 723 pounds, in Winston the past week for which he realized $180.57.

Levi Foster, one of the prisoners who recently escaped from Forsyth Jail was arrested in Danville, Va., the past week and returned to this city Monday.

A Yadin county weather prophet predicts 24 snows this winter. "Would that even his best of signs fall as it is so often the case with the weather."

The R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., this city, were awarded the prize for the best tobacco exhibit at Atlanta. It was a compliment to be sure, and deserving.

Mr. J. L. Michael, of Lexington, has been appointed a Deputy U. S. Marshall. He still retains his position as Policeman at that town as the duties are small.

Davis county loses one of its oldest citizens in the death of Jerry Myer Stock, near Elvaville, recently, at the age of 92 years. The Times says he was well known and generally liked.

There were at least 100 additions to the city Churches Sunday, as a result of the recent Fife meetings. The number will be increased to fifty 200 to 500 before the end of the year.

In Goldsboro, Saturday, Mr. James G. Smith entered into rest at an advanced age. The deceased was a brother-in-law of Mrs. A. E. Gierah and an uncle of Mrs. H. A. Gierah, of Salem.

Editor W. M. Sherrill advertises his paper, the Davidson Dispatch, for sale. It is printed at Lexington, alive town and in a good county, and it seems, could be made good property.

Centenary M. E. Church this city used for all purposes this year a total of $7,441.08, an average of $8.24 a member. The total membership is 903, with 171 additions during the year.

The marriage bells at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, this city, pealed merrily yesterday afternoon. The contracting parties were Mr. J. A. Noyes and Miss Pearl Johnson. Rev. C. G. Moore performed the ceremony.

The Jefferson Times calls for Alleghany, Watanga and Ashe counties to have a Mountain Fair at Jefferson, N. C., next Fall. The idea is a good one. A finer cattle, fruit and vegetable section can not be found in the State.

Tuesday afternoon, in the Centenary M. E. Church, this city, Mr. J. A. McMillan and Miss Salie Thorsburg were happily married. Rev. S. B. Turentine performed the ceremony. Both the bride and groom are residents of Winston.

Deputy Sheriff Martin brought Will Tuttle, colt, from Statesville last Thursday night. He is a brother of Arthur Tuttle, who shot Police Vickers in this city some months ago.

At a meeting of the Quarterly Conference of Centenary Church, Monday night, a motion was passed requesting Conference to supply two pastors for Centenary, one for regular duties and the other to have special care of the proposed new church at West End.

It is never too late to do good, and our friend D. A. Davis, of Rural Hall, N. C., gracefully falls into line by taking into himself a wife in the person of Miss Katie Stoltz, very attractive young lady of Ruth this city. The Republican extends heartiest congratulations.

Mr. William Campbell and sister return to Winston again after a short absence. They come from historic Germantown and occupy the late Thomas Graham Mills, Liberty St., and having purchased the same it is to be inferred that Mr. C.'s sojourn this time is permanent.

The Davis Military Cadets, of Winston, passed through Charlotte Saturday night on their return from Atlanta. Lieut. Shipp was in charge. The band discoursed some sweet music at the station and the boys were lively for a time. So says the Charlotte Observer, of Sunday.

Another change of schedule is said to be on tap for the N. & W., by which the train will leave at 7:30 a. m. and return at 11 p. m., or thereabouts. Such an arrangement would again knock into a cocked hat our present excellent service for delivering The Republican along that road and to many counties tributary, on Thursday, the day we print, and while Railroad dictators, the public must submit, and we have found that to do amicably is the best policy.

Mr. Charles H. Lowellyn, tailor by trade, died in Durham last Thursday. A wife and four children survive. His age was about 75 years. Some two years ago he resided in this city and left Winston for Florida to seek physical strength from a severe attack of grippe.

The Daily says a report was received here Tuesday that a man named Baker, living on Baxter Shemwell's farm, Davidson county, had his wife's death last Saturday.

The report has it that the husband was intoxicated. It was a horrible deed, and we trust, too atrocious to be true.

Thanksgiving-Day and both individually and as a people we have much to feel grateful for. So far as Winston-Salem are concerned we have never witnessed a more general manifestation of thanks, as well attended places of worship, either this morning or to-night, will ever witness.

Rev. T. H. Brown, of this city, and one of the oldest members of the N. C. Conference, closes his fourth year as pastor of the Lutheran church. "By their works ye shall know them," and his report for that period is indeed gratifying, viz: Conversions, 416, and 328 accessions to the church, with 102 persons the Lord's Supper, and 66 additions to the church.

The city fathers of Salem will yet have to set a prize upon the head of that mink, opossum, weasel, or cat, that from time to time invades respective henneries with various results. At Mr. Morgan's, Elm St., the last point of invasion heard from, 17 fowls were killed, including a hen and 66 additions to the flock.

The Hardware Store of Wall & Huske was the scene of an exceptional life and activity Saturday afternoon. The firm offered a Junior Range, or Stove, to the little Miss under 14 years, who made the best pan of biscuit on a Buck Steam Range material, being furnished through the kindness of the old participants and the contest was spirited. Miss Daisy Clegg, aged 11, was awarded the prize. The Judges were given a donation to the Twin-City Hospital by the firm. They were Messrs. J. A. Bitting, J. C. Buxton, Frank Miller, A. B. Gornell, H. T. Babson and Miss Vogler.

Dr. H. A. Brown, held a short memorial service at the First Baptist Church Sunday morning as a testimonial to the worth and merit of Dr. C. Durham, who died in Raleigh, last week, as a citizen and minister. Dr. Brown and Dr. Durham attended College together and were for 30 years very warm personal friends. He was a veritable pillar of the particular faith of the State and was ranked by Dr. Taylor, of Wake Forest College and other men of prominence, as second to Zebulon B. Vance as a platform speaker. His vacancy upon the Baptist State Mission Board will be difficult to fill.

Serious Shooting Near Mt. Airy. It is reported here that a serious, if not an eventually fatal shooting affair occurred near Mt. Airy Saturday, with Garland Allen and Ed. Edwards, who were the father and son of the latter, and his son, Will, who was going to Mt. Airy with a load of wood when he met Allen and Edwards. A discussion ensued as to the right of the road and the boy claims to have been roughly handled. He struck a line fire for the road and the father and son were returned by a man and faced Allen and Edwards. The father demanded a reason for mistreating his boy. Hot words followed and the white men drew their pistols and fired. The slender negro was wounded and is said to be in a critical condition. The police captured the father and Ed. Edwards, and good their escape to Virginia.

A Singular Profession. Under this heading Mr. Sidney Shore writes the Daily, of Saturday, from Shore, Yadkin county. A most singular and remarkable profession of religion was made in this community the past week, in the person of Miss Rosa Lee Steelman. It seems that she had been in the department preparing for baking a cake and while beating the eggs she suddenly set down the platter and began to sing a hymn. A large number of members of the family were immediately summoned and enthusiastically and devoutly listened to her. She then turned to turn from their faces, but they were so intent upon her singing, hearing the rejoicing, came in and participated in the showers of spiritual blessing. Hereafter, what she makes it strange. Miss Steelman's interest in church or religion was quite stout-hearted and viewed Christianity at a cold distance. She is a right good girl, and the daughter of Mr. George Steelman, one of the best and wealthiest farmers in this section.

In many cases, however, the change is not so perfect as that of faithful living up to professions. To so many, the acceptance of Christ by public confession, is but the beginning of a Christian warfare here below. An illustration will suffice. A new convert at one of the recent Fife meetings, the next evening asked and asked the Evangelist what it was to expect in the way of blessing or salvation. Mr. Fife replied by plain question, "In what is it that you are trusting in Christ or in feeling? No where in the Bible was feeling mentioned, and the convert was admonished to continue to trust in Christ, with faith, prayer, and a holy life, and a lay in his power, and if feeling never came, he could not be on safer ground when the final summons comes. "If ye tarry, till you're better," &c.

In other instances, as the above clipping, and personal observation indicates, the call to a higher and nobler life here below is sudden with marked evidences. No two people are alike by nature. No two enter into our desire or intention to enter into a discussion upon this highly important matter. In reading friend Shore's "peculiar case" the above thoughts came to mind and we print them.

Christmas Bells. The Twin-City Hospital has just passed its first month of active existence and the most interesting and gratifying feature is the report of the Matron, Miss Mollie Spangh, who reads for that period. Patients 6. Discharged, cured, 1. Improved, 1. Total number of patients 5, with another addition, a little girl, as a postscript to the report.

That Old Man Again. That was another sad accident at Walnut Grove Saturday and the peevy old shot gun was the cause of it all. We learn that Pink Riemson, a 12 or 14 year old son of Mr. C. E. Riemson was passing through the yard of Mr. Joel Hill, through the shed, when he was hit by the shot gun when he was mending the weapon accidentally discharged, and the load took effect on the head of a young colored woman, standing near, by the name of Rachel Branick, killing her instantly.

Killing Where You Point Your Gun. A young farmer from Surry county was in the city the past week exhibiting a wound on his shin, evidently made by a spent ball. He said he was riding along the road when he felt a stinging pain on his leg, and he immediately dismounted. He could see no person and the wound made too much noise to hear a report at some distance. Some fellow with a thimble full of brains had evidently shot towards the road without a thought of doing injury. It is a lesson to others, however, to never discharge a weapon towards a public place or residence.

A Salem Boy Marries in Durham. Durham followed Salem with a "high noon" marriage the former taking place last Thursday in the Presbyterian Church, that city, the contracting parties being Mr. Rufus Bruce Patterson, a Salem boy, and the son of Mrs. Mary Patterson, and Miss Margaret Morehead, of Durham. Dr. W. G. Moore, of Hampden-Sydney College, performed the ceremony, assisted by Rev. L. B. Turberville. The couple left for a visit to St. Augustine and other points of interest in the South.

In Justice to Judge Brown. Judge Brown held our last session of Court and will also preside at the term opening December 6th, next, and the discharge of his duties has been of such a nature as to gain the highest commendation. Therefore, in justice to him we publish the following which speaks for itself.

The following is the grounds of the case which Judge Brown adjudged at Rockingham court purposely on account of the Rockingham races, we state on the grounds of the case, and the case was heard at noon on Tuesday, the day of the Rockingham Fair races, until Wednesday night, a. m., for lack of business. The case had been entirely abandoned and the Civil Calendar, according to the rule of this court did not begin until Wednesday. The adjournment was reasonable and would have been taken had there been no races.

The M. E. Conference. The M. E. Conference adjourned Monday night and as soon as the Appointments are received, we will print them. Rev. L. L. Albright returns to the Church in this city. $2,800 was raised towards the erection of a $5,000 building in Greensboro to be used as a Methodist Protestant Publishing House.
